COLOMBO: 06.56 N. 79.50 E. (See Plan)

DOCUMENTS:

5 each of Crew and Passenger Lists.
8 Manifests.
1 Arrival Report for Pilot.
1 Master's Declaration for Immigration, and same for Police.
2 Private Property Lists of officers and crew for Customs.
2 copies of Preliminary Report by Master for Customs.
1 Maritime Declaration of Health for Port Health Officer.
1 Master's Declaration of Cargo for Quarantine Department.

PILOTAGE: Vessels approaching port apply for Pilot by flying the G flag by day or two red lights at night. They can, in addition, flash the pilot station or use VHF Channel 16. The telegraphic address of pilot station is "Pilot Station Port Commission Colombo" and a provisional ETA 24 hours ahead is advisable with corrections thereafter. However, these are best channelled through the vessel's Agent. Pilot boat is a wooden motor launch with the word "Pilot" on its side. It flies the H flag by day or red and white lights by night according to the international code. The Pilot boards within an area of about 1 mile of the harbour entrance. Advice of where to anchor can be obtained from the Pilot by VHF or signal light.

ANCHORAGES: The usual anchorage off port is within 3 miles of the harbour mouth where up to 14 fathoms of water is available. 18 fathoms of water is available within 6 miles.

RESTRICTIONS: Entry may take place at all hours of the day and night but it is unusual for the Pilot to board vessel between midnight and 0400 hours.

MAX. SIZE: For entering harbour, max. draft 36 ft. and a length of 800 ft. is permissible. Beam is not critical. There is no appreciable rise and fall of tide.

Tankers' max. dimensions for berthing alongside: length 750 ft., draft 34 ft.

HEALTH: The vessel entering port must fly the Q flag until boarded by the Port Health Officer to grant pratique. Pratique may be granted by radio if there is a doctor on board provided the ship is not calling from a port in India. A radio message should be sent within 24 hours of the vessel's ETA in the following terms "Last port — no quarantinable disease on board – Doctor on board" and the Port Health Officer will reply to the Agent confirming pratique being granted by radio. Pratique is automatic if the vessel enters after calling at another port in Sri Lanka. If any quarantinable disease on board double Q flags must be hoisted prior to entering harbour.

RADIO: "Colombo Radio" with a call sign 4PB is the usual channel for communicating with Colombo.

The pilot station is presently available on VHF Channel 16 and the Port (Cargo) Corporation on VHF Channel 11.

TUGS: Tugs normally join the vessel at the harbour mouth and use their own lines.

BERTHING: There are no specific requirements relating to berthing space but early advice of draft is most advisable.

STEVEDORES: The stevedores at Colombo are the Port (Cargo) Corporation, a nationalised concern having the monopoly of stevedoring and lighterage. ETA at least 24 hours in advance if possible. Gangs for the day shift which commences at 0730 hours must be ordered by 0700 hours and gangs for the evening shift, commencing at 1630 hours, by 1600 hours. This excludes the Poya Day on which only the day shift is worked, and gangs must be ordered by 0930 hours on the previous day.

MEDICAL: Although advance notice of medical assistance required is helpful, particularly when port stay is limited, it is not essential. Comprehensive hospital facilities are available either in private nursing homes or the Government hospitals. The following inoculations are required: Smallpox and cholera, yellow fever if calling from ports in East Africa and Mozambique.

TANKERS: There are 3 tanker berths, one for importing crude oil suitable for tankers of 750 ft. length, max. draft 34 ft. One berth for white oil tankers with max. draft 33 ft. One berth for fuel oil imports for vessels with a max. draft of 31 ft., and this same berth is used for exports when permissible draft is 33 ft.

Naphtha, 12.75 in., capacity 450 tons per hour.

Pumping will not be commenced after nightfall. No residue discharge facilities are available.

DENSITY: 1025.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water is readily available by barge. The rate of delivery is approx. 40 t.p.h. The water is of good quality.

FUEL: Furnace diesel and gas oil available. Advance notice of at least 24 hours is advisable as the bunker requirements of the port often exceed the ability of the oil companies to supply immediately. Supplies are by barges which can pump at 300 t.p.h.

DEVELOPMENTS: One new alongside dry-cargo berth with a draft of 37 ft. should be ready early 1977. New tanker terminal with draft of 40 ft. expected to be operational in 1979.

Ships can only enter the river at or about the time of high water.

The Pilot boards near the sea buoy (buoy No. 1). The pilot boat is a small wooden, grey and white painted vessel. The Pilot boat does not use the international red-white pilot lights at night. It is not possible to make radio telephone contact with the boat. There is a signal lamp on board.

Send ETA-message to Agent who will order the Pilot. Awaiting high water the vessel can anchor about 3 miles N.N.E. of the sea buoy.

ANCHORAGES: With a draft of 15 ft. the ship can safely anchor 3 miles N.N.E. of the sea buoy. It is not advisable to anchor in the Nickerie river for a long time, the river is too narrow.

MAX. SIZE: With springtide the max. draft must not exceed 14 ft. 9 in. and at neaptide 12 ft. The vessel has to use the high-inlet while passing the bar.

Max. permissible length of vessel is 130 m. (426 ft.). At low water ships are seated in the mud without consequence to hull, rudder or propeller alongside the wharf. There are berths for oil-carriers.

TANKERS: There are three piers in Nickerie: Esso, Shell and Texaco pier. Maximum permitted draft 14 ft. 9 in. at springtide.

DENSITY: In the dry season the density on the river near New-Nickerie is 1015. In the rainy-season the density is 1005 near HW, and 100 near LW. These all depend upon springtide or neaptide.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water is available alongside the wharf of New-Nickerie. It is loaded from shore by hose.

FUEL: Small quantities of fuel available from Esso or Shell, also grease and petrol.

DEVELOPMENTS: In the future a bigger and deeper port will be built in the Corentyne river, about 20 miles up the river.

BANIAS: 35.14 N. 35.56 E.

PILOTAGE: Pilots board all tankers approaching the Terminals. These Pilots act in the same capacity as Mooring Masters in the berthing of vessels, after which they supervise the raising of the flexible hoses and their connection to the ship's manifold. During loading operation they act as the Company's Representatives. The Company's Mooring Masters will meet tankers in the vicinity of Marqab Light Buoy.

It is requested that tankers of 40,000 d.w.t. and over should have rigged, when in light condition, an accommodation ladder lowered to about 12 ft., above the water. This can be adjusted to suit conditions. A pilot ladder should be rigged immediately abaft the accommodation ladder, to within 2 ft. above the water. This will enable the Pilot to ascend the pilot ladder clear of the launch and then step on to the lower platform of the accommodation ladder. United Kingdom Merchant Shipping (Pilot Ladders) Rules 1965 is relevant.

APPROACHES: Vessels approaching the port should keep to the authorised passage, defined by the following co-ordinates:

(a) Lat. 35° 13′ 00″ N. Long. 35° 42′ 00″ E.
(b) Lat. 35° 13′ 00″ N. Long. 35° 56′ 00″ E.
(c) Lat. 35° 16′ 00″ N. Long. 35° 55′ 24″ E.
(d) Lat. 35° 16′ 00″ N. Long. 35° 40′ 34″ E.

ANCHORAGE: In the event of berth not being available, or suspension of mooring operations on arrival, a good anchorage is to be used South of the berths in the vicinity of the Marqab Light Buoy.

Shore control will advise expected time of berthing, etc. It is important to maintain a listening watch on Channel 16 VHF or visual on the shore signal station to avoid delays.

On being advised of expected berthing time Mooring Master will board.

The anchor should be hove short before his arrival.

MAX. SIZE: No. 2 Berth - draft 50 ft. Winter - 52 ft. Summer
No. 3 Berth - draft 51 ft. ,, - 53 ft. ,,
No. 4 Berth - draft 42 ft. ,, - 44 ft. ,,
No. 5 Berth - draft 34 ft.
No. 6 Berth - draft 40 ft. (This berth is used as a reserve).

NOTICE OF READINESS: Time of Notice of Readiness tendered will be considered when vessel arrives in the very near vicinity of the Marqab Light Buoy (position Lat. 35° 12′ 7″ N. Long. 35° 54′ 46″ E.), where the Mooring Master, who is the Company's Representative, will board and receive ship and remain on board throughout the entire operation.

HEALTH: Masters of tankers due may obtain free pratique by addressing the usual quarantine message to their Agents through commercial radio channels.

It is good practice to commence loading as soon as hoses are connected and whilst ballast discharge is still in progress, always providing this can be achieved safely and with no danger of contamination.

POLLUTION: The Port Authorities will, in cases where pollution is ascertained, collect a declaration from the Master of the offending ship, in which declaration he authorises his Agents to pay any fine to be levied by the official committee in the future.

In the light of the above and to avoid any delay to vessels, owners are kindly requested to:

LOADING: Ships' Personnel are solely responsible for the loading operation, i.e. starting, loading rate, tank switching, topping off, stopping, etc. The Mooring Master will pass requirements to the shore control. It is in vessel's interest to advise loading rate required, also to give 30 minutes' notice of expected time of commencing loading. Order to start will be taken as final.

The Mooring Master must be advised when ship estimates 1,000 tons to go for completion of loading.

Ensure scuppers are effectively plugged. On no account are plugs to be removed.

A complete watch on deck must be maintained throughout the operation, especially towards the shore signal station, to ensure safe loading and avoid delays.

Loading Rates: No. 2, 7,000 t.p.h.; No. 3, 8,500 t.p.h.; No. 4, 6,500 t.p.h.; No. 5, 4,000 t.p.h.

Tanker Safety Regulations: Tanker Safety Requirements must be strictly adhered to at all times. The Mooring Master is authorised to stop all operations should he consider the safety regulations are not being complied with.

Boarding: The boarding of a vessel whilst in mooring should be restricted to persons holding valid passes which are issued by the Syrian Company of Oil Transport (SCOT) on application to ship's Agents and authorised chandlers.

This restriction is carried out in conjunction with the Syrian Harbour and Security Authorities.

When within 20 miles of Dar-es-Salaam Signal Station vessel should call the Signal Station on either Channel 12 or 16. A continuous watch is kept on both channels. Call sign is Dar-es-Salaam Signal Station.

VHF Channels 16 calling, 12 berthing. VHF Channel whilst discharging to be decided.

Portable radios can be provided for vessels not having a VHF set and the Agent should be so informed in order to allow time to dispatch a portable radio on arrival. A vessel arriving without suitable means of communication and not having informed the Agent of the fact could incur delays which would be to ship's account.

The Mooring Master will be in direct control of all radio communications on the vessel while in the terminal area. Any unauthorised communications may result in the immediate cessation of all operations and removal from the berth.

READINESS: Notice of readiness will only be accepted by the Pilot/Mooring Master on behalf of the Harbour's Corporation, when the ship is berthed and connected.

Any vessel which is not, in the opinion of the berth controller, ready in all aspects to discharge, may be rejected until corrections are made. The Harbour master's decisions are final.

BERTH: The Mono Buoy is a single point mooring buoy. The body of the buoy being secured in a fixed position with 6 moorings and the top of the buoy is in the form of a turntable allowing the ship, moorings and hoses to take up the position the vessel lies naturally due to tide, wind and current conditions.

MOORING: The following equipment is required to moor with safety: Two 10-in. nylon circumference ropes. 100 ft. in length. 4 end joining shackles.

The vessel approaches the Mono Buoy head to wind and tide or the resultant of these forces, and should have 2 mooring ropes lowered to the water, each having a 15 ft. lashing of 3-in. rope on it.

As the vessel nears the mooring, a launch will take the port rope from the ship and connect it to the port pick-up rope and return to the ship to take the starboard rope and repeat the operation on that side.

The vessel should heave on the ropes as soon as they are inboard and heave herself to the buoy until the chain is on the fairlead. The ship wire should then be shackled to the chain and turned up on bits. This applies to both sets of moorings.

HOSES: Raising and lowering of, connecting and disconnecting of hoses as well as other shipboard duties will be performed by the ship's crew under the advice of the Mooring Master. The ship should be capable of lifting 10 tons on her derrick, with a minimum of 7.5 tons.

When the vessel is securely moored, the launch will bring the hoses alongside on the port side. The vessel will lower the cargo hook to the boatman who will hook it on to the lifting ring on the forward hose. The hose will then be lifted to full height on the boom and secured on the "Hang off Chains" supplied. The hose is then lowered to the deck and the operation repeated with the after hose.

After completion of discharge the hoses will be filled with sea water by the ship. The hoses can then be disconnected from the manifold and lifted over the side of the ship and hung there on the slip ropes to be slipped off simultaneously with the moorings. This last operation will be carried out on the advice of the Mooring Master.

UNMOORING: On sailing, hoses will already have been disconnected and ready to be slipped at the direction of the Mooring Master.

The weight will be taken on the 2 approach ropes by heaving slowly with the winch. The shackles will then be released and the ropes slacked away until they are finally paid out through the fairlead and dropped into the sea.

The shore equipment should then be collected together under the derrick and returned to the boat.

BALLAST: Ballasting will be allowed during discharge but only with the express permission of the berthing controller, and in the case of ballasting in dirty tanks a dry certificate must be issued. Vessels will not be allowed to tank clean. There are no sludge tanks ashore.

FUEL: No bunkers available.

FRESH WATER: Only very limited quantities of fresh water in the region of about 50 tons can be provided.

STORES: Stores are available in Dar-es-Salaam, but the East African Harbours Corporation cannot undertake to transport stores to the Mono Buoy. Transport of stores to the buoy will be the responsibility of the Agent.

REPAIRS: During periods of calm and the fact that there is little current, it is foreseen that the problem of riding up on the buoy may occur. The vessel's engines shall therefore be available at all times and the telegraph shall be on stand-by while the vessel is in the berth. Engine repairs are not permitted. Should a vessel not be able to use her engines the cargo will be stopped and the vessel towed to a safe anchorage at the vessel's cost, until she can safely return to the berth.

SHORE LEAVE: Shore leave will not be permitted. Should any of the crew require to be landed for medical or relief reasons, the Agent will be reponsible for providing transport to the Inner Harbour. East African Harbours Corporation craft will on no account be available to ferry crew members to and from the passenger pontoon. The Mono Buoy lies 4.5 miles from the passenger landing pontoon, which is situated in the Inner Harbour.

POLLUTION: It is the Master's responsibility to see that no oil of any kind is pumped or spilled overboard from his vessel. This includes oily water from bilges, crude residues from the previous voyages or any other matter that may result in the pollution of the area. Owners and Masters should comply with any international regulations and recommendations concerning the prevention of pollution of the sea.

Serious consequences will arise if the above rule is broken. All costs and expenses involved will be for the account of the vessel concerned and the Master may be prosecuted under the Tanzania Merchant Shipping Act.

REGULATIONS: While in the berth the vessel should provide a pilot ladder on the opposite side of the vessel to the gangway, secured at the rail and ready for use.

No boats of any kind shall be lowered without permission from the Customs, Immigration and Harbour Master, except in an emergency.

East African Harbours Corporation maintains vessels to assist in berthing. These vessels are under the direct supervision of the Mooring Master/Pilot. Any service or faciility provided by the East African Harbours Corporation, including the services of the Mooring Master/Pilot and boats are the vessel's risk. The furnishing of Mooring Master/Pilot and launches or other services and facilities shall not be construed to be or give rise to a personal contract.

PHUKET: 07.50 N. 98.25 E.

DOCUMENTS:

PRIOR TO ARRIVAL AT PHUKET:

Entry documents and advance information.

Custom and Immigration Entry forms as well as list of other documents required on vessel's own forms to be completed in advance for presentation on arrival Phuket will be sent in advance to the Agent at one of the previous ports together with request for the following information required 4 days in advance of vessel's arrival.

Confirmation of ETA and any subsequent revised ETA.
Captain's name.
Last port of call before Phuket.
Next port of call after Phuket.
Net registered tonnage (n.r.t.).
Hatch distribution and gangs workable.
Cash advance of Master.

Flags: Vessels are required to fly the Thai flag and display the code flag "Q" on arrival.

PILOTAGE: There is no official Pilot available.

ANCHORAGE: The following anchorages are regularly used by ocean carriers of deep draft calling Phuket for loading or discharging cargo.

During the N.E. Monsoon Season: Prevailing wind from November through March and periods of strong Easterly winds, vessels are recommended to anchor in position 7° 53′ N. and 98° 27′ 15″ E. about 0.5 mile off Laom Mai Pai to pick up the boarding party and stevedores before proceeding to the actual anchorage for loading at position 7° 57′ N. and 98° 33′ E. about one mile off Koh Yac Hyai, draft approx. 16 m. (50 ft.) at LWOS. However, during calm weather periods cargo operation will be carried out at the first mentioned anchorage.

During the S.W. Monsoon season: Prevailing from April through October and any periods of strong Westerly winds, vessels are recommended to anchor at position 7° 53′ N. 98° 27′ 15″ E. about 0.5 nautical mile off Laom Mai Pai, draft approx. 14 m. or 45 ft. at LWOS.

To facilitate cargo operations during swell from South, vessels are requested to anchor as close as possible to the above anchorage positions according to the Master's judgement.

No Pilot is required on approaching the above anchorage; however, it should be noted three ocean-going dredgers are operating in the area between Koh Dok Mai and Kon Khai Nok which should be passed at a distance of about 1,500 ft. to keep clear of their anchor lines. The dredgers are lit up and clearly visible at night.

It should also be noted during the new moon period there are several small fishing craft in the area.

RESTRICTIONS: Channel: The channel around Koh Tapae Kyai is normally passed clockwise and is marked by a system of buoys, the position of which are shown on Thai charts. However, it is also possible to turn around by swinging on the anchor just after passing buoy No. 3 on a rising tide (South to North) just before high tide.

Width of Channel; Min. 230 ft. at buoy No. 6 measured (chart datum at LLW) at 6 m. depth curve. Max. 900 ft. at buoy No. 4 measured at 6 m. depth curve.

Restriction in Navigation: (1) Entering or leaving through the North channel involves a rather sharp turn with a radius of about 1,000 ft. and angle of about 115° between the axis of channel in a restricted area between buoy No. 6 and Koh Tapai Noi Island. Please also note the wreck buoy between buoy No. 6 and Koh Tapao Noi.

(2) The draft at buoy No. 6 is about 24 ft. 6 in. at Lowest H.W.

(3) At buoy No. 5 are placed two pairs of mooring buoys parallel in the channel, occasionally used by tankers discharging petroleum products to Esso and Shell installations ashore. The width between the narrowest pier is about 150 ft. and vessels are required to pass between these mooring buoys.

HEALTH: All crew and passengers must have valid health certificates for small-pox and cholera.

RADIO: Messages to and from vessels at sea on the West coast of the Malayan Peninsula are best transmitted via Penang Radio in time to allow retransmission to Phuket at about the following local times:

Weekdays at 0930 hrs., 1400 hrs. and 1630 hrs. Sundays at 1630 hrs.

For vessels outside this area, messages can be sent via Bangkok or Singapore as applicable. Cables via Bangkok Radio are normally transmitted every second hour from 0800 to 2100 hrs. local time, whereas cables via Singapore are sometimes retransmitted via Bangkok Radio and sometimes via Penang Radio.

There are no facilities for ship-to-shore communication in Phuket, but vessels are not required to close down their radio station or VHF set while in port.

There is long-distance telephone connection with Bangkok, Penang, Singapore and Kuala Lumpur from Phuket at all hours.

Despatch Cables: Agent will in all probability need to send cables via the ship's radio reloading results, etc., subject to the Captain's approval. The cost of all such cables is to be borne by the vessel.

TUGS: No tugs available.

BERTHING: Pier Facilities: At Laen Klusi, Thailand Smelting and Refining Co. Ltd. have built a crossway connected by a short bridge to a pier which is parallel to the channel. The pier and channel are presently only suitable to accommodate vessels up to about 10,000 d.w.t. and approx. 430 ft. long, not exceeding 22 ft. draft. Vessels berthing at the pier are recommended to anchor at position 7° 48′ 24″ N. and 98° 25′ 12″ E. to await loading and favourable tide.

Dimensions of the pier: Length 61 m. (200 ft.), width 12 m. (40 ft.). Depth about 24 ft. 6 in. at LLW.

Fenders: The pier is protected by a system of wooden fenders in addition to which there is one fender at each end of the pier with solid rubber buffers.

Mooring buoys: There are two mooring buoys about 700 ft. apart each at equal distance from the end of the pier.

MEDICAL: It is only possible to get a doctor on board in the most severe cases, but otherwise there are two hospitals in Phuket, one of which is managed by American Seventh Day Adventists Mission Doctors and the other is a General Hospital.

FRESH WATER: Limited and difficult to obtain.

FUEL: Limited and difficult to obtain.

GALEOTA POINT: 10.05 N. 61.00 W. (See Plan)

LOCATION: Galeota Single Buoy Mooring Terminal is located 3 miles on a bearing of 192° from Galeota Point Lighthouse, and is an open, unsheltered roadstead. Galeota Point is a narrow headland about 210 ft. high and located in Lat. 10° 08′ 00″ N. and Long. 60° 59′ 30″ W. The lighthouse, situated on top of the point, exhibits a light 240 ft. above sea level which flashes white every 5 seconds, and is seen for 22 miles. The buoy itself exhibits a quick flashing (1 flash per second) red light, 10 ft. high, and visible for 4 miles through 360°.

DOCUMENTS:

Health Declaration, International Health Form to be filled out by Master on arrival.
Derat Certificate/Derat Exemption.
4 Crew Lists.
Ship's Register.
2 Stores Lists, signed by Master.
2 Passenger Manifests, if any passengers on board.
Bonded-stores List, each crew member is allowed to retain in his possession 200 cigarettes and one bottle of spirits. The balance must be listed and will be sealed in a locker by the Customs.
Clearance from last port of call.
Manifest, or if no cargo a statement that vessel is in ballast.

PILOTAGE: Vessels arriving should approach to within 3 to 4 miles of Galeota lighthouse, on a bearing of 220/230° and will be met by the Amoco Mooring Master and a Trinidad/Tobago Pilot. The Pilot will be stationed on the bridge and will advise the vessel on the approach to the buoy. The Amoco Representative will be positioned in the bow to advise the ship's crew in picking-up and making fast the floating nylon mooring lines.

Vessels are requested to have a Pilot ladder safely and securely rigged, ready for immediate use, and long enough to reach the Mooring Master's launch. If at night, adequate lighting must be rigged overside for the Mooring Master to approach the side of the ship and climb the safety ladder.

ANCHORAGE: Approaching vessels should never anchor to the East or N.E. of Galeota Point. A submarine pipe-line from a platform in Lat. 10° 10′ 24″ N. and Long. 60° 39′ 56″ W. enters the Galeota Point area about 0.5 miles Northward of the lighthouse. Vessels should approach from the S.W., and never anchor in the vicinity of the SBM or between the buoy and the coastline.

RESTRICTIONS: Galeota Terminal operates 24 hours per day, 7 days a week. Ships are loaded and unmoored at any hour, weather and other circumstances permitting. Vessels are moored during daylight hours only; however an exception to this rule may be made at the discretion of the Terminal.

NOTICE OF READINESS: The company will make every effort to load vessels upon arrival or as promptly as berth is available, weather permitting.

Notice of Readiness will not be accepted as at time of arrival, unless the vessel is in all respects ready to load. Arrival time will be considered as the time the Mooring Master boards the vessel or the time that the vessel anchors, whichever occurs first.

In the event that the berthing is delayed on account of weather, vessels will keep their position in line. Vessels required to leave the port area on account of weather (port closed) should keep in contact with the Terminal via radio in order that they will be available when the weather moderates.

RADIO: Incoming tankers must send ETA via commercial radio station 9YL 3 days before arrival, on the marine HF frequencies. Galeota Point listens on 2182 kc/s and operates with Amoco's marine units on 2398 kc/s.

Ships equipped with FM/VHF radio may call Galeota Point on 156.8 Mc/s, Channel 16.

The first ETA messages should also include a definite statement of the details of any equipment required from shore for connecting submarine hoses to ship's manifold. Further ETA messages should be sent to Amoco when the vessel is 24 and 12 hours distant from Galeota Point and at any other time any appreciable change occurs in the original ETA or those subsequent thereto. The 12 hours ETA should include a positive statement regarding ship's readiness to load on arrival and the number of hours that will be required to discharge ballast after ship is berthed in mooring.

Ship-to-shore communications while ships are in moorings will be by portable VHF radio telephone units. The Mooring Master will advise Masters and Officers regarding the emergency whistle signals set up for use in event VHF radio telephone units become inoperative. The use of the ship's radio station and/or battery-charging equipment is prohibited during cargo transfer operation.

CLEARANCE: Trinidad and Tobago Customs Officials will be stationed at Galeota and in most instances the Customs Officer will also handle the duties of the Quarantine and Immigration Officers. Should Customs guards be stationed on board vessel while in the moorings, it is expected that ship will provide food for these guards and other officials. All vessels calling at Galeota Terminal must provide an accommodation ladder for the officials.

SINGLE-BUOY MOORING: The tankers load by means of a 42-in. pipe-line from shore to SBM which is 3 miles offshore. The ballast water is pumped ashore through a 16-in. submarine line. The buoy piping consists of two 20-in. diameter for crude and one 16-in. diameter for deballasting with a by-pass. The loading hoses from the buoy to the tanker consist of two 20-in. floating hoses, 770 ft. long ending in 12-in. hoses of 105 ft. length.

This SBM is designed for maximum tanker size of 250,000 d.w.t. and is located in 95 ft. water depth. Amoco maintains launches to assist in mooring and unmooring vessel.

Tankers to have ready 2 nylon or manila messenger lines of not less than 6 in. circumference and at least 300 ft. long.

HOSE CONNECTIONS: After the tanker is securely moored the floating loading/deballasting hoses must be lifted to the rail with ship's equipment. The two 12-in. hose lifts weigh about 5 tons each. The flange connection on each hose is for a 12-in. manifold. Hoses are lifted individually by the ship's gear, and may be connected on either the port or starboard side. The 12-in. hoses are connected direct to the manifold and tankers should have their manifold fittings available.

The Mooring Master and the hose crew will sling and connect the hoses to the vessel's manifold. The ship's personnel are expected to operate the winch and assist where necessary. A deck officer should be present at all times.

BALLAST: No dirty ballast will be pumped overboard. A separate ballast disposal line (16 in.) is available at the terminal to pump ballast to a pit on shore where oil and water can be separated, and disposal made.

A vessel must have sufficient ballast for safe manoeuvring, and usually one-third of its tonnage is adequate. However, by a careful watch of the weather information and berthing instructions and by a knowledge of the behaviour of his own vessel a Master may desire to come to the terminal with minimum ballast.

In addition to the lights usually displayed, vessels discharging ballast or loading cargo during darkness will illuminate the area around the ship to the satisfaction of the Mooring Master, in order that any oil on the surface of the sea may readily be detected, and appropriate action taken. Vessels unable to illuminate the sea satisfactorily may not discharge ballast during darkness. Vessels should provide suitable flood-lights for working on deck during night operation.

Vessels equipped with a separate system of ballast tanks will be allowed to discharge ballast and load oil simultaneously, providing approval is received from the Terminal Superintendent.

All precautions shall be taken to prevent any loss of oil overboard, drip pans must be in place, and used when disconnecting oil hose from manifold. The waters in and adjacent to the Galeota Terminal must never be polluted.

LOADING: Maximum crude oil loading rate through two 12-in. deck hoses is about 25,000 b.h.b. The flow is by pump and the line pressure will not exceed 60 p.s.i.

Tankers valves must not be closed against incoming oil stream. At least 3 minutes is required to shut down pumps and stop flow of oil.

If ship-to-shore communications fail, the emergency signal is a continuous blast on the tanker's whistle.

MEDICAL: Vessels requiring emergency medical assistance should immediately contact the terminal by Marine VHF radio, and supply the necessary pertinent information which will be passed to the Agent.

Neither medical or hospital facilities are available at Galeota or provided by Amoco. Limited facilities are available in Mayaro, which is about 30 min. drive, and unlimited service is available in Port of Spain, which is 2 hours drive.

FRESH WATER: Only available by barge from Port of Spain.

FUEL: Only available by barge from Port of Spain.

REPAIRS: Masters of vessels loading or discharging at Galeota Terminal are advised that this port is considered an "open roadstead" and under no circumstances may engines be shut down for repairs while their ships are moored in the SBM system. There are no facilities for making vessel repairs, but arrangements may be made through vessel's Agent to utilize the Port of Spain facilities.

It is emphasized that all vessels in the SBM system must be in readiness to clear immediately on instructions to do so.

CONSULS: Nearest at Port of Spain

TIME: GMT minus 4 hours, and daylight saving (Summer time) is not applicable.

SHORE LEAVE: Shore leave for personnel of vessels loading or unloading at the terminal arranged through the vessel's Agent. All personnel going ashore must land at the Amoco small-boat harbour. Sufficient crew must be aboard at all times for letting go lines in order to clear the mooring immediately if necessary.

All vessels are required to fly the Trinidad and Tobago ensign on the foremast during daylight hours. Flags may be obtained from Agent.

The presence of unauthorized craft alongside is extremely hazardous. Ship's Masters are requested to require all non-Amoco craft to clear ship's side as soon as personnel have been embarked or disembarked.

No stores may be handled on the weather deck while ship is loading cargo, discharging dirty ballast, or while any ullage hatches, loading hose, or tank tops open.

A safety check-off list and terminal rules for safety will be delivered by the Mooring Master.

TERMINAL OPERATORS: Amoco Trinidad Oil Company.

POINTE-A-PIERRE (Texaco Oil Terminal and Refinery): 10.19 N. 61.28 W.

Hoses: Loading hoses are connected up by dock personnel, but must be supported by ship's tackle at the rail during loading or discharging. Ship's officers should keep a close watch on the hose during operations and stop loading and/or discharging operations if anything untoward happens to the hoses. A drip pan is to be placed under all hose connections in use, After loading fuel oil, Marine diesel or NOR, air is used for displacing hose contents into the vessel before being disconnected. For all other products the hose is drained into ship's tanks or jetty slop tank.

Towing wires: On completion of mooring on arrival, a suitable wire shall be hung over the bow and stern on the side away from the dock so that, in an emergency a tug can tow the ship off. The wire should be properly secured on board and it should be long enough to reach the water's edge at the ship's lightest draft.

My vessel had a draft of 26 ft. By the VHF the Harbour Master ordered me to enter the channel and continue up to the Outer Basin where a Pilot would embark on the Port side.

It was later confirmed both by the Pilot and Agent to be usual for ships up to 10,000 tons to enter the outer Basin without Pilot. Also upon our departure, the Pilot disembarked at the outer harbour Basin.

The Agent told me the channel was 34 ft. deep. Although no measurements have been taken for 10 years. Lately a ship with draft of 33 ft. has passed through the channel without any difficulties.

An unmarked wreck is situated in position 34° 37.5′ N., 10° 49.5′ E. The best way to approach the outer channel from S.W. or South, would therefore be to navigate to a position 6.5 miles S.E. of Tina's Lt. Tr., then change course for the outer buoys of channel.

The only Beacons illuminated around Kerkenah Banks were Beacon No. "1" and No. "8". All other buoys were in correct position, but extinguished.

GENERAL:

On arrival off Canakkale, coming from the Aegean, or off Buyukdere, coming from the Black Sea, ships must stop for sanitary inspection. However, tankers with a d.w.t. over 100,000 tons proceeding to the Gulf of Izmit to discharge or load petroleum products may obtain pratique there without stopping at Canakkale, provided Agents are notified 96 hours in advance.

In the event of bad weather at Canak, vessels may be allowed to continue their voyage to Istanbul and undergo the sanitary inspection there. Permission to do so is notified to them by the Canak Sanitary Office with the signal "H.M." in daytime and three vertical lights (green, white, green) at night.

Pilotage through the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus is not compulsory. Pilot stations, equipped with VHF operating on Channel 16, are located at Canakkale, Istanbul and Telli Tabia (Upper Bosphorus).

Turkish Flag: All foreign ships are required to fly Turkish flag during their stay in Turkish ports or when passing through the Straits (Dardanelles and Bosphorus).

Sanitary and Port Inspections: On arrival at a Turkish port, every ship is boarded by a Sanitary Officer for examination. Nobody may join or leave the ship before this inspection is completed.

The ship must produce the following documents:

Sanitary Declaration Form.
Deratisation Certificate.
Ship's Register.
Load-line Certificate.
Safety Radio Certificate.
Safety Equipment Certificate.
Cargo Ship Safety Construction Certificate.

Police Customs Controls: After obtaining free sanitary pratique, the ship must likewise produce:

(1) 3 Crew Lists together with every member's passport, discharge book or Z-card.
(2) 1 List of Provisions, Stores and Bunkers.
(3) 1 Declaration of all Monies or cheques carried in the ship's safe.
(4) Manifests of all cargo on board, whether for discharge at Turkish or foreign ports.
(5) 1 List of Passengers landing in Istanbul showing nationality, number, date and source of entrance visa (if such visa is required) together with the passports.
(6) 1 List of Transit Passengers together with the passports.

Documents covered by items 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6 as well as a list of passengers embarking at Istanbul are also required on departure.

Police and Customs Controls are effected at Istanbul when arriving from the Aegean and at Buyukdere when arriving from the Black Sea. However, vessels under 500 n.r.t. have to undergo control formalities at Canakkale, both inwards and outwards, apart from those to be effected at Istanbul. It is recommended to prepare the accommodation ladder to facilitate the boarding of officials.

Excepting the case of tourist vessels, the Customs Officers will seal stocks of provisions and tobacco, spirits, as well as any other items in bond. Sufficient quantities of the foregoing will be left unsealed for the needs of the ship during the stay in port.

If stores left unsealed are exhausted while a ship is in port, a request to the Customs Officers will ensure further withdrawal.

The seals must not be broken before the ship's exit from territorial waters or if sailing from one Turkish port to another Turkish port.

Special Rules for the Passage of the Bosphorus: Art. 35 of the "International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea" does not apply to ships navigating in the Bosphorus. Ships proceeding up the Bosphorus must keep to the European side, and coming down must keep to the Asiatic side of the mid-stream; that is to say they must always keep to the left in so far as is consistent with safety.

During their passage through the Bosphorus, ships must regulate their speed, without exceeding the 10-knot limit over the bottom, so that piers, landing stages, etc., or other craft (sailing and rowing boats, etc.) may not be damaged by their wash. Further, they must take care not to hinder fishing and diving operations or to damage submarine telephone, telegraph or electric cables.

Sound Signals, Wireless Sets: It is forbidden to make use of sirens or steam whistles in the harbour, except for manoeuvring purposes as laid down in the regulations for the avoidance of collisions.

Wireless transmitters are not sealed on arrival of a vessel but it is recommended that their use in Turkish territorial waters be restricted to cases of emergency.

Refuse: No refuse such as garbage, ashes, polluted oil and the like can be thrown or pumped overboard, nor any scraping, cleaning of tanks and/or bilges can be effected inside port limits.

SHIPMASTER'S REPORT: For outward clearance through the Dardanelles vessel has to produce: 1 Crew List, 1 Stores List, 1 Manifest and Customs Clearance.

DEVELOPMENTS: New oil terminal at Golovasi, 20 miles from Iskenderun.

The oil line comes from the Kirkuk Field in Northern Iraq and has a capacity to pass 35,000,000 tons of oil per year.

There are four loading berths, each with four booms. The maximum capacity to load on Berths 1 or 2 will be 20,000 t.p.h.

The terminal can handle tankers of 300,000 d.w.t. down to 80,000 d.w.t.

The length of the jetty, 1,700 m., was dictated by the necessary water depth available to accommodate very large liquid carriers. A vessel of 300,000 d.w.t. draws 25 m. of water, at Berths 1 and 2 depth of water is 27 m.

It is hoped to commence loading tankers in the Spring of 1977 and complete the entire project by the end of 1977.

A harbour has been built to accommodate the service craft necessary to operate such a terminal. The vessels which will be berthed and operate from here will be tugs of 2,400 h.p., pilot boats and auxiliary service boats.

(c) Guiding principles to comply with when calling at U.S.S.R. ports: When calling at U.S.S.R. ports Masters of all foreign flag vessels are requested to comply with the Instructions and Provisions of the Government of the U.S.S.R. published annually in issue No. 1 of the U.S.S.R. Notices to Mariners, Special Instructions for vessels calling at U.S.S.R. ports and General Rules for Soviet merchant and fishing sea ports.

All vessels calling at U.S.S.R. ports must also abide by the Customs and Obligatory Harbour Regulations of each particular port of call which are obtainable through the local Inflot agencies, viz. shipping agents for foreign flag vessels at U.S.S.R. ports.

(d) Ship/shore radio link: Ships' communication with ports of call is usually maintained through the local port radio stations, some information of which is given in the respective entries for the ports.

Ships' radio stations and/or radio-telephones (excluding VHF), must not be operated when the vessel navigates or lies at anchor within the limits of the port boundaries as well as when calling at or leaving the port, except in emergency, e.g.:

when giving distress signals;
when rendering assistance to other vessels in distress;
while making way through the ice;
after having obtained special permission of the Harbour Master.

(e) Notice of arrival: At least 48 hours prior to arrival Masters should give notice through Inflot agency to the Port Administration stating the following particulars:

Name and call-sign of the ship.
Nationality (flag).
Last port of call.
Draft fore and aft and length.
Net and gross register tonnage.
Nature and total quantity of cargo to be discharged or loaded and stowage plan.
Number, location and weight of heavy lifts (over 3 tons), if any.
Number and length of oversized pieces (over 9 metres), if any.
Shipowners' cable address and telex number.
Quantity and location of tanks with ballast water and time required for deballasting (for tankers only).
Whether vessel requires supply of electric power from shore for lighting purposes.
Health and sanitary conditions both aboard the ship and at the last port of call.
Quantity of fresh water, bunkers, provisions, etc., if required.
Estimated time of arrival (ETA).

Likewise, Masters of incoming vessels shall also report to Inflot agency 12 hours before arrival the following particulars only:

Name and call sign of the ship.
Draft.
ETA as definite and final.

Masters should immediately advise the Port of Call Administration through Inflot agency of all unforeseen delays.

Masters should also notify charterers in due time and as per conditions of the relevant Charter Party or Sale Contract.

All possible damages to a vessel which may occur either for lack of all relevant details mentioned above or due to untimely and/or incorrect information given by the Master to the Port Authorities when advising ETA, etc., are to be for the vessel's account.

Vessels calling at ports for bunkers, fresh water, provisions, etc., only, should advise their ETA, etc., to the Port Administration as per details shown above.

In case a vessel is not equipped with radio the Master shall advise ETA and relevant details to the next Port of Call Administration through the radio station of the last port of call.

The Port of Call Administration should provide Masters of calling vessels with all necessary information regarding anchorage, berthing and handling of cargo not later than 2 hours prior to vessel's arrival.

Since for some ports time and terms of giving Notice of Arrival are different from those mentioned above, Masters are advised to look for the precise information in the entry for the particular Port of Call.

(f) Pilotage: Pilotage is compulsory for all vessels that enter or leave U.S.S.R. sea and river ports, as well as when mooring, unmooring and shifting berths in the harbour.

A Pilot having boarded a vessel shall be obliged to hand over to the Master a pilotage receipt conforming to a specimen established by the Ministry of the Merchant Marine of the U.S.S.R.

The following data shall be entered by the Master on the receipt: name of the vessel, its flag, draft, length, breadth, net register tonnage as well as the time and place of the Pilot's arrival.

The Master of a vessel shall be obliged to pay a fine in an amount of double the rate due as pilotage fee for incorrectly declaring the draft, length or breadth of a vessel or its net register tonnage, irrespective of the liability established by law for the consequences which may occur as a result of the incorrect information.

(g) Anchorages: A vessel approaching the Port of Call and not having been boarded by a Pilot immediately on arrival, or for any other reason, shall anchor in the anchorage area specially designated for the purpose.

All vessels when at anchor shall carry the lights or the marks as to the International Regulations for prevention Collisions at Sea. Apart from that every vessel by night, when at anchor, shall be illuminated from stem to stern with additional lights placed so that the hull be as far as possible visible from the surface of the water.

Vessels using a kedge anchor shall, in addition to the lights and the marks as to the International Regulations for Prevention Collisions at Sea, conspicuously display by night a white light and by day a red flag lowered from the stern by the anchor chain to the extent of half of the side's height.

In restricted visibility whether by day or night, every vessel when at anchor shall use sound signals conforming strictly with the International Regulations for Prevention Collisions at Sea.

All vessels when in port must hoist their national flags on the stern's flagstaff.

During Winter months all vessels when in Arctic ports must hoist their national flags daily until they are visible and during Summer from 0800 to 2000 hrs.

Restrictions:

No vessel shall anchor beyond or on the boundaries of the recommended anchorage area and/or obstruct leading lines, buoys, navigation lights and marks.

No anchorage is allowed in the prohibited zones shown on the charts in the Sailing Directions and/or in the Obligatory Harbour Regulations as well as announced in the appropriate Notices to Mariners.

No anchorage is allowed at a distance of less than 1.5 cable length off fairways and leading lines as well as in depths not providing a vessel with a safe anchorage while drifting on the anchor chain.

No vessel shall anchor within the water area of a shipbuilding yard after being refused to carry out repairs.

It is prohibited to change a vessel's anchorage by drifting.

Vessels carrying explosives or inflammable liquids must anchor in the areas recommended for them only.

Masters of all vessels when at anchor are not allowed without the Harbour Master's consent, except in emergency, and/or in case of Port and Boarding officials, to give anybody permission to come alongside in a private launch or a small rowing boat whether under oars or sail and board a vessel.

Swimmers must not be allowed to come on board a ship.

Should, in case of emergency, swimmers have been taken on board or strangers have been discovered aboard a vessel, the Master of such ship shall forthwith without delay report the fact to the Harbour Master and shall later hand those people over to the Representatives of the Port Administration.

(h) Regulations for entering and leaving U.S.S.R. ports; Every vessel coming from abroad shall hoist quarantine signals of the International Code of Signals depending on health and sanitary conditions on board.

For entry permit a vessel must contact the Port Control service either by VHF radio-telephone or by means of visual signals, viz. by day hoisting her call-sign and by night making call-sign signals in Morse Code by search-light or by Morse-lamp.

No ship shall enter the harbour until the proper signal has been hoisted at the Signal Station or by a pilot boat authorising such entry.

No vessel is allowed to enter the harbour until the prohibition signals hoisted at the signal station have been lowered down.

If entry is refused a vessel must immediately slow down, alter course and if possible go off the fairway and have to drift or drop anchor in the recommended area.

Turn of entry to the harbour is controlled by the Port Administration with regard to tonnage of vessel, nature of cargo, weather conditions in the port area, readiness of the port to start cargo operations and other circumstances.

Simultaneous entry of two or more vessels to the harbour or vice versa is not allowed in the majority of ports.

Under all circumstances a vessel entering the harbour must give way to the outgoing one not preventing her manoeuvrability.

When approaching U.S.S.R. ports all vessels must follow the recommended course announced in issue No. 1 of the U.S.S.R. Notice to Mariners.

(i) Sanitary and Quarantine requirements: Cargo vessels arriving from ports subject to cholera at Azov and Black Sea ports of U.S.S.R., and not equipped with retention tank for sewage should have all toilets sealed whilst at the U.S.S.R. ports, passengers and crew being obliged to use the shore toilets.

According to the requirements of the U.S.S.R. Medical authorities dumping of sanitary wastes from vessels equipped with retention tanks is allowed at sea, not less than 50 miles off the U.S.S.R. shore line.

The discharge of oil-contaminated water and/or oil residues is prohibited in all sea areas within 50–100 miles from the U.S.S.R. coast as to the Regulations of the International Convention (1967) for the Prevention of Pollution of the Sea by Oil.

Not later than 6 hours before arrival Masters of all vessels coming from foreign countries to the U.S.S.R. ports should advise Quarantine Authorities by radio through Inflot Agency giving full details of health conditions on board as well as sanitary conditions at the last port of call.

If medical assistance is required on board Master has to contact Inflot Agency by radio.

No shore connection is allowed to a vessel until free pratique is obtained

Foreign vessels are granted free pratique after the arrival formalities have been accomplished by the boarding officials, viz. Health Authorities, Customs and Immigration.

Masters are advised to ask a Sanitary Officer for inoculation, vaccination, fumigation, decontamination, etc., if required, whilst he is on board a ship together with the other boarding officials.

Veterinary Certificates of Good Health are required for livestock, all kinds of meats, animal food and raw meat stuff brought to U.S.S.R. ports from aboard. Certificates should be issued by the proper authorities of the country from which the cargoes have been exported.

Masters should have a Phytoquarantine Certificate for goods of vegetable nature.

It is prohibited to take ashore fruit, vegetables, grain, seeds, plants, plant products, etc., without a certificate issued by a local branch of the U.S.S.R. Agricultural Quarantine Inspection. Animals and birds are not allowed to be brought ashore without a Veterinary Certificate.

(j) Documents:

(A) Upon arrival at a U.S.S.R. port: The following ship's documents should be produced by the Master to the representative of Inflot Agency for further examination by the boarding officials upon arrival at a U.S.S.R. port:

In accordance with article 38 of the Merchant Shipping Code of the U.S.S.R. a foreign flag ship which, on calling at a U.S.S.R. port, raises doubts as to her meeting the requirements of safe navigation may, irrespective of whether she possesses the necessary ship's papers mentioned above, be subjected to an examination by way of technical survey on the same basis as ships sailing under the State Flag of U.S.S.R.

The Obligatory Harbour Regulations to be complied with fully during a vessel's stay at a U.S.S.R. port should be handed over to the Master either by Pilot or by representative of the Harbour Master's Office, or by Agent.

(B) Before sailing from a U.S.S.R. port:

No other documents apart from those mentioned under item "A" are required in order to obtain the authorisation to leave the port.

No vessel is to get under way without having obtained the permission of the Harbour Master.

The authorisation to leave the port shall be given after a vessel herself and her draft shown in the Master's Statement have been checked by a Port Authorities' representative.

The Harbour Master may not allow a vessel to leave the port, in case:

1. The Cargo Loading Regulations have not been fulfilled.
2. In view of the seaworthiness of a vessel which may cause a threat to the safety of life at sea or on board.
3. In case the ship's documents regulations have been broken and the port dues, tolls and fines have not been paid.

All expenses which may occur due to a vessel's possible delay in the port in connection with the reasons stated above are to be for the Owners' account.

(k) Customs Regulations and Allowances: Commodities and articles not designed for the port of call are not allowed to be taken ashore and should be sealed by a Customs Officer, if necessary, immediately after the clearance formalities have been accomplished or after the part of the delivered cargo loaded and stowed at the same place has been discharged.

It is prohibited to bring in or take out of the country any Soviet currency. No articles are to be taken ashore or brought on board a ship without permission of the Customs Authorities otherwise all the articles concealed should be regarded as smuggled goods and a fine shall be imposed. Likewise, sale of any articles of foreign origin on U.S.S.R. territory shall be also regarded as smuggling. In all U.S.S.R. ports tobacco is allowed to be taken ashore in small quantities and for personal consumption only. No wine or alcohol is allowed to be brought ashore.

(l) Berthing: Berthing can only be effected with a State Pilot on board. Likewise, no vessel shall leave or shift berth without employing the services of a Pilot authorised by the Port Administration to make the voyage in question.

Vessels must take up the berths assigned to them and conform strictly to the Obligatory Harbour Regulations in force.

A Pilot or the Agent shall provide the Master with all necessary information as regard to depths, tugs, conditions in the Harbour, etc., before mooring starts.

The responsibility for the safety of a vessel during her manoeuvring and berthing as well as for possible damages to a berth or other port facilities shall always rest with the Master.

No vessel is allowed to change berth due to handling of cargo or for any other reason unless the main engines, the mooring winches, the steering gear, etc., are in good working order and there is sufficient number of the members of the crew to ensure shifting berth when required.

It is strictly prohibited to work with vessel's propellers when lying alongside berth. To avoid damage to the underwater parts of a berth while mooring or unmooring every vessel must have the main engines going "dead slow" until her stern is 10 m. from the quay.

When berthing, Masters should use strong and reliable mooring lines and make them fast over the quay pile-moorings and bollards only. It is strictly prohibited to make fast mooring lines over any part of the quay equipment which has not been intended for that purpose.

When lying alongside berth, every vessel must have a gangway or a gangway board with a lifeline secured along, led ashore and made fast. There should be a life net under the gangway platform and a lifebuoy nearby. Gangways must be sufficiently illuminated at night.

(m) Stay in port: When lying alongside berths, all vessels to be moored by long safe ropes which are to be kept fast at all times, and constant watch should be kept by day and at night.

All mooring ropes must be fitted with rat-guard plates.

From sunset to sunrise all vessels' decks, cargo decks and gangways must be illuminated.

Every vessel, whether in the outer roads or in the harbour, must always have on board a sufficient number of crew to be able to ensure both the ship's safety and her everyday routine. Vessel's fire-fighting and life-saving equipment must always be ready for use on board or to render assistance to other vessels or shore objects in case of emergency.

When in port, no vessel is allowed, without having obtained the Harbour Master's permission, to make repairs to the main engines or to the ship's auxiliary equipment thus depriving her of the opportunity to shift berth at short notice in case of emergency.

It is not allowed, without the permission of the Port Administration, to use vessel's boats, underwater oxygen and any underwater apparatus of other types.

No vessel is allowed to clean boilers or discharge any sort of chemicals or organic products into the water.

It is strictly recommended to avoid giving off smoke and sparking from vessels' funnels.

No rubbish, bottles, waste foodstuff, baskets, carcasses, stones, dirt, ashes or any objectionable or malodorous matter shall be thrown into the water or on the quay. The Master of any ship shall cause anything of this nature to be removed by special barges or lorries day by day. No oil or oily water is to be pumped out or allowed to escape into the harbour. Washing water and/or oil residues must be discharged into shore facilities only.

(n) Ship's movement in the harbour and shifting berths: No vessel shall leave or shift berths without the permission of the Port Authorities. In case there are no provisions in the Contract of Carriage of Goods by Sea or in the Bill of Lading, a vessel shall accomplish one shifting from berth to berth during the course of her loading and shifting upon unloading to the loading berth at the Owners' risk and expense. Any subsequent shifting shall be at the expense of the goods.

All shiftings in the port connected with a vessel's needs, viz. bunkering, loading supplies and/or provisions, making repairs, etc., shall be at the expense of the vessel.

All haulings both during the course of loading and unloading shall also be at vessel's expense.

(o) Tugs and salvage assistance: Tugs and salvage craft for rendering necessary services and assistance to foreign vessels are available in all the U.S.S.R. ports.

If necessary, Masters should order tugs from the Port Controller through Inflot Agency in time stipulated by the Obligatory Harbour Regulations.

Tugs, if necessary, are usually ordered by the Master according to a Pilot's advice.

In some ports use of tugs during mooring and shifting berths is compulsory due to the heavy conditions of navigation.

Masters shall be charged for tug assistance, if required, according to the current port rates. Time for use of tugs shall be counted from the moment of leaving their usual berthing place up to the moment they return.

Notes: In all the U.S.S.R. ports 1 hour time is fixed for passage of a tug-boat to a vessel from her usual berthing place and vice versa after she has accomplished her assistance, except the port of Archangel where 2 hours time is applied. For detention of a tug-boat a vessel shall be charged as per usual working time.

For cancellation of a tug, a vessel shall be charged full rate, including detention time and time of passage of a tug from the berth to the vessel and vice versa.

When ordering a tug for unmooring, Master should fill in and sign a special application form given by the Agent. The actual time of completing the towage shall be approved by the Master of a towed vessel.

In ports where the towage is compulsory when mooring and shifting berths, the Master shall be charged for the tugs' assistance whether used or not, and having refused tugs shall be held responsible for the consequences thereupon.

(p) Notice of readiness: In case there are no special provisions in the Contract of Carriage of Goods by Sea, the Master shall, during the established office hours upon the accomplishment of Customs formalities and having obtained free pratique, deliver through his Agent in the port, viz. Inflot Agency, a notice of the ship's readiness for loading or unloading to the consignee or the shipper.

The notice of the vessel's readiness shall be considered accepted if she is actually ready to load the cargo into or unload it out of all the vessel's holds or tanks.

(q) Handling of cargo: All cargo handling areas in the ports are under control of the Port Administration which shall provide vessels with labour, tally staff, sheds and warehouses, employees, etc.

To ensure successful handling of cargo the vessel shall, when required by shippers or consignees, receive or discharge cargo day and night, as well as on Sundays and holidays, furnishing free of charge all necessary cargo handling gear. Though in most ports the cargo handling is done by port cranes both from the quays and lighters, a vessel shall, in some ports, use her own cargo handling equipment, which has to be in good working condition.

In the latter case, the Master shall produce to the Agent the Cargo Equipment Certificate which must be valid.

Loading or unloading time is calculated as to the rates stipulated in a Charter Party or according to the Customs of the Port in the absence of same.

Should the port labour participate in the opening or closing of hatches, a vessel's administration shall be responsible for the rules of safety engineering to be complied with.

Opening and closing of mechanised ship's hatches shall always be done by the ship's crew.

Should shore cranes be used for loading or unloading instead of a vessel's cargo-handling equipment, the Master shall beforehand remove aerials, aerial halyards, stay rods, wires, etc., crossing the air space over a ship's hatches and preventing the shore cranes' derricks from free circulation.

Overloaded and/or wrongly loaded vessels shall not be allowed to leave the port until the cargoes are properly stowed.

A vessel shall be considered overloaded or wrongly loaded, if:

(a) a vessel's load lines corresponding to the maximum depth to which she should have been loaded are underwater without any list;

(b) the cargoes loaded in the holds and/or on deck have not been made fast enough or have not been made fast at all;

(c) a vessel has a bad list caused by faulty loading or her stability does not correspond with the ship's documents;

(d) a vessel loaded with bulk or liquid cargoes has not used the necessary materials or accommodations to prevent cargoes from shifting or overflowing in case of vessel's pitching and rolling;

(e) the deck cargo is considered as a danger for the safety of a vessel and the safety of life on board caused by faulty loading;

(f) in the course of loading some other loading regulations have been broken.

(r) Agency: All foreign vessels upon arrival at the U.S.S.R. ports are attended by the maritime agencies Inflot.

Inflot agencies provide foreign vessels with the following services:

Inform the Port Authorities and other organisations about vessels' expected time of arrivals (ETA), nature and quantity of cargo to be handled, expected time of loading or discharging, etc.;

Render assistance to the Masters in obtaining Pilots, tugs, berths, launches, etc.;

Fulfil all the necessary formalities connected with the vessels' arrival and departure;

Ensure that Masters are acquainted with the Port Rules, Obligatory Harbour Regulations as well as other documents and instructions issued by the Port Authorities;

Give advice to the Shipowners and other interested parties regarding vessels' movement and the prospects for the handling of cargo;

Render help in speeding up loading and/or unloading of the cargo;

Provide vessels with supervisors and tallymen;

Make time sheets and submit them to the Masters, Port Authorities, Shippers and/or Receivers for their further approval;

Sign on Masters' behalf cargo and other documents;

Organise bunkering, delivery of fresh water, provisions, technical supplies and all kinds of ship-repairs;

Render help to the members of the crews in obtaining medical assistance;

Make payment of dues, charges, fines (if any), etc., on behalf of the Shipowners and for their account;

Take all necessary measures for improvement of the handling of cargoes and ships' services;

Look after the Court (Arbitration) cases and cargo claims on behalf of the Shipowners;

Make Sea Protests as well as translation and duplicating of any documents on Masters' requests;

Repatriate members of the crews from the U.S.S.R. to their home ports;

Invite surveyors qualified by the U.S.S.R. Register of Shipping, to conduct vessels' surveys;

Make extension of ships' documents;

Render help to the Shipowners in delivering and redelivering of their vessels on time charter;

Assist in arranging cargo fumigation on board;

Perform any commissions on the instructions of the Shipowners in regard to the ships' services and protection of their interests before any Authorities.

It is in the interest of the Master to advise Inflot Agency timely information as regard to a vessel's name and nationality; her net and gross register tonnage; draft fore and aft; kind of cargo to be discharged or loaded per each hold (stowage plan); number, weights and location of heavy lifts, number and length of oversized (over 9 m.) pieces and Owners' cable address and telex number thus putting the Agent in a position to calculate the approximate sum of the disbursement expenses and ask the Shipowners to remit same (disbursement accounts are to be paid before vessel's departure).

Note: Bearing in mind the fact that most of the shore offices are closed on Sundays and holidays, the Master shall cable to Inflot Agency well in advance his order for bunkers, repairs, technical supplies and cash to enable the Agent to make necessary arrangements.

All branches of Inflot Agency work round the clock, including Sundays.

Cable address of any branch of Inflot Agency is "Inflot", e.g. Inflot Archangel, Inflot Novorossiysk, etc.

(s) Fire safety measures: Fire safety measures on all foreign vessels staying at U.S.S.R. ports must comply with the Fire Safety Regulations of the 1960 International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea as well as with the provisions of the International Code for the Carriage of Dangerous Goods by Sea. Every vessel upon arrival at a port must keep constant fire watch day and night and have fire-fighting and life-saving equipment always ready for action. Members of the crew must keep strictly to the Fire Safety Regulations especially during vessels' stay at oil and timber berths.

Giving off smoke out of the funnels is strictly prohibited. In all the U.S.S.R. ports a fire brigade could be called through the Agent, or over the phone by dailling 01 in case of fire.

(t) Medical assistance: Medical assistance, if required, is available, including vaccination and inoculation as well as dispensary and hospital treatment in all the U.S.S.R. ports. In case of emergency an ambulance or a doctor should be called through the Agent or by telephone – 03 in all the ports.

(u) Customs of the ports: Customs of the ports should apply in case:

(1) there is no Contract of the Carriage of Goods by Sea;

(2) there are no provisions in a Charter Party or in the Bills of Lading in respect of items covered by these Customs;

(3) a Charter Party or a Sale contract and/or any other Contracts of the Carriage of Goods by Sea specially refer to these Customs of the Ports.

(v) National and general holidays of the U.S.S.R.: National and general holidays in the U.S.S.R. are fixed.

5 days working week with 2 holidays has been introduced for most of the industrial enterprises, government and commercial offices and other institutions. Saturdays and Sundays are weekly holidays in the U.S.S.R.

The other holidays are:

1st January (New Year's Day); 8th March (International Women's Day); 1st and 2nd May (Days of International Workers' Solidarity); 9th May (World War II Victory Day); 7th and 8th November (Anniversary of the Great October Socialist Revolution, 1917); 5th December (U.S.S.R. Constitution Day).

ARCHANGEL: 64.32 N. 40.31 E.

Port open for navigation from May to November.

LOCATION: A White Sea port. Archangel is situated at the mouth of the Severnaya Dvina river, in the S.E. corner of Dvina Bay. A part of the harbour is situated at the Northern end of the Povrakulsky Island, at the junction of the Maimax river and the Kuznechikha river, and is called the Economia Avant-port. The total length of the port area is about 30 miles.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Notices of ETA in accordance Soviet Wood Charter Party. Pilot boat located in area 64° 57′ N., 40° 05′ E. VHF Channel 16. Pilot boat is tug-boat with word "Pilot" on wheelhouse. Vessels awaiting Pilot may anchor at safe distance to North from pilot boat location. In event bad weather pilot boat goes to shelter, being available by VHF radio.

While waiting for a Pilot, vessels may lie at anchor at a safe distance to the North from the pilot boat location.

In the event of bad weather a Pilot shall board a vessel at a sheltered place shown by him.

When a Pilot is not able to board a vessel due to weather conditions, a pilot boat is usually situated on the Southern side of the Mudyug Island. In this event vessels should anchor at the entrance of the channel from seaward and wait for a Pilot's arrival.

ANCHORAGES: Anchorages in port area usually indicated by Pilot, depending upon draft, etc.

There are several anchorages on the way to the port of Archangel. The depths are about 10 m. and the holding ground is sand and mud. The anchorages are:

(1) Quarantine anchorage – in the Chizhov roadstead.

(2) At the entrance of the channel leading through the Beresovy Bar from seaward.

(3) On the S.W. and Southern sides of Mudyug Island.

(4) In the channel of Beresovy Bar vessels may anchor at the line of the leading lights not obstructing them from seaward, in the depths of 6m. – 7 m. The bottom is sand and mud. The anchorage however, is open to S.W. and N.W. winds and not recommended for large vessels.

(5) All vessels may obtain good anchorage at the islands Muravoy and Lebedin. The holding ground is sand. The anchorage is well sheltered from all winds except those from N.W,

(6) Vessels waiting for Customs and Quarantine formalities to be accomplished should anchor in the Northern part of the Maimax river, opposite the Customs post, situated at Chizhov Island at a distance of 0.5 mile to the South of it, in depths of 4.5 m. – 9 m. Vessels with drafts exceeding 4.5 m. are recommended to anchor to the North of the parallel of the rear light mark of the Lapominsky leading light marks.

(7) A good anchorage may be obtained in the Solombala Roads. When at anchorage at the Solombala Cat Island, vessels are not recommended to cross the 2 m. isobath.

(8) Vessels may also obtain a good anchorage in depth of 7.5 m. – 19 m. in the Town roadstead which is opposite the town of Archangel.

MAX. SIZE: Vessels longer than 150 m. not recommended enter port. Draft not to exceed 26 ft.

HEALTH: All vessels coming from foreign countries inspected by Sanitary Office. If no diseases vessel obtains free pratique. If vessels entering after calling at another U.S.S.R. port, pratique automatic.

RADIO: All information from sea may be routed through Murmansk Radio (UMN) and Archangel Radio (UGE), A1 500 kc/s., A3 2182 kc/s.

All vessels when approaching the port of Archangel should establish radio contact through the coastal "Archangel radio" station which operates 24 hours per day on the following frequencies:

Signals can be made by the International code of Signals by day and by Morse system at night.

Masters of vessels proceeding to the port of Archangel should advise ETA and all necessary information to the Inflot Agency as per conditions of the "Soviet Wood" Charter Party.

24 hours prior to arrival advise ETA to the Harbour Master. Four hours prior to approaching the Beresovy Bar Masters should advise more precise time of arrival.

TUGS: If necessary ordered two hours before arrival and normally join vessel near berth. Usually use ship's lines.

BERTHING: To certain extent depends upon tides. 37 berths available with depths alongside up to 8.25 m.

There are a large number of berths in the port along the river front, as well as at the Economia Avant-port.

Berths are equipped to handle timber, wood-pulp, paper, machinery and general cargo. There are enclosed warehouses and concrete floor sheds in the port.

BRIDGES: Vessels proceeding to load cargo at sawmills 2 and 3 have to pass under bridge which is opened twice a day.

STEVEDORES: No particular Eta advices to stevedores/shippers required except those mentioned in Soviet Wood C/P. Loading rates, etc., also stipulated by Charter Party.

Mobile electric cranes of up to 20 tons capacity are operated on the quays. There are also floating cranes of up to 50 tons capacity, other cargo handling equipment and intra-port transport facilities. Sometimes, cargo handling is by vessels' gear.

TELEPHONES: Can be arranged on board.

SERVICES: Compass adjusting, radar and radio repairs, etc.

SHORE LEAVE: Each crew member properly signed in Ship's Articles and having valid seamen's Book allowed ashore.

DELAYS: On account of rain when loading timber.

NAVIGATION: Masters proceeding for loading timber should bear in mind that the swing bridge on their way to timber mills No. 2 and No. 3 is open twice daily.

All vessels with drafts of less than 3.6 m. especially when engaged in towing timber rafts, should keep out of the way of deep-drafted vessels when passing through narrow places and approaching channels both at sea and in the river, and should not hamper their safe passage in such places. They should also safely pass vessels engaged in dredging of a channel.

When approaching a bend in a channel, every vessel should beforehand give a signal by one prolonged blast on her whistle or siren, reduce her speed and when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

Every Master when passing through a narrow channel, or approaching a bend in a channel should take positive early action prescribed by the International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea to avoid a risk of collision with a vessel approaching from the other direction.

Low-drafted vessels shall not overtake each other when navigating in the channel of the Beresovy Bar. A vessel proceeding to the port along the course of the channel must keep out of the way of another vessel leaving the port.

No vessel shall navigate in the port harbours in restricted visibility when navigational lights, marks, leading lights, buoys, etc. are not visible.

Ice: At the head of Dvina Bay drift-ice extends as far as 12 miles from the shore by the end of November. The Severnaya Dvina estuary usually gets frozen over at the beginning of November. At Dvina Bay the ice usually breaks up in April and at the Severnaya Dvina estuary – at the beginning of May. Thus, navigation in the port area lasts between 6 – 7 months from May till October.

Powerful ice-breakers, ice-strengthened vessels and tugs are maintained by the Port of Archangel Authorities to assist in navigation of the Dvina Bay waters and off the coast when ice conditions prevail.

Tide: The tidal range at the head of Dvina Bay reaches 0.8 m. – 1 m. and at Mudyug Island 0.1 m. – 0.5 m.

The in-going flood stream is usually stronger and about 1 hour longer in duration than the out-going ebb stream.

Sometimes the in-going stream at the bar of Severnaya Dvina may be hardly observed, being reduced to a few minutes of slack water. It may run steadily for some time then gradually attains its usual strength and goes on to set up to the time of high water.

The tidal streams in the Severnaya Dvina are considerably influenced by both strength and direction of the wind.

Moderate Northerly and Westerly winds increase the height of the tide and hold the fall of the water.

Only the in-going flood streams have been observed at the Severnaya Dvina estuary at springs. The extreme tidal range of the water level observed there is about 4 m.

Navigational range marks to note when approaching port are: Batumijsky beacon, Burun-Tabia light, Batumijsky light buoy with siren and Batumijsky leading light marks. When proceeding Batumi, Master should give 96 hours notice prior arrival, advising Port Controller and "Inflot" Agency: time of arrival, description and quantity of cargo brought in, location, ship's draft and length, as well as declare services required. 4 hours prior to approaching port, Master shall advise more precise time of arrival. Inflot will arrange Pilot.

Pilot boards vessel either at the Receiving Buoy or in the outer port roads. Watch is kept by a pilot boat day and night.

ANCHORAGES: A mole protects port from seaward; safe anchorage provided except during periods of winds blowing from S.W., West and N.W. when "Tyagun" is formed at port (strong variable current with surge). At time of "Tyagun" ships recommended stop loading, discharging operations and to head out of berth using anchor or mooring buoy, or to put to sea. S.W. wind is particularly troublesome.

Outer roads, some 5 cable's lengths wide and with depths up to 20 m., stretch for about 1.5 miles. N.E. from Batumijsky light buoy along shoal's border. Roads' bottom is mud and sand.

Inner roads situated between Western shore Batumijsky Bay and shoal stretching from Bay's Southern and Eastern shores. Depths over 11.5 m. at roads. Roads open to North winds, but with other winds blowing strongly, anchorage not safe on roads; ship must take precautions not to lose her anchors. In case of stormy weather, in Autumn and in Winter particularly, ships without cargo must enter port with sufficient ballast on board.

The recommended anchorage is in the outer roads at a distance of 7.8 cables to N.N.E. from the Eastern side of Batumi Point, depths 9–14.4 m.

In the outer roads vessels may anchor only after having obtained the Harbour Master's permission and according to Pilot's recommendation.

In the inner roads vessels may obtain anchorage only Eastward of the entrance leading line. It is strictly prohibited to lie at anchor both on the leading line and to the West of it.

BALLAST: In case of stormy weather, in Autumn and Winter particularly, vessels without cargo must enter the port with ballast water on board, having ensured fore draft not less then 1.5 m.–1.8 m.

Ballast water should not be contaminated with oil residues.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels may enter and leave the port at any time of day and night. All vessels when entering or leaving the port must have keel clearance of not less than 0.3 m. (1 ft.).

In the event of stormy weather vessels approaching the port at time of S.W. and N.W. winds particularly, should obtain Harbour Master's entry permit. If due to the "Tyagun" vessels are not allowed to enter the harbour, they should anchor either in the outer or inner roads.

All necessary information as regard to changes of wind, possibility or turn of entry to the port for vessels at anchor in the outer roads, is given by the Harbour Master over the VHF radio-telephone or by the signal station by flags of the International Code of Signals, in Morse Code or by semaphore signals.

A vessel should lie at a berth with her bow directed to the port entrance and with her anchor dropped from the proper side. Berthing in the harbour may only be effected with tugs' assistance.

A vessel may be berthed at the outer side of the Oil Jetty after having obtained the Harbour Master's permission.

Vessels entering or leaving the harbour are not allowed to pass vessels loading at the outer (Northern) side of the Oil Jetty at a distance of less than 80 m.

The berths of the port are equipped with electric cranes of up to 10 tons capacity. There is also a floating crane of 100 tons capacity. Other cargo handling equipment, covered warehouses and concrete floor sheds are available.

TIDE: The range of water level in the port area is small and is due to the effects of strong winds. The maximum range observed 0.6 m.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.
APPROACHES: The port of Berdyansk is situated in the N.E. part of Berdyansk Bay, on the Northern coast of the Azov Sea.

Inner roads and port facilities are protected from Southern and S.E. winds by a mole and a breakwater.

Navigation in the port is all year round, but in Winter ice-breaker assistance is necessary for about two months.

Vessels should proceed to the harbour through the approach channel, with least depth of 6.6 m.
PILOTAGE: Pilot meets vessel at Reception buoy No. 12, situated at the beginning of the approach channel.
ANCHORAGE: Vessels may obtain good anchorage in Berdyansk outer roads situated on both sides of the approach channel leading into the harbour.

The outer roads are well protected from Northerly winds, but during Southern and S.W. winds the anchorage is troublesome.

At time of strong S.W. swell ships in the outer roads are usually effected by heavy pitching and rolling, and plenty of cable should be paid out on both anchors. Holding ground in outer roads is shell and mud.
RESTRICTIONS: Vessels can enter and leave at any time of day and night.

At least 0.3 m. (1 ft.) keel clearance at low tide is required to enter or leave the port. The max. permitted draft for entry to the port is 6.7 m., and length 160 m.

Speed of vessels proceeding through the approach channel should not exceed 6 knots. Vessels are not allowed to enter the approach channel or navigate in the harbour in restricted visibility and fog.
BERTHING: Berths of the port with depths alongside of up to 7 m. are equipped to handle general and bulk cargoes (ores, mineral-building materials), metals, cotton, foodstuff, vegetables, etc., and passenger traffic. There are covered warehouses and concrete floor sheds in the port.

Quay are equipped with electric cranes of up to 10 tons capacity. There is also a floating crane and other cargo-handling equipment and intraport transport facilities.

The port of Igarka is well protected from the effects of the wind. It specialises in timber exports.
DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.
PILOTAGE: Compulsory for Yenisei River and entering port. Pilot vessel Meridian is located in the following positions: 71° 45′ N., 83° 0′ 0″ E., and 71° 37′ N., 83° 30′ E. Pilot radio station OEFV, operates on 500 kc/s at the following times (Moscow time): from 0000–0300, 0700–1300, 1500–1700, 1900–2100 and 2300–2400 hrs. Master to give notice 96 hours before arrival at the Pilot station and confirm ETA 5 hours before arrival. Within 15 miles of the Pilot station, communication is made through "Akatsia" radio, OKV on 132 mc/s. or VHF Channel 16.

On approaching pilot boat, vessel should reduce speed to dead slow, or stop engines if requested. In the event of bad weather, Pilot is embarked or disembarked at a place as directed by the pilot boat.

Distance of pilotage from the Pilot station to Igarka is 360 miles, and 2 Pilots together are usually required.

If Pilot not available, vessel should anchor in vicinity of pilot station. Berthing Pilots and Pilots for departing vessels are arranged by "Inflot".

All vessels when at anchor in the outer roads anchorage should lie at anchor as close to the bank of the river as possible, not to obstruct vessels' traffic along the Karmakulskie, Igarka and Northern Igarka leading lines.

In the event of bad weather or main engine trouble a vessel should lie at anchor in a place as directed by a river Pilot, who shall advise a Master all necessary data about the anchorage: depths, direction and speed of the current, etc.
RESTRICTIONS: Vessels can enter or leave the port 24 hours per day.

To ensure safe passage across the Lipatnikovsky and Turushinsky bars of the Enisei river, vessels proceeding to the port of Igarka must have draft not exceeding 7.3 m. (see "Max. Size.)
MAX. SIZE: Length 160 m., draft is limited by river depths, max. 24 ft.
HEALTH: Not later than 4 hours before arrival, Master to radio "Inflot" advising health condition on board. International code quarantine signals to be shown on arrival at port limits. No one, except Pilot and Port Authorities, may board or leave the ship until free pratique is given after port health inspection.

TUGS: Normally join vessel with Harbour Pilot on approaching port. Vessels at anchor order tugs through "Inflot". Ship's tow lines used.
BERTHING: Tug assistance for berthing is compulsory. A berthing Pilot boards a vessel from a tug either in the outer roads or in the port.

After having approached a berth at a safe distance, a vessel, in most cases, should cast 2 anchors and then with tug assistance, turn stern to the Island and moor with 3 mooring ropes led from the stern. When mooring, a vessel should have ready on board 4 mooring ropes each not less than 100 m. in length (3 ropes to be led ashore and 1 prepared for a tug.).

Vessels moored in the inner roads must have strong ropes which should be made fast over the pile moorings only.

If 3 or 4 vessels are moored at the quay, the outside ones should have a red light exhibited in the middle of each mooring rope led ashore.

Notice of readiness and other conditions of loading – as per the "Soviet Wood" Charter Party. Opening and closing of mechanised hatches by ship's crew, otherwise by port workers.

When a vessel is moored in the inner roads, stern to the Island, loading is by floating cranes; when at berth – ship's derricks are used.

Loading is by use of ship's soft manila strops, 6 cm. in diameter and 12 m. total length.

A test label should be attached to every strop.

ILICHEVSK: 46.19 N. 30.40 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: The port of Ilichevsk is situated on the N.W. coast of Black Sea, on the right bank of the Sukhoi Liman, about 15 miles to the S.W. from Odessa City.

The Sukhoi Liman is divided by dams into 3 parts called Basin No. 1, Basin No. 2 and Basin No. 3.

A part of Basin No. 1 bounded by the leading line of the Port of Ilichevsk leading lights, thence by the S.W. coast of the Liman, thence by the Southern Sand Headland, is called the Inner Roads.

The berths for large sea-going vessels are along the Western side of the Southern Sand Headland, thence along Southern and S.W. sides of Basin No. 1.

The berths of the Western side of Basin No. 1 are used by fishing trawlers.

Navigation at the port is year round. Ice usually begins to form in the second half of December and finally disappears in February. Ice-breaker assistance is required in severe Winters for about a 30 day period.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Master shall give Agent preliminary information not less than 96 hours prior arrival stating: Vessel's name and ETA, type and quantity cargo on board (or required), draft, length and beam, number and weight of each heavy lift and where stowed (if any), number of passengers, service required. In case of delay, Master shall advise Agent accordingly. Approaching port communication can be established by radio-telephone on international frequencies. Vessels which have entered inner roads are prohibited to broadcast except in emergency. Call sign of port Radio Station UEH-2. Inwards and outwards pilotage of all foreign vessels is compulsory. Pilot and Boarding Officials embark or disembark in outer roads near pilot buoy. Position of embarkation or disembarkation may be changed as agreed upon with Master when weather conditions unfavourable. Embarkation and disembarkation of Pilot and Boarding Officials shall be effected in compliance with Regulation 17 Chapter V of "International Convention for Safety of Life at Sea" 1960. Position of pilot buoy 46° 18′ N.; 30° 45′ E.

APPROACHES: The approach channel leads from seaward into Basin No. 1. Depths in mid-channel are 12.2 m. Strong Easterly and Southerly winds may cause heavy surge in the channel influencing a vessel's manoeuvrability.

ANCHORAGES: When vessel not boarded by Pilot immediately on arrival it shall anchor in anchorage area specially designated in outer roads South of pilot buoy and await boarding of officials or Pilot. The leading entrance line extending from Harbour gates to pilot buoy and further seawards, marks Northern limit of anchorage area. No vessel shall anchor North of or on this line.

A good anchorage can be obtained in the outer roads situated at a distance of 2 miles off the coast between the parallels of 46° 17′ N. and 46° 21′ N. The outer roads are open to all winds blowing from N.E. via S. up to N.W.

The anchorage (on charts marked as No. 24) is situated about 1.2 mile to the S.E. of the port entrance. It is bounded by the following points:

46° 18′ 12″ N.	30° 41′ 36″ E.
46° 17′ 12″ N.	30° 41′ 00″ E.
46° 17′ 12″ N.	30° 42′ 10″ E.
46° 17′ 48″ N.	30° 42′ 48″ E.

The holding ground is grey mud and clay.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels entering channel shall make way for vessels leaving. Passage in and out governed by shore Signal Station located on Port Radar Building. If no signals exhibited on signal mast, both in and out simultaneous navigation is permitted. Speed of vessel shall not exceed 5 knots except for emergency cases to improve manoeuvrability. KHOLMSK: 47.03 N. 142.03 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: The seaport of Kholmsk is situated on the Western coast of Sakhalin Island, in the Tartarsky Strait of the Japan Sea and at the head of the Gulf of Nevelskoy.

The port is open for navigation all the year round. The port is frozen over in January. Ice finally disappears in the middle of March. The formation of fast ice along the coast is usually of small account. At times drift ice appears from the North. The action of the wind and sea sometimes packs pieces of drift ice into large hammocks along the shore.

Despite the fact that the port harbours are surrounded by moles, the port area is subject to effects of the wind and waves between October and March in particular. During this period a strong variable current with surge ("Tyagun") or heavy waves occur in the port. Due to this reason vessels are recommended to use manila ropes for mooring berths.

When Westerly or N.W. winds begin to blow, vessels are recommended to leave the port for sea.

The outer roads of the port are bounded by an arc of 7 cables length radius, the centre of which is marked with a light located on the Southern mole of the Commercial Harbour.

The port is divided into three parts: The Kovsh, The Commercial and Fishing Harbours. The Commercial Harbour is situated in the centre of the port area. It is protected by the Southern and Northern moles. The entrance to the Harbour 150 m. wide, is situated between these two moles. Due to shoal water along the coast, there is not much space for vessels manoeuvrability in the Commercial Harbour. Cargo berths are situated in a basin of the Southern part of the Harbour.

The Port of Kholmsk, due to its position, size and weather conditions in the area, cannot be used as a shelter port.

The Commercial Harbour is not protected at all from heavy swells caused by strong Westerly and N.W. winds blowing more often in the period between October and March. Therefore, vessels are recommended to leave the port for sea after having received a storm warning about a gale coming from Westerly or N.W. directions.

All vessels proceeding to the port of Kholmsk in the Autumn and/or Winter must have available on board a sufficiency of fuel, fresh water, provisions and safe manila ropes, be seaworthy in all respects, thus ensuring vessel's safety during a possible stay in the open sea roadstead.

In case there are no vacant berths in the port, vessels are not allowed to enter the harbour without prior permission.

It is also prohibited to enter the harbour after a storm warning has been received by vessel despite the fact that there are vacant berths in the port.

PILOTAGE: Pilot meets a vessel in the outer roads. In the event of bad weather, when Pilot is unable to come on board, vessel should follow in the wake of pilot boat.

ANCHORAGES: There are no anchorages protected from the wind in the Gulf of Nevelskoy.

During off-shore winds vessels may anchor in the outer roads situated opposite the port entrance. The outer roads are open to Westerly winds; depths are from 16 m. – 40 m. The bottom is sand and mud.

Masters should bear in mind that during the period of navigation fish nets are usually laid in the outer roads. The seaward side of the border of the fish nets, situated about 8 cables length off-shore, is usually marked by wooden buoys with flagstaffs.

Anchorage in the outer roads may also be obtained at 4 – 6 cables length off shore. Depths are from 18 m. to 20 m. Holding ground sand and stone.

A vessel should proceed to the anchorage along the leading line of the port of Kholmsk leading lights. At a distance of half a mile off the port entrance, a vessel should steer off the leading line at 2 – 3 cables length and then drop anchor.

The holding ground is better in the Southern part of the outer roads than in the Northern part.

When at anchor, a vessel may not approach the leading line closer than 1.5 cables length.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels may enter the port at any time of day or night.

MAX. SIZE: The maximum permissible draft for entry to the port is 6 m. length – 100 m. Since depths in the channel may vary at times, the Port Authorities shall undertake to advise the Masters of incoming vessels accordingly.

RADIO: Ship-shore radio link can be established through the port radio-station Kholmsk Radio operating 24 hours a day on the following frequencies:

Call sign	Working	Calling	Type of trans-mission	Time
UFO	500	500	A1	H24

The port signal station is situated at the Southern mole base. There is also a radar station in the port.

BERTHING: Berths with depths from 2 m. up to 6.5 m. alongside, are equipped to handle general and bulk cargoes, metals, timber, food products, etc., as well as passenger traffic.

Number of tugs required for assistance is usually agreed between Pilot and Master.

Cranes of up to 41 tons capacity are operated on the quays. There are also other cargo-handling equipment and intra-port transport facilities. There are enclosed warehouses and open concrete floor sheds.

FUEL: Not available.

FRESH WATER: Available.

REPAIRS: Only minor repairs can be carried out. There are no dry docks in the port.

TIDE: Changes in the water level are of small account and are usually caused by tides. The tide is diurnal with one high water and one low water a day. The time difference between high and low waters is irregular. The range of the tide is very small, reaching only 0.25 m. at mean springs.

TIME: GMT plus 11 hours.

The Southern half of the port water area, a part of the Danghe river up to the mouth, and the Kursky Gulf become frozen over every Winter for quite a long time. Part of the port situated to the North of the Danghe river mouth very seldom gets frozen over, but the entrance to the Morskoi Canal may be packed by the drift ice in the course of a few days.

The port is open for navigation all the year round but in the Winter time ice will be managed with ice-strengthened tugs' assistance.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

APPROACHES: The width of the approaching channel to the port is about 80 m. and depth 8.4 m. Depths of the channel at a distance of 400-600 m. from the entrance to the Sea Canal are subject to changes due to lots of sand and mud brought down from the Kursky Gulf by the Spring floods, in particular. The entrance to the Sea Canal is protected by the Northern and Southern moles.

The length of the fairway of the Sea Canal from the entrance up to the Secluma-Kyaules-Nugara shoal at the entrance to the Kursky Gulf is 4 miles, width varies from 180 m. to 300 m. and the depths are from 6 m. to 9 m. at the mean water level.

The permissible drafts for vessels navigating along the Sea Canal are as follows: Up to 7 m. from the canal entrance up to the Zimnyaya (Winter) harbour.

Port radar station gives all possible information to any vessel navigating in the Kronstadt Korabelny Farvater and Leningradsky Morskoi Canal during restricted visibility, from the Leningrad entrance light buoy (Lat. 60° 02′ N., Long. 29° 26′ E.) up to the dams (moles) of the Leningrad Morskoi Canal. Navigation is usually controlled by a Pilot.

Signals regulating vessels traffic in the harbour gates, called the Nevskie Vorota (Neva Gates), as well as signals indicating that the Leningrad Morskoi Canal is closed for Westward bound traffic are hoisted at the Commercial port signal mast situated on Kanonersky Island, at the Western side of the Neva Gates. Storm signals are shown at the same mast.

Signals for vessels approaching the entrance to the Commercial port of Leningrad from seaward are hoisted at the pilot vessel.

Traffic prohibition signals, when the pilot vessel is absent from her usual position may be exhibited at a vessel specially designated for this purpose.

TUGS: Normally join incoming vessels at Inner Road. Ships lines usually used.

The number of tugs a Master should order for inward and outward towage as well as for shifting berths in the harbour depends on Pilot's advice.

BERTHING: Berths of the port, with depths alongside of up to 11.5 m. are equipped to handle general and bulk cargoes (coal, ores, grain, building material), sugar, metals, timber products, etc., as well as passenger vessels. Enclosed single and multifloor warehouses, cold stores and concrete floor sheds are available in the port.

Opening and closing of hatches is usually done by the ship's crew, otherwise according to the charter party conditions.

The port of Leningrad is equipped with modern cargo-handling facilities. There are floating, fixed and mobile shore cranes, fork lifts and other mechanical equipment.

TIDE: No tide at Leningrad but, considerable rises of water level may be caused by strong Westerly winds – and falls by Easterly winds. Usually the changes in water level are greater during the Autumn and Winter months. During Autumn and Winter the range of level may reach 1.2 m. from the mean water level and sometimes even more.

During Spring and Summer it is never more than 0.5 m. The greatest rises in the water level are observed in the Neva Bay. The extreme difference in level between the maximum rise and the minimum fall of these seasonal changes is about 3.5 m. At the mouth of the Neva river the greatest changes in the water level are caused by the S.W. Autumn gales. The difference in level usually reaches 0.2 m.–0.3 m. and only sometimes up to 1 m.

STEVEDORES: Ordered by Agent.

MESANE, (Mezen): 65.53 N. 44.07 E.

GENERAL: A commercial seaport, Mezen is situated at a distance of 22 miles to the South of the mouth of the Mezen river flowing into the head of the Gulf of Mezen, in the White Sea.

The port area is bounded on the North by a line connecting the Ryabinov and the Nerpinsky points and on the South by the parallel of 65° 50′ N., Northward of the town of Mezen. The anchorage at the Kuloi river mouth is also included at the port of Mezen area.

Drift ice in the Gulf of Mezen appears in the first half of November. By the middle of February the Gulf becomes completely frozen over. Ice finally disappears in the first half of May.

The port is open for navigation about 6 months of the year, starting from the end of May or beginning of June)

Ice-breaker assistance cannot be effected in the outer roads in the event of fast ice.

Tidal streams are observed in the Mezen river. The tide is semi-diurnal with two high waters and two low waters a day.
DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.
PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Vessels met by pilot boat in area of pilot buoy (66° 12′ N., 44° 04′ E.) about 22 miles from port. No direct connection between ships and pilot station. Alternative area in event of bad weather Outer Roads of Mesane, entering direction 183°. These Roads used for boarding Pilot only on Pilot's option. Information to be in accordance with Soviet Wood Charter Party. Pilot boat equipped radio telephone (2182 kc/s, call name "Petchoretz Dva"), word "Pilot" painted on wheel house. Pilot boat to be given a good lee.

Pilotage cannot be effected at night.

A Pilot cannot board a vessel earlier than 2 hours before the high water in the Semzha river, and a vessel may be piloted into the port not later than 1 hour before the water in the river reaches its high level.

Pilots do not board vessels in rough water (if the wind is over Force 6 Beaufort scale).

In case Pilot cannot embark a vessel in the outer roads, Master should follow in the wake of pilot boat up to Tolstic Point (Lat. 66° 04′ N., Long. 44° 05′ E.) where a Pilot will board ship. After leaving the port Master should disembark Pilot on to pilot boat and then follow it up to the outer roads of the port of Mezen.

The pilot station is located at 1 cable length N.E. of the Semzha light mark.
ANCHORAGE: Depths at anchorages 5 - 7 m. Anchorage can be obtained in the outer roads and in certain places of the Mezen river situated between the outer roads and the Kamenka settlement.

The outer roads are situated at the Mezen river mouth. They are bounded on the South by a line connecting the Ryabinov and the Maslyany Points.

Vessels in the outer roads are subject to effects of the N.W. and N.E. winds and heavy waves caused by them. The depths in the outer roads are about 7 m. The holding ground is sand, mud and rocks. Anchorage can be obtained in the inner roads with depths at low water of up to 4.5 m. - 5 m. (length of area is 1.5 mile and width up to 150 m.).

The inner roads are situated opposite the Kamenka settlement. A good anchorage can be obtained there by two vessels simultaneously. The anchorage at Burnovsky point with depths from 4.5 m. - 5.5 m. can be used by two loaded vessels drawing up to 4.2 m.
RESTRICTIONS: Vessels may enter port only in daytime on high water. Masters have to pay full attention to Pilot's advice as river has varying bends.
MAX. SIZE: The permitted draft for the entry to the ports is announced monthly by the Port Authorities. It should not exceed 3.9 m. - 4.2 m. The maximum permitted length is 70 m.
HEALTH: As for "Archangel".
RADIO: Besides Murmansk and Archangel, messages may be routed through Mesane Radio (UZT, A1 500 kc/s, VHF Channel 16).

Vessels can establish radio contact through the port radio station Mezen Radio operating 24 hours a day on the following frequencies:

Call sign	Working	Calling	Type of transmission	Time
UZT	500 kc/s	500 kc/s	A1	HX

Port (Harbour Master's Office)	156.70 mc/s	156.80 mc/s	F3	HX

BERTHING: The floating dams are used as mooring berths in the port. The depths alongside at low water are about 3.5 m. Vessels drawing over 3.9 m. are usually grounded while loading at low water (not always afloat but safe aground).

The port of Mezen specialises in timber exports but other cargoes are also handled at berths. Covered warehouses and open concrete floor sheds are available.

Tug assistance for mooring berths is not compulsory. Berthing is usually done in the daytime. Tugs, if necessary are ordered by Master.

Rendering of Notice of Readiness and opening and closing of hatches are usually done in accordance with the "Soviet Wood" charter party.

Loading of timber is done by ship's winches.
TIDE: The difference between high waters and low waters is small but the range of the tide is comparatively big. It reaches at mean neaps 2.8 m. and 3.1 m. at mean springs, except for the Sezmha river area where the mean spring tide reaches 7.7 m. Everywhere in the Gulf of Mezen the differences in the times of high and low water are large and in some places they may reach 5 hours.

Considerable changes in the water level are observed in the Spring. They are usually caused by the seasonal increase in the amount of water (due to melting snow) brought down by the rivers.
REPAIRS: Only minor repairs can be effected. There are no dry docks in the port.
FUEL: Supplies not guaranteed.
FRESH WATER: Fresh water can be supplied from the berths.
TIME: GMT plus 3 hours.

MURMANSK: 69.00 N. 33.03 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: A Barents Commercial Seaport and Fishing Port, Murmansk, is situated at the Eastern coast of the Southern elbow-shaped bend of the Gulf of Kolsky, between the Zeleny (Green) and Khaldeev Points. It is the last unfrozen port of the Northern seas route.

In very severe Winters the Southern and middle elbow-shaped bends of the Gulf get frozen over for a short period of time in February or March, during calm and frosty weather. In mild Winters drift ice is observed. The Northern part of the Gulf never gets frozen over. The port of Murmansk is open for navigation all the year round. In the event of ice conditions in the Gulf of Kolsky, ice-breaker assistance will be effected in compliance with the Harbour regulations in force.

The port area occupies nearly all Southern elbow-shaped bend of the Gulf of Kolsky. The port of Murmansk consists of 2 harbours: the Commercial and the Fishing Harbours. The Commercial Harbour is divided into 4 areas: The Rudny (Ore), The Ugolny (Coal), The Central, and Passenger Terminal.

The Fishing Port extends to the South of the Passenger Terminal.
DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.
PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Pilot station is situated at Tuva-Goobay in Kilsky Bay, position 69° 11′ 09″ N., 33° 34′ 08″ E. ETA to be given to Agents 96, 48, 24 and 12 hours before arrival. Pilot launch is distinguished by word "Pilot" in black letters on both sides. Pilots can be contacted on VHF Channel 16. Every vessel should drift whilst waiting for Pilot since depths in the Pilot station are too big to permit anchorage.

During rough sea Pilot is not able to board a ship at the Pilot station area. In this event vessel should follow the Pilot boat in the wake of it up to the Salny Island and embark a Pilot Southward of the Island at a place indicated by Pilot boat.
ANCHORAGE: At the Pilot station depths are too great to permit anchorage, but there is sufficient sea room for vessel to await Pilot with engines stopped. Anchorage with depths from 20 m.-35 m. is situated in the Southern elbow-shaped bend of the Gulf of Kolsky, Westward of the Kievaraksky leading line (the port outer roads). The holding ground is good.

Every vessel waiting for mooring berth should anchor Westward of the Kievaraksky leading line but not obstructing other vessels' traffic.

It is strictly prohibited to lie at anchor Eastward of the Kievaraksky leading line. If, in case of emergency, a Master has to lie at anchor in the prohibited area, he should immediately report the fact to the Harbour Master of the Commercial port of Murmansk.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels can enter the inner roads of the port at any time of day or night.

The speed of vessels navigating within the limits of the Gulf of Kolsky is restricted by the following limits:

- (a) It shall not exceed 12 knots in the area bounded by the parallels of the Letinsky Point and the Northern side of the Salny Island.
- (b) It shall not exceed 10 knots in the area bounded by the parallels of the Northern side of the Salny Island and Pinagory Point.
- (c) It shall not exceed 6 knots in the area Southward of Pinagory Point.

MAX. SIZE: Vessels up to 32 ft. max. draft for berthing.

HEALTH: International quarantine signals to be used on arrival. No later than 6 hours before arrival at the inner area Master should radio Agents giving full details of state of health on board, and requesting pratique which will be given on arrival.

RADIO: Murmansk Radio operating 24 hours on 2182 kHz. Coastal radio station UMN operating 24 hours on 500 and 472 kHz. Coastal radio station UMV operating 24 hours on 13080 kHz.

*CPR – Central Port Radio Station

The pilot service operates through the "Port" (CPR) and "Rascat" (CPR) – Central Port Radio Station.

All vessels when at anchor or navigating in the Gulf of Kolsky must keep constant radio watch.

The port radar station gives all possible information to any vessel navigating in the Gulf in the restricted visibility. Radar navigation is usually controlled by a Pilot on board a vessel.

The storm and tide signals are made by the International Code of Signals by day and by Morse system at night from Murmansk storm signals station (lat. 68° 59′ N., long. 33° 03′ E.) located on the roof of the Harbour Master's office.

The signals shown at the Western yard-arm and storm signals at the Eastern yard-arm of the station.

Notice of Arrival: Every foreign vessel on approaching the Gulf of Kolsky must ask for entry permission into the Gulf from the Toros Island signal station by exhibiting her International Code Number by day and at night her call sign should be made in Morse code by searchlight.

VHF: Port VHF maintains contact between Pilots and ship within harbour limits, and between ship and shore. Calling on Channel 16 working channel will be according to instructions from shore.

TUGS: Normally join vessel in the inner area of the port. Tug's lines are used.

BERTHING: Main berths, depth alongside 32 ft. at low water. Average height of tide about 3.9 m. Vessels berth port or starboard side alongside at Master's and Pilot's discretion. The berths of the Commercial Harbour with depths alongside of up to 10.5 m. are equipped to handle general and bulk cargoes, metals, machinery, chemicals, foodstuff, etc.

There are enclosed mechanised warehouses for apatite including open concrete floor sheds.

It is prohibited to approach a berth without sounding a prolonged blast of the whistle. Same signal should be sounded when leaving an outer berth and the inner basin, as well as when passing a vessel lying at anchor in the outer roads.

Berths of the port are equipped with mobile electric cranes of up to 40 tons capacity. There are floating cranes with lifting capacity of up to 90 tons, and other cargo handling equipment and intra-port transport. Since loading/unloading is usually done by the port cranes, there are no specific requirements to vessels cargo gear.

STEVEDORES: Arranged by Agent on basis of Masters ETA. Loading and unloading is carried on throughout 24 hours a day including holidays.

MEDICAL: Hospital and medical facilities available. Vaccination can be arranged. If doctor required on board Master should inform Agents by radio or VHF.

DENSITY: At the berth varies between 1006 and 1025.

FRESH WATER: Available from most berths, otherwise supplied by barge. To avoid delay recommended to order before arrival.

FUEL: All grades available. Delivered by barge. Advance notice required.

DEVELOPMENTS: Reconstruction is being carried out in order to speed up loading of iron-ore and other cargoes.

GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: Not obligatory.

OPENING/CLOSING HATCHES: Usually performed by ship's crew.

CERTIFICATES: At first Russian port of call certificates of tonnage and those required by International Convention will be required for examination.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCE: No restrictions on crew's consumption of tobacco and alcohol on board. It is forbidden to take these items ashore.

CONSULS: There is no local representation.

REPAIRS: All kinds of repairs can be carried out for vessels of up to 40,000 dwt.

DRY DOCKS: Large dock; length 173 m., width 45 m. Small dock; length 141 m. width 30 m.

TIDE: Changes of the water level in the Gulf are due to the tides. The tide is semi-diurnal with two high waters and two low waters a day. The difference in time of high and low water is about 6 hours. The range of the tide at mean neap is about 2.4 m. and at mean spring 4.5 m. The extreme range of water level is usually observed during the Autumn months and the lowest during Spring.

TIME: GMT plus 3 hours.

TELEPHONES: Ambulance, tel. 003, 395 and 422; Fire service, tel. 252 and 524.

AUTHORITY: Murmansk Sea Trade Port.

NAKHODKA: 42.47 N. 132.52 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: A commercial port, Nakhodka is situated in Nakhodka Bay, in the N.W. part of the Japan Sea.

At first America Bay is covered with sludge or sometimes thin ice due to snow falling into the cooled water, After ice has formed, it is often broken up by winds into pieces of drift ice which is frequently driven out by strong winds from the bay into the sea.

Nakhodka Bay is occasionally covered with fast ice from the beginning of January until March.

The port is open for navigation all the year round with ice-strengthened tug's assistance during ice conditions.

The Northern part of Nakhodka Bay from the entrance up to the line connecting the Lindgolm and Basnin Points is occupied by the Commercial port. The Fishing port is situated Southward of this line.

The port of Nakhodka area is bounded on the East by a straight line connecting Astafyev and Shefner Points, on the S.W. by a straight line connecting Lindgolm and Basnin Points.

Part of America Bay water area bounded on the South by a line connecting the Povorotny (Turning) and Likhachev Points is also included in the port of Nakhodka area.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Notice of arrival is to be given in accordance with the general regulations. Pilotage in Nakhodka is obligatory for all vessels irrespective of flag or owner, except for vessels engaged in local navigation.

For foreign vessels approaching Nakhodka, there is an approach point of 42° 27′ 2″ N. and 132° 57′ E. They are advised to come up to the approach point on a course of 350.5° in the approach channel 1 to 2 miles wide to the right of the line dividing the port entrance from the manoeuvring area. In the region of the manoeuvring area, vessels should proceed anti-clockwise in the 2 mile wide approach channel. On leaving the manoeuvring area, vessels should line up with the buoys in the bay, and proceed to region No. 176 of the quarantine anchorage, to await boarding of pilots.

Vessels bound for the Novitski Bay, should follow the buoys of Nakhodka Bay to area No. 177 of the quarantine anchorage.

At the time of intended entry of a foreign ship, the Master should inform the port captain via "Inflot" Agency 48 hours prior to arrival.

Vessels leaving Nakhodka and Novitski Bay to the manoeuvring zone, should do so using reverse courses. After entering the manoeuvring zone, they should follow anti-clockwise the 2 mile wide approach channel. Having passed the manoeuvring zone, they should adopt course 180° and proceed for 8.2 miles in the approach channel – 1–2 miles wide – to the right of the manoeuvring area, as far as the exit point. In order to preserve hydro-technical port constructions, vessels must be brought to quays, and unberthed by parallel mooring, using capstan ropes. Main engines may not be used within a distance of 10 m. from the quay, and is only allowed in extreme emergencies for the purpose of avoiding vessel damage or fouling mooring equipment.

ANCHORAGE: Depths in anchorage area "A" are from 13-20 metres. Anchorage area "D" has depths of from 18-28 metres.

The holding ground in both anchorages is mud, sand with mud, stone.

NARYAN-MAR: 67.38 N. 53.00 E.

GENERAL: A commercial port, Naryan-Mar is situated in the S.E. part of the Barents Sea, at a distance of 70 miles from the Pechora river mouth on the right bank of the Gorodetsky Shar Creek.

The port is open for navigation for a period of 100-110 days in the year, starting from July.

In the Pechora river inlet ice first begins to form between 20th and 25th October, but sometimes appears at the beginning of the month.

The inlet becomes completely frozen over at the middle of December. Ice finally disappears at the end of June or sometimes beginning of July. Changes in the water level in the Pechora Inlet, due to melting of ice in Spring, have not been observed.

The formation of ice in the rivers flowing into the Pechora Inlet usually depends upon the time of the appearance of ice in the Inlet itself. Rivers, as a rule, become frozen over by the middle of October. The ice in the rivers usually breaks up earlier than it finally disappears in the Pechora Inlet.

The Pechora river at the Kuya settlement area becomes frozen over at the end of October, and the ice there finally disappears by the end of May.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Besides information stipulated in Soviet Wood Charter Party, vessels approaching pilot buoy may contact Port Authorities or Pilot in first fifteen minutes of any odd hour from 0700 till 2300 hrs. (Moscow time), frequency 2182 kc/s. Signals for Pilot to be given in accordance with International Code. Pilot boat wooden, standard type, white painted, with word "Pilot" in black letters on wheel-house. Pilot usually boards vessel at the Pilot Anchorage light buoy (lat. 68° 30′ N., Long. 54° 32′ E.). In case of bad weather, and in extraordinary circumstances Pilot shall embark vessel in the Srednevskie Islands area. In this event a vessel approaching the port from seaward should follow pilot boat in the wake of it, up to the Srednevskie Islands leading line where Pilot will be able to board ship.

Master of a vessel proceeding to the port of Naryan-Mar should order a Pilot through the Harbour Master 24 hours prior to arrival at the Pilot Anchorage light buoy and advise more precise ETA not later than 4 hours before approaching it.

Master should order Pilot not later than 2 hours prior to shifting berth and/or leaving the port.

ANCHORAGE: Depths at anchorage 18—21 ft. Also Inner Roads where anchorage will be indicated by Pilot. A recommended anchorage for foreign vessels is situated in the area with the central point 68° 30′ N., 54° 33′ E. The depths in the anchorage are from 5.4 m. — 6.6 m.

An anchorage can be obtained at the right bank of the Pechora river off Urpinsky leading line No. 24. Depths are from 4 m. — 17 m. The bottom is sand and mud.

Good anchorages with depths from 5 m — 10 m. can also be obtained opposite Zakhrebetny Bay and N.E. of the town of Naryan-Mar.

All vessels arriving from abroad or leaving the port for abroad, must anchor opposite Zakhrebetny Bay for the performance of port formalities.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels can enter or leave the port at any time of day or night.

The permitted draft for entry to the port is about 4.5 m. but it is usually advised by the Port Authorities at the beginning of navigation. The maximum permitted length of a vessel is 110 m.

Access to the port is by the fairway leading from the Pilot Anchorage light buoy across the Pechora river bar.

The bar itself is the extensive shoal water area extending Northward of the Bolvansky Nos. Point. Three channels are dredged across the bar: The Receiving Channel, the Bar Channel and the Povorotny Channel. The last one serves as turning-point from the Receiving Channel into the Bar Channel. Vessels drawing not more than 4.3 m. can pass across the bar only at high water level.

It is prohibited to enter or leave the port through the Bar Channel and/or Receiving Channel as well as to navigate in the port area during dense fog, heavy rain and snow falls, strong winds of over Force 6 and absence of floating marks.

With the appearance of ice in the Pechora Inlet and in the Pechora river, entry to the port is not allowed without Harbour Master's permission.

The speed of a vessel navigating from the Pilot Anchorage light buoy through the Receiving Bar Turning, Alekseevsky, Polovsky, Kuisky, Urpinsky and other Channels shall not exceed 6 knots, with the exception at the part of the Pechora river between the Zakhrebetny and Srednevsky Channels where it is allowed to navigate with speed not exceeding 12 knots.

When passing floating cranes nearby, lighters and vessels lying alongside the port quays, every ship should proceed at dead slow speed.

MAX. SIZE: Draft declared by Port Authorities after being checked in the beginning of the season, and is about 15 feet.

HEALTH: Vessels inspected by sanitary officer. If no diseases, vessel obtains free pratique. Pratique automatic when vessel arrives from another Russian port.

NOVOROSSIYSK: (Including Sheskharis-Oil Harbour) 44.43 N. 37.48 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: The port of Novorossiysk is situated in the N.E. part of the Black Sea, in the Bay of Novorossiysk, 60 miles S.E. of the Kerch Strait.

The port is open for navigation all the year round. Ice very seldom appears in the port area. Sometimes, in the very severe Winters particularly, a very narrow strip of thin ice (so called "zabereghi") may be formed on the coast line.

In Winter, strong, gusty N.E. winds (called "Bora"), reaching hurricane force at times, blow from the coastal mountains. Due to these winds, vessels lying at anchor in Novorossiysk Bay may very quickly become covered with ice when the temperature of the air is cooled below freezing-point.

It is impossible to enter the port when "Bora" blows, therefore, all vessels are recommended to leave Novorossiysk Bay for the open sea beforehand or lay at anchor in the Yuzhnaya Ozereika roads, at a distance of 8.5 miles Westward of the entrance to the port of Novorossiysk, until the weather improves.

The range of water level in Novorossiysk Bay caused by the effect of the winds, does not exceed 0.6 m. The changes of water level, due to variation in atmospheric pressure ("Seish" effects), are observed at times. The "Seish" may last up to several days. The maximum range of water level, due to the "Seish", observed in Novorossiysk Bay is 0.6 m.

The port consists of 2 harbours – the Dry Cargo Harbour and Oil (Sheskharis) Harbour.

The inner roads are situated at the head of Novorossiysk Bay and divided from the outer roads by the Western and Eastern Moles. The outer roads are situated between the moles and the Southern border of the port.

The Dry Cargo Harbour situated inside the inner roads is protected by 2 (Western and Eastern) moles.

2 passages, the Western and Eastern, divided by Penaisky Shoals, lead to the inner roads through the port area. The Western passage is wider in comparison with the Eastern, and vessels may enter outer roads passing through it by one course.
DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section
Shipmaster's Report: (May, 1975) Notwithstanding the instructions for documentation for all U.S.S.R. ports referred to at the beginning of the section, the Novorossiysk Port Authorities require the following:

General Declaration (IMCO FAL form 1)	3 copies
Cargo Declaration (IMCO FAL form 2)	2 copies
Ship's Stores Declaration (IMCO FAL form 3)	2 copies
Crew Effects Declaration (IMCO FAL form 4)	2 copies
Crew List (IMCO FAL form 5)	6 copies
Passenger List (IMCO FAL form 6)	4 copies

PILOTAGE: Compulsory: 96 hours prior arrival cable Inflot giving ETA, name vessel, gross tonnage, exact draft, type of engine. Flag sound and Morse signal G. Pilot meets vessel at 44° 37′ N.: 37° 52′ E. Movement of vessel within inner harbour – only under Pilot guidance. If Pilot is not available vessel should anchor in area No. 52, opposite the Kabardinka settlement, recommended as an anchorage, and wait until Pilot arrives.
ANCHORAGES: 44° 37′ 7″ N.; 37° 52′ E.; depth up to 22 m.; Outer Roads anchorage unsafe during N.E. winds (gales). Master must keep engine ready or proceed for anchorage to S. Ozereika Roads under these sea conditions. Vessels obliged to receive daily weather message at 15.00 LT on 420 kc/s.

In the outer roads there are 4 recommended anchorages:

1. Anchorage No. 52 is situated Northward of Doob Point. Depths are from 12 m.–27 m., holding ground is mud. In the event of winds blowing from seaward vessels are recommended to leave this area for the inner roads.

2. Anchorage area No. 16 is situated 2.5 cables length Westward of Penai Point. Depths are from 13 m.–27 m. holding ground is mud, and mud with shell.

3. Anchorage area No. 63 – 8 cables length westward of Penai Point. Depths are from 13 m. to 27 m., the holding ground is mud and mud with shell.

4. Anchorage No. 51 – 6 cables length S.E. of entrance to the port. Depths are from 20 m. to 24 m.

Anchorage beyond the borders of the recommended areas is strictly prohibited.

Vessels approaching the port of Novorossiysk with N.E. gales ("Bora") blowing, or caught by the storm whilst lying in the outer or inner roads, or after having received storm warning, should use every opportunity to proceed to sea or lay at anchor in the Yuzhnaya Ozereika Roads, having the main engines ready and keeping constant anchor watch.

Under the circumstances, every vessel should keep regular radio contact with port radio station.

Masters of vessels lying at anchor in the outer roads and/or in the port, are usually warned beforehand about the forthcoming N.E. winds. Since these winds may reach hurricane force during a very short period of time, particularly in Winter, all Masters lying at anchor in Novorossiysk Bay are recommended to pay careful attention at every change of the weather, to watch position of vessel to be able to prevent her drifting about anchor and proceed to sea in due time.
RESTRICTIONS: No restrictions on night entry. Mooring and/or unmooring, both in the Dry Cargo Harbour and the Sheskharis Oil Harbour cannot be effected during Southerly or N.E. winds over Force 7.
MAX. SIZE: The permitted length for entry into port is 250 m., draft 11 m. for dry cargo vessels and 13.5 m. for tankers.
HEALTH: Free pratique automatic for vessels coming direct from U.S.S.R. port. From other countries, usual procedure of sanitary inspection applies.
RADIO: Vessels can establish radio contact through port radio station Novorossiysk Radio operating 24 hours a day on the following frequencies:

Call sign	Working	Calling	Type of transmission	Time
UDN	450 kc/s.	500 kc/s.	A1	H24

The port signal station is equipped with radar which gives all possible information for ensuring safe pilotage, and also helps Pilots in shifting vessels within the port inner roads.

TUGS: The following number of tugs and their power are stipulated for mooring operations in accordance with size of vessels to be berthed:

Ship's length	Number of tugs and power
from 50 to 100 m.	1 tug, from 150 i.h.p. to 600
from 101 to 160 m.	2 tugs, from 600 i.h.p. to 1,200
from 161 to 200 m.	2 tugs, 1×2,300 i.h.p., 1×1,200 i.h.p. or 3×1,200 i.h.p.
from 201 to 250 m.	3 tugs, from 1,200 i.h.p. to 2,300
over 250 m.	4 tugs, from 1,200 i.h.p. to 2,300

Notes:

1. Exceptions to the above regulations are possible if the Ship Master consents to deviations and the Harbour Master grants permission for the same. But the deviations should not affect the safety of mooring operations.

2. While manoeuvring ships to the Sheskharis Berths or jetty No. 25 one more tug of 150 i.h.p. is engaged regardless of the ship's size in view of the constructive features of the berths.

BERTHING: When proceeding in inner harbour vessels must keep both anchors ready to let go; ships to be moored by safe ropes which to be kept tight at all times. Also be ready to use anchor chain over bollard according to Pilot's recommendation. Strictly prohibited to work with propellers lying alongside berth. All mooring ropes must be fitted with rat-guard plates.

The quays of the Dry Cargo Harbour with depths alongside of up to 11.5 m. are equipped to handle general and bulk cargoes (coal, ore), metals, timber, sugar, grain, cement, fruit and vegetables.

Berths of the port are equipped with modern cargo handling facilities. There are portal cranes of up to 40 tons capacity, a floating crane with lifting capacity of up to 100 tons, automatic and electric cargo lifters and other equipment.

Opening and closing of hatches is usually done by ship's crew with the help of portal cranes at dry cargo berths, if ordered by Master, grain berth excluded.

Ores are loaded in compliance with the Temporary Regulations for Carrying Ores handed over to the Shipmaster by Inflot Agents during inwards clearance.

Following are the basic requirements of above Regulations to the ores being loaded (a) moisture contents not higher than 12% (if other percentage is not stipulated by Charter Party); (b) angle of repose is not less than 35°.

Grain and other bulk cargoes are to be loaded in strict conformity with the International Convention.

STEVEDORES: All necessary services including stevedoring work available under Port Authority guidance. Port cargo-handling regions where ships berth managed by Port Authority and used for stevedoring, tallymen service, storage, etc. On the matters connected with services available, foreign vessels have to apply to Port Authority through Maritime Agency "Inflot".

MEDICAL: In case of accident (emergency), medical attendance rendered at any time. Hospital facilities available. Also inoculation, vaccination, etc.

TANKERS: Bearing in mind N.E. gales, oil carriers lying alongside oil pier must have boat-ropes lowered to water and illuminate them at night. All scupper holes on main deck must be closed tightly. Master responsible for overflow of oil in the vicinity of harbour and has to bear harbour cleaning costs. No repair work can be done on tankers lying alongside oil pier. No ballast water may be pumped out, no garbage or refuse thrown overboard. Ballast water to be pumped into shore slop tank.

The Sheskharis Oil Harbour is situated in the Eastern part of the outer roads, 2.2 miles N.E. of the Penai Point. It is protected by a mole from the North and oil jetty from the South. The base of the jetty is used as a berth for fire-fighting boats.

Large vessels are not recommended to approach the head of the oil jetty since the rock-bottom with depths from 12 m.–15 m. extends at 50 m. length Westward.

Since it is not safe to stay alongside berths in the Sheskharis Oil Harbour during strong winds blowing from any direction, all tankers, after having received a storm warning should take urgent measures to leave for sea.

Depths at the berths of the Sheskhari Oil Harbour are up to 14.5 m.

To ensure safe loading/unloading of oil products as well as to expedite the vessel's turn around time, every tanker should be equipped with cargo-receiving valves capable of fitting 8–12 in. shore-loading connections.

These valves should allow the upward connection with shore cargo flanges of not less than 1 m. in height and located on deck at 3 m.-5 m. length from side of vessel.

DENSITY: About 1010–1014.

FRESH WATER: Available from shore; minimum quantity invoiced at 15 tons.

FUEL: Most grades available. Fuel for tankers can be supplied ex-shore. Bunkers for dry cargo vessels are usually delivered by lighters.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: All operations involving open fire and sparks are prohibited on oil pier. 2 fire-extinguishers, thick felt and sand must be ready beside hose connection.

GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: Gangway watch compulsory and carried out by crew.

Cargo Superintendent's Report: (September, 1975).

The Novorossiysk Shiprepair Yard is capable of carrying out any ship repairs, and is equipped with three floating docks. I was unable to obtain information on the size of these docks, but estimate they are capable of handling vessels in the 100,000 ton range.

REPATRIATION: No facilities exist for effecting crew changes. A crew member may be repatriated due to family reasons or sickness but repatriation requires visa formalities.

AIRPORT: Nearest airport (Krasnodar) served by regular internal lines is situated at 150 km. from port.

The port is open for navigation all the year round, but with ice-breaker assistance in severe Winters about 30 days of the year. Ice first begins to form in the second half of December and finally disappears in February. After ice has formed it is often broken up by strong winds and stormy weather. In mild Winters ice has not been observed in Odessa Bay.

Range of water level caused by winds depends on force and periods they blow, and may reach 2 m.

Atmospheric pressure has also a direct influence on the water level ("Seish" effect), but is weaker than effects of the wind. The "Seish" may last from a few minutes up to several days causing change of water level up to 0.58 m.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

Port open for navigation for about 6–7 months per year, starting from May. In Autumn, when the river is covered with ice, assistance of ice-breaker is required but may not be rendered regularly.

Opening and closing of the port for navigation as well as turn and order of entering the port is usually regulated by the Port Authorities.

Changes of water level in the river depend on tide, spring floods and effects of the wind.

The tide is semi-diurnal with two high and two low waters a day. At the Onega river mouth the range of the tide at mean springs may reach 2.7 m.

The rises of the water level are due to North-westerly, Northern and North-easterly winds. The falls of the water level are usually caused by South-easterly, Southerly and South-westerly winds.

The Onega river becomes frozen over at the beginning of November. Ice begins to form in October and usually breaks up at the end of April or early May.

A vast area of shoal waters is situated at the mouth of the Onega river.

Access into the Onega river is by the Karelsky Fairway. Vessels drawing up to 4.8 m. may pass through it at high water.

Since depths in the river vary, Masters are recommended to get in touch with the Harbour Master to make enquiries about the existing least depth in the fairway before entering the river.

The port specialises in timber exports.

The port is open for navigation for about 317 days of the year. In severe winters ice-breaker assistance is required.

The Dunai river and Kilia Mouth become completely frozen over only in severe winters, at the end of December or early January. Ice finally disappears in February or early March.

Changes of the water level are due to effects of the wind and spring floods.

Maximum rises of the water level are usually observed in April, May and June, maximum falls August, September and October.

Maximum range of the water level observed in the river is 6 m.

RIGA: 56.57 N. 24.05 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: A Baltic seaport, Riga is situated at the mouth of the Daugava (Western Dvina) river falling into the Gulf of Riga.

The water area of the port is formed by the lower part of the Daugava river from the mouth up to a railway bridge, thence by the Milgravis channel and Sarcandaugava Creek.

The roadstead of the port is situated at the mouth of the Daugava river.

The port is open for navigation all the year round, but ice-breaker assistance is required round about 4 months of the year.

The Gulf of Riga is frozen over for quite a long time. On the coast of the Gulf, ice first appears in December and finally disappears in April. The middle part of the Gulf gets frozen over only in severe Winters and for a short period. Usually ice in this area is mostly drift ice.

Considerable changes of the water level may be caused by strong winds and variation in atmospheric pressure ("Seish" effects).

The range of the water level caused by winds depends on the force of the wind, direction and period of time it blows.

Most sharp rises and falls of the water level are observed at the mouth of the Daugava river. They may reach at times 1.3 m.-1.8 m. higher and 0.9 m.-1.1 m. lower than the datum at Kronshtadt.

The level of the water in the port usually depends on the ordinary water level in the Daugava river.

The max. rise of the water level caused by winds may reach 2 m. higher and fall – 1 m. lower than the mean water level observed over a period of many years.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Inflot will arrange Pilot on receipt of ETA at Daugavgriva Buoy, which to be given 96, 48, 24 and 4 hours prior arrival. Also advise with ETA details of cargo, last port of call, passengers if any, ship's draft and length.

Pilot meets vessel at receiving light buoy No. 1 Daugavgriva. In case of bad weather, when Pilot is unable to come aboard, vessel should follow in the wake of a Pilot boat, up to the mouth of the river, where Pilot will board vessel.

Vessels leaving the port should navigate under Pilot control to receiving buoy No. 1 Daugavgriva.

ANCHORAGE: The best anchorage can be obtained in the port of Riga roads, at a distance 4 miles off the Daugavgriva lighthouse, bearing 310° Westward of light buoy No. 1. Depths in the anchorage are from 22 m. to 35 m. The bottom is mud and sand. It is not recommended to come closer to the shore without a Pilot on board.

The port of Riga roads are situated N.W. of the entrance to the mouth of the Daugava river.

The roads are open to winds blowing between S.W. and N.E.; therefore, in Autumn, when these winds prevail, anchorage there is unsafe.

In periods when heavy waves in the roads are caused by fresh Northerly winds, vessels are recommended to leave the roads for shelter in the port or go to the open part of the Gulf of Riga.

The depths in the roads are from 15 m. to 30 m. Holding ground is good.

RESTRICTIONS: Permitted draft for the entry into port is between 7.5 m.-9.5 m. at the mean water level.

Entry to the Daugava river and the port of Riga is accessible for vessels having drafts ensuring safe passage across the river bar.

As a rule, vessels passing along the channel are requested to have keel clearance not less than 0.45 m.

The speed of vessels navigating in the Daugava river should not exceed 6 knots.

There are no restrictions as to length of vessel and time of entry to the port.

MAX. SIZE: Max. permitted draft for vessels going to berths of the port for discharging is 9.75 m. in fresh water, if the water level is "O" datum at Kronshtadt.

Vessels having draft more than 9.75 m. are being discharged into barges in the inner road which has 2 mooring buoys, 3 miles from the mouth of the river. Max. permitted draft for vessels going to the inner road is 10.50 m. in fresh water, if the water level is "O" datum at Kronshtadt.

Also see "Shipmasters Report".

HEALTH: Pratique obtainable after vessels mooring when Health Officials visit vessel with Immigration and Customs Officers. Health Inspector to be informed of any medical assistance required.

RADIO: Notice of Arrival: In Winter when the Irben Strait and the Gulf of Riga are completely frozen over and ice-breaker assistance is required, vessels proceeding to the port of Riga should advise Harbour Master their ETA to the edge of the ice, vessel's ice classification and estimation in days for the expenditure of fresh water and fuel available on board to the moment of approaching the edge of the ice.

Vessels can established ship-shore radio contact via the port radio station Riga Radio, operating 24 hours a day on the following frequencies:

TUGS: Use of tugs is obligatory. The number of tugs depends on length of the vessel and place of berthing.

BERTHING: Berths of the port with depths from 7.5 m. to 9.7 m. alongside are equipped to handle general and bulk (ore, coal) cargoes, metals, timber, grain, food products and passenger traffic.

Number of tugs to be ordered for entry assistance or for shifting berth is decided by Master in accordance with Pilot's recommendation.

Cranes of up to 45 tons capacity are operated on the quays and by the warehouses. Also, there are floating cranes with lifting capacity of up to 100 tons, other cargo handling equipment and intra-port transport.

Opening and closing of hatches is usually done in accordance with conditions of Charter Party and B/L.

MEDICAL: All medical assistance available.

STEVEDORES: Arranged by Inflot who should be given necessary information in advance.

DENSITY: About 1002.

FRESH WATER: Available at quays.

FUEL: Fuel is usually taken at the oil jetties. Bunkers may also be delivered to the roads or supplied by lighters at a berth during loading/unloading of non-inflammable cargoes.

GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: Recommended. These duties normally performed by crew.

OPENING/CLOSING HATCHES: Normally by ship's crew.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCE: No restriction on quantities, but nothing may be taken ashore.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS: Seaman's Book required.

CONSULS: None.

REPAIRS: Repairs possible for hull, machinery, radio and navigational equipment. Floating crane available, capacity 100 tons. All kinds of repairs for vessels up to 30,000 d.w.t. can be carried out.

REPATRIATION: Only subject to visa restrictions.

TIME: GMT plus 3 hours all year round.

HOLIDAYS: 1st January, 8th March, 1st and 2nd May, 9th May, 7th and 8th November, 5th December.

POLICE/FIRE/AMBULANCE: Advise Inflot.

SHORE LEAVE: Crew allowed ashore.

SHIPMASTER'S REPORT: (January 1976):

On approaching the area where Irbenskiy Lt./Vl should have been placed, it was found that the Lt./Vl and buoys had been removed for the Winter season and replaced by spar buoys, although these could not be observed on the radar or visually due to the adverse weather.

Two other vessels were waiting for daylight transit of the channel, I also decided to wait for daylight due to a 5 fathom bank being recorded on the chart.

On entering the channel it appears to be very much wider than indicated on the chart also where the chart has the channel buoys in a straight line this was not so, although the alteration of the channel could have been due to the use of the Winter buoys only.

In Baltic Pilot Vol. II vessels are allowed to enter at 26 ft. 3 in. This is incorrect as the maximum draft is now 32 ft. Vessels up to 37 ft. were at the anchorage, where they are lightened up to 32 ft. before proceeding into the harbour.

Two berths were being used for the discharge of grain, by shore cranes into wagons.

In the early hours of Sunday morning, 4th January, the temperature being −14° C, a thin film of ice formed in the harbour, this had disappeared by mid-afternoon. Except for this occasion no ice was seen at all in the Baltic, although the climate was very cold.

The Bond was not put under seal, but they were very strict on currency list, 3 copies being required, also the total amounts of each different currency is required.

AUTHORITY: Port of Riga Authority.

AGENT: The Port of Riga Main Maritime Agency "Inflot". Postal address: 6 Latsis Street, Riga–33, U.S.S.R. Cables "Inflot Riga". Tel. 33-15-37; 33-97-03. Telex 1157.

SOCHI: 43.34 N. 39.43 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: The port of Sochi is an ice-free port, situated at the mouth of the Sochi river, S.E. of the Uch-Dere Point, in the Eastern part of the Black Sea.

The port is protected by the Caucasian chain of mountains from cold N.E. winds but it is open to winds blowing from Southerly and Westerly directions when heavy waves may roll over the port moles causing heavy swell in the harbour.

The port mostly handles passenger traffic.

There are passenger terminals, one of which serves hydrofoil ships only. About 3 million passengers visit the port yearly.

A cargo pier is equipped to handle fruit, building materials and cars. There are enclosed warehouses on the cargo pier and on one of the passenger terminals.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Pilot boat usually meets vessel at a distance of about 1 mile from the port. In the event of bad weather or restricted visibility, vessel should anchor or drift at a safe distance from the port until Pilot arrives.

ANCHORAGE: Deep drafted vessels may obtain anchorage in the outer roads Westward of the Northern mole, in the area encircled by a 9 cables length radius with the Sochi lighthouse as centre of circle. The depths in the roads are from 11 m. to 13 m., where there are mooring buoys.

Anchorage may also be obtained in depths of about 10 m. at 5 cables length from the shore.

Anchorage can also be obtained at 1.3–1.5 mile distance S.S.W. of the Sochi lighthouse. Depths there are about 29 m. The bottom is mud with sand, and small stone closer to the shore.

Anchorages are open to winds blowing from the sea.

Area No. 141 prohibited both for anchorage and fishing is situated at a distance of 1.3 miles S.W. of the light located on the Northern Mole. It extends for 9 miles to N.W.–S.E. The area is shown on charts.

RESTRICTIONS: There are no time restrictions for entry to the port.

In case of stormy weather entry to the port is difficult due to the swell caused by heavy waves in the approach and in the narrow entrance to the port.

The maximum permitted draft is 8 m., length 180 m.

In the event of heavy surf vessels must anchor in the outer roads since entry to the port is impossible.

During the Autumn-Winter period the port of Sochi cannot be used as shelter port, because lying in the port is dangerous due to the strong variable current ("Tyagun") usually caused by gales blowing between S.E. and N.W.

Under these circumstances the Port Authorities cannot guarantee safety to a vessel which, after having received a storm warning, did not make for sea, and bear no responsibility for the consequencies.

RADIO: Vessels can establish ship-shore radio contact through the port radio station Sochi Radio, operating 24 hours a day on the following frequencies:

Call sign	Working	Calling	Type of transmission	Time
UZB	516 kc/s.	500 kc/s.	A1	H24

"Inflot" (Shipping Agency)	156.80 mc/s.	156.80 mc/s.	F3	HX

A signal station is located at the Sochi lighthouse.

BERTHING: Tug assistance for vessels over 2,000 g.r.t. which enter or leave the port is compulsory.

A vessel intending to enter port with tug assistance should keep the Sochi mid-channel leading marks in line ahead and stop the main engines in due time to allow vessel to come to the state of "no motion" at a distance of 1 mile from the port entrance.

Only under these conditions is a tug allowed to approach a vessel and receive or cast off the tow rope.

A 5-ton crane is operated on the cargo berth. There are also truck-layer cranes with lifting capacity of 10 tons, diesel cranes and other cargo handling equipment.

FUEL: Not available.

FRESH WATER: Can be supplied by pipe-lines at nearly all berths.

REPAIRS: Not available.

TIME: GMT plus 3 hours all the year.

AUTHORITY: The Port of Sochi Authority.

AGENT: A branch of the port of Novorossiysk Main Maritime Agency "Inflot" at the port of Sochi. Postal address: 1 Voykov Street, Sochi, U.S.S.R. Cables "Inflot Sochi". Tel. 99-05-86; 996-62-70. Telex 128.

SUKHUMI: 42.59 N. 41.01 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: A Black Sea passenger port Sukhumi is situated at the head of the Sukhumi Gulf, 2 miles E.N.E of the Sukhumi Point. The port is open for navigation all the year round. Both the port itself and the Gulf are open to winds blowing from the sea.

Several berths of the port are equipped to handle passenger traffic.

The port area is bounded on the S.W. by the line of the Sukhumi leading light marks, (bearing 105°–285°) extended up to the shore.

The port is visited by regular and cruise passenger vessels.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: A Pilot meets a vessel in the outer roads.

ANCHORAGE: Anchorages are situated in the outer roads on the Northern coast of the Sukhumi Gulf, opposite the mouth of the Beslet river.

A good anchorage can be obtained at the line of the Sukhumi leading light marks. Depths are from 12 m. to 50 m. The bottom is mud.

Master should watch carefully the Sukhumi leading light marks when approaching the anchorage and cast anchor only at the moment when the leading light marks are in line or some small distance closer to the shore.

At 2 cables length seaward of the leading line, the depths increase sharply and reach 130 m.

Whilst waiting for a berth vessel should lie at anchor at the line of the Sukhumi leading light marks. This anchorage is unsafe during gales blowing from the sea.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels may enter or leave the port at any time of day or night.

MAX. SIZE: The max. permitted draft is 7.6 m., length 180 m.

RADIO: Ship-shore radio contact can be established via the port radio station Sukhumi Radio operating 24 hours a day on the following frequencies:

Call sign	Working	Calling	Type of transmission	Time

* CPR–Central Port Radio Station.

Storm signals are exhibited at a signal mast located on the roof of the Port Authority's office.

BERTHING: Vessels are not allowed to moor to berths during dense fog and in restricted visibility when navigational lights and the current indicator on the passenger berth are not visible. In this event vessel should anchor and disembark passengers in the outer roads.

When mooring, Master should bear in mind the direction of the current and the effect on the mooring angle of vessel.

By day, the direction of the current indicated by a sparbuoy located at the head of the passenger pier, and at night, by lights exhibited from the elevation of the front leading light.

A green light shown lower than the front leading light indicates Easterly current, and a red light, current of Westerly direction.

The rate of the current is usually determined by the Master himself.

Due to the constant influence of the current, mooring is usually effected without tug assistance.

There are no portal cranes on the passenger pier. Handling of cargo is done by the truck-layer cranes with lifting capacity of 10 tons.

FUEL: Can be supplied by lighters.

FRESH WATER: Supplied ex-shore.

TIME: GMT plus 4 hours all the year.

GENERAL: A Baltic seaport, Tallinn is situated in Tallinn Bay on the S.W. coast of the Gulf of Finland. Year-round navigation is possible. Tallinn Bay is usually frozen over in severe winters only. In the Winter months the port of Tallinn is kept open for navigation by ice-breakers. The tidal range in Tallinn Bay is of very small account. The difference of the water level in the Bay is due solely to the effects of the wind. A rise of the water about 0.4-0.5 m. from mean water level is observed during N.W. and Westerly winds. The fall of the water is caused by S.E. and Easterly winds. It usually reaches 0.2-0.4 m. below the mean water level.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Advise Agent of vessel's ETA 96, 48 and 24 hours before arrival. If the time of passage to the port is less than 48 hours, ETA should be given no later than 1 hour after departure from previous port.

Radio Agent 4 hours before arrival requesting a Pilot. Pilotage is compulsory, 24 hour service. Pilot boards at Western Tallinamadal bank, approximate position 59° 42′.5 N., 24° 38′.0 E.

International code signals may be used to call Pilot who will come out in a motor-boat as ordered by Agents on basis of Masters ETA. Pilot boat can be contacted on VHF Channel 16.

N.B. Vessels should proceed to Tallinsky Bay through the Northern Passage. The Straits of Sooripy are temporarily closed to navigation.

ANCHORAGE: Vessel awaiting Pilot may anchor in pilot boarding zone. The main anchorage for Tallinsky Bay is situated to the East of Tallinsky light and limited by a line connecting the following positions: 59° 28′.5 N., 24° 47′.1 E. 50° 28′.7 N., 24° 48′.8 E. 59° 28′.5 N., 24° 49′.1 E. 59° 27′.8 N., 24° 47′.7 E.

Anchorage is not protected from the seaward side, depths from 12.5 to 26 m. Anchorage is forbidden in other parts of Tallinsky Bay.

RESTRICTIONS: Entrance to the harbour inside the breakwaters is through the North or the South entrance. Maximum permitted draft for both entrances is 23 ft. At South entrance depths vary according to current and tide. Pilot will advise regarding depth available. At the Northern entrance a submarine cable is laid, and vessels passing through are required to have both anchors secured. Entry and departure can be effected by day and night. Movement of ships through both entrances is controlled by a signal exhibited at the head of the North pier.

MAX. SIZE: Vessels up to 23 ft. draft can enter harbour. Tankers with cargo to discharge are limited to maximum length 100 m. Vessels arriving for bunkering or supplies are not required to enter harbour.

HEALTH: International quarantine signals to be used on arrival. No later than 6 hours before arrival at the inner area Master should radio Agents giving full details of state of health on board, and requesting pratique which will be given on arrival.

RADIO: All vessels when approaching the Port of Tallinn should establish radio contact via Tallinn Radio port radio station which operates 24 hours a day on the following frequencies:

TUAPSE: 44.06 N. 39.04 E. (See Plan)

DESCRIPTION: The port of Tuapse is situated between the mouths of the rivers Tuapse and Pauk at the head of Tuapse Bay and on the Caucasian coast of the Black Sea. Year-round navigation.

The port is protected by the Western, S.W. and Pervomaisky breakwaters and by the Southern mole.

The Western part of the port, called the Old Port, is used by fishing trawlers, and the Eastern part of the New Port by cargo vessels.

The entrance to the port, about 220 m. wide, is situated between the heads of the S.W. breakwater and the Southern Mole.

A part of the port area bounded by the shore and navigational marks is considered as the port inner roads.

Despite the fact that the harbour is protected by breakwaters and a mole, lying in the port is not always safe due to heavy waves caused by Southerly gales.

Waves may roll over the breakwaters when strong winds blow and may cause heavy swell in the harbour.

During strong winds blowing from directions between the S.E. and N.W. and, at times, even without winds, lying in the port is dangerous due to strong variable current with surge (called "Tyagun"). In this event vessels are recommended to leave the port for the sea.

Changes in the water level in the port area are caused by the effects of the wind. Maximum range of the water level observed is 0.6 m.

Also, the changes in the water level may be caused by variation in atmospheric pressure ("Seish" effect), which may last from a few minutes up to several days.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Vessels wait for Pilot at anchorage. Compulsory in and out. Master to advise Port Controller and Inflot Agency ETA, 96 hours in advance (confirm 4 hours before arrival; 2 hours before, apply for entry permit), description of cargo, location and weight of heavy lifts, number of passengers, ships draft, length and services required.

Pilotage is effected, in turn, in accordance with sequences of vessels orders received by the "Port Control".

In the event of bad weather (wind Force 6 and over) when Pilot is unable to board vessel in the outer roads, Master should either lie at anchor or wait with engines working at speed ensuring safety of the vessel until weather improves.

ANCHORAGES: Available in depths up to 23 m. Vessel arriving at anchorage should inform time anchored, time required for deballasting ashore, overall length, deepest draft as per seasonal marks, and await berthing orders. Despite jetties and breakwater, anchorage not always secure since S.W. winds bring confused swell or variable current with surge called "Tyagun", during which vessels sometimes swept from moorings. Advisable put to sea during strong S.W. winds and "Tyagun".

Area No. 142 prohibited for anchorage and fishing, is situated opposite entrance to Tuapse Bay. Borders of the area are shown on charts.

There are two anchorages situated in the outer roads S.W. of the S.W. breakwater. Depths there are from 13.6 to 24 m. The bottom is fine sand and shell.

The outer roads of the port extend S.W. of the breakwaters up to the border of area No. 142. The outer roads are bounded on the South by the meridian of the base of the Southern Mole.

During winter, all vessels lying at berths should constantly be ready to leave the port for sea after having received a storm warning.

RESTRICTIONS: There are no time restrictions for entry to the port.

The entrance channel, 100 m. wide starts at 0.9 cables length off the Western side of the head of Pervomaisky breakwater and extends to W.N.W. for 2.7 cables length. The depth in mid channel, all the way through, is 13.7 m.

Every vessel should lie at anchor in the outer roads whilst waiting for Pilot and mooring berth.

Every Master when navigating along the leading line and in the inner roads, should proceed at moderate speed ensuring the manoeuvrability of vessel.

MAX. SIZE: The max. permitted draft for entry to the port is 12 m.

HEALTH: Sanitary officer boards on arrival or when berthed. No automatic pratique.

During bad weather essential shore leave should be granted only to limited part of staff and crew to ensure that sufficient crew on board at all times to shift vessel at short notice in case of emergency.

Plug holes. Flame arresters must be placed in all plug holes during loading; and all scuppers must be plugged.

VENTSPILS: 57.24 N. 21.31 E. (See Plan)

GENERAL: A Baltic Sea port, Ventspils is situated at the mouth of the Venta river. Navigation is all year round.

There are periodical alterations in the water level of the Venta river, chiefly due to the effects of the wind. The rise of the water level is usually due to moderate Westerly winds, and the fall is caused by Eaeterly winds.

The maximum rise of the water level in the Venta river is at the time of Spring floods.

The port of Ventspils area includes the Avantport and the Commercial port. A fairway, 330 m. wide, leads to the port from seaward. The draft of vessels passing through the fairway should not exceed 9.4 m.

Vessels with drafts over 9.4 m. leave the port by another fairway, depth 11.4 m., width 80.0 m., which branches off the approach fairway at a distance of 3 cables to the N.W. from the entrance to the Avant-port, and extends in true line bearing 306.5° up to mid-channel Receiving light-buoy No. 2.

Vessels can enter the port by this channel only after having obtained the Harbour Master's permission.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Vessels approaching port apply for Pilot through Maritime Agency "Inflot" (Telegr. Inflot Ventspils, Telex 86122, Tel. 6213, 51369 or by R/T on 2182 kc/s., or on Channel 16 short range VHF), reporting 96 hours, 48 hours and 24 hours and 4 hours ETA. Pilot boat has radio telephone, Channel 16 short range VHF. Pilot taken on board in area of anchorage. In bad weather Pilot can board inside of breakwater by prior arrangement with Harbour Master through Inflot.

Pilot service is available by day and night. Pilot usually boards a vessel at Ventspils Reception Buoy No.1.

ANCHORAGES: The Avant-port is protected by the Northern and Southern moles. The anchorage in the Avant-port, with depths from 3 to 10 m., is not safe during strong Westerly winds.

Recommended anchorages for vessels with medium drafts are situated at a distance of 3-4 miles Westward of the port of Ventspils. Depths are from 15-18 m. The holding ground (sand) is good.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels exceeding 140 m. length and 25 ft. draft enter harbour with Pilot on board only in daytime.

1. When a vessel is in ballast and her length is over 120 m. or when a vessel is fully loaded and her length is over 100 m.

2. Master of a fully loaded vessel, the length of which is less than 100 m., or in case of a vessel laden with ballast when her length is less than 120 m., should order tugs in accordance with the Pilot's recommendation, weather conditions and the vessel's manoeuvrability.

VYBORG: 60.43 N. 28.44 E. (See Plan)

For Saimaa Canal see Index.

GENERAL: A Baltic Sea port Vyborg is situated at the head of the Gulf of Vyborg in the N.E. part of the Gulf of Finland.

There are 2 harbours in the port: the Southern Harbour and the Harbour of the Vyborg Hydro-base.

The Southern harbour is situated on the Western side of the peninsula between Krepostnoy Bridge, at the Fortress of Vyborg in the North, and Smolyanoy Point in the West (Lat. 60° 43′ N., Long. 28° 44′ E.).

The Harbour of the Vyborg Hydro-base is situated 2.5 cables N.W. of Smolyanoy Point. It is protected by a "T"-shape pier.

The port is open for navigation from April up to the middle of December. Ice in the Gulf of Vyborg begins to form normally about the middle of November. The Gulf usually becomes frozen over by the middle of December and the last ice finally disappears in April.

Whilst tidal range in the Gulf of Vyborg is of small account, considerable changes in the water level may be caused by strong winds (up to 1.6), variation in atmospheric pressure (up to 1 m.), and the seasonal increase of the amount of water brought down from the land. The rise of the water level is usually caused by Southerly, S.W. and sometimes by Northerly winds. The maximum range of the water level in the Gulf is about 2.0 m.

The Vyborg Fairway (least depth 7.3 m.) leads from the entrance to the Gulf of Vyborg across the Transund roadstead up to the entrance of the Inner Vysotsky Roads. The Vyborg Sea Channel (least depth 6.1 m.) leads from the Inner Vysotsky Roads into the port, situated at the head of the Gulf. Both of these and the Fairway and the Channel, are open for navigation any time of day or night.

DOCUMENTS: Refer to beginning of U.S.S.R. section.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Pilot is ordered through "Inflot". Notice of arrival to be given 96 hours in advance and confirmed 4 hours before arrival. Pilot station "Vikrevoz" can be contacted on VHF Channel 16.

Vessels proceeding to the Port of Vyborg from the Gulf of Finland take Pilots at Vikhrevoy Island (Whirlwind Island), Lat 60° 34′ N., Long. 28° 27′ E.

All-year round navigation is possible but during 30-90 days period of ice conditions with ice-breaker assistance for ice-strengthened vessels only.

Ice usually begins to form at the end of November or the beginning of December, and 3-4 weeks later the Gulf becomes completely frozen over. The increase of fast ice usually lasts up to the first half of February. As a rule the ice usually breaks up in the middle of March. It finally disappears at the end of March or, as an exception, in the first half of April.

The port of Zhdanov consists of the Outer and Inner Roads, the Ugolnaya (or the Coal) Harbour, the Grain Harbour, the Ship-repairing Basin, the Schmidt Harbour at the mouth of the Kalmius River, and the port of Azovstal situated Eastward of the mouth of the river.

Entering and sailing day and night.

Not later than 4 hours prior to arrival at the mouth of the Coal Harbour approach channel, buoy No. 16, a Master should order a Harbour Pilot.

ANCHORAGE: With protection from seaward by moles, the port is a safe anchorage. Outer Zhdanov Roads depth up to 8.2 m. Limits of Roads on Eastern side are meridian of Kosa Liapina (headland), on Northern side – the five m. isobath. The bottom holds anchors well. Inner Roads are within port's aquatorium and protected by dike erections.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels can enter or leave the port at any time of day and night. All vessels entering or leaving the port should have keel clearance not less than 0.5 ft. (15 cm).

The max. allowed speed in the approach channels is 4.5 knots and in the part of the Coal Harbour approach channel, protected by a wooden dam, only 3 knots.

The speed of a vessel may be increased in case of necessity to keep her course along the leading line or prevent her drifting off the channel due to the effect of current or wind.

RADAR: The port of Zhdanov radar station gives all possible information to any vessel navigating along the Coal Harbour approach channels in the restricted visibility and during the absence of the floating navigation marks.

Radar navigation is controlled by a Pilot in charge.

Storm signals are exhibited at a signal mast located at the Dividing Pier.

TUGS: Available. Use ship's lines. Tug assistance for shifting berths is compulsory. Number of tugs to be ordered shall be advised by Pilot.

BERTHING: The berths of the port with depths of up to 7.7 m. are equipped to handle general, bulk and liquid cargoes, timber, metals, food stuff, fruit, vegetables, etc., and passenger shipping as well. There are enclosed warehouses, open concrete floor sheds and a grain elevator.

On the quays there are electric cranes of up to 15 tons capacity, coal and grain loaders. There are floating cranes with lifting capacity of up to 100 tons and other cargo handling equipment.

The Grain Harbour is bounded by two piers – by the Dividing Pier from S.W. and by the Eastern Pier from N.E.

It is protected from S.E. winds by the Inner Roads Breakwater. There are numerous piles and dolphins along the Eastern Pier. The depths in the central part of the Grain Harbour are from 8.7 m. to 9.1 m.

The access to the Schmidt Harbour is by an approach channel dredged in the coastal shoal water. Navigation along the channel is ensured by leading lights.

Storm signals are shown at the station situation Southward of the entry to the Schmidt Harbour.

The Coal Harbour approach channel is the main fairway for entry to the port of Zhdanov. It passes through a coastal shoal then enters the Southern part of the Coal Harbour.

Navigation along the Avant-port and the Coal Harbour approach channels is also ensured by leading lights, light buoys and spar buoys.

The access to the port of Azovstal is by a channel branching off N.E. of the Coal Harbour approach channel.

MEDICAL: Masters to advise by radio prior arrival of medical attendance required on board. Hospital facilities available. Vaccination Certificates to be presented.

DENSITY: About 1005.

(c) 25.26 N. 53.05 E.
(d) 25.26 N. 53.12 E.

Anchoring is prohibited within this area.

OPERATORS: Total ABK - Abu Dhabi. Telex AH 2347.

DOCUMENTS: Total ABK do not act as Agents. Vessels must have an Agent in Abu Dhabi in case of injuries or illness.

Early departure procedure: At the Master's option, he may, in order to expedite the turn-round of vessels and avoid undue delays caused by weather or other circumstances, use the early departure procedure. In this case Masters are requested to sign blank cargo documents.

Normally completed cargo documents required by the Master will be placed on board prior to sailing. If this is not possible without incurring delays of undue nature, the relevant documents will be airmailed to the Master to await the vessel's arrival at discharge port.

The official cargo, quantity loaded, will be transmitted by radio whilst unmooring. In the event of a dispute, the receipt of a letter of protest will be acknowledged by the Mooring Master.

Any protests by the Master concerning the quality of cargo should be made before departure and any resulting investigation should be made before the vessel sails.

Outward clearance: A tanker will be considered clear to depart Total ABK Terminal when the crude oil loading documents have been delivered to the Master, or in the case of E.D.P., clearance will be given through the Mooring Master.

Mail: Official ship's mail and the crew's personal mail will be handled by Total ABK and shipowner's debited accordingly.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory within the Terminal limits. Vessels to be moored at Total ABK Terminal will be boarded by a Total ABK Mooring Master in the anchorage area. The Mooring Master will advise the ship's Master on approaches to the storage tanker, mooring and unmooring, connecting and disconnecting hoses and all other operations within the Terminal area including all manoeuvring of the vessel. A qualified deck officer must be on watch at all times while the vessel is alongside the storage tanker.

ANCHORAGE: An area immediately South of Terminal limits is designated as the Anchorage Area, centred on position: 25° 26′ N., 53° 08′ E. This co-ordinate represents the centre of a circle with a radius of 0.5 mile which must be used by vessels requiring to wait at anchor. Anchoring within the Terminal limits is strictly prohibited.

NAVIGATION AIDS: The S.P.M. is fitted with a white light flashing the morse letter "U" every 30 seconds visible for a distance of 5 miles. A platform AK1 is situated in position 25° 29′ 30.5″ N., 53° 09′ 02.3″ E. and another in position 25° 29′ 37.5″ N., 53° 08′ 43.4″ E. which shows 2 flares in the N.E. direction (approximately) 10 m. and 600 m.

MAX. SIZE: Length 300 m., breadth 43.40 m. max. d.w.t. 150,000 tons. Max. size will probably be increased at some future date. Depth of water 30 m.

RADIO: Initial communication between vessels and Total ABK should be via Bahrain Radio (call sign GOU) which operates on a 24-hour basis. ETA in GMT to be sent 72, 48 and 24 hours prior arrival, through Bahrain Radio.

Communications within 60 miles of Terminal: Once ships are within 60 miles of ABK Terminal, communication may be established by radio telephone on International Marine VHF Channel 8. This frequency is monitored continuously.

Once contact has been made on Channel 8, further conversation should be conducted on either Channel 14 (156.7 mc/s), Channel 12 (156.60 mc/s) or Channel 6 (156.3 mc/s).

Communications after Total ABK Mooring Master has boarded: A Total ABK Mooring Master will board incoming tankers in the anchorage area and will bring with him portable VHF radio telephone units. From that time onwards, all and any communications between ship and the storage vessel will be conducted by the Mooring Master.

Radio transmissions for advice of tanker arrivals: Telegram to be sent by the storage tanker to the export tanker about 80 hours before her arrival:

Please advise your ETA in GMT 72, 48 and 24 hours before arrival to Total ABK Abu Dhabi, Telex AH 2347, via Bahrein Radio stop Cargo requirements stop Deballasting time if any stop Maximum loading rate acceptable stop Distance in metres from bow to manifold stop Flange dimensions of vessel's manifold connection stop 50 miles before arrival please contact terminal by VHF Channel 8 to receive berthing instructions stop Total ABK.

Mooring instructions: If vessels are obliged or instructed to anchor, they should do so in the recommended area about 3 nautical miles from the storage vessel.

READINESS: After arrival at the anchorage area and when the tanker is ready in every respect to load, the Master may tender his notice of readiness.

Notices of readiness will be accepted provided one or other of the following events shall have transpired: (a) the Master shall have received the Mooring Master on board, or (b) the Master shall have dropped anchor in the anchorage area.

Port closed: Notices of readiness will not be accepted during periods when the port is closed. The port is closed when the weather is such that it is too rough for incoming tankers to berth. The decision regarding the opening and closing of the port will rest with the ABK Terminal Superintendent or his deputy.

MOORING: Weather permitting, Total Abu Al Bu Khoosh Terminal operates only from sunrise to sunset, 7 days a week. Vessels moor port side to the storage tanker "Jaranda" equipped with 5 Yokohama fenders on her starboard side, which is moored to the S.P.M. Launch may assist in berthing vessels under the direct control and supervision of the Mooring Master.

Preparation for mooring: Vessels are requested to have, on their starboard side, a Pilot ladder and/or Pilot hoist or accommodation ladder safely and securely rigged for immediate use and long enough to reach the Mooring Master's launch. Vessels will provide a lee for the Mooring Master on the starboard side both when boarding and leaving.

For vessels with a freeboard of 30 ft. or more, the accommodation ladder shall be rigged out, lowered down so the platform is not more than 10 ft. from the water level and a short pilot ladder, rigged to cover the access to the platform. Tankers are requested to have ready on the forecastle, 2 head lines, polypropylene if possible.

Tankers are requested to have ready on the port side amidships a derrick rigged and ready to pick up the hoses (16 in. diameter).

Hoses: The hoses shall be hoisted by the storage tanker's crane, but connected by ship's crew. The Mooring Master will advise the ship's Officer in charge concerning lifting techniques.

LOADING: All communications relative to the loading of the vessel shall be routed through the Mooring Master who will remain in contact with the storage tanker constantly via portable VHF units. In case of temporary breakdown of the portable VHF circuit, contact may be continued on International Marine Channels 16, 14 or 8.

Failure of communications: Should all communications with the storage tanker fail, loading will cease immediately.

Emergency shut down: An emergency cessation of loading may be effected by use of the ship's VHF Channel 16.

Loading rates: Maximum loading rate will be 6,000 m.t.p.h.

Gases: ABK crude oil contains H_2S (sulphurated hydrogen). This gas quickly deadens the sense of smell so that a dangerous concentration cannot be detected by odour. During loading, gas should be vented off through the tanker's normal venting system. Personnel engaged in ullaging tanks should keep to windward and avoid breathing fumes as much as possible. Resuscitators, breathing apparatus and life-lines should be readily available.

Valve closure against high-speed loading; No valve which will stop or seriously impair or reduce the flow rate of oil from the storage tanker are to be operated without prior agreement with the Mooring Master. The practice of throttling back on the ship's cargo valves is to be avoided. If a lower rate is required, the storage tanker is to be advised and the pumping rate will be reduced to the required level. The Master will be held liable for any damage arising from the sudden cessation of flow caused by default of the ship. It cannot be over emphasised that to do so can be extremely dangerous and cause extensive damage to equipment.

BALLAST: Due to the exposed location of the crude oil loading berth, vessels are required to carry sufficient ballast for safe handling, having due regard to existing weather and sea conditions. A vessel found by the Mooring Master to be not adequately ballasted will be rejected.

Clean ballast; As there are no ballast discharging facilities, vessels must arrive at the Terminal with clean ballast, ensuring that all pipe-lines, pumps and strainers have been flushed out prior to arriving. The Mooring Master will inspect ship's ballast on boarding and has the power to reject any vessel that he thinks would cause pollution of the sea area, in which case vessel must proceed to sea and return only when ballast is completely free of oil. Any vessel rejected because of dirty ballast will automatically nullify its Notice of Readiness and will lose any priority of position for loading. Ballast discharge should not be commenced without the prior agreement of the Mooring Master.

Inspection during loading: At night the sea around the vessel shall be adequately lit, as frequent inspection by the Mooring Master will be made during the discharge of ballast. Any pollution whatsoever will be cause for rejection. Similarly, any hull leaks causing pollution during loading will be cause for rejection and the vessel will not be re-accepted unless satisfactory evidence of repairs has been certified by a qualified surveyor.

MEDICAL: Medical and dental services are not available at the Terminal. In emergencies requiring hospitalisation, the patient will be hoisted to the helideck on the storage tanker and flown by helicopter to Dubai or Abu Dhabi.

FRESH WATER, FUEL, ETC.: Bunkers, fresh water, stores, boats for hire, repair facilities, facilities for changing ship's crew are not available at the Terminal.

SHORE LEAVE: Not possible.

GENERAL:

Radio equipment: Radio, radar or other electric equipment must not be energised while the vessel is alongside the SPM except VHF radios, telephone and communications equipment approved by the Terminal.

Repairs; While berthed at the Terminal, the ship's boilers, main engine, steering machinery and other equipment essential for manoeuvring shall be maintained in a condition to permit the ship to move away from storage vessel at short notice. Repairs or other work which may immobilise the ship should not be undertaken without prior arrangement with the Terminal.

SHIPMASTERS REPORT: February 1977: The following information may be of value to other Masters:

a The holding ground in the anchorage is very bad, this vessel dragged her anchor (10 shackles out) in a Force 5 from the N.W.

b Only documents supplied on departure were Bills of Lading, no port clearance documents supplied.

c No Customs or Immigration Officials at terminal therefore no documents required.

d Storage tanker holds 80,000 metric tons. If any more oil is required vessel has to go back to anchor until storage tanker is ready again. She loads at 11,000 tons per day, from SPM.

Cautions have been issued in Notices to Mariners warning vessels against entering both Umm Shaif and Zakum areas and against anchoring in vicinity of Zakum Pipe-line.

Southern Route. Vessels should normally approach port from South and must pass not less than 3 miles South of drilling rigs and towers in Umm Shaif area, thence towards S.E. corner of Island. Vessels must leave port by this route unless they have to use Northern buoyed channel.

Northern Route: Using N.E. Buoyed Channel.

ANCHORAGES: Main anchorage for dry-cargo vessels is in about 40 ft. of water, approximately 0.5 mile from Harbour South of tanker loading berth. Other anchorages for dry-cargo vessels lie to S.W. and West of the Island. Tankers should normally anchor approximately 1.5 to 2 miles S.E. of the Southern loading platform, should a berth not be immediately available.

Vessels should avoid anchoring in vicinity of submarine pipelines established to Eastward of Das Island.

Sea bed all round Island is rock, covered with a few inches of loose sand. Holding is poor and vessels are advised to pay out at least 60 fathoms of chain. Vessels at anchor, awaiting berths, lighters or any services provided by the port must at all times keep a listening watch using Channel 16 where possible. If a vessel is not equipped to operate on this Channel then any of the frequencies may be used by arrangement.

Red lights visible all round the horizon have been established on the top of mast.

A navigation light similar to that which existed on the old radio mast will eventually be installed on this mast.

The original radio mast on the N.E. corner of Das Island has been demolished.

Arrival Messages: In the event of difficulties this information should be transmitted to Das via the Cable Wireless Station at Bahrain. As soon as direct contact is established between a vessel and ADMA Radio Station, the latter will advise the route to be followed in approaching the Island.

Tankers when arriving to berth at the SBM from N.E. Buoyed Channel will receive from Das Marine a cable worded as follows: "Approach Das Island via. N.E. Buoyed Channel and when clear of Inner Buoys proceed direct to Pilot station situated 2 miles S.E. of South loading platform. Ship's derrick should be rigged on the portside. TUGS: Tugs provided by ADMA must be used by all tankers when berthing and unberthing.

BERTHING: Full power must be available on main engines during berthing operations. Berthing Masters will not berth vessels if not properly equipped with satisfactory mooring lines, or if deck appliances inoperable, or if steering gear, telegraphs and whistles not in an efficient condition. Master should notify Berthing Master of any defects or peculiarities of vessel.

No. 1 Berth: No. 1 Tanker Berth approximately 0.75 mile off East coast of Das Island is served by submarine pipe-line from tankage on Island. Tankers berth against 4 flexible dolphins which protect berth operating platform. Six mooring dolphins are each provided with twin bollards. Hooks for backsprings located on operating platform are each equipped with 48 ft. length of 18 in. cable-laid manilla spring. Loading installation comprises 4 booms each equipped with 10 in. bore flexible hose for loading crude oil. Two similar booms available for loading and discharging bunkers. Fittings available to connect these hoses to 8 in., 10 in. and 12 in. manifolds to ASA 150 or BS 1560 – 1968, ASA 300 or BS. "H" details.

No. 2 Berth: No. 2 Tanker Berth is sited to the North of No. 1 Tanker Berth. It is of similar construction to No. 1 berth except that quick release hooks are provided on the mooring dolphins and on the breasting dolphins for securing vessels' backsprings. Permanent mooring wires are provided on the 4 inner mooring dolphins. The loading installation comprises 3×16-in. booms with 12-in. hoses for crude oil loading, 1×16-in. boom with 12-in. hose for crude oil loading and bunker discharging, and 2×12-in. booms with 10-in. hoses for bunker loading. Fittings are available to connect to 4-in., 5-in., 6-in., 8-in. and 10-in. manifolds for crude oil loading with flanges to BS., ASA and metric standard details.

No. 3 Berth: No. 3 Berth is a Single Point mooring buoy and is situated approximately 7,500 ft. East of the East coast, in position Lat. 25° 08′ 53″ N., Long. 52° 54′ 07″ East.

The moorings for tankers are comprised of 2×15-in. circumference floating nylon ropes, terminating in a 3-in. dia. stud link chafing chain which is secured to the tankers forward mooring bitts using a 15-in. circumference nylon snotter. This equipment is provided by the Company.

The loading installation comprises 2×20-in. diameter floating hose strings terminating in 16-in. diameter tail hose for crude loading. For bunker loading and discharge 1×16-in. floating hose string, terminating in 1×10-in. tail hose, is provided. The flanges are to BS 1560.

Vessels using this berth will be required to be fitted with a bow fairlead on or near the centre line to accept the chafing chain. The minimum aperture dimensions are 24 in. horizontally and 18 in. vertically to permit direct connection. Alternative arrangements are provided for mooring vessels with smaller size apertures.

Vessels also require a derrick or crane capable of plumbing at least 2 ft. outboard of the ships side over the entire length of the port manifold (including the bunker connection if required). SWL of the crane/derrick to be in accordance with the following requirements:

Less than 45,000 tons S. d.w.t.	7 tons SWL

Over 100,000 tons S. d.w.t.	10 tons SWL

Berths cannot be occupied during adverse Easterly weather. Loaded tankers only berthed at discretion of Port Officer and delays from tidal conditions, awaiting daylight, etc., may be incurred. Minimum acceptable length overall 525 ft. Vessels other than craft must not approach nearer than 2 miles to premises without a Berthing Master on board unless otherwise instructed by Port Officer. In approaching and leaving berths it is essential to avoid anchoring in area of submarine pipe-lines which run in approximately East and West direction some 2,500 ft. North of No. 2 berth. Weather and other conditions permitting, tankers can berth and unberth at all times. Every vessel berthing must fit adequate rat guards to all mooring ropes and wires.

GENERAL CARGO OPERATIONS:

(a) Declaration of Dangerous Cargo: Attention is drawn to Section 58 of the Queen's Regulation whereby any dangerous cargo, whether intended for Das Island or not, must be declared to the Port Officer, on arrival.

(b) Discharge or Loading of Dry Cargo: Cargo vessels discharge in the anchorage into barges using their own gear, and should arrive with derricks rigged.

A series of dumb barges (average capacity 120 tons d.w.t.) are normally available for landing all cargo. Charges are usually made for stevedoring services up to under ship's tackle and for supplying tally clerks on board the vessels.

For the handling of cargo, a labour force of up to 50 men is usually available.

Whenever possible, the Island craft will come alongside immediately a vessel anchors and the Cargo Superintendent will board and discuss handling procedure with the Chief Officer. Discharge of cargo is carried out continuously provided weather and other conditions permit.

Vessels may be asked to provide winchmen.

(c) Cargo Manifests: 1 original and 2 copies of general cargo manifests are required.

LOADING: 2 grades of crude are available on each berth. Zakum Crude average API 40.5 and Umm Shaif Crude with average API 37.5.

Loading: Loading will not commence until the ship's loading officer reports the ship ready for loading and the shore loading staff are satisfied with the connections and preparations made for loading.

Loading and Discharging Rates:

No. 1 Berth

Crude oil loading maximum 5,000 t.p.h. with a maximum of 1,250 t.p.h. through each hose

No. 3 Berth

Crude Oil loading	10 – 15,000 t.p.h. approximately
Bunker discharge
Bunker loading	1,000 t.p.h. approximately

The permissible maximum loading rate is entirely at the Company's option and will vary according to the circumstances and the type of tanker concerned, subject always to the Master's over-riding discretion.

Pumping Signals: Pumping Operations are controlled by a cable signalling system between the berth operating platform and the Control Room on the Island. The platform is also linked to the Island Automatic Telephone Exchange.

At No. 3 Berth, pumping operations are controlled by portable VHF radio telephone between the vessel and the Control Room on the Island.

BALLAST: There are no facilities for receiving vessels ballast ashore for treatment. All vessels must have clean ballast for overboard discharge.

Vessels using No. 3 Berth will be required to deballast and load simultaneously so that in normal circumstances they will not be flying light whilst moored at the buoy. It is therefore essential that the Company be promptly informed should the vessel be unable to deballast and load simultaneously without risk of admixture.

AGENT: (Protecting only) See "Mina Zayed".

DUBAI: 25.16 N. 55.18 E.

ALSO SEE "PORT RASHID".

COURTESY FLAG: Dubai flag resembles an "H" or pilot flag, and this could be shown until Agent's representative brings one on board.

PROHIBITED AREA: Work on the construction of the Dubai dry dock has commenced and all shipping is warned to keep clear of an area contained within a line drawn from Port Rashid Main Light (Lat. 25° 16.0′ N., Long. 55° 16.2′ E.) to a position (Lat. 25° 16.2′ N., Long. 55° 15.1′ E.) i.e. 272-1,850 m. from this light thence to the shore line on a Bearing of 180°. This has been declared a prohibited area.

Small craft, dredgers and hooper barges will be operating within this area. The main breakwater will consist initially of an island with the breakwater extending both seawards and shorewards from it.

White flashing beacons will be positioned at 400 m. intervals along the breakwater and in addition various construction lights will be exhibited.

Legal steps will be taken against any negligence whatsoever from Masters.

DOCUMENTS: Following should be airmailed to Agent prior ship's arrival: 6 copies Dangerous Cargo List, Stowage plan in duplicate, Hatch list in duplicate, 7 copies of cargo manifests, 1 copy of each Bill of Lading. On arrival, 3 crew Lists required.

APPROACHES: Open roadstead. Cargo discharged into barges.

ANCHORAGE: Marked by light buoy in position 310°, 1.06 miles from Nayif Tower. Recommended anchor to N.E. of light buoy in approx. position 25° 17′ 4″ N., 55° 16′ 16″ E. Depth 36 to 40 ft., holding ground considered poor, bottom sand and coral. The closer ships are able to anchor to the buoy, the faster turn-around on barges will be attained. Warning: Occasional strong N.W. winds, known as "Shamal" will make discharging impossible and it is very important that ships have engines on "stand-by" during such times. Ships allowed enter and leave anchorage at any time of day or night. Launch service through Agent's ship to shore from anchorage, and ship's own boats can also be used without Authorities' permission.

PILOTAGE: None.

RESTRICTIONS: All cargo discharged into barges at anchorage. Coasters with drafts of 11 ft. 6 in. or less can enter creek and discharge alongside. Such vessels usually require a tug boat to pilot them into the creek. Tugs available through Agent. Importation of artificial pearls is prohibited. Purchase of liquor forbidden except by permit.

HEALTH: Prior arrival, Masters are required to send a cable to the Port Health Dept. addressed "Quarantine-Municipality-Dubai" on the following lines:

(Vessel's name). . . ETA . . . Hour . . . Date . . . .
Crew all healthy request free pratique
Master

Normally all vessels declared healthy by the Master are automatically allowed to berth immediately on arrival, and Health Dept. personnel will board vessels after berthing.

Arrival: Ships boarded immediately upon arrival weather permitting, and Masters then have to complete a short Arrival Report. No formalities of any kind with Port Authorities and ships allowed to arrive and sail at any time.

Departure: No port clearance is issued in Dubai. A letter will be issued by Agent which may be produced at next port of call instead of usual departure clearance.

RADIO: No port radio station. Cables from vessels outside Gulf may be routed through Muscat Radio, and from inside Gulf through Bahrain Radio. Vessels should advise Agent of ETA 72, 48 and 24 hours prior arrival. Some Agents also equipped with VHF calling Channel 16. Ship's radio station may be operated at anchorage.

Nearing Dubai and approximately 8-10 hours prior to arrival, vessel should switch on VHF Channel 16 and call Agent. On contact, change to one of Channels 14, 13, 12, 9 or 6 for further communication. Regular contact then maintained until departure from Dubai.

DISCHARGE TURN: Priority of discharge given to ships carrying mail and/or passengers for Dubai. Ships carrying less than 100 weight or measurement tons have priority and are supplied with one barge for discharge of cargo immediately on arrival, whether turn is in force or not. Should there be congestion, Agents require Stowage Plan showing clearly that all Dubai cargo is freely available and Master's signature on a request for discharge turn. Based on this, vessels will be registered for turn. Registration can only be performed during office hours.

After confirmed registration, at which will be given a deadline for turn, ships may proceed to other ports for discharge, but must return Dubai prior time and date given, otherwise turn is lost. Particular cargoes for H.H. The Ruler have priority. This should be evidenced by Manifests which will be produced to Customs Authorities in Dubai for approval. The cargoes must be accessible for immediate discharge, which should be verified by stowage plan.

STEVEDORES: Loading/Discharging Rates: Stevedores, tally clerks, supervisors, etc., will be supplied from shore at the same time as ships are supplied with barges. These people working under vessels' supervision and responsibility.

Drinking water must be supplied by ship free of charge to all men from shore but food to supervisors, tally clerks, watchmen and foremen.

Expected outturn working three hooks:

Bagged cargo	400–500 tons

FATEH TERMINAL (offshore Dubai). (See Plan)

Oil Loading Terminal of the Dubai Petroleum Company.

Note: All tankers loading Fateh Terminal cleared by Dubai Petroleum Company, taking care of all necessary documentation concerning cargo. DPC does not charge owners/operators for this service. However, for all other agency services DPC refers owners/operators to regular shipping agents in Dubai.

According present oil company regulations vessels not allowed receive any deliveries or any launch alongside while loading at Terminal. Deliveries of mail, spare parts and performance of crew changes will, therefore, take place at Terminal anchorage, Dubai anchorage, or at a rendezvous point.

Weather permitting, Fateh Terminal operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and provided berth not occupied, tankers will be berthed upon arrival, day or night.

LOCATION: Fateh Terminal consists of the crude oil production and export facilities of the Fateh and S.W. Fateh Fields offshore Dubai, United Arab Emirates. The Terminal Limits are bounded by the following co-ordinates:

(1)	25° 40′ N.	54° 30′ E.
(2)	25° 40′ N.	54° 26′ E.
(3)	25° 33′ N.	54° 15′ E.
(4)	25° 30′ N.	54° 15′ E.
(5)	25° 28′ N.	54° 17′ E.
(6)	25° 28′ N.	54° 30′ E.

Within this area the anchoring of vessels is prohibited and the Terminal Safety Regulations have effect.

NAVIGATIONAL AIDS: Both SPMs are fitted with a white light flashing the Morse letter "U" every 30 seconds visible for a distance of 5 miles.

The three submerged oil storage tanks, platforms, bridges and production units exhibit lights flashing "U" in Morse and are also equipped with foghorns sounding "U" in the Morse Code every 30 seconds. Various working lights are also shown.

The two oil storage vessels Majmaa I and Majmaa II are fitted with a white light flashing the Morse letter "U" every 30 seconds visible for a distance of 5 miles.

Each vessel is also equipped with a continuously operating foghorn sounding the letter "U" in Morse at intervals of 30 seconds.

The Central Production and A Platforms exhibit lights flashing "U" in Morse and a foghorn every 30 seconds sounds the letter "U" in Morse.

Various working lights are also shown from the well platforms within the area. All are fitted with a white light flashing the Morse letter "U" every 30 seconds.

Each well platform is fitted with foghorns sounding "U" in Morse Code every 30 seconds.

Four flares in position:

(1)	25° 35′ 50″ N.	54° 25′ 50″ E.
(2)	25° 35′ 56″ N.	54° 25′ 20″ E.

(4)	25° 29′ 44″ N.	54° 18′ 29″ E.

give an orange light which may be visible at a great distance from the Terminal, depending on atmospheric conditions, in addition the flare structures show a white light flashing "U" in Morse every 30 seconds visible for 5 miles.

Numerous small unlit buoys for the use of working craft may be encountered within the Terminal area.

APPROACHES: On approaching Terminal, Masters of incoming tankers should head for Anchorage Area (see "Anchorage") where, under normal conditions, their vessel will be boarded by a DPC Mooring Master.

ANCHORAGE: An area immediately East of Terminal Limits is designated as the Anchorage Area, centred on position as follows:

25° 36′ N. 54° 31′ E.

This co-ordinate represents the centre of a circle with a radius of approximately 1 mile which must be used by vessels requiring to wait at anchor. Anchoring within the Terminal limits is strictly prohibited. For reference purposes, the anchorage area bearing from Port Rashid (Dubai) Light is 298° true, distance 44.6 miles and from Jazirat Sirri Light 187.5° true, distance 17.5 miles.

If a tanker is not scheduled to berth on arrival (e.g. another vessel is in the berth, or the port is closed on account of adverse weather conditions, etc.) Masters will be advised by radio and requested to anchor.

FACILITIES: For the export of crude oil 2 single point mooring buoys have been installed in positions:

(1) 25° 35′ 12″.6 N. 54° 25′ 46″.3 E.
Bearing 261° true 4.8 miles from anchorage.

READINESS: After arrival at the Anchorage Area and when the tanker is ready in every respect to load, the Master may tender his Notice of Readiness.

Notices of Readiness will be accepted provided one or other of the following events shall have transpired:

(a) The Master shall have received the Mooring Master on board or;

(b) The Master shall have dropped the anchor in the Anchorage Area.

Port closed: Notices of Readiness will not be accepted during periods when the port is closed. The port is "closed" when the weather is such that it is too rough for incoming tankers to berth. The decision regarding the opening and closing of the port will rest with the Fateh Terminal Superintendent or his Deputy.

Order of Berthing: Vessels will normally berth in order of arrival.

DOCUMENTATION: Documentation and ship's agency: In the normal course of events, DPC acts as tanker Agent and prepares all crude oil loading documents. For these services no charge is made.

Early Departure Procedure: At the Master's discretion. In order to expedite turn-round of vessels in this port and avoid undue delays caused by weather or other circumstances, Masters of vessels on arrival are requested to sign blank cargo documents.

Normally, completed cargo documents required by the Master will be placed on board prior to sailing. If this is not possible without incurring undue delays, the relevant documents will be airmailed to the Master to await the vessel's arrival at her discharge port.

The official cargo, i.e. quantity loaded, will be transmitted by radio whilst unmooring. In the event of a dispute, the receipt of a Letter of Protest will be acknowledged by the Mooring Master. Any protests by the Master concerning the quality of cargo should be made before departure and any resulting investigation should be made before the vessel sails.

Outward Clearance: A tanker will be considered clear to depart Fateh Terminal when the crude oil loading documents have been delivered to the Master, or in the case of early departure, clearance will be given through the Mooring Master.

Mail: Official ship's mail and crew's personal mail will be handled and shipowners debited accordingly.

PILOTAGE: Pilotage is compulsory within the Terminal limits. Vessels to be moored at Fateh Terminal will be boarded by a DPC Mooring Master in the Anchorage Area. The Mooring Master will advise the ship's Master on approaches to the SPM, mooring and unmooring, connecting and disconnecting hoses and all other operations within the Terminal area including all manoeuvring of the vessel. The Master or one of his qualified deck officers must be on the bridge at all times while the tanker is being manoeuvred.

The services of a Mooring Master are provided without charge, upon the express understanding and condition that when any Mooring Master furnished by DPC goes aboard a vessel for the purpose of assisting such a vessel, he becomes for such purposes the servant of the owners of the vessel and DPC shall not be liable for any damage or injury resulting from the advice or assistance given or made by such Mooring Master while aboard or in the vicinity of the assisted vessel.

MOORING: Preparation for Mooring: Vessels are requested to have pilot ladder, hoist and/or accommodation ladder safely and securely rigged for immediate use and long enough to meet the Mooring Master's launch. Vessels will provide a lee for the Mooring Master on the port side both when boarding and leaving.

For vessels with a freeboard of 40 ft. or more, the accommodation ladder shall be rigged out, lowered down so the platform is not more than 10 ft. from the water level and a short pilot ladder rigged to cover the access to the platform.

Tankers are requested to have ready on the forecastle head the following:

(a) 2 towing ropes, polypropylene if possible.

(b) 2 messenger ropes, minimum lengths of 300 ft.

Tankers are requested to have ready on the port side amidships the following:

(a) Derrick rigged and ready to pick up from a launch.

(b) Mooring shackles.

(c) Wire strops and hose connection gear.

Securing of the Terminal's Nylon Ropes: On the near approach to the buoy, a launch will attach a ship's line to one of the Terminal's floating nylon ropes. This will be hove aboard and secured to the towing bracket if the ship is so fitted, or otherwise secured by a ship's or Terminal mooring wire previously passed aboard. The same operation will be repeated with the second nylon rope.

LOADING: Lifting Hoses:

SPM I: Two 16 in. diameter hoses will be lifted by ship's gear on the port side. Each lift is 5 tons.

SPM II: Two 16 in. diameter hoses will be lifted by ship's gear on the port side. Each lift will be 7 tons.

The hoses shall be hoisted and connected by ship's crew. The Mooring Master will advise the ship's officer in charge concerning lifting techniques.

Sundry Hose Connecting Equipment: Tankers shall be equipped with the necessary blocks, tackle, wrenches, gaskets, bolts, nuts, etc., to efficiently effect the hose connection.

Flange sizes: 16 in. – 12 in. reducers will come on board the tankers with the mooring gear thus enabling tankers with either 16 in. or 12 in. ASA 150 lb. flanges to connect directly to the Terminal hoses. Flange size 16 in. – 12 in., 16 in. – 10 in. reducers with ASA 150 lb. flanges are available if required to enable tankers with 12 in. – 10 in. manifold connections to connect to the Terminal hoses.

Communications During Loading: (See Radio). All communications relative to the loading of the vessel shall be routed through the Mooring Master who will remain in contact with the Production Platform constantly via portable VHF units. In case of temporary breakdown of the portable VHF circuit, contact may be continued on International Marine Channels 16, 14 or 8 if the vessel is so fitted.

Failure of Communications: Should communication with the Production Platform fail, loading will cease.

Emergency Shut down: An emergency cessation of loading may be effected by the ship's VHF Channel 16.

Loading rate: At SPM No. 1 the maximum loading rate will be 40,000 barrels per hour. At SPM No. 2 the maximum loading rate will be 100,000 barrels per hour.

RADIO: Communications with DPC: Cable Address: Dupetco, Dubai. Telex: DB 423.

Initial Communication: Initial communication between ships and DPC should be via Bahrain Radio (call sign GOU) which operates on a 24-hour basis.

Communications within 60 miles of Terminal: Once ships are within about 60 miles of Fateh Terminal communication may be established by radio telephone on International Marine VHF Channel 16 (156.8). This frequency is monitored continuously. Once contact has been made on Channel 16, further conversation should be conducted on either Channel 14 (156.7 mc), Channel 13 (156.65 mc), Channel 12 (156.60 mc), or Channel 8 (156.40 mc).

Communications after DPC Mooring Master has Boarded: A DPC Mooring Master will board incoming tankers in the anchorage area and will bring with him portable VHF radio telephone units. From that time onwards all communications between ship and platform will be conducted by the Mooring Master via the portable VHF units, unless owing to failure of portables it is necessary to revert to mains VHF Channels.

Advice of Tanker Arrivals:

Initial Estimated Time of Arrival (ETA): When a tanker bound for Fateh Terminal is within 72 hours of arrival at Fateh Terminal, the Master should notify DPC by cable via Bahrain Radio giving the following information:

(a) Name of tanker.

(b) ETA in GMT (Dubai time is GMT+4 throughout the year).

(c) Quantity of cargo required.

(d) Maximum loading rate.

(e) If the ship's hose connections are different from 16 in. or 12 in. standard ASA 150 lb. type, the size should be stated.

Subsequent ETAs: Sections (a) and (b) of the above message should be repeated via Bahrain Radio when the tanker is within 24 hours and again when within 12 hours of arrival at the Fateh Terminal.

Unreasonably insufficient or inaccurate ETA messages may alter the order of berthing of ships to the disadvantage of those ships giving sufficient and accurate ETA messages.

Radio Telephone Communication when Approaching Fateh Terminal: When about 60 miles off the Terminal contact may be made by radio telephone on International Marine VHF Channel 16, and communications should continue via this method until a DPC Mooring Master boards.

BALLAST: Precautions Regarding Pollution: It is the responsibility of the ship's Master to see that no crude oil (or bunkers', diesel or bilge) or dirty ballast is pumped or spilled overboard from his ship whilst in the area. Drip pans should be used, especially when disconnecting hoses in order to prevent spillage overboard.

Scuppers to be Plugged: Before loading commences, all overside scuppers shall be made oil-tight.

No facilities for Receiving Dirty Ballast: At Fateh Terminal there are no slop tanks or facilities for receiving dirty ballast. Tankers must arrive with clean ballast. In the event a tanker does have dirty ballast it will not be allowed to be pumped overboard. The dirty ballast will be collected into one tank, measured and left aboard.

Discharging Ballast at Night; During the discharge of ballast in darkness, the sea shall be adequately lighted in the area of discharge.

MEDICAL: At Fateh Terminal medical and dental services are not available. In emergencies requiring hospitalisation, the patient will be taken by boat from the tanker to the production platform.

hoisted to the upper deck of the platform and flown by helicopter to Dubai. The shipowner will be charged for all expenses incurred.

FUEL: Bunker "C" is available at the Fateh Terminal Anchorage from an awaiting bunkering tanker, providing sufficient notice has been given. Arrangements should be made through local shipping agents in Dubai.

GENERAL: The following are not available at Fateh Terminal: fresh water, stores, boats for hire; repair facilities; facilities for changing ship's crew.

There is no shore leave.

AGENT: Gulf Agency Co. (Dubai) Ltd., POB 2404, Dubai, U.A.E. Cables: "Confidence", Dubai. Tel. 31300, (24 hours service). Telex 5541 and 5448. (answerback: "Confid DB").

VHF Radio: standing by on Channel 16 (156.8 mHz) communicating on Channels 14, 12 or 6, call sign "Confidence Dubai".

SSB Radio: standing by on 6910 mHz lower side band, communicating on frequencies 3539, 6910 and 7010 mHz. Call sign "Confidence Dubai".

JEBEL DHANNA, Abu Dhabi: 24.11 N. 52.38 E.

(See Plan)

COURTESY FLAG: Vessels calling at ports in the State of Abu Dhabi should fly the flag of the United Arab Emirates, and the flag of the State of Abu Dhabi.

APPROACHES: (Inward Passage).

Outer Route between Jazirat az Zarqa and Ghasha Tower Beacon marked by 2 light floats and 4 buoys. The 2 light floats are both port hand marks, and the buoys starboard hand, as indicated by shape, colour and light characteristics.

Inner Channel, from Ghasha Tower to berths at Jebel Dhanna marked by 21 light buoys. Least depth in this channel is 46 ft. and min. width of 800 ft. between Nos. 7 and 10 buoys.

(Outward Passage)

After clearing berth an outward bound vessel should steer to pass midway between Nos. 13 and 20 buoys, leaving Alaq Island to starboard. From Nos. 13 and 20 buoys the same track is followed as for inward passage.

DOCUMENTS:

2 Crew Lists.
2 Passenger Lists.
2 Manifests.
1 International Maritime Declaration of Health.

READINESS TO LOAD: Notice of Readiness will be received by the Company Representative provided the vessel is ready to load. Lay time will commence 6 hours after receipt of Notice of Readiness, berth or no berth.

The Company will make every effort to load the tanker on arrival provided a berth is available and weather permitting.

EARLY DEPARTURE PROCEDURE:

A. Early Departure Procedure is presently in effect at Jebel Dhanna.

B. This procedure will be offered to Masters on a voluntary basis but will exclude voyages of less than 10 days' duration.

C. Official declaration indicating acceptance/non acceptance will be signed by the Master on arrival.

D. If EDP is requested, Bill of Lading and Manifest will be prepared in advance except for cargo figures and be presented to Master for signature. Master may authorise Agent to sign all other documents on his behalf.

E. Bills of Lading and Manifest will be retained on board as indicated by documentation.

F. On completion of loading, the Terminal will endeavour to present completed cargo documents on board prior to sailing. In the event that the vessel sails before documents are completed vessel to maintain continuous radio watch after sailing, until cargo loaded quantities have been passed to the vessel by the Agent via Bahrain Radio. Advice of cargo loaded quantities should be transmitted to the vessel within 2 hours of sailing, and the quantities so advised should be inserted on Bills of Lading and Manifests.

G. In case of disagreement on Cargo figures, Master may authorise Agent to serve an official Letter of Protest.

H. All ship's documents, sent to London office under this procedure must be endorsed "EDP applied".

This procedure is used by all vessels loading at Jebel Dhanna terminal, but the oil company pointed out that a very limited use of this procedure is actually made inasmuch as all ship's documentation is generally put on board by the time a vessel has disconnected hoses, unmoored and is ready to sail.

PILOTAGE: Give 48 hours notice of ETA, etc., to Agent via Cable and Wireless, Bahrain. On confirmation of ETA on VHF Channel 16 either to "Jebel Dhanna Radio" or "Jebel Dhanna Pilots", Pilot will meet and board inward bound ship to West of Ghasha Tower Beacon on request and will conduct through Inner channel to berth. Pilots act as Mooring Masters and direct loading operations. Pilots disembark off Ghasha Tower outwards.

TIDES: In outer approaches, i.e. from Zarqa to Ghasha Tower, tides almost purely diurnal, but semi-diurnal effect becomes more evident as Dalma is approached and is (comparatively) most marked at Jebel Dhanna. However, this semi-diurnal effect not of great significance and for all practical purposes it can be taken that there is only one high water and one low water per day throughout length of approach and at Jebel Dhanna, but times of high and low water at various control points are not coincident.

High water at 01 buoy occurs on average about 1.5 hours before high water at Jebel Dhanna, but differences may be from about half-an-hour up to 2.5 hours.

Tidal Streams. In berth area, streams generally do not exceed 0.25 knot and are predominantly confined to S.E. and S.W. quadrants. In outer approaches, streams appear to attain a maximum of 1 knot approximately along line of route, but this information should be regarded with caution as it depends on limited observation.

ANCHORAGES: If berth not available, or if ships cannot sail immediately after loading, they can anchor in an area South of Buoys Nos. 13 and 20 and North of Berths. This area marked by No. 15 buoy to West, No. 22 buoy to East and by berths to South. Alaq Island lies in the middle of this area and is marked by 2 buoys No. 17 and N. Alaq and by S. Alaq Beacon.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels must receive clearance from Jebel Dhanna Terminal to enter channel. This is to ensure that all outward-bound vessels are aware of traffic movements in channel. Mooring, loading and unmooring carried out by day and night.

MAX. SIZE: (Also see "Berthing"). Max. length: 1,100 ft.; Max. breadth: 180 ft.

Note: Draft of laden tankers leaving Jebel Dhanna controlled by depth in Inner Channel between Nos. 7 and 10 Buoys. This is 46 ft. below Chart Datum and Zero of predictions. An allowance of 3 ft. under keel is considered sufficient for vessels up to 100,000 tons. 4 ft. required for vessels in excess of 100,000 d.w.t., and 5 ft. for vessels over 225,000 d.w.t.

With 3 ft. under keel general limitations as follows:

(a) Ships drawing 44 ft. may sail at any time on any day.
(b) Ships drawing 45 ft. will rarely have to use tides.
(c) Ships drawing 46 ft. will usually have to use tides.
(d) Ships drawing 47 ft. will always have to use tides.
(e) Ships drawing 48 ft. will occasionally be neaped.
(f) Ships drawing 49 ft. will be neaped 294 days ± per year. The best months are June, July and August.

EQUIPMENT: Port and Starboard anchors to be fitted with anchor buoys and sufficient line to facilitate recovery of anchor in the event of loss.

4 good mooring lines of not less that 120 fathoms each and of a suitable size for the vessel. 2 additional 120 fathoms lines securely tailed to the first lines for occasions where 120 fathoms may not reach the stern buoys initially.

For vessels of 50,000 d.w.t. and larger, power mooring winches with 200 fathoms wire mooring rope are recommended.

Suitable new rope stoppers to be available forward and aft.

2 good stoppers for use on 5.5 in. circumference wires. Preferably patent carpenter's stoppers.

2 good boat ropes 4.5 in. circumference of at least 200 ft. long.

A clean, safe pilot ladder of adequate length battened so as to prevent turning. A suitable line to be ready for hauling gear on board, such as hose clamps, reducers and elbows. A lifebuoy should be placed handy to this ladder.

Tankers of 40,000 d.w.t. and over should have rigged, when in ballast, an accommodation ladder lowered to about 12 ft. above water. This can be adjusted to suit the conditions. A pilot ladder should be rigged immediately abaft the accommodation ladder, to within 2 ft. of the water. This will enable the Pilot and others when the vessel is moored to ascend the pilot ladder clear of the launch and then step on to the lower platform of the accommodation ladder.

Deck machinery must be available at all times.

Whistle or siren must be available at all times.

Adequate deck lighting should be provided for night-time operations, with special emphasis on the following areas:

1. Overside at boarding position for Pilot.
2. Overside abreast of manifold, for hose lifting.
3. Working area around manifold.
4. Poop working area, for handling mooring ropes and wires.

Note: "Aldis" type signalling lamp to be available when mooring.

HEALTH: International Maritime Declaration of Health. In case of suspected disease Agent to be informed on VHF Channel 16. Smallpox and cholera inoculation required.

RADIO: Vessels bound for Jebel Dhanna should give 48 hours notice of their ETA Ghasha Tower Beacon to their Agents via Cable & Wireless Bahrain, also advise the quantity of cargo required, SWL of derricks, number of hours ballast, maximum loading rate and whether an inward Pilot is required or not.

A continuous listening watch is maintained on Channel 16 – 156.80 Mc/s. by the Terminal at Jebel Dhanna, call sign "Jebel Dhanna". Vessel's ETAs should be confirmed using Channel 16, and if no inward Pilot is required, clearance obtained from Jebel Dhanna Terminal to enter the Channel without Pilot. Thereafter Channel 16 should be left "Open".

The ship's Agents and "Jebel Dhanna Pilots" also maintain a listening watch on Channel 16. By calling "Jebel Dhanna Pilots" before arrival, arrangements can be made by radio regarding mooring, loading hose connections, etc., so that unnecessary delays to the vessel may be avoided.

TUGS: No tugs available.

BERTHING: Berthing is by mooring to 2 anchors and stern buoys. Arrangements in advance by contacting Jebel Dhanna Pilots on Channel 16.

Berths are approached on W.S.W. course passing S.E. of Alaq Island. Leading lights have been established which will lead ships on the line of the 2 anchors when in berth. A small marker buoy has been established to assist the Mooring Master in placing starboard anchor in correct position. Vessels berth heading N.W. Holding ground good. Bottom consists of clayey silt.

Sea Line Loading Berths. 4 sea-line berths Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4. Nos. 1 and 2 supplied by single 36-in. lines, and Nos. 3 and 4 supplied by 42-in. lines, each terminating in a header which passes under vessel in berth.

Berth	Draft Accept-able	Approx. d.w.t. accept.	Max. loading rate	Strings of flexible hoses	Length of sea line
No. 1	45′	83,000	6,000 t.p.h.	2×12″, 2×16″	16,269′
No. 2	46′	85,000	6,000 t.p.h.	2×12″, 2×16″	16,427′
No. 3	49′	90,000	10,000 t.p.h.	Four 16″	19,000′
No. 4	49′	90,000	9,000 t.p.h.	Two 16″	17,200′

*Deadweights shown for vessels loading full cargoes. Part Cargoes may be greater. Nos. 2, 3 and 4 Berths can accommodate VLCC's but No. 2 berth is restricted to vessels having a max. LOA of 1,100 ft.

Least depth of water available in berth, and swinging circle, after deducting 6 ft. for height above sea bed of sea line cradle is as follows:

No. 1 Berth, 51 ft.; No. 2 Berth, 52 ft.; Nos. 3 & 4 Berths, 55 ft.

Swinging circle defined as 1.5 ship's lengths from dropping position of ship's inshore anchor.

Seawards ends of pipe-lines, terminate in 12 in. or 16 in. flexible hoses, there being 4 such strings of hoses at each berth. 2 taken up on each side of vessel.

Additional information obtainable from Jebel Dhanna Pilots on Channel 16 prior to vessel's arrival.

HOSES: Derricks or cranes must be capable of lifting a string of hoses from the sea-bed to a height of 30 ft. above the deck. For lifting 16 in. diameter hoses, the lifting gear should have a SWL of not less than 10 tons and for 12 in. diameter hoses a SWL of not less than 5 tons.

Gear should be rigged on both sides of the vessel in order to lift hoses on either side or both sides simultaneously as required.

It may be convenient to handle blank flanges, reducers, etc., with the derrick or crane. Reducers or adaptors should be bolted to the ship's flanges, so as to take 12 in. or 16 in. hose as may be necessary.

Note: Where a vessel has 2 or more loading connections, those used should not be less than 7 ft. apart.

Hose Hang off bitts are required at about 10 ft. from the ship's rail at the loading manifold to secure the submarine hoses on both sides.

LOADING: Flash Point: The flash point of Murban Crude is below 32° F.

Crude Oil Temperatures: While every effort will be made to keep the loading temperatures of export crude below 150° F., there may be times when this temperature is exceeded.

Whenever possible Masters will be advised when this temperature increase is likely to occur, but in Jebel Dhanna the temperature ashore varies according to loading rate, production rate, changes in production pattern from the field, tank levels, etc., and the temperature difference between shore and ship varies according to loading rate, quantity of cargo taken, berth occupied and when last used, etc., thus the ship's temperature obtained on a previous voyage may be substantially different to that obtained on the current voyage and the previous vessel's temperature can be taken as an approximate guide only.

The ADPC will not accept any responsibility for the failure by the Master of any tanker loading at Jebel Dhanna to take appropriate action to receive hot oil, prevent any damage to his vessel and/or injury to his crew.

H_2S Content: Murban crude contains concentrations of H_2S (Sulphuretted Hydrogen). Hydrogen sulphide has a disagreeable odour characteristic of rotten eggs which quickly deadens the sense of smell so that a dangerous concentration may be present which cannot be detected by odour. It is, therefore, important that when the presence of the gas is detected the area or compartment concerned should be left with all possible despatch until adequate ventilation can be carried out. The combustible gas indicator may not detect this type of gas. The foregoing must be dealt with in the light of experience where large quantities of crudes of this type have been carried without accident and we do not wish to exaggerate the dangers. However, the under-noted precautions have been evolved as necessary to provide against a possible accident and should be strictly observed.

During loading gas should only be allowed to escape via the agreed venting arrangements.

When ullaging or sampling, personnel should stand facing at right angles to the wind direction and so avoid inhaling gas. If H_2S is inadvertently inhaled the man should leave the area and not return until his sense of smell has been restored which means that at least two people should attend the operation.

No one should enter any pump room or any compartment where gas could collect unless another person is standing by.

Life lines, breathing apparatus and resuscitator should be readily available.

As a precautionary measure, the gas ejector for pump room should be put into operation at any time entry is made into this space whilst the possibility of H_2S gas entering pump room from cargo or empty tanks exist.

Loading Operations: The advice from the vessel which states she is ready to receive cargo is considered as final, and as indicating that every operation necessary aboard the vessel has been completed. As soon as possible after such a signal has been received, and without further advice, loading will commence. Damage to hoses can occur if ship's valves are not open at the start of loading. The Mooring Master will not transmit any loading instructions to the shore until the officer-in-charge of the deck has satisfied him that the hoses are connected correctly and that all valves have been set for receiving cargo.

While in berth, ships should be ready to move under their own power in the event of their breaking adrift, catching fire, fire in adjacent berths or other emergency. No repairs are to be carried out while in berth which would immobilise the ship or impair her fire-fighting efficiency.

The Mooring Master will instruct the Master of the Ship as to any signals needed for local requirements.

The Mooring Master will bring a portable radio to the ship.

The radio may not be used for private conversation. Use of the ship's radio while at the loading berth is strictly prohibited.

When loading, the cargo being received shall be frequently measured, thereby preventing loss of oil through a leaking hose. This particularly applies at night, as seepage of oil is practically invisible on the water during darkness.

Caution: The oil loading rates to ships are controlled on shore and an extremely dangerous situation can arise if a ship's valves are closed against the flow of oil.

Particular care must be exercised by ship's personnel to ensure that the Terminal is given timely advice should any reduction be required in the loading rate and adequate "Stand-by" notice must be given before the Final "Stop". At all times the Terminal must be advised when an increase in the loading pressure can be expected due to switching tanks, topping up, etc. To prevent excessive pressure from surge on ship/shore connections, ship's valves should be closed slowly.

The Terminal facilities at Jebel Dhanna have been designed so that tankers can be loaded by turbine driven loading pumps at max. rates up to 7,500 t.p.h. in berths 1 and 2, 10,000 t.p.h. in berth 3, and 9,000 t.p.h. in berth 4. Availability of max. loading rates is dependent on the number of berths occupied.

If vessel is unable to accept the max. loading rate available, then ADPC will be grateful if you will give a brief explanation of the reason for the limitation and we suggest some of the reasons which may govern your restrictions:

(a) Inadequate venting system.
(b) Condition of ship's lines and valves.
(c) Inexperience of crew.

and there may be other reasons.

We are anxious to obtain this information in order to assist in formulating plans for future development.

The quantity of cargo received on board is the responsibility of the ship and no overage may be sent back ashore.

When loading is completed, hoses will be disconnected and lowered to the sea bed, under the supervision of the Mooring Master.

Ships will then proceed to an anchorage allocated by the Mooring Master or direct to sea.

BALLAST: No facilities for disposal of slops or dirty ballast.

When a vessel enters port waters in ballast, the ballast water for overside discharge must be clean and a declaration signed by the Master and delivered to the representative of the Terminal to this effect. Ashes, oil, oily water or other refuse must not be discharged overboard in port waters. Vessel's scuppers must be effectively plugged and leakage or spillage of oil aboard ship must not be swept or washed overboard whilst in port waters.

It is essential that vessel is adequately ballasted to ensure safe handling and manoeuvring. Please comply with the Mooring Master's requests as to ballast quantity and disposition.

Jebel Dhanna is an open roadstead and subject to sudden changes in weather. On occasions it is of great advantage to commence loading whilst discharging ballast or prior to completely deballasting to avoid having the vessel in a flying light condition.

There must be no cleaning of boiler tubes whilst ship is in port. All pumproom sea valves must be closed before commencement of loading.

DENSITY: Specific gravity 1.031.

FRESH WATER: Not available.

FUEL: Bunkers are not available at Jebel Dhanna. A vessel proceeding to a nearby bunkering port should repeat her ETA to Jebel Dhanna Terminal for information.

If Abu Dhabi Petroleum Company Limited have sufficient information concerning expected arrivals, taking into consideration time taken to bunker, they will advise Masters when they consider that probable delay at Jebel Dhanna can be avoided by the vessel loading cargo before proceeding to the bunkering port.

Similar advice may be given in exceptional circumstances when there is a possibility that unduly large stocks of oil may necessitate shutting down the field.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: As laid down in the Abu Dhabi (Port of Jebel Dhanna) Regulations 1967. Also IOTTSG Safety Guide.

GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: Not necessary.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCES: Tobacco: No restrictions in quantity on board but must not be conveyed ashore or from one vessel to another without appropriate written permit from Customs Authorities and Port Officer. Wine and/or Spirit: Conveyance of alcoholic liquor from any vessel to the shore or from the shore to any vessel, or from one vessel to another, prohibited without appropriate written permits from Port Officer.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS: Not required.

CONSULS: None.

REPAIRS/DRY DOCKS: No facilities.

REPATRIATION: With sufficient notice, Agents will assist in any repatriation. Valid Seaman's Book essential. If urgent, via Abu Dhabi, but facilities are limited and if possible crew changes should be made at other ports.

AIRPORT: One mile distant, small air strip owned by Abu Dhabi Petroleum Company for private use. Nearest International Airport is Abu Dhabi the capital of the State.
TIME: Local time GMT plus 4 hours. No alterations made to clocks during year.
MEDICAL: A male nurse can occasionally be obtained from LAMNALCO, the piloting company, upon request of ship's Agent, but in case of extreme emergency an aeroplane can be chartered from Bahrain or Abu Dhabi to pick up the patient at Jebel Dhanna for transfer and treatment in Abu Dhabi, Bahrain or Dubai.
POLICE/AMBULANCE/FIRE: No Fire or Ambulance facilities available.

The Abu Dhabi Defence Force, Oilfield Security Section maintains a police post at Jebel Dhanna and is responsible to act in case of accident or other emergency, whether ashore or in territorial waters.
TELEPHONES: None.
SERVICES: None.
SHORE LEAVE: Crews not allowed ashore.
REGULATIONS: The Abu Dhabi (Port of Jebel Dhanna) Regulation 1967.
AUTHORITY: Port Officer.

AGENT: National Shipping Gulf Agency Co. (Abu Dhabi) Ltd., Jebel Dhanna, U.A.E. Cables: "Confidence Abu Dhabi". Tel.: Jebel Dhanna Hotel. Radio: Marine VHF radio, stand-by Channel 16 (156.8 mHz) call sign "Confidence Jebel Dhanna".

KHOR FAKKAN: 25.22 N. 56.22 E. (See Plan)

DEVELOPMENTS: The development plan calls for the construction of a large container port, to be followed by a deep-water harbour suitable to accommodate vessels that are too deep in draft to be accepted at ports within the Gulf.

Khor Fakkan, which is a possession of the State of Sharjah, is situated on the East Coast of the Arabian Peninsula and faces the Gulf of Oman. The port is already connected by first-class roads with all the States within the United Arab Emirates and Oman.

The initial work on the construction of the new port will consist of a 1,500 ft. breakwater along which will be built a 1,000 ft. wharf having an alongside depth of 40 ft. Two large rail-cranes will be positioned on the wharf.

The intention is, that the cranes will unload containers straight on to trucks, which will then travel direct to the new airport at Sharjah for air-freighting to destinations within the Gulf, or to Port Khalid for loading upon smaller container vessels transhipping to other Gulf ports, or direct by road to other Gulf States. It is envisaged that the containers will be shifted quickly enough to obviate the need for transit facilities and sheds at Khor Fakkan.

As and when required, the breakwater may be extended to provide additional berthing space.

Khor Fakkan possesses a natural deep-water harbour, but development proposals call for expansion of the harbour, and the necessary work is expected to commence in the near future.

MINA ZAYED (Abu Dhabi): 24.29 N. 54.20 E. (See Plan)

COURTESY FLAG: Vessels calling at ports in the State of Abu Dhabi should fly the flag of the United Arab Emirates as a courtesy flag, and not the flag of the State of Abu Dhabi.
DOCUMENTS: 8 copies of Cargo Manifest are required, with full cargo particulars, such as Bill of Lading number, marks/numbers, description, weight and measurement. It is essential that all this information is given on the manifest for each consignment, and the manifests should reach the Agent prior to arrival of vessel in order to be submitted to the Port/Customs Authorities 48 hours before the ship is berthed.

Also stowage particulars should be given in full in order for Agent to advise the Port Authorities the equipment and labour required for efficient handling of the vessels.
REGISTRATION: The Ministry of Communication, Ports Department, Abu Dhabi, have issued the following information regarding the registration of vessels for berthing at Abu Dhabi:

"As from the 8th May, 1973 ships may register themselves with the Port Authority and then decide, if they wish to proceed to another port reporting back on the given approximate date of berthing.

"Ships with any tonnage of cargo may register subject to proof being given to the Port Authority that the Abu Dhabi cargo is immediately available.

"As the registration of ships is a new procedure at this port, the Port Authority reserves the right to impose or alter any restrictions that may be found necessary in the light of the practical experience gained in its operation.

"Furthermore, only an approximate date of berthing can be given until such time as the port is fully supplied with its cargo handling equipment, and the Port Authority cannot be held responsible for any delays that may occur after the vessel's return, although every endeavour will be made to keep the agencies fully informed of the situation."
PILOTAGE: Pilotage into Mina-a-Zaid compulsory, but not to the outer anchorage situated in the area around position 24° 34′ N., 54° 19′ E.

Ships should wait for Pilots in the area stated above and not enter the channel unless instructions to the contrary are given, and hoist the international pilot signal.

Ships should have ready an efficient pilot ladder complying with the international convention of safety of life at sea and properly lit at night. Ships should afford the Pilot a good lee.
RESTRICTIONS: Port and starboard hand buoys have been established marking the new channel approaches to Abu Dhabi Harbour. The channel is dredged to 31 ft. and is 500 ft. wide.

In the first instance and until further notice, ships will only enter or leave during daylight hours. Max. draft 32 ft.
ANCHORAGE: Position 24.27 N., 54.17.6 E., 4.5 miles off shore. Depth at anchorage about 5–6 fathoms. Holding ground good but anchorage exposed to North and Westerly winds when precautions to be taken against anchor dragging.
RADIO: Ships should inform their Agents, 48 hours prior to arrival, of their ETA and draft, and confirm 12 hours before arrival. They should also contact "Abu Dhabi Pilots" on VHF Channel 16 earliest possible, with the above information.
TUGS: It is a requirement that 2 tugs are required on every ship when berthing and unberthing at this port. Any reduction in this number will be solely at the discretion of the Pilot.
BERTHING: Anchors and mooring ropes and wires should be ready for making fast before entering.

There are 6 berths each of 600 ft. length with depth of 32 ft. at 5 (Berths No. 5-9) of the berths and 34 ft. at the other berth (Berth No. 4). A further 6 berths (Berths No. 14-19) will be ready December 1976.

Presently there are 31 mobile cranes of sizes varying from 5 tons capacity to approx. 45 tons capacity and 1 of 70-tons capacity as well as in the storage area.

6 electric cranes 5×5 tons and 1×10 tons.
STEVEDORING: Arranged through Agent. Labourers work under direct supervision of vessel and her officers. Stevedores do not accept any responsibility for loss or damage to cargo, nor for stevedores' damages to vessel. 1 gang consists of 2 Serangs, 1 Tindal, 2 winchmen and 15 labourers. Local custom proclaims that ship's responsibility for cargo ceases only after cargo landed ashore. No special regulations for dangerous cargoes but vessels having such cargoes aboard expected anchor at safe distance from other ships at anchorage. No floating-cranes for heavy lifts but mobile crane of 45 tons capacity available for hire on shore work.

Official port working hours are from 0700 to 0400 hrs. from Saturday to Thursday and Friday from 0700 to 2200 hrs.

Discharging rates are presently: Generals 60/80 tons per day/per hook; pipes 120/150, and bagged cargo 80/100; but are to be improved as result of increased cargo-handling facilities.
MEDICAL: Fully equipped Government Hospital. Qualified personnel, and most medicines available.
TANKERS: See "Das Island" and "Jebel Dhanna".

FUEL: Diesel oil and gas oil is available by barge.
LAUNDRY: Reasonably good laundries available at moderate rates.
PROVISIONS: May be arranged subject 48 hours notice to Agent.
AIRPORT: Regular scheduled international flights, also domestic flights within Gulf area.
TIME: GMT plus 4 hours.
HOLIDAYS: Friday is weekly holiday. Otherwise usual Muslim holidays observed. Cargo work generally not affected by holidays.
SHORE LEAVE: Permitted. A permit can be obtained from Immigration Department. Absolutely necessary that every crew member be in possession of valid seaman's book.
CLEARANCE: Port clearance must be obtained prior to departure.
DEVELOPMENTS: 13 additional berths under construction. 34 berths to be built, construction to commence shortly and the first phase expected to be completed in 3 years.
AUTHORITY: Govt. of Abu Dhabi, Port Department.

AGENT: National Shipping, Gulf Agency Co. (Abu Dhabi) Ltd. POB 377, Abu Dhabi, U.A.E. Cables "Confidence", Abu Dhabi. Tel. 43008/9. Radio: Marine VHF radio, stand-by on Channel 16 (156.8 mHz). Call sign "Confidence, Abu Dhabi". Telex, 2248 ("Gacship AH 2248).

MUBAREK TERMINAL: 25.49 N. 55.11 E. (See Plan)

LOCATION: The Mubarek Oil Terminal is situated off the island of Abu Musa, and is under the jurisdiction of the Emirate of Sharjah and operated by the Crescent Petroleum Company.
DOCUMENTS: One Crew List and valid Health Certificate.
EARLY DEPARTURE PROCEDURE: In force. Vessel's Agent signs all documents on behalf of the Master.
PILOTAGE: Vessels to be moored, anchored or manoeuvred at Mubarek Oil Terminal will be boarded by Company Mooring Master in the close vicinity of the suggested anchorage area. Vessels must not enter the restricted limits of the terminal unless a Company Mooring Master is on board.

Ships are requested to have a pilot ladder safely and securely rigged and ready for immediate use and long enough to reach the Company Mooring Master's launch. A combination of pilot ladder and ships accommodation ladder so arranged that personnel can first use pilot ladder until part way up the vessel's side and then transfer to the accommodation ladder is recommended, especially on very large ships. A light line should be ready to take aboard the Company Mooring Master's portable radio. There should be adequate lighting at night. Vessels will provide a lee for the Company Mooring Master's launch when boarding and leaving.

The Company Mooring Master may require the vessel to anchor at any time he deems it necessary for the safety of the vessel or moorings or both or for infringement of the terminal regulations.

The Company Terminal Superintendent shall be the sole authority as to when the terminal is open or closed for normal working due to weather conditions.

NAVIGATION AIDS: A floating barge named Baraka 1 (82,000 d.w.t.) 546 ft. long, used for storage of crude oil and for accommodation and headquarters of terminal personnel lies permanently moored in position 25° 49′ 43″ N., 55° 11′ 49″ E. approximately 065° 6,000 ft. from the terminal's single buoy mooring. Baraka 1 is equipped with normal navigational warning lights and aids as required by convention.

A permanent fixed oil production platform, incorporating crude oil treating facilities, rises approximately 50 ft. above water at 25° 50′ 43″ N., 55° 11′ 49″ E., approximately 000° 6,079 ft. from the aforementioned Baraka 1. Also a tripod drilling platform rises approximately 50 ft. above water at 25° 51′ 44″ N., 55° 12′ 55″ E., approximately 044° 1.7 miles from the production platform. Said structures are equipped with 1 clear light flashing "U" code on each corner and a fog horn operating 2 seconds on and 18 seconds off. A permanently fixed flare structure (tripod) rises 150 ft. (flare tip) above water at 25° 50′ 56″ N., 55° 12′ 00″ E., approximately 037°, 1,716 ft. from the oil production platform.

READINESS: Notice of Readiness will not be accepted as at time of arrival unless the vessel is in all respects ready to load. Arrival time will be considered the time the Company Mooring Master boards the vessel, or the time the vessel is within the approved anchorage area, whichever occurs first. Notice of Readiness is to be in English.

ANCHORAGE: An anchorage area diameter 6,000 ft. has been established with the centre in position 25° 46′ 45″ N., 55° 13′ 13″ E.

When arriving by day display flag "Q"; by night display Red Light over White Light for Quarantine Service.

RESTRICTED AREA: A restricted area of approx. 38 sq. miles has been established with a boundary formed by an imaginary line from:

(a) 25° 54′ 26″ N. 55° 13′ 49″ E. in a W.S.W. direction
(b) 25° 15′ 14″ N. 55° 07′ 19″ E. thence in a S.S.E. direction to (c) 25° 46′ 33″ N. 55° 09′ 37″ E. thence in a E.N.E. direction to (d) 25° 49′ 44″ N. 55° 16′ 08″ E. thence in a N.N.W. direction to the position above.

HEALTH: Customs, Federal Police and Immigration Officials will board the vessel as soon as possible after arrival to give inward clearance and "pratique" service. When arriving fly "Q" flag by day. And red over white light at night.

RADIO: Initial communication by radio between ship and Crescent Petroleum Company should be via Bahrain Radio, call sign "A9M", which operates on a 24 hours basis and by HF/SSB International Maritime Radiotelephone Service to Mubarek Oil Terminal.

Company Mooring Master will have sole control of radio installations during the period a vessel is manoeuvring or moored, and no radio transmissions will be permitted on board ship except by the express permission of the Mooring Master in each case, only the Mooring Master may transmit on Channels 12 and 6 during the period he is on board. He will have a VHF radio telephone with him.

Mubarek Oil Terminal Radio Station call sign "Crescent-2" particulars are as follows:

Operated by Crescent Petroleum Company, Sharjah, position Lat. 25° 49′ 43″ N., Long. 55° 11′ 49″ E.
Frequencies: Channels 69 and 73 on VHF.
Hours of operation: 24 hours per day.

Mubarek Oil Terminal Control Centre keeps continuous watch on VHF radio telephone Channel 16. Vessel approaching the terminal should make contact on Channel 16 when the terminal will request her to switch to an alternate channel.

Channel 6 is reserved for communications between ships in moorings and Mubarek Oil Terminal Movements Control Centre. This is a safety measure since oil flow to ships is controlled through Channel 6, which therefore must be clear at all times in case of need to stop oil flow for any cause.

Channel 16 is for calling and safety use only.

In emergency failure of Radio and/or Radio Telephone communication daylight lamp signalling may be used with the Oil Movements Control Centre located on "Baraka 1".

It is most important that ships establish communications with the terminal not less than 72 hours prior to arrival at the terminal giving ETA. Further ETA signals should be sent when the vessel is 24 hours, 12 hours and 4 hours distant, or any time a change of 1 hour in original ETA occurs. These messages should state specifically whether ETA is given in GMT or Local Time. The 72 hour signal should include the following:

ETA.
Last Port of Call.
If any Sickness on Board.
If vessel has Clean Bill of Health.
Cargo quantity and Grades expected to be lifted in long tons.

The 12 hour signal should include definite indication as to whether the vessel is ready to load or not and should also include information on the time she will require to discharge ballast after arrival. Precise time of arrival should be given when the ship is 4 hours distant from the terminal.

Unreasonable insufficiency or inaccuracy in ETA messages may alter the order of berthing of ships to the advantage of those ships giving sufficient and accurate ETA messages. Acceptance of Notice of Readiness will also be affected by such insufficiency or inaccuracy.

On receipt of first signal from a vessel, terminal will transmit a message to her giving preliminary requirements of terminal. Masters are urged to comply with this in all details in order to facilitate vessel turnaround and government formalities.

TUGS: The Company maintains launches to assist in mooring and unmooring vessels. These are under the direct supervision and control of the Company Mooring Master.

BERTHING: Vessels to load crude oil cargo will be normally accepted and berthed in chronological order of arrival provided such vessels have current nomination for cargo valid at the time of tender, carry clean ballast if any, and have cargo tanks in a fit condition to receive cargo. Also, they must be in all respects properly equipped and ready to moor. Should berthing be delayed on account of bad weather, vessels will keep their position in line.

Vessels required to leave the terminal area on account of bad weather should keep in contact with the terminal via the Company radio station at Mubarek Oil Terminal, call sign Crescent-2, in order that they may be available when the weather is fit for resumption of operations. The Company reserves the right to load vessels out of turn following the return of good weather, to the extent that such loading "out of turn" does not materially delay the loading of other vessels in line. Further the Company reserves the right to decline to moor a specific vessel if its condition or facilities are unsafe for mooring or loading even though the terminal may be open to other vessels.

The Company Terminal Superintendent's decision on this will be final.

S.P.M.: The single point buoy mooring berth (SBM), 11 m. in diameter and located in 163 ft. of water, is designed to handle tankships in the 350,000 d.w.t. class, but fitted at present with hoses for vessels of 250,000 d.w.t. ASA 150 pound flanged connections and one 20 in. floating hose, reduced to 12 in. Tanker Rail Hose for connection to export tanker's loading manifold, the length of hose being 940 ft.

Average loading rate is 16,000 b.p.h. The SBM is also provided with one permanently attached 21 in. circumference synthetic fibre floating mooring lines.

EQUIPMENT: Vessels must have suitable winches or capstans in good operating condition on the forecastle deck. Constant tension type winches may not be used except when they can be solidly locked and the constant tension feature not used.

All vessels should have ready messenger lines on forecastle head for bringing 2 mooring lines aboard from single point mooring (SBM).

Mooring winches on forecastle head for handling two 10 in. circumference synthetic fibre floating pick-up lines from SBM.

Adequate chafing gear to prevent damage to mooring lines.

Adequate mooring bitts to secure mooring lines.

Hose lifting winch, derrick and gear rigged for 7.5 tons.

HOSES: After the vessel is securely moored the cargo hose will be hoisted on the port side. The hose is lifted by ship's gear and crew, and all connecting of the hose will be done by them. The lifting derrick, equipment tackle, etc., should be topped off and ready on arrival. Terminal loading hose is fitted with ANSI 150 pound flat face flange and ships should have adapters and fittings to enable this hose to be connected to the ship's manifold. The Company Mooring Master advises the ship's personnel in hose lifting and connecting procedure; however, a deck officer must be present and must direct the ship's crew in all handling. The Company Mooring Master may reject a ship for unsatisfactory hose handling.

Do not close valves against crude flow.

Emergency flow stop signal if all communications fail will be a continuous sounding of the ship's whistle from either export tanker or Baraka 1.

MUBARRAS ISLAND, Abu Dhabi: 24.28. N. 53.22 E (HALAT AL MUBARRAS) (See Plan)

FLAG: All vessels calling at Mubarras are required to fly the national flag of The United Arab Emirates which is available from ship's Agent.

LOCATION: Mubarras Island is located approximately Lat. 24° 28′ N., Long. 53° 22′ E., some 55 miles W. of Port of Abu Dhabi.

The island constitutes export terminal of crude oil produced by Abu Dhabi Oil Company Limited (Japan). Crude oil produced from the Company's Mubarras oilfield is transported to Central Facilities Platform (CFP) situated approximately 19 miles E.N.E. of Mubarras Island by 4″ to 14″ flowlines, thence relayed by a 18″ transmission line to the Island. The Company has tank storage for 1,548,000 barrels of crude oil on the island.

Tanker loading is accomplished by means of a single-buoy-mooring (SBM) system installed about 8 miles offshore East of the Island.

Average API Gravity of crude oil to be located is 38 degrees and flash point is below 35 degrees Fahrenheit.

PORT LIMITS: The port area of Mubarras and its approaches cover the area bounded by straight lines connecting the following points:

(a)	24° 30.0′ N.	53° 36.0′ E.
(b)	24° 24.0′	53° 36.0′

DOCUMENTS:

2 Crew Lists.
2 Passenger Lists.
2 Manifests.
1 International Maritime Declaration of Health.

PILOTAGE: Pilot is provided by the Company free of charge at the request of the vessel's Master based on express understanding and condition that he is aboard the vessel for the purpose of assisting the Master and becomes, for such purpose, the servant of the owners of the vessel.

It is recommended that the Master of the vessel calling at Mubarras for the first time requests Pilot to go aboard the vessel for both inward and outward passage of the channel. The Pilot will normally board the vessel in the vicinity of No. 5 Buoy and will advise the Master on approaches to the berth and he will remain on board to act as Mooring Master and direct loading operations.

Mooring Master: The Mooring Master provided by the Company will undertake pilotage, mooring and unmooring of the tankers.

The Mooring Master shall board vessels to be moored at SBM in the anchorage area or in the vicinity of No. 15 Buoy. The Mooring Master will advise the Master of vessel on approaches to the SBM, mooring, unmooring, connecting and disconnecting hoses and all other operations within the port area. All manoeuvring of vessels within the port area shall be done only in accordance with the advice of the Mooring Master, subject to the understanding that in all cases and circumstances the Master of the vessel shall remain solely responsible for the safety and proper manoeuvring of the tanker. Master or one of his qualified deck officers must be on the bridge at all times while the vessel is being manoeuvred.

ANCHORAGE: The tanker anchorage is within 2 miles radius of Lat. 24° 26′ 8″ N., Long. 53° 34′ E. Depth of water varies from 15.5 to 18 metres (51 to 59.5 ft.) The sea bed all around the anchorage is coral with a few inches of loose sand. Holding is poor and a vessel is advised to pay-out at least six shackles of chain.

Vessels will be advised by radio of a suitable anchorage if above anchorage and the berth are not immediately available. Vessels shall not anchor or wait at the South area of Lat. 25 N. without obtaining any information from the Port Master.

Anchorage for Dry-cargo Ships: Anchorage for dry-cargo ships is directed by Port Master by VHF radio.

Prohibited Area for Navigation and Anchorage: The area within 1.5 miles radius from CFP is prohibited for navigation and anchorage. No vessels shall anchor within the range of 1.5 miles from submarine pipe-lines.

MAX. SIZE: See "Approaches" — depth over shoal areas; also see "Tides".

HEALTH: Vessels arriving at Mubarras Terminal must carry the usual Bills of Health for ports visited on the voyage. Masters of vessels are requested to inform the Company if there is any person ill on board or if there has been sickness within the week prior to arrival.

Pratique is usually granted by Port Medical Officer through the Mooring Master or Agency Clerk.

RADIO: Tankers bound for Mubarras should advise their ETA and other information at least 72 hours before arrival, confirming the ETA again at least 24 hours before arrival.

Vessels may find it helpful to route their first message through Singapore, Bombay or Bahrain Radio Station. All cables should be addressed to the Company through ship's Agent.

The first message should be sent according to the following form, but any items which are the same with a recent previous voyage to this port may be omitted.

(1) ETA Mubarras.
(2) Last Port.
(3) Next Port.
(4) Deballasting time.
(5) Quantity of cargo required.
(6) Maximum loading rate.
(7) Diameter of cargo manifold.
(8) Distance from manifold to ship's side.
(9) Derrick capacity.
(10) Diameter of fairlead.
(11) Name of Master.
(12) Number of crew.
(13) Whether Pilot is required or not.

Radio Station in Mubarras Terminal Office.

Short-range communication to Mubarras Terminal office can be made by calling "Mubarras Terminal" on VHF or SSB radio telephone. Vessels should inform the office with their ETA preferably when they pass the Strait of Hormus. After anchoring, vessels should advise anchoring time and maintain a listening watch on Channel 16 until Mooring Master boards.

Call Sign: "Mubarras Terminal".

Frequency:	Reception	Transmission
F3	Ch. 16	Ch. 10, 12, 14
A3	2182 kc/s.	2638 kc/s.

Operating Periods: Round the clock.

BALLAST: All vessels arriving at this port are required to have on board sufficient clean ballast to give a safe draft for manoeuvring purposes. Vessels arriving with insufficient ballast may be required to increase the quantity, should the Mooring Master consider that it would not be safe to berth the vessel for loading. As a general rule, vessels shall not start discharging ballast until mooring is completed.

Upon completion of deballasting the Mooring Master will inspect the tanks. If the tanks are not satisfactory, he may require further pumping until such time as they meet the required standard.

It is strictly prohibited to discharge oil, oily water or other refuse that may result in pollution of the sea. International oil pollution regulations must be strictly observed by all vessels. The terminal does not have facilities to receive oily ballast.

TUGS: Following vessels are always available for use for marine operations at this port.

Name of Vessel	G.R.T.	B.H.P.	Spd. (kt)
No. 1 Union (Tug/workboat)	499	1,120×2	12
No. 2 Union (Speedboat)	50	480×2	21

BERTH: Position of Buoy: Lat. 24° 25′.98 N. Long. 53° 31′.54 E. Depth of Water, 15.5 m. (51.6 ft.).

The berth is a single-buoy-mooring system consisting of a buoy 44.32 ft. (13.5 m.) in diameter, moored to 6 pendant legs of 3 in. high strength chain shackled to anchor piles at a radius of 855 ft. (260 m.), and having a rotating deck carrying the pipe-line and mooring connections.

One 32 in. crude oil line has been laid approximately 52,500 ft. (16 km.) from the shore to a position close under the buoy. From the underwater manifold the crude oil goes to the buoy through a 24 in.

underwater hose. The connection between turntable piping of SBM and tanker manifold consists of 1 hose string of 840 ft. long, 720 ft. of 24 in. hoses terminating in 2×16 in. hoses of 120 ft.

LOADING: The maximum loading rate of crude oil is 40,000 bbls./hr. or 6,400 kl/hr.

Notice of Readiness: The Master of each vessel should present a Notice of Readiness to load to the Company's Mooring Master who will sign it on behalf of the Company.

The Notice of Readiness should be tendered at the time of the vessel's arrival at the tanker anchorage area, which is, in principle, understood to be either the time of dropping the anchor in the anchorage, or, if the vessel does not anchor, the time that the Mooring Master boards to commence berthing.

Notice of Readiness will not be accepted during periods when the port is closed. The port is "closed" when the weather is such that it is too rough for incoming tankers to berth. The decision regarding the opening and closing of the port will rest with Port Master.

When the vessel is ready in all respects for loading the ship's officer must inform the Mooring Master who will transmit the necessary messages to the control room on shore. Mooring Master is authorised to control all the loading operations.

All cargo documents and shore figures are usually prepared on board and the Mooring Master will sign the documents on behalf of the Company.

MOORING: Preparation: Before Mooring Master boards, vessels should have ready the following:

(a) Jacob's ladder at lee side.
(b) Hawser 1 each at fore and aft deck, polypropylene if possible.
(c) 1 steel crowbar.
(d) Port derrick with double wire rigged for min. lift 5 tons.

After vessel is anchored, the Company's mooring and hose connection crew will board and pick up mooring and hose connection materials from tug/workboat. Vessel is requested to provide windlass and winch operators.

Mooring Master: Unless pilotage is required the Mooring Master will board the arriving vessels in the anchorage area. Vessels are requested to have pilot ladder safely and securely rigged ready for immediate use and long enough to meet the Mooring Master's launch. Vessels should have their crew standing by ready to receive mooring and hose connection materials and should maintain a lee until this is completed. Mooring Master will instruct the crew in the setting up of the forward mooring.

Moorings: 2 bollard ropes are made fast round the port bitts with their attached shackles about 5 ft. inboard from the fairleads as far forward as possible. The size of the fairlead opening should be at least 300 mm. (12 in.) to prevent chain from jamming in the fairleads.

Attached to the mooring connections on the buoy are two 18 in. nylon ropes (144 mm. dia., breaking strain 250 tons). These ropes are 160 ft. (48 m.) long, and have at their free end a length of stud link chain which includes enlarged end link for receiving the shackles used on the deck of the tanker. From the outer end of this chain there are connected 2 mooring lines consisting of pick-up wires, pick-up ropes and a towing rope (port side only). The nylon rope is supported by "doughnut" floats and the chain is hung by large plastic buoys 5 ft. in diameter and coloured red and yellow.

Hose Connection: After completion of mooring the boat which has been holding the hoses clear during berthing will bring the floating hose to the ship's side and connect the derrick runner to the balance buoy. These are lifted aboard one by one and connected by distance piece which was already connected to vessel's manifold by hose connection crew during mooring operation.

Unmooring: After the hose disconnection is completed, mooring ropes are slacked off and then dropped into the water. Tug/workboat will come alongside either before or after the vessel backs off the berth, whichever is convenient, and will receive mooring and hose connection materials.

TIDES: The maximum tidal range in this area is 6 ft., the average tidal range at the Spring tide 3 ft. and the Chart Datum is 0.7 ft. below ISLW. Tidal stream is variable according to the place and the lay of the land. But the flowing tide usually runs South-Eastwards and ebbing tide North-Westwards. Speed of a current is around 2 knots at the highest.

"Tide and Current Table" is published annually by the Company, applicable to Mubarras and the surrounding area, and will be obtained on application to the Company.

WEATHER: Local weather at Mubarras is almost similar to that of Jebel Dhanna and Abu Dhabi town, being extremely hot and humid in Summer. Temperature sometimes soars as high as 50° Centigrade with almost 100 per cent humidity in July and August.

MEDICAL: The Company does not operate a clinic and hospital at Mubarras. SURVEYORS: Lloyds, ABS, Veritas surveyors are available in Bahrain and they can be brought if ample notice is given to ship's Agent.

CUSTOMS: Under normal circumstances Customs officers do not board tankers at this port but upon arrival the Master is required to submit to the Customs through the ship's Agent a manifest of any cargo to be landed at Mubarras.

After loading is completed the Mooring Master will sign on behalf of Customs an outward manifest and issue the port clearance. These will be handed to the Master by the Agent.

REPATRIATION: Repatriation of ship's personnel may be accomplished by special arrangements through the ship's Agent who should be informed well in advance of the vessel's arrival. Launch or helicopter fare in case of repatriation will be charged to Owners.

TIME: Local standard time at Abu Dhabi is GMT +4 hours throughout year.

FIRE-FIGHTING: Tug/workboat "No. 1 Union" stationed at Mubarras Island is equipped for fire fighting. She is capable of pumping 1,700 gallons of water per minute from 3 nozzles and is usually on emergency stand-by during tanker loading operations.

GENERAL: Engine: The main engines and all gear must be in an operable condition and in a state of immediate readiness whilst the vessel is on the berth.

Stores: Provisions and deck stores not available.

Divers: The services of the Company diver may be available to vessels where it is essential that a diver's services are required to enable a vessel to sail. All requests for such services should be routed through the ship's Agent to the Port Master.

Mail: Mail can be received and sent through ship's Agent.

Dry Cargo Discharge: A "T"shaped jetty at Mubarras Island can accommodate a vessel with maximum 12 ft., of draft. Discharge of dry cargo must be arranged well in advance through ship's Agent in Abu Dhabi who will supply labour and barges from Abu Dhabi. No gear whatsoever is available at Mubarras.

CHARGES: To cover the cost of mooring/unmooring, towage, hired launch and maintenance of channel light buoys the following port charges are collected by the Company from all tankers entering the port.

A basic charge of U.S.$380 per vessel plus U.S.$4.60 per 100 net registered tons with maximum charge of U.S.$3,680 per call.

A standard Agency Fee of U.S.$280 per visit is charged for tankers by ship's Agent.

Port Dues are levied by the Abu Dhabi Government in the amount of B.D. 0.060 (sixty fils) per ton of gross registered tonnage of each tanker.

In case the tanker loads crude oil less than its deadweight tonnage the port dues will be determined by calculating the amount of cargo actually loaded as a percentage of the deadweight tonnage of the tanker and by applying the above rate with reference to the following table:

Percentage of deadweight tonnage loaded	Percentage of port dues
From 0 to 40	40% of the GRT
More than 40 to 50	50% of the GRT
More than 50 to 60	60% of the GRT
More than 60 to 70	70% of the GRT
More than 70 to 80	80% of the GRT
More than 80 to 90	90% of the GRT
More than 90	100% of the GRT

The station is manned at all times with a Pilot Master in attendance and vessels bound to the Humber requiring the services of Humber Pilots must give advance notice by signal through a GPO Coast Station to the Spurn Pilot Station giving ETA at the seaward limits of the Humber Pilotage District, draft, and destination at least 12 hours in advance. Any adjustment to the time should be given at least 2 hours before arrival.

Vessels wishing to communicate direct with the Spurn Pilot Station by VHF radio telephony may if within VHF range (approximately 20 miles) call "SPURN PILOT" on VHF Channel 16 (156.80 mHz) and after contact transfer to Channel 14 (156.70 mHz) for passing messages.

(Note: Attempts to establish communication on VHF at extreme range can cause unnecessary intereference).

Inward bound vessels for Goole or the River Trent desiring to pick up Goole or Trent Pilots in Hull Roads should give at least 2 hours advance notice of their expected time of arrival in Hull Roads by signal through a GPO Coast Station to the Humber Ports Operation and Information Service (Telegraphic address "HUMBEROPS") or should immediately on arrival at Spurn report their expected time of arrival in Hull Roads by calling the above service ("HULL RADIO") on VHF Channel 16 then transferring to Channel 12 for passing arrival information.

Vessels can enter usually approx. 3 hours before and 2.5 hours after high water.

SUNK PILOT STATION

The Sunk Pilot Vessel has a black hull, a buff funnel, the word "Pilots" painted on her sides and flying the pilot flag, and at night exhibiting lights and signals in accordance with Rule No. 8 of the International Rules for the Prevention of Collisions at Sea, cruises in the vicinity of the Sunk Light Vessel to provide Pilots for ships making the port of the London and other ports in London Pilotage District and to disembark Pilots from outward-bound ships; if unable to carry out her duties there through stress of weather, she moves into smoother water. In these circumstances shipping is warned by means of radio navigation warnings broadcast from North Foreland, Humber and Scheveningen radio stations, which give her position.

The attention of Masters is drawn to the necessity of stopping and giving a satisfactory lee for the pilot vessel's boats. These 18 ft. boats have a max. speed of 5 knots and if ships being served maintain excessive headway, unnecessary difficulty is caused to both the pilot vessel and boats, and the operation of shipping a Pilot will be unduly prolonged.

Trinity House considers it necessary to draw special attention to this matter in view of the considerably different procedure to be adopted for obtaining a Pilot from a cruising pilot vessel compared with a shore-based fast launch which requires the ship to maintain headway.

The attention of Masters is also drawn to the need for them to ensure, when shipping and landing Pilots, that the boarding boats of the pilot vessel are clear of their ships before proceeding, so that the lives of the Pilots and boat crew will not be endangered or the boats damaged.

Ships proceeding to either Maldon or Heybridge Basin must exchange their North Channel Pilots for Essex River Pilots at the Knolls, in favourable weather conditions, and in Brightlingsea Roads in adverse weather conditions.

Deep-drafted ships can be provided with Pilots in deeper water by arranging to be met by the Sunk Pilot Vessel in a suitable position about 3 miles East of the Sunk lightvessel.

Ships requiring a Pilot at the Sunk Station should give the pilot vessel 12 hours in advance and through a Post Office Coast Station, their estimated time of arrival, gross tonnage, max. draft and port of destination. Confirmation of ETA should be given at least two hours before arrival.

Vessels wishing to communicate with the pilot vessel at the Sunk by radio-telephony direct may:

(i) when within MF range at approx. 50 miles, call on 2,182 kHz. When contact has been established the pilot vessel will transmit on 2,241 and will listen on 2,241 kHz. or any other agreed licensed intership frequency for passing messages;

(ii) as soon as within VHF range (approximately 20 miles), call on Channel 16 and then transfer to Channels 6 or 9 for passing adjustments to the original ETA and for maintaining contact with the pilot vessel.

The pilot vessel may also be contacted by either W/T or R/T through any Post Office Coast Station addressed Sunk Pilot Vessel Northforeland Radio.

CORK PILOT STATION

To facilitate the arrival and departure of ships trading to and from the ports of Felixstowe, Harwich and Ipswich, a pilot station operates in the vicinity of the Cork light buoy in position lat. 51° 56′ 42″ N., long. 01° 27′ 06″ E. This station is additional to, but is not a substitute for, the Sunk Pilot Vessel. It is for the use of ships bound to or leaving the above mentioned ports whose normal course does not take them past the Sunk Pilot Vessel. Full service is also provided at the Sunk Station. The Cork Station is operated by pilot launches, with black hulls and white wheelhouses, flying the pilot flag, and at night exhibiting lights and signals in accordance with Rule No. 8 of the International Rules for the Prevention of Collisions at sea.

Inward Bound Ships. Ships requiring a Pilot at the Cork Station should apply to the Sunk Pilot Vessel in the same manner and giving the same information but state their estimated time of arrival at the Cork.

Outward Bound Ships. Masters of ships about to sail from Harwich and Felixstowe and wishing to use the Cork Pilot Station should state this when ordering their Pilots for departure but may carry their Pilots out to the Sunk Pilot Station should they so desire. Pilots for ships outward bound should be ordered by telephoning Harwich (code 02555) 3129 – see "Harwich Shore Pilot Station" below.

Launches. The Cork pilot launches keep a constant listening watch on Channel 16 VHF (change to Channels 9 or 12 for working). It is recommended that the ship about to ship or land her Pilot should keep in VHF communication with the pilot launch.

HARWICH SHORE PILOT STATION

A shore pilot station operates at Harwich in position lat. 51° 56′ 35″ N., long. 01° 17′ 34″ E. in the Old Low Lighthouse. The building is 37 ft. high and painted in black and white horizontal stripes.

The station is manned by a Duty Pilot and is equipped with VHF, telex, telephone, radar and a daylight signalling lamp.

VHF: A 24-hour listening watch is kept on Channel 16. The working frequencies are Channels 9 and 12. The call sign is "Harwich Pilots Radio." Tel. Harwich (code 02555) 3129. Telex 98472, Pilots Harwich.

Ships not fitted with VHF may contact the pilot station through the Sunk Pilot Vessel on MF.

All requests for the services of Pilots for ships bound into or out of the Harwich/Felixstowe/Cork Complex should be made to this station. Incoming ships may also communicate with this station with requests for the services of the Ipswich Pilots and for the Pilots for Rivers Colne, Blackwater, Crouch and Roach. Orders for outwardbound ships should state whether the Pilot will be landed at the Sunk or the Cork. See above.

ANCHORAGES – PROHIBITED ANCHORAGE: The breakwater affords partial shelter to the outer anchorage and complete protection to New Harbour; there are depths of from 19 to 42 ft. in the former and of from 17 to 40 ft. in the latter.

The accommodation for vessels of deep draft in New Harbour is limited. Small vessels should always proceed into New Harbour and anchor in the S.W. part, leaving the outer part and the roadstead for large vessels. The bottom is hard, overlaid with mud but the holding ground is sufficiently good if an adequate amount of cable is veered. During Easterly winds an uncomfortable sea is raised; vessels may then obtain shelter in the Eastern part of outer anchorage. Anchorage is prohibited within 1.5 cables on either side of the track followed by Mail Steamers from the head of the breakwater to the entrance to Old Harbour; the limits of this area are shown on charts.

MAX. SIZE:

Inner Harbour is restricted to vessels of 15 ft. draft and vessels exceeding this draft will only be accepted after consultation with the Shipping and Port Manager.

The station is manned at all times with a Pilot Master in attendance and vessels bound to the Humber requiring the services of Humber Pilots must give advance notice by signal through a GPO Coast Station to the Spurn Pilot Station giving ETA at the seaward limits of the Humber Pilotage District, draft, and destination at least 12 hours in advance. Any adjustment to the time should be given at least 2 hours before arrival.

Vessels wishing to communicate direct with the Spurn Pilot Station by VHF radio telephony may if within VHF range (approximately 20 miles) call "SPURN PILOT" on VHF Channel 16 (156.80 mHz) and after contact transfer to Channel 14 (156.70 mHz) for passing messages.

(Note: Attempts to establish communication on VHF at extreme range can cause unnecessary interference).

Inward bound vessels for Goole or the River Trent desiring to pick up Goole or Trent Pilots in Hull Roads should give at least 2 hours advance notice of their expected time of arrival in Hull Roads by signal through a GPO Coast Station to the Humber Ports Operation and Information Service (Telegraphic address "HUMBEROPS") or should immediately on arrival at Spurn report their expected time of arrival in Hull Roads by calling the above service ("HULL RADIO") on VHF Channel 16 then transferring to Channel 12 for passing arrival information.

ANCHORAGES: The undermentioned anchorages have been designated for the use of sea-going vessels. Masters are asked to co-operate by using these anchorages and to avoid anchoring in the Fairway or elsewhere.

Spurn anchorage should normally be used by inward-bound vessels and Bull anchorage by outward-bound vessels and vessels awaiting a berth.

Pratique is automatic when entering after calling at another port or ports in the U.K. and being granted pratique there, unless of course, illness has developed whilst on passage from previous U.K. port.
RADIO: Portishead Radio – call sign GKL but when within 200 miles of the Humber can go through Humber Radio – call sign GKZ.

Humber Ports Operation and Information Service operates a VHF (FM) radio telephone service available to all vessels navigating the River Humber, from the Humber Pilot Office Building, Queen Street, Hull.

A continuous watch is maintained on Channels 16 and 12. The call sign is "Hull Radio". The telephone number is Hull 0482-223999. Telegraphic address "Humerops".

The service provides information regarding the arrival, berthing, anchoring and departure of vessels and also information on navigational aids, navigation generally, visibility, and the safety of vessels and persons. Tidal information, including the height of tide at Bull Sand Fort and Immingham in the Lower Humber, is also available on request. A general broadcast giving weather reports, tidal information and navigational warnings is made by the Humber Ports operation and Information Service on Channel 12 every 2 hours commencing at 0103 hours, prior notification being given on Channel 16.

In general, vessels should report to the Humber Ports Operation and Information Service on arrival in the river obtaining their navigation, safety information and berthing instructions. Vessels wishing to communicate with the Station serving their destination should do so on their final approach reporting their departure from Channel 16 to Hull Radio.

Vessels are advised that, when communicating with these Stations, contact with the Humber Ports Operation and Information Service can only be re-established through Channels 16 and 12 and it is particularly advisable to maintain a listening watch on Channel 16 whenever practicable in the event of unforeseen circumstances developing in the River.

1. Name of Ship. 2. Date of departure from and name of last infected port. 3. Number, ages and sex of any cases of infectious diseases or other relevant information. 4. Expected time of arrival at Rock Light. Before reaching the Rock Light if medical clearance has not been obtained the following signal must be displayed: by day – fly the flag signal "Z W". By night – show red light over white light.

When medical clearance is obtained pratique will be issued at discretion of Customs Officer.

If there is no suspected disease on board and vessel has not called at any of the above ports listed, Master can radio for Free Pratique. Unless otherwise instructed, Customs Officer will again issue pratique.

Vessels arriving from another U.K. port do not require pratique or health clearance.

RADIO: Portishead Radio, call sign: GKL; Landsend Radio, call sign: GDL; Wick Radio, call sign: GKR; but on approaching Liverpool, the local radio station is Anglesey Radio, call sign: GLV.

RADAR/VHF: Vessels should establish contact by VHF/RT with the Port Radar Station call sign "MERSEY RADIO" before sailing and inward bound when approaching the N.W. light float if from the westward, or approaching the bar light float if from the northward.

Harbour Radar: The Liverpool Port Radar Station is now situated at the N.W. corner of the Royal Seaforth Dock Lat. 53° 27′ 56″ N. Long. 03° 02′ 22″ W.

The radar coverage extends seaward over Liverpool Bay for a radius of 20 miles from the station and in the River Mersey as far south as the approaches to the Manchester Ship Canal.

Vessels entering or leaving the Port in conditions of low visibility can, on request, be supplied with continuous information of their position whilst navigating in the river or sea channels, providing such vessels can be identified.

A general situation and movement statement, giving all intended movements inwards and outwards for the Port of Liverpool, Eastham, Bromborough, Garston and Cammell Lairds and approximate times at the dock entrance or river berth, together with a list of Local Navigation warnings in force, latest weather reports and area forecast, is broadcast on Channel 12 at 3 hours before each high water. This full statement is repeated with any amendments and the disposition of the River Anchorages North and South at 2 hours before each high water.

Any local navigation warning is broadcast on receipt on Channel 12, a prior call being given on Channel 16.

A full list of navigation warnings is broadcast every 4 hours, commencing at 0000 hrs. No separate broadcast of this list is made during the period from 4 hours before high water to 1 hour before high water as such warnings are included in the General Situation and Movement Statement. An updated taped recording of the above General Situation and Movement Statement is broadcast on request on Channel 4.

Docking Instructions: The VHF/RT Stations at the Dock Entrances and Stages are provided to facilitate docking and berthing operations and to provide direct communication between the Dock Master or Stage Master and a vessel. The Range of these stations is limited to a distance of 6 to 8 miles.

Tug Communications: Channels 8 and 10 are reserved for tug communications and should not be used for any other purpose. Due to the heavy working of these Channels, especially at tide time, and in order to minimise interference, vessels and their tugs when communicating to one another on VHF/RT, should, when possible transmit on reduced power.

Large Vessels Swinging: Vessels of 450 ft. (137.16 m.) or over in length intending to swing in the river should give advance notice of at least 10 minutes to Mersey Radio of their intentions so that Mersey Radio can broadcast on Channel 16 that a swinging warning is to be broadcast on Channels 12 and 4.

Local Priority Messages: A vessel which has an urgent message to transmit to Mersey Radio concerning urgent navigation matters and which message should receive priority over normal Port Operations R/T Communications, should indicate the urgency of the message by prefixing the call sign of the Port Radar Station with the spoken word "PRIORITY" i.e. "PRIORITY MERSEY RADIO" repeated 3 times followed by normal procedure.

In special circumstances such as the launch of a vessel or in an emergency such as a wreck, it may be necessary temporarily to establish a patrol for the control of traffic. Vessels will be warned of the existence of any such patrol by "Mersey Radio" and any such patrol vessels or launches will maintain a listening watch on Channel 16 and communicate with other vessels on Channel 6.

R/T Procedure

Channels to be used for calling and for Preparatory Signals: Coast stations and ship stations will call on Channel 16. If Channel 16 is being used for distress, urgency or safety Communications, a ship station requiring Port Operations Services should establish contact on the First Choice Port Operations, Channel 12, or if this Channel is busy Channels 18, 22, 19 or 9.

Sequence of R/T Communication for vessels entering the River Mersey: (i) When entering the Pilotage District they should set watch on Channel 16.

(ii) Vessels wishing to communicate with a Pilot Cutter should call the appropriate Pilot Vessel on Channel 16 and shift to Channel 6 for exchange of traffic. Pilot vessels also maintain watch on M/F R/T on 2182 kHz.

Vessels wishing to communicate with the Point Lynas Shore Station should call "Lynas Pilot" on Channel 16 and shift to Channel 9 when instructed by the Shore Station.

(iii) On approaching the N.W. Lightfloat, if from the Westward, or the Bar Lightfloat, if from the Northward the vessel should establish contact with Mersey Rado on Channel 16 and pass her arrival information on the Channel indicated by Mersey Radio, Channel 12 being normally used for this purpose. Following the receipt of docking orders watch should be resumed on Channel 16, unless she is instructed to remain on a working Channel for Port Operational reasons.

(iv) Vessels requiring radar information or assistance will be requested to shift to Channel 18 or 22, or if a tanker for Tranmere, Channel 19.

(v) On approaching the River, vessels should communicate with Mersey Radio and then shift to the appropriate Channel to communicate with the Dock or Stage to which they are bound for their detailed docking orders, sequence of berthing, etc.

Vessels sailing from the River Mersey: Vessels, on sailing from any Stage or Dock, should establish contact with Mersey Radio on Channel 16 and then maintain watch on that Channel unless instructed to remain on a working Channel for Port Operational reasons. Vessels requiring radar information or assistance will be requested to work on Channel 18 or 22 or if a tanker from Tranmere – Channel 19.

Radio Communication – General: The maximum range for radio messages is about 20 miles for VHF. The shore Pilot stations and shore based fast launches operate on VHF only.

Attempts to establish communication at extreme ranges cause much unnecessary interference. The first estimated time of arrival should be sent through a Post Office Coast Station giving at least 1 hours' notice of the ETA. Anything less than 1 hour's notice must involve ships in delay. The maximum range for MF radio messages is about 50 miles.

Ships should if possible remain in direct contact with the pilot launch or pilot vessel on their approach, as this facilitates shipping the Pilot.

FOLKESTONE PILOT STATION

Pilot launches, with black hulls and white wheelhouses and flying the pilot flag, operate from a shore station at Folkestone to provide Pilots for ships making the port of London and other ports in the London Pilotage District and to disembark Pilots from outwardbound ships. The conspicuous building is 77 ft. high and flies a pilot flag by day; by night it displays an illuminated sign with the word "Pilots". The launches normally ship and land Pilots in a position 225° distant 1 mile from Folkestone Pier Light in fine weather but farther off in bad weather.

A shore VHF station is maintained at Folkestone (Lat. 51° 04′ 37″ N. Long. 01° 11′ 26″ E.), and all requests to ship and land Pilots off Folkestone should be made to it.

Ships requiring a Pilot at the Folkestone Station should give the shore station, 12 hours in advance and through a Post Office Coast Station, their estimated time of arrival, gross tonnage, maximum draft and port of destination. Any adjustment to this time should be given at least 2 hours before arrival. The message should be addressed to "Pilots Folkestone".

The following Channels are in use by Folkestone Shore VHF station (call sign "Folkestone Pilots Radio"):

Channel 16 (Calling): A 24 hour listening watch is kept on this Channel, and ships should make contact on it.

Channel 9 (Working): After initial contact has been made on Channel 16, a transfer should be made to Channel 9 for the exchange of operational messages. It is stressed that the shore station has no other working frequency and that ships wishing to communicate with it must have Channel 9 fitted.

Masters of ships approaching Folkestone are advised to maintain a listening watch on Channel 16 so that they can receive any messages for their ships from the Pilot station.

Masters are warned that it is difficult to receive VHF signals from Folkestone when their ships are to the Westward of Dungeness owing to the presence of very large buildings.

The station is manned by a duty Pilot and is equipped with telex, telephone, radar and a daylight signalling lamp. The communications details are:

Tel. Folkestone (code 0303) 56766.
Telex 96381, Pilots Folkestn.
Telegraphic address "Pilots Folkestone".

Ships without VHF should send any amendment of their ETA in sufficient time to allow its delivery through the Post Office telex network. Ships without VHF should also establish their identity by visual means during their final approach.

If requested Folkestone Station Pilots may also be embarked off Brixham 1.5 miles N.E. of Berry Head in position 50° 24′ N., 3° 27′ W., or off Cherbourg at buoy CH I in position 49° 43′ N. 1° 40′ W. 24 hours notice is required by Folkestone Pilot Station for picking up at Brixham, and 36 hours for Cherbourg.

Should a deep drafted vessel not wish to approach too closely to the Folkestone pilot station, then the pilot cutter will meet this vessel 1 mile to the South-east of the East Road port red can lighted buoy, Gp fl. 4 red every 15 seconds, which is moored about 4.75 miles North-eastwards of Dungeness in position 50° 58′ 18″ N., 01° 03′ 48″ E.

N.E. SPIT.

Ships bound to or from ports between Amsterdam and Dieppe inclusive may land or ship their Pilots by means of a pilot launch which operates as required, but does not cruise, in the vicinity of the N.E. Spit Buoy, but it is emphasised that ships from beyond these 2 ports or bound to ports beyond them are required to ship or land their Pilots at the Sunk or Folkestone Pilot stations.

A shore VHF station operates from North Foreland Lighthouse (51° 22′ 27″ N., 01° 26′ 49″ E.) which is linked by land-line to the Pilot station at Folkestone. The call sign is "Margate Pilots Radio" and the only Channel available is Channel 9. A 24-hour listening watch is kept on this Channel.

Advance notification of ships requiring services of a Pilot at the N.E. Spit should now be given 6 hours beforehand through a Post Office Coast Station, addressed "Pilots Folkestone", or by telephone to Folkestone (code 0303) 56766 or telex 96381.

"Margate Pilots Radio" should then be contacted when within VHF range.

There is a Reserve radio station, call sign "Margate Roads Pilots Radio" situated at Margate Pier Head (Lat. 51° 23′ 40″ N., Long. 01° 22′ 54″ E.) with Channel 9 which should be used if ships are unable to contact the main transmitter at North Foreland Lighthouse.

Communication with Margate pilot launch may be made on Channel 9 VHF. A ship about to ship or land her Pilot should keep in radio contact with the pilot launch.

Ships without VHF should send their ETA or any subsequent amendment in sufficient time to allow its delivery through the Post Office telex network.

It is emphasised that in bad weather the pilot launches operating from Margate have difficulty in working and therefore in providing a fast and prompt service.

RIVER MEDWAY

Messages for the Medway Pilots may be passed through the launches of the Medway Ports Authority, call sign "Medway Patrol". They keep a continuous watch on 2,182 kHz.

Ships bound for the River Medway are requested to call on 2,182 kHz., when 20 to 30 miles from Sheerness, stating their estimated time of arrival, requirements and draft. When contact has been made on 2,182 kHz ships should transfer to 2,241, 2,246 or 2,301 kHz or other licensed intership frequency for passing messages. Ships may also call the Medway Port Operations Service, call sign Medway Radio, when within 20 miles of Sheerness, on VHF Channel 16, transferring to Channel 14 for passing messages.

Sea Pilot leaves vessel at Gravesend when River Pilot boards for final river passage.

PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING THE SERVICES OF A LICENSED TRINITY HOUSE CHANNEL PILOT.

Ships outward bound from above Gravesend: Masters are requested to give advance notice of estimated time of arrival at Gravesend. Masters of ships fitted with VHF may pass this information direct to Gravesend Radio on the appropriate Port Operations Channel.

Channel Pilots for outward-bound ships are obtainable only from the Royal Terrace Pier, Gravesend, from where they board ships by means of black-painted pilot vessels flying the pilot flag, in response to the statutory signals or a VHF message to Gravesend Radio. In thick or foggy weather 1 prolonged blast followed by 4 short blasts should be sounded by means of a whistle or fog horn or a VHF message should be sent to Gravesend Radio.

In addition to the above, the following signals should be displayed:

Ship's gross registered tonnage	By day International Code pendant	by night White lights
Not exceeding 2,000	—	1 over the starboard bow
Exceeding 2,000 but not exceeding 6,000	3	1 over the bridge
Exceeding 6,000 but not exceeding 12,000	2	1 over the starboard bow and 1 over the bridge
Exceeding 12,000	1	1 over the starboard bow

Ships outward bound from below Gravesend or shifting between the Nore or Sheerness and Gravesend: When the services of a Channel Pilot are required for shifting a ship inwards between the Nore and Sheerness and Gravesend, or for conducting a ship outwards from below Gravesend, a telephone message should be sent to the Channel Pilots, tel. Gravesend (0474) 3619, stating Name of ship. Time and place at which Pilot is required to join ship. Where bound, Ship's gross tonnage. Ship's draft.

It is particularly stressed that the Pilot must be given adequate time to travel from Gravesend to the ship for her time of sailing, and that allowance must be made for the slowness of night travel and the inaccessibility of some wharves and moorings.

PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING THE SERVICES OF A LICENSED TRINITY HOUSE RIVER THAMES PILOT.

Duty Pilot: A Trinity House River Thames Duty Pilot is available in the Information Room at the Gravesend pilot station. He can be contacted by telex (Pilot Gravesend 96444) or by telephone Gravesend (0474) 67716/7. Among his duties is the provision of information to Shipowners and Agents, and the Duty Pilot will be pleased to give advice and guidance on the pilotage of ships in the River. The Duty Pilot is in continuous touch with the Duty Officer of the Thames Navigation Service.

Ships outward bound or shifting: When the services of a Trinity House River Thames Pilot are required for piloting a ship down river to Gravesend, or for shifting a ship in the river above Gravesend, a telex message should be sent to Pilot Gravesend 96444. If the message cannot be passed by telex the same information should be given by telephoning Gravesend (0474) 67716/7.

The telex message must start with the word "Pilot" to show that it is an order for a Pilot, and to be consistent with other information now received at the Pilot station by telex, should be in the following form:

1. Order for Pilot. The word "Pilot" should be used to show that it is an order for a Trinity House Pilot rather than general information on expected movement. This should be on a separate line from the other information.
2. Time Pilot required. This should be expressed as a time on the 24-hour clock followed by a date, e.g. 1035/15 or 2215/16.
3. Ship's Name.
4. Draft. This should be given in feet.
5. Berth where lying. If a shift is required the shift should be shown as "FM Smiths WHF to Jones WHF". If one location is given this is the place where the ship is lying and where the Pilot is required. The abbreviation FM (From) should precede the place where the ship is lying in all messages.
6. Route or where is bound. This should state N., S., or E. to show where ship is bound, i.e. N. for ships outward bound to the North, S. for ships outward bound to the South, and E. for ships outward bound to near continental ports between Amsterdam and Dieppe. If an outward Channel pilot is required the letter P should be added so that it reads NP, SP or EP.
7. Name of Owner or Agent.

The message should start with the heading of "Pilot" and should continue as follows:

Time	Ship	Draft	Berth	Route	Agent
2030/15	Tasman	13	FM Robinsons WHF	S	E. Wright
0010/16	British Isles	18.5	FM Hightown Tier	NP	Despatch Co.
0830/17	Nicola	14	FM Black Bys to Spring WHF		Noel S.S. Co.

It is particularly stressed that the Pilot must be given adequate time to travel from Gravesend to the ship for her time of sailing, and that allowance must be made for the slowness of night travel and the inaccessibility of some wharves and moorings. Normally a minimum of 3 hours is required.

Inwardbound ships: It is most important that all inward bound ships notify their estimated time of arrival at Gravesend and keep this information up to date. An estimated time of arrival should be given by using the Post Office public correspondence service through North Foreland Radio at least 3 hours before arrival at Gravesend and preferably immediately after the embarkation of the Sea Pilot. When in VHF range this information may be passed direct to Gravesend Radio on the appropriate port operations channel. In addition the following supplementary information should be communicated: draft, and, if known, berth and name of Agents.

Trinity House River Thames Pilots for inward-bound ships are obtainable only from the Royal Terrace Pier, Gravesend, from where they board ships, by means of black-painted pilot vessels flying the pilot flag, in response to the statutory signals or a VHF message to Gravesend Radio. In thick or foggy weather the letter "G" in Morse code should be sounded by means of a whistle or fog horn or a VHF message should be sent to Gravesend Radio.

Table of Abbreviations: Abbreviations used in this notice are: FM=From. WHF=Wharf. N=The route of an outward ship is to the North. S=The route of an outward ship is to the South. E=The route of an outward ship is to near continental port between Amsterdam and Dieppe. NP=The route of an outward ship is to the North and she requires a Channel Pilot. SP=The route of an outward ship is to the South and she requires a Channel Pilot. EP=The route of an outward ship is to the East and she requires a Channel Pilot. Bys=Buoys.

Pilot Ladders: Instances of the use of unsatisfactory and unsafe pilot ladders continue to be reported by Trinity House Pilots.

Faulty ladders endanger the lives of Pilots.

Instructions have been issued to all Trinity House Pilots to report immediately any pilot ladders which do not comply strictly with the provisions of the Merchant Shipping (Pilot Ladders) Rules 1965, the Merchant Shipping (Pilot Ladders) (Amendment) Rules 1971 and the Merchant Shipping (Pilot Ladders) (Amendment) Rules 1972.

Masters of ships are reminded of their obligation to comply with the statutory rules and are requested also to comply with the following Trinity House recommendations, ensuring that:

1. The Officer responsible for the embarkation and disembarkation of the Pilot is a Watch-keeping Deck Officer.
2. The ladder is in one length and does not consist of two or more lengths shackled or lashed together.
3. The ladder is secure.
4. The ladder is used solely for embarking and disembarking Pilots.
5. A light is provided so that the pilot ladder overside and also the position where the Pilot boards the ship is adequately lit.
6. The ladder is clean and free from oil and grease.
7. Means are provided to enable the Pilot to pass safely and conveniently from the head of the ladder into the ship or on to the ship's deck. Where portable stanchions and accompanying bulwark step ladders are used for this purpose, the portable stanchions must be rigidly secured to the ship's structure against being unshipped and supported at not less than 2 points to prevent lateral movement, and the bulwark step ladder should also be independently attached and firmly secured. The stanchions should be of reasonable height and adequately capped to allow firm grip. Under no circumstances should a stanchion or handrail be attached to the bulwark step ladder.
8. The ladder is in good condition and its treads remain horizontal. The treads are to have a rough upper surface.
9. The length of the ladder does not exceed 30 ft. Whenever the distance from sea level to a point of access to the ship is more than 30 ft., access from the pilot ladder to the ship must be by means of an accommodation ladder or other equally safe and convenient means.
10. The ladder is rigged so that each step rests firmly against the ship's side.
11. Spreaders are provided not more than 10 ft. apart to prevent the ladder twisting.
12. 2 manropes and a safety line are provided; and a lifebuoy with self-igniting light is available.
13. The ladder is rigged well clear of discharges and water outlets, and at a place where most lee can be given to the Pilot Vessel.
14. Where a pilot hoist is used a ladder must be at hand ready for use in case the hoist fails.

The Masters of small, "all-aft" ships, in which the main deck is frequently awash when a Pilot is being shipped or landed, or of any type of ship in which the bulwark rails are below the deck of the pilot vessel coming alongside, are asked to provide a boarding platform on each side of the forward end of the raised quarter deck and on the same level as that deck.

The platform should be easily accessible from the quarter deck and should have adequate handrails, those on the outboard side being portable. Fittings should also be provided for the rigging of a pilot ladder. When a pilot ladder is rigged from a boarding platform the top rung of the ladder should be not less than 12 in. nor more than 15 in. below the level of the platform. The top of the ladder should be secured at least 3 ft. 6 in. above the platform in such a way as to make a safe handhold for the Pilot entering or leaving the platform.

If a pilot ladder is unsafe a Pilot may refuse to board, thus delaying the ship. If the ladder is unsatisfactory for boarding the Master of that ship renders himself liable to a fine of double the amount of the pilotage dues involved, for failure to comply with the pilotage act 1913; and if the ladder does not meet the statutory requirements, the Master renders himself liable to a fine not exceeding £50 in accordance with the Merchant Shipping Act 1894.

RESTRICTIONS: Certain restrictions are placed on the navigation of vessels carrying petroleum, chemicals, explosives and other hazardous commodities.

Vessels which are carrying any of the above mentioned cargoes should call Gravesend for details of these restrictions and ascertain whether it is permitted for them to navigate.

Notwithstanding any of the aforementioned restrictions, all vessels should comply with the "General Directions for Navigation in the Port of London 1975". (Copies obtained from the Director of Marine Services, Port of London Authority, Thames House, Gallions Entrance, London, E.16.).

The tides at London have a rise and fall of about 5.5 to 6.10 m. above LAT (datum) depending on the tidal conditions.

The sea approach to Shellhaven is dredged to allow the passage of vessels to 13.7 m. at mean neap tides. The depth to Gravesend Reach is about 7.9 to 8.5 m. below LAT, varying on tides.

THAMES NAVIGATION SERVICE:

Traffic Co-ordination Centre, Gravesend: This centre programmes all movements within the port, including the docks. All information required by the Authority regarding ETA, ETD, etc., should be passed through this centre. Also deals with all matters concerning provision of tugs in docks, floating derricks, dummy pontoons, or other services for vessels in dock, moorings in the river and any enquiry reference bye-laws, regulations, etc.

It exercises traffic control over ALL vessels and craft wishing to proceed through the Barrier Control Zone which extends from Margaretness to Blackwall Point. These vessels and craft must give an ETA at the Barrier when passing CRAYFORDNESS when inward bound or CUKOLDS POINT when outward bound. Vessels leaving berths between these points and wishing to proceed through the barrier should pass their ETA as soon as possible after leaving. Vessels wishing to leave from a berth within the Barrier Control Zone should first obtain permission to proceed.

Patrol Service: 24-hour patrol by launches fitted VHF Channels 16, 14, 12, 6 and radar. Can be contacted through Gravesend or Gallions Radio.

HEALTH: No automatic pratique, or radio pratique given. The London Maritime Declaration of Health Form which is normally handed to the ship by the Pilot boarding vessel is to be completed and strictly complied to. Any doubts can be clarified by VHF to Thames Navigation, Gravesend, who will connect to the Port Doctor, or to "Northforeland Radio". Pratique is issued by the Customs at the berth after health requirements adhered to, and must be retained on board or if doctor boards at Gravesend.

RADIO: Outside UK waters from the South call long range station "Portishead Radio"; approaching London, "Niton Radio" or Northforeland Radio giving Agents draft and ETA.

TUGS: Tugs usually pick up vessels for Shellhaven and Holehaven in reaches approaching berth, or Gravesend for berths/docks up river. Tug lines can be hired to ships.

LONDONDERRY (incl. Moville): 55.00 N. 07.20 W. (See Plan)

The main port of Londonderry is situated about 21 miles from the sea on the River Foyle.

PORT LIMITS: Extend from Lifford Bridge to a line drawn from Greencastle Fort in the County of Donegal to the Tower on Magilligan Point in the City and County of Londonderry.

DOCUMENTS: For Londonderry see "Belfast". For Moville see "Dublin".

Since the Port of Londonderry falls within the Republic of Ireland and the United Kingdom, both Governments are concerned in regard to Customs documents. Moville, which is situated down river from Londonderry, is located in the Republic of Ireland and is the anchorage where deep-sea vessels lie prior to proceeding to Londonderry. Should vessels discharge cargo or load cargo at this anchorage, Irish documents are required. The port is under the control of the Londonderry Port and Harbour Commissioners who are recognised by both Governments.

PILOTAGE: The Londonderry Port and Harbour Commissioners are the Pilotage Authority for the Londonderry Pilotage District. For information regarding pilotage application should be made to The Secretary, Harbour Office, Londonderry, Northern Ireland.

Pilotage is compulsory, vessels taking the Pilot at the Foyle Buoy or Fairway Buoy, about 2.5 miles N.E. from Dunagree Point, Innisshowen Head.

The Pilot station is located at Carrickarory Pier, Moville, 55° 10′ 57″ N.; 07° 03′ 27″ W.

Deep-sea vessels usually take Pilot 2 hours before High water time Londonderry, so as to arrive at Londonderry on the top of High Water.

Pilotage service may be obtained in response to following signals:

Inward-bound vessels: By day. 1. The International Code Signal G; 2. The International Code Signal P.T.; 3. The Pilot Jack hoisted at the fore; 4. By daylight signalling lamp to the pilot station. If required after hours telephone Pilot Station direct. Tel. Moville 92.

By night. 1. The pyrotechnic light, commonly known as a blue light; 2. A bright white light flashed or shown at short or frequent intervals just above the bulwarks for about a minute at a time; 3. The International Code Signal P.T. by flashing; 4. By signalling lamp to the Pilot Station.

By day or night. 1. By VHF (FM) radiotelephony to the pilot station at Carrickarory Pier. 2. By VHF (FM) radiotelephony to the pilot launch "Foyle Leader." 3. By I.F. radiotelephony to the pilot launch "Foyle Leader."

In poor visibility. By sounding the letter G in Morse Code on the steam whistle or siren.

As visibility to seaward from Carrickarory Pier is restricted it is important that Owners, Masters or Agents notify the Harbour Master (tel. Londonderry 3680) or outside Office hours the Pilot station (tel. Moville 92) of the name of vessel; estimated time of arrival at the Fairway Buoy; draft of water of the vessel. It is also important that VHF (FM) communication be established with pilot station or pilot launch "Foyle Leader" or IF R/T communication with the pilot launch "Foyle Leader" as early as possible before arrival in Lough Foyle. Call signs, frequencies and procedure are as follows:

VHF (FM) and R/T Communications:

1. Pilot Station at Carrickarory Pier, Moville: Call sign "Foyle Pilots". Equipment VHF (FM) R/T single frequency working. A continuous listening watch is kept on Channel 16 (156.80 mc/s.) except when pilot launch is operating, when watch is transferred to the launch. When communication has been established on Channel 16 (calling and safety channel) operators should switch to Channel 12 (156.60 mc/s.)

2. Pilot launch: Name of vessel "Foyle leader". Call sign MIBC Equipment VHF (FM) R/T single frequency working and IF R/T. When launch is operating a listening watch is kept on Channel 16 (158.80 mc/s.). When communication has been established on Channel 16 (calling and safety channel) operators should switch to Channel 6 (156.30 mc/s.).

When arrival of vessels not yet fitted with VHF (FM) R/T is expected a listening watch on IF R/T will be kept on the Pilot launch on frequency 2182 kc/s. per second (calling and distress frequency). When communication has been established on this frequency operators should switch to 2246 or 2301 kc/s. per second.

3. Harbour Office, Londonderry: Call sign "Harbour Office" Equipment VHF (FM) R/T single frequency working. All vessels fitted with VHF (FM) R/T while navigating in the river or at anchor in Moville Bay should keep a listening watch on Channel 16 (156.80 mc/s.). When communication has been established on Channel 16 (calling and safety channel) Operators should switch to Channel 12 (156.60 mc/s.).

Messages must be restricted to those related to the movement of vessels and safety of vessels and persons. Messages of any other nature and messages of a personal character cannot be accepted.

Outward-bound vessels and vessels shifting:

When the services of a Pilot are required for an outward-bound vessel or for shifting a vessel, notification should be given to Harbour Master (tel. Londonderry 3680) during office hours, of name of vessel; time of departure; draft of water of vessel; where bound. Early notification should be given to enable Pilot to board vessel in good time.

ANCHORAGES: The only anchorage at Londonderry is located at Moville.

PILOTAGE: Non-compulsory. Orders for Pilots may be lodged with the Pilotage Office at Eastham (Tel. 051-327 1233) or at Dock Office at Manchester (Tel. 061-872 2411, ext. 2174). As much notice as possible should be given, particularly in the case of inward-bound vessels due to arrive at Eastham. Helmsmen can be obtained in same manner.

RESTRICTIONS: Eastham Locks. The main entrance to the Canal is at Eastham where there are two locks side by side, one 600 ft. by 80 ft., and the other 350 ft. by 50 ft. The outer or lower sill of each lock is 13 ft. below Liverpool Bay Datum. The levels of upper sills of the 80 ft. and 50 ft. locks are 32 ft. and 29 ft. respectively below statutory water level in Canal.

Both locks are operated for incoming and outgoing vessels of suitable draft during a period of 8 hours on each tide, i.e. from 4 hours before high water to 4 hours after high water.

The Canal is constructed to give an available depth of water of 30 ft. from Eastham to Ince Oil Berth (5.375 miles) and of 28 ft. from Ince to Manchester Docks.

The size of vessel which can navigate the Canal is governed by the dimensions of locks, the height of fixed bridges and limitations for the draft of vessel.

Maximum length: The greatest length measured between perpendiculars drawn at the foreside of the foremost extremity and at the afterside of the aftermost extremity of the hull or any attachments to the hull shall not exceed 560 ft.

The length measured between perpendiculars drawn at the foreside of the stern and at the afterside of the rudder post, or through centre of the rudder stock if there is no rudder post, on the Summer load water-line shall not exceed 535 ft.

The length measured between perpendiculars drawn at the afterside of the rudder plate and at the foreside of the foremost extremity of any part of the hull which is below a horizontal line drawn through the top of the rudder plate shall not exceed 544 ft.

Maximum beam: Vessels not proceeding beyond Ince Oil Berth: 72 ft. overall. Vessels proceeding beyond Ince Oil Berth: 63 ft. 6 in. overall.

Provided the height of masts and/or funnels or other structures is not more than 70 ft. 9 in. from water-line, vessels can pass under all fixed bridges under normal conditions. As, however, the headroom is less during periods of high-water levels, a vessel, in order to avoid possible detention, should reduce masts and funnels or other structures to 70 ft. above the water-line. The restriction as regards height does not apply to vessels proceeding only as far as Runcorn Bridge.

Facilities are available at Eastham for removing and replacing tops of masts and funnels.

MAX. SIZE: When vessels are Loading inwards for the canal Masters should take these facts into their calculations and have regard to the following limitations, all of which are expressed as maximum draft in fresh water:

Vessels inward bound to a berth	Arrival draft at Eastham not to be such as would exceed:
Between Eastham Locks and Ince Oil Berth	28 ft. 10 in.	in fresh water
Between Ince Oil Berth and Manchester Docks (other than Pomona Docks)	26 ft. 06 in.
To or from Pomona Docks (for coastwise shipping)	16 ft. 00 in.

Vessels loading outwards at any point between Eastham Locks and Ince Oil Berth should not have a draft exceeding 28 ft. 6 in. upon completion of their loading in this section.

Vessels loading outwards at any point between Ince Oil Berth and Manchester Docks (other than Pomona Docks) should not have a draft exceeding 26 ft. 6 in. upon completion of their loading in this section.

Large vessels can swing in the basins at Stanlow and Manchester Docks. Small vessels can swing at certain other points on the Canal.

HEALTH: Foreign arrivals to complete Maritime Declaration of Health. They are cleared immediately on arrival by either a port doctor or an officer of H.M. Customs depending on where ship comes from and whether there is sickness on board.

Vessels arriving from ports within accepted area (N. European ports) and coastal arrivals need not present Declaration in all cases; when there is sickness on board the Port Health Authority must be informed preferably not more than 12 hours and not less than 3 hours before arrival.

RADIO: FM VHF R/T equipment is installed at Eastham, Stanlow, Latchford and Manchester Docks as an aid to navigation on the Canal.

Ships which are equipped with the appropriate R/T channels are requested to establish contact with the nearest shore station before leaving a berth or lock within the harbour and thereafter to maintain a continuous listening watch on Channel 14.

MILFORD HAVEN: 51.42 N. 04.56 W. (See Plan)

DOCUMENTS:

Port Health Form. Immigration Form.
Customs Forms (Crew Declaration, List of Stores.)
3 Crew Lists.

PILOTAGE: Pilots normally board incoming ships from a green-hulled pilot vessel, in a position S.W. of Mid-Channel Rock Light-tower, as close thereto, as weather, size of ship and circumstances permit. When the Western Channel is being used by very large ships other ships may be requested by the signal station, or by the pilot vessel to use the Eastern channel, if draft, and length of ship permit, in which case the Pilot will board close to Sheep Buoy. Deep-draft ships should not approach too close whilst awaiting the pilot vessel. They should remain at least two miles S.W. of Mid-Channel Rock Light-tower. It is important, when manoeuvring at slow speeds to embark a Pilot to make proper allowance for the set of the tidal stream, which sets across the entrance.

Accurate times of arrival are requested so that the pilot vessel may be on station at the correct time. ETAs should be given at least 12 hours before arrival and amendments should be made 2 hours before the latest ETA.

ETAs and subsequent amendments should be passed by radio telegram or radio telephone through any United Kingdom Coast Station (preferably Ilfracombe Radio) to Milford Haven Signal Station (Milford Haven 2343) or to the local Agent of the ship. Alternatively when within 20 to 30 miles of St. Ann's Head ETAs may be passed direct to Milford Haven Conservancy Board signal station calling on VHF Channel 16 then transferring to Channel 12 (the Port working frequency). In addition ships may call the pilot vessel on MF radio calling on 2,182 kHz and transfer to the working frequencies 2,241, 2,246 or 2,301 kHz.

VHF: It is important to maintain continuous radio telephone contact with Signal Station when within one hour's steaming of St. Ann's Head, and at all times when in Haven and not safely moored to and alongside berth, including times spent at anchor or at buoys.

All vessels equipped with F/M, VHF, R/T should adopt following procedures:

Entering the Harbour: Contact Signal Station on Channel 16 (156.8 mc/s) when within one hour's steaming of St. Ann's Head. After making contact ship will be requested to maintain watch on Channel 12 (156.6 mc/s) until vessel safely moored alongside or at anchor.

Going to anchor or to a buoy mooring: report to Signal Station when secured and then maintain a continuous listening watch on Channel 16.

Berthing alongside: report to Signal Station when safely moored and may then shut down.

Leaving the Haven: Maintain continuous listening watch on Channel 12 (156.6 mc/s) until Pilot has disembarked, when Signal Station should be informed and vessel should maintain a continuous watch on Channel 16 (156.8 mc/s) until one hour after passing St. Ann's Head.

Navigating within the Haven: Maintaining a continuous watch on Channel 12. When radio telephone is used between vessel and tugs during berthing operation Channel 6 or 8 will be used and Signal Station will be informed before vessel comes off Channel 12.

Signal Station will answer calls on Channel 16 for any ship in the port which has been instructed to move off international calling frequency.

ANCHORAGES: Anchorage normally available for vessels up to 40 ft. draft in Dale Roads. Anchorage for smaller vessels normally available in Dale Shelf. Signal Station will advise mariners on the availability of these anchorages.

RESTRICTIONS: The "West Channel" with min. depth of 55 ft. at the entrance and 54 ft. inside is the channel used by the largest tankers. The "East Channel" with min. depth of 32 ft. is available to all vessels of suitable size and vessels able to do so are requested to use it when the largest tankers are entering or leaving in the "West Channel".

MAX. SIZE: Vessels of 65 ft. draft can be handled on virtually all high waters, but draft restriction always dependent on tide, e.g. 63 ft. at worst HW neaps, or up to 67 ft. in favourable conditions. Contact Milford Haven Signal Station on VHF Channel 12 for latest information.

HEALTH: All vessels from endemic areas are boarded by Port Health Officials on arrival. Any suspected disease or fever on board radio Port Health, Milford Haven not more than 18 hours before arrival and not less than 4 hours before arrival.

RADIO: Lands End Radio, Ilfracombe Radio.

PILOTAGE: Portsmouth is within the Southampton and Isle of Wight Trinity House Pilotage District (see Southampton entry for limits of District) and a vessel liable to compulsory pilotage must employ a Pilot from and to the limits of the District. Non-compulsory vessels may obtain a Pilot in the vicinity of the 'Outer Spit' buoy. (Note: All vessels carrying explosives or petroleum products are compulsory from the 'Outer Spit' buoy and within the Harbour area, but Order in Council. This also applies to regular Home Trade vessels.) Ministry of Defence Pilots must be employed in addition for vessels using Admiralty berths or being assisted by Admiralty-owned tugs.

In addition to 48 hours notice to local Agent, advise Nab, Needles or Portsmouth Pilot, as appropriate, ETA 48 hours and again 2 to 3 hours immediately prior to arrival. The Nab, Needles and Portsmouth pilot stations are maintained by fast launches under the control of the Duty Pilot at the Pilot Station, 37 Berth, Southampton Docks. The Duty Pilot keeps a continuous watch on VHF Channel 16; call sign 'Nabpilot', 'Needlespilot' or 'Portsmouthpilot' as appropriate. Working frequency, Channel 9 only, but can listen on Channels 14, 12 and 6. No medium frequency: M/F and R/T messages via NITONRADIO. Duty Pilot's GPO telephone numbers: Southampton 32345 and 32346.

The launches only put to sea when required. Failure to send an accurate ETA 2 to 3 hours before arrival could cause delay to the offending vessel.

Strict compliance with the requirements of the Merchant Shipping (Pilot Ladders) Safety Rules is requested by the Pilots, who may refuse to board vessels with unsatisfactory and dangerous ladders. Manropes are not required. Ladders should reach to about 3 ft. from the water, each rung resting firmly against the ship's side; a good lee should be provided whilst making approximately 3 to 7 knots headway.

In most cases, vessels bound to and from the Westward will find it more convenient to use the Nab or Eastern approach to Portsmouth. For details of entrances and pilot launches, see Southampton entry.

ANCHORAGES: Small vessels may anchor close Westward of the 'Outer Spit' buoy, unless prohibition signal flying – see "Restrictions". Larger vessels will be allocated a numbered anchor berth in the Spithead Man-of-War anchorage.

Historic Wreck: The wreck of the Tudor warship "Mary Rose" lies in Spithead, in the position of Anchor Berth 3. it is marked by a light-buoy, and anchorage within the area designated on the chart is prohibited.

If anchorage is prohibited in Spithead, St. Helen's Roads, Ryde Roads or Cowes Roads are the nearest safe anchorages. Mooring buoys 1, 2 and 3 off North Corner in the Harbour are sometimes used. Pilots will be fully informed before the vessel's arrival.

MAX. SIZE: Commercial berths: Camber – length 270 ft., draft 16 ft. Flathouse – length 310 ft., draft 18 ft. Albert Johnson Quay – length 350 ft. depth at MLWS, 12.5 ft. Continental Ferry Port Ro/Ro Link span, length of quay 240 ft. Depth 17 ft. LWS max. LOA, 330 ft.

Vessels at the Camber, Flathouse and Rudmore wharves must expect to take the bottom in soft mud at low water Springs.

Speed limit of 7 knots in harbour and when within 1,000 yards of shore; 12 knots within 1,000 yards of any H.M. ships and anywhere within the Dockyard Port not covered by the 7 knots limit. Dockyard Port boundaries are shown on Admiralty charts.

Time of entry is restricted by the vessel's draft and state of tide. Enter Camber only at 4 hours before high water or at high water slack. Vessels do not berth at South Railway Jetty from 2 hours before high water until high water.

HEALTH: Foreign arrivals to complete Maritime Declaration of Health. They are cleared immediately on arrival by either a Port Doctor or an officer of H.M. Customs, depending on where ship comes from and whether there is sickness on board.

Vessels arriving from ports within accepted area (North European ports) and coastal arrivals need not present Declaration in all cases; when there is sickness on board, Port Health Authority must be informed, preferably not more than 12 nor less than 3 hours before arrival.

RADIO: See "Southampton" entry for pilotage communications. Harbour Control is exercised through "Portsmouth Harbour Radio" for commercial traffic on Channels 16 and 11 VHF. Continuous watch is kept during office hours and from 00 minutes until +15 minutes of every hour when office is closed. Gilkicker Radio on Channels 16 and 14 is also available for commercial vessels, and all vessels entering the area bounded by the "Warner" buoy in the East and the "Sturbridge" buoy in the West should contact Gilkicker, even if only passing through the District. Channel 13 is the working channel for H.M. ships and the Q.H.M.'s office; call sign "Central". H.M. ships are required to keep a listening watch on Channel 16 when in the Portsmouth and Southampton control areas, and will 'shift' to working frequencies selected by mutual agreement. Gilkicker is also equipped for visual signalling. Medium frequency calls to Pilots and Port Authorities only available by link call through Nitonradio.

TUGS: 200 ton tug with bollard pull of 2 tons (must be ordered well in advance of arrival) and several tow-boat launches are available for commercial vessels at commercial berths. However, it is expected that a considerable amount of Ro/Ro traffic will make use eventually of the new facilities and the easier access routes to Portsmouth.

The commissioning of the new Ro/Ro berth will require the dredging of a new channel to give access to the Rudmore berths.

Unfamiliar vessels, VLCCs, also any vessel without full information about the unusually strong currents in Pentland Firth is recommended to embark the Pilot at the appropriate outside position (Refer to Tidal Stream Atlas, Admiralty Publication H.O. Number NP 209).

Port restrictions which may cause delays: Weather preventing embarkation of Pilot at either inside or outside positions.

Local wind conditions in Scapa Flow preventing a safe approach to the berth.

Remarks; In Scapa Flow the weather conditions, in particular the wind, can change suddenly and quickly deteriorate, not only in Winter but at any time of the year.

Mooring Masters: A Company Mooring Master will board vessels to the Northward of the Calf of Flotta or at her designated anchorage within Scapa Flow prior to berthing at any Terminal Facility. A Company Mooring Master will be on board during the time that a vessel is moored and he will liaise between the Terminal and ship personnel throughout any deballasting, loading or discharging operation.

The Company Mooring Master may ensure that Masters of vessels are familiar with, and strictly observe, all local regulations concerning the safety of operations and pollution of the sea by oil whilst laid at the Company's facilities.

Vessels using the Company's facilities are required to provide the Mooring Master with accommodation and messing of a standard equivalent to that enjoyed by the vessel's officers.

ANCHORAGE: Inside Scapa Flow several anchorages are available depending upon prevailing winds. Sea anchorage outside, in the approaches to the Pentland Firth, is not possible.

APPROACHES: The approach to the Terminal is through the Pentland Firth from East or West, and then Northward through Hoxa Sound, the main entrance to Scapa Flow. Consult Admiralty Sailing Directions Vol. 1, and Admiralty Tidal Stream Atlas for Orkney and Shetland, Publication No. 209. TUGS: 2 tugs (each 2,500 h.p., of 37 tons bollard pull) are available, and compulsory, for berthing. They are both fire fighting tugs and equipped with Warren Springs pollution dispersent equipment.

Whenever a tanker is on a berth, 1 stand-by tug is anchored in the close vicinity for safety and pollution purposes. Fire wires must be rigged off-side forward and aft.

READINESS: Notice of Readiness to load/discharge:

Notice of Readiness will be accepted subject to the following conditions;—

a. The Terminal is open (this decision shall be communicated to the Master of the vessel by the Company).

b. i) The vessel has been boarded by the Company Mooring Master prior to her proceeding towards the berth or
ii) The vessel has anchored within the anchorage area awaiting a berth.

N.B. Although vessels will be loaded in order of Acceptance of Notice of Readiness, it should be borne in mind that Acceptance of Notice of Readiness is contingent upon complete compliance with all the requirements of Port Conditions.

c. Acceptance of Notice of Readiness may be withdrawn by the Company upon the occurrence of any of the following events:—

The decision by the Mooring Master that the vessel's drafts, equipment and/or appurtenances are not suitable for berthing at the Terminal. If this decision has not been taken, for reasons within the Mooring Master's control, within 24 hours from Acceptance of Notice of Readiness, the Company shall be deemed to have waived its right to withdraw acceptance under this sub-paragraph.

Any supervening decision of the Harbour Authority which prevents the vessel from berthing.

N.B. A derrick or crane with a safe working load of not less than 7.5 tons is required for handling hoses at the SPM berths.

BERTHING:

Position:

SPM 1: Lat. 58° 52′ 11.86″ N. Long. 3° 07′ 20.68″ W.
SPM 2: Lat. 58° 52′ 17.72″ N. Long. 3° 05′ 47.79″ W.

Main Control Building (Radio Mast): Lat. 58° 50′ 31.05″ N. Long. 3° 07′ 08.01″ W.

Ballast Manifolds – 1×16 in.
Maximum Loading Rate – 80,000 b.p.h.
Hose Weight – Minimum 7.5 tons

Ballast connection is positioned aft of the 2 crude connections.

A load monitoring system is fitted to each SPM giving constant strain readings to the Terminal Control Room and the Mooring Master on board the tanker. In adverse weather conditions strain gauge readings will indicate when vessel should prepare to vacate the berth.

LPG/Crude Oil Jetty:

Finger type jetty with breasting dolphins.
Tanker Size – 4,000 – 150,000 d.w.t.
Minimum Water Depth – 63 ft.
Maximum Draft – 62 ft.

LPG Loading Rate – 10,000 bbls.p.h.
Crude Manifolds – 4×16 in.
Crude Loading Rate – 80,000 b.p.h. maximum.
Ballast Manifold – 1×16 in. (crude gantry only).
Maximum Deballasting Rate – 40,000 b.p.h.

Terminal Capacity:

1. Crude Oil:

There are 5 tanks, each of 500,000 bbl. nominal capacity for storage of stabilized crude oil, plus a further 2 of 1,000,000 bbls. each, available late 1977.

2. Liquid Petroleum Gas:

There are 2 tanks, each of 100,000 bbl. nominal capacity for storage of propane.

Remarks: In certain current and wind conditions on the SPMs, it may be desirable to keep the propeller turning very slowly astern to prevent overriding, or, possibly some revolutions ahead in an attempt to reduce the tension in the mooring chain during strong winds.

When ship's piping does not permit the pumping of permanent ballast through the manifold, the possibility to load some cargo prior to deballasting the cargo tanks' clean ballast may be granted by prior arrangement with the terminal. In all cases where ships intend to deballast and load simultaneously there must be at least a 2 valve separation.

DENSITY: 1025.

MOORING AND HOSE HANDLING:

On SPMs: Ship's derrick and manifold connections will require to be prepared on the port side. An accommodation ladder will be rigged to starboard with a pilot ladder ready to port.

Securing equipment for single chain mooring forward and hose connecting gear will be hoisted on board from Company work launch by ship's derrick. A good mooring line will be required from forecastle head as a messenger for the buoy mooring.

Tanker Loading Pier: The loading pier is equipped with rigid articulated pipe arms mounted on gantries for loading liquid petroleum gas and also for loading crude oil. The crude oil gantry is also fitted with a ballast discharge arm.

There is an access roadway between the Pier head and the shore. Mooring lines are run to dolphins by terminal mooring boats. Vessels with tension winches when moored at the pier must have winches on 'Manual brake'.

Arrival Draft: Vessels must arrive at the Company's facility in an adequate ballast condition compatible with safe manoeuvring during handling. Excessive trim or insufficient ballast could incur delay until such time as an acceptable condition is reached.

BALLAST: All berths are equipped with water ballast discharge lines. There is a water ballast tank of 500,000 bbls. capacity and a ballast treating facility capable of handling 40,000 bbls.p.h. It is prohibited to discharge water ballast into Scapa Flow.

Bilge Ballast Discharge: Vessels should arrive in Scapa Flow with clean ballast only.

The discharge of bilges and/or ballast by vessels into Scapa Flow is strictly prohibited.

N.B. All ballast water including permanent ballast must be discharged through the Terminal ballast reception and cleaning facility.

Discharge of ballast and simultaneously lifting of cargo is not permitted unless approval has been given by the Mooring Master.

The salvage in ballast shall become the property of the Company, in consideration of the Company's operation of the Terminal ballast reception and cleaning facility.

MEDICAL: Medical and dental services are available by arrangement. Hospital facilities are available at Balfour Hospital, Kirkwall.

FRESH WATER: Only available from 1 water barge of 200 tons capacity, rate 30 to 40 t.p.h. Cabled advice or requirements helpful.

FUEL: Bunkers not available at present, but lubricants in small quantity available. Ships should cable requirements to Agent as soon as possible.

REPAIRS: There are no dry-docking facilities available, but local engineering firms undertake minor repairs to machinery and equipment.

Immobilisation of engines: Not allowed on any of the berths, and not recommended when at anchor. When at the anchorage, however, in special circumstances, and provided the Harbour Master's permission is first obtained, it may be possible.

TRAVEL: There are daily air services, during the week, to Aberdeen, Inverness, Glasgow and Edinburgh from Kirkwall Airport. There is no service on Sunday, There is a daily ferry service from Stromness to Scrabster to connect with British Rail. During the Winter months there is no service on Sunday.

CONSULS: Denmark, Netherlands, Norway and West Germany.

LAUNCH SERVICES: Launch services from Flotta and SPM berths are available by arrangement with local Agents to Kirkwall/Stromness.

SHORE LEAVE: There are no restrictions on shore leave for ships' personnel. For vessels moored at SPMs arrangements can be made with the Agent for a launch service to be operated to the shore. For safety reasons, the boat selected for this service must have good stability, to prevent accidents in cases of hazardous boarding due to weather conditions.

Personnel on vessels berthed at the pier will be conducted to the Terminal Boundary Fence gate by a Company Representative.

SAFETY: Should communications fail, the Mooring Master will authorise continuous soundings of the Ship's whistle or siren as a signal to stop loading (ships in the vicinity capable of so doing should inform the Terminal Control by VHF that this signal is being sounded in case it is inaudible ashore). Ships hearing the signal and unable to contact the Terminal should inform "Harbour Control".

SERVICES: Stores are of good quality, and the laundry facilities are good, but limited. Tank cleaning and dirty ballast facilities are not available.

GENERAL:

Accidental Spills and Leakage: All oil spills and leakages must be immediately reported to the Mooring Master, who will inform the Harbour Authority forthwith. All deballasting/loading/discharging operations will be immediately suspended until the cause of the spill/leakage has been determined, and rectified to the satisfaction of the Mooring Master, and the Harbour Authority.

Galley and Other Refuse: Dumping of all refuse into Scapa Flow and approaches is prohibited. Refuse must be retained on board in sealed containers. (Vessels in port over a long period may make arrangements with their local Agent for collection).

Lighting: Sufficient lighting must be provided in the way of all overboard discharge points to facilitate detection of leaks or spillage. Adequate lighting must also be provided at the loading manifold.

Lifting of Stores; When tankships are at SPM's, loading or off-loading of stores, provisions, drums or any other goods or articles on, to or from the main tank deck is prohibited while cargo is being lifted.

Under certain circumstances and with the approval of the Company's Mooring Master, stores may be worked on the poop during the cargo lifting.

When tankships are moored at the pier, vessels and boats are prohibited from coming alongside during cargo lifting, unless all cargo operations are shut down, all tank openings are closed and secured, and permission from the Mooring Master has been obtained.

Working of stores over the pier will not normally be allowed.

During Loading/Deballasting Operations at SPM's: Mooring Masters will carry Company communication equipment. Ship's VHF must also be available to the Mooring Master at all times. Ship's whistle must be available throughout the time a Mooring Master is on board.

Emergency signals in the event of complete communication failure will be as follows:—

By day: Continuous blasting of ship's whistle accompanied by the hoisting of 2 black balls in a position conspicuous to the Terminal Control Room.

By night: Continuous blasting of ship's whistle accompanied by continuous flashing on an Aldis type signal lamp aimed towards the Terminal Control Room.

In the event of such a communication failure all loading operations shall cease until an effective means of communications has been established.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory, with usual regular Home Trade and other small exemptions. In addition to 48 hours notice to local Agent, advise Nab or Needles Pilot as appropriate, ETA 48 hours and again 2 to 3 hours immediately prior to arrival. The Nab and Needles stations are maintained by fast launches under the control of the Duty Pilot at The Pilot Station, 37 berth, Southampton Docks. Duty Pilot keeps a continuous watch on VHF Channel 16; call sign NABPILOT or NEEDLESPILOT as appropriate. Working frequency; Channel 9 only, but can listen on Channels 6, 12 and 14. No medium frequency: M/F and R/T messages via NITONRADIO. Duty Pilot's GPO telephone numbers: Southampton 32345 and 32346.

The launches only put to sea when required. Failure to send an accurate ETA 2 to 3 hours before arrival could cause delay to the offending vessel.

The Nab and Needles stations also provide Pilots for vessels bound for Portsmouth, Cowes or other small ports within the Trinity House Southampton and Isle of Wight Pilotage District. The limits of the District are defined by a line drawn from a point 180° – 1 mile from Selsey Bill to a position in 50° 40′ N., 0° 57′ W. (Nab Tower), thence to a point 180° – 1 mile from Culver Cliff, thence to a position 180° – 1 mile from St. Catherine's Lighthouse and thence direct to Peveril Point, but excluding the Poole Pilotage District (q.v.).

Strict compliance with the requirements of the Merchant Shipping (Pilot Ladders) Safety Rules is requested by the Pilots, who may refuse to board vessels with unsatisfactory and dangerous ladders. Manropes are not required. Ladders should reach to approximately 3 ft. from the water, each rung resting firmly against the ship's side; and a good lee provided whilst making approximately 5 to 7 knots headway.

Eastern Approaches or Nab Tower. The station is maintained by 40-ft. fast launches, black hulls, white wheelhouses, showing international signals. VHF Channels 6, 9, 12 and 16. Vessels under 40 ft. draft are normally boarded between the "New Grounds" and "Dean Tail" light buoys, approximately 2 miles NNW of Nab Tower, although in bad weather, boarding at the "Warner" buoy or St. Helen's Roads might be advised by the Duty Pilot. Launches operate from Ryde pier or from Portsmouth Harbour.

Vessels over 35 ft. draft are restricted by tide for time of entry, and will be advised by the Duty Pilot. Vessels of 40 ft. draft and over use the Nab Channel and a message advising Tanker Master of transit times will be sent by Essoship Fawley and confirmed prior to arrival by Duty Pilot by VHF.

The Nab Channel has a limiting depth of 39.7 ft. (although 43 ft can be carried to West of centre line (1976)) below Chart Datum (April 1976). Pilot will board all vessels of 40 ft. draft and over in a position 2 to 3 miles South of the Nab Tower. Masters of such vessels are strongly recommended not to approach closer than 2 miles to the Nab Tower without a Pilot, owing to strong tidal streams. It is advisable for a deep-drafted ship to anchor 3 miles South of the Nab Tower if waiting for the tide. Advice will always be given on request to the Duty Pilot by VHF.

Pilot will not board vessels under 40 ft. draft outside the defined pilotage district unless specifically requested by the Master to do so. The additional "Out of District" charge for boarding beyond the normal limits will be debited to Owners.

Western Approach – Needles: Vessels drawing more than 31 ft. are advised to enter via the Nab. Masters are strongly urged not to proceed beyond the Fairway Buoy without a Pilot, especially on the flood tide. Safe anchorage in vicinity of "Fairway" Buoy.

Station maintained by 40 ft. fast launch, black hull and white wheelhouse, showing international signals. Launch operates from Yarmouth Harbour or Lymington. Needles pilot launch is fitted with VHF Channel 6, 9, 12 and 16. No medium frequency.

When it is considered that the weather is deteriorating to the extent that the boarding and landing of Pilots could in the near future become dangerous, a message will be sent to all ships through Nitonradio, as follows:

> "Needles Pilot operating bad weather routine. Vessels should ascertain at least 3 hours before their ETA Needles whether a Pilot will be available. This information can be obtained either through Niton Radio or direct from Needles Pilot on VHF."

If it is not safe to ship or land the Pilot at the Needles, Masters will be advised to proceed to the Nab.

In poor visibility a vessel requiring Pilot at either Nab or Needles uses a distinguishing signal of "G" to which the pilot launch will reply with "H".

General: Particular attention should be paid by Masters to the designated "Reporting Points" marked on the Admiralty Charts. Reports should be made on VHF to Southampton Port Radio, to enable all echoes on the port radar to be properly identified for the benefit of all mariners navigating within the District. This applies equally to naval and to non-compulsory vessels.

Vessels (a) drawing more than 35 ft. (b) more than 1,000 ft. in length or (c) of more than 100,000 d.w.t. exhibit a large black cylinder by day and 3 vertical red lights by night. Vessels showing these signals are not to be passed or overtaken within channel limits between the "West Bramble" and "Hook" light buoys and may not be able to comply with the Collision Regulations at other times. Will indicate inability by 5 short blasts on the whistle. "Clear channel" control is exercised by the Operations Officer at Port Radar Station, 37 berth, Southampton Docks.

Information on the movement of other vessels can be obtained on VHF from this station (and from Gilkicker Signal Station for movements in the Portsmouth area). A patrol launch (Harbour Master flag by day, all-round blue light by night) is controlled by the Southampton Operations Officer for pollution detection and keeping channels clear of pleasure craft for the passage of large vessels. The Thorn Channel has a limiting depth of 41 ft. (April 1976) at low water datum.

Up to 7 vessels of under 300 ft. in length are permitted to anchor out of the channel to the East of the "Hook" Buoy in the designated Small Ship Anchorage, the limits of which must be strictly observed. Three numbered anchor berths are available in the Fawley Reach Controlled Anchorage, where vessels must moor to 2 anchors. Permission to use the Small Ship and Controlled Anchorages must be obtained from the Operations Officer, Southampton Port Radio.

MAX. SIZE: The largest passenger and container vessels call regularly at Southampton. Tankers: Fawley can accept partly loaded VLCC's up to 49 ft. draft.

HEALTH: Foreign arrivals to complete Maritime Declaration of Health. They are cleared immediately on arrival by either a port doctor or an officer of H.M. Customs depending on where ship comes from and whether there is sickness on board.

Vessels arriving from ports within accepted area (N. European ports) and coastal arrivals need not present Declaration in all cases: when there is sickness on board the Port Health Authority must be informed preferably not more than 12 hours and not less than 3 hours before arrival.

VHF: A Duty Port Operations Officer, responsible to the Southampton Dock and Harbour Master, maintains a continuous watch at 37 Berth Port Communications and Radar Station: call sign "Southampton Port Radio". He is to be informed prior to any movement to, from or within the port area. The following VHF Channels are operated within the port:

Southampton Port Radio: Channels 16, 14, 12, 18, 20 and 22.

BTDB Patrol Launch (Call sign Southampton Patrol) Channels 16, 14, 12, 10, 8 and 6.

Nab and Needles Pilot Launches: Channels 16, 14, 12, 9, 6 and 0.

Nab and Needles Pilot Stations: Channels 16 and 9. (Duty Pilot).

Southampton Pilot Launch (call sign Southampton Pilot) Channels 16, 14, 12, 9, 6 and 19.

Southampton Pilot Station (call sign Southampton Pilot) Channels 16 and 9 (Duty Pilot).

Tugs: Channels 16, 14, 12, 6 and 19. When working: Channels 8 or 10.

Esso Petroleum Terminal, Fawley: Channels 16, 14 and 19. Private frequencies: 163.0/158.5 mc/s AM and FM.

B.P. Oil Ltd., Hamble. Channels 16 and 14.

TUGS: 2 tugs are permanently stationed at Fawley; if more than 2 tugs are required it should be noted that week-end requirements have to be advised to the tug operators not later than 1800 hrs. on Friday of each week.

If a vessel required more than 2 tugs and is due to arrive at Fawley between 0001 hrs. Saturday and 0900 hrs. Monday, ETAs must be submitted well in advance of 1600 hrs. on the Friday prior to arrival. It is usual to use the wires provided by the tugs for towing.

BERTHING: The Pilot boarding the ship at the Sea Station or anchorage will also berth the ship. Non-compulsory vessels can obtain or disembark a Pilot in the vicinity of the "N.W. Netley" or "Hook" buoys by contacting "Southampton Pilot" on VHF.

TETNEY MARINE TERMINAL: 53.32 N. 00.07 E.

DOCUMENTS: The following documents should be completed for arrival:

Crew Manifest, C142.
Health Declaration, PS1.
Crew List, IB6.
Stores on Board List.

These documents will be handed to the Master of the Conoco work boat who will take them to Immingham for perusal by HM Customs and Immigration. On the return trip of the work boat the Agent and Customs will board to clear the vessel and attend to ships business. Pratique is granted by HM Customs when they visit the vessel.

Stores can be taken at the berth provided the Agents are given the order at least 72 hours before arrival.

LOCATION: Tetney Marine Terminal is the deep water crude oil terminal of Crude Oil Terminals (Humber) Limited, operated by Conoco Limited.

The position of the mono-buoy is Lat. 53° 32′ 18″ N., Long. 00° 06′ 48″ E., lying in approx. 60 ft. of water at low water and about 2.5 miles offshore.

Tetney is an open roadstead in the entrance of the River Humber on the East coast of England. The tidal rates in the vicinity of the mono-buoy reach 3.5 knots during Spring tides and the direction of the ebb and flood tides is generally East and West respectively. The tidal range varies between 7 ft. and 22.5 ft.

PILOTAGE: Vessels are requested to send ETA and draft to Spurn Pilot 12 hours before arrival and any adjustment to that time at least 2 hours before arrival. Spurn Pilots listen continuously on VHF Channel 16 and use Channel 14 as a working frequency.

Additionally, Agents should be advised of ETA 72 hours before arrival and the following information should be included in the cable, arrival draft, size of forecastle centre mooring fairlead, bow to manifold distance and cargo manifold size.

Pilotage is by Humber Pilots who board in the vicinity of the Humber Light Vessel from a fast launch. Additional berthing information can be obtained from Tetney Base.

The Berthing Controller and his Assistant will board as the vessel approaches the mono-buoy and will assist the Pilot in the mooring operation. He will advise the ships Officers during the mooring operation, hose connection and disconnection, and will act as Company representative throughout the vessel's stay in the berth.

Vessels must provide a pilot ladder with spreaders and grab lines for the Pilot and Berthing Controllers to board and whilst in the berth a suitable gangway with a pilot ladder near the end in order to board from a small boat.

VHF: There is a VHF station at Tetney which is manned 24 hours a day and has the call sign, 'Tetney Base'. A continuous watch is kept on VHF Channels 16, 19 (161.55/156.95), and 48 (163.00/158.40). Channel allocation is as follows, 16 calling, 19 ship to shore, and 48 port operations. UHF (467.725 mc/s.) is allocated for use by the Conoco Berthing Controller, Tetney Terminal and the Conoco owned work boats.

The Pilot and Berthing Controllers carry portable VHF hand sets for use during berthing for inter-ship and ship to tug communications, Channel 9 (156.45 mc/s.).

Portable radios can be provided for vessels not having a VHF set and the Agents should be so informed in order to allow time to dispatch a set to the ship on arrival. A vessel arriving without suitable means of communication and not having informed the Agent of the fact could incur delays.

BERTHING: The following equipment is required to moor and is placed aboard the vessel when the Berthing Controller boards from the Conoco service craft, Spurn Haven:—

2 each 50 ton S.W.L. alloy steel shackles.

2 each 44 mm. diameter wire securing strops with a 2 metre soft eye at each end, overall length 37 m.

In addition to this mooring gear hose hang-off chains and securing equipment is placed aboard at the same time.

The vessel approaches the mono-buoy on a Westerly heading. A messenger (min. 40 mm. diameter) should be lowered to the water and this will be picked up by the Conoco mooring launch "Monogirl" when approx. 150 m. from the mono-buoy. this messenger will be made fast to a 80 mm. × 92 m. polypropylene pick up rope which should be heaved up as the vessel makes the final approach to the buoy. When the chafing chain is in the fairlead the open links are shackled to the wire strops which are turned up on a suitably sited set of bitts.

HOSES: Hoses are taken on the port side and the port derrick (min. S.W.L. 10 tons) should be rigged and ready for use on arrival.

Two 16 in. hoses are taken aboard, manifolds should be 16 in. 150 A.S.A. and 10 in. and 12 in. 150 A.S.A. can be accommodated by the provision of reducers. Should a vessel have any other size of manifold or be unable to provide adaptors to suit one of the sizes, Tetney Terminal will need to be notified at least 72 hours before arrival.

Hose connection and disconnection is carried out by the ships crew under the supervision of the Berthing Controller. Upon completion of discharge the hoses will be filled with sea water by the ship after which disconnection can commence. When the hoses are blanked off they will be hung off until just before sailing when they will be lowered to the Spurn Haven for towing clear.

POLLUTION: It is the Master's responsiblity to see that no oil of any kind is pumped or spilled overboard from his vessel. This includes oil water from the bilges, crude residues from previous voyages or any other matter that may result in the pollution of the sea. Owners and Masters should comply with any international regulations and recommendations concerning the prevention of pollution of the sea, especially in regard to the river Humber.

SHORE LEAVE: None of the officers or crew shall be allowed shore leave and no boats of any kind, except in an emergency, shall be lowered during the vessel's stay in the berth.

GENERAL

AGRICULTURE: All ports

Arrival Notification: The vessels' Master or port agent should notify the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) inspector at each port of arrival of expected time and location of arrival.

Documents: The cargo, stores, and crews' effects lists or manifests must be available for review by the boarding USDA inspector.

Inspection: The USDA inspector will examine the galleys, storerooms, lockers, mess areas, and crew quarters in some instances for prohibited plant materials (fruits, vegetables, and plants) and meat products. Some categories of food materials may require being placed under seal. Also, inspections may be made of onboard cargo and cargo holds.

Garbage: all food wastes aboard vessels arriving from foreign or offshore areas (except Canada) must be handled in accordance with USDA regulations. Garbage may be held aboard vessels in leakproof, covered containers for disposal at sea or, it may be removed with permission of a USDA inspector for disposition in approved facilities.

Treatments: If quarantine-significant pests are found aboard a vessel, an Emergency Action Order may be issued to the Master. It will prescribe what treatments are required to the affected articles or area of the vessel and when this treatment must be accomplished.

Animals/birds: All live animals or birds aboard vessels must be reported to the USDA inspector.

For additional information: Write to "Quarantines," U.S. Department of Agriculture, Federal Building, Hyattsville, MD 20782.

HEALTH: All ports.

The U.S. Public Health Service does not maintain Quarantine Stations at each port of entry. The smaller ports are under the jurisdiction of Quarantine Stations located at strategic ports of entry. Matters of public health significance occurring on vessels destined to ports not manned by Public Health Service personnel should be reported to the Quarantine Station having jurisdiction over that port.

Masters of Vessels arriving at United States ports

Effective July 1, 1973, radio pratique as a method of quarantine clearance will be discontinued at all ports under control of the United States. Changes in regulations, policies, and procedures concerning maritime public health clearance have been promulgated.

Vessels subject to routine inspection

Only vessels in the following categories will be subject to onboard public health inspection upon arrival at ports under control of the United States:

A. Crew or passengers having:
   1. Temperature of 100° F (38° C) or greater (a) which persisted for 2 days or more; or (b) which was accompanied or followed by any one or all of the following: rash, jaundice, glandular swelling; or
   2. Diarrhoea severe enough to interfere with work or normal activity; or
   3. On board occurrence of death, regardless of the signs and symptoms above.

B. Vessels which have been in a smallpox infected country during the 15 days prior to arrival in the United States.

C. Vessels which have been in a plague infected country in the 60 days prior to arrival in the United States.

Procedures. Vessels in any of the categories, A, B, or C above will be granted provisional pratique and boarded upon arrival for inspection. In addition, vessels boarded for quality control may be boarded upon or subsequent to arrival. In accordance with regulations you must inform the quarantine station, through your vessel Agent, at or nearest the intended port of your vessel's first arrival in the United States of the occurrence of illness as specified in A above. Based on information you provide your Agent, or information your Agent already possesses regarding your vessel's itinerary, your Agent will notify the quarantine station if your itinerary included a smallpox or plague infected country. Arriving vessels no longer need to complete a maritime public health declaration unless boarded for inspections as described above. The boarding inspector will provide the declaration.

These changes reflect our confidence that you will continue to report, in advance of arrival in the United States, the on-board occurrence of illness compatible with the signs and symptoms specified above.

SHIP'S OFFICER'S REPORT: The information given for the port of New Orleans (U.S.A.) applies to all the ports in the U.S.A. in the event of the vessel arriving from abroad or from a previous U.S. port. PILOTAGE: Each vessel entering the Chesapeake Capes under foreign flag or carrying foreign cargo is required to employ a Pilot of the Association of Maryland Pilots. The Association maintains a pilot boat which is anchored at the entrance of the Chesapeake Capes. Pilots will be furnished with a small transistorised portable radio unit, which provide ships bridge to bridge communication system to ensure navigational safety while traversing the waters of Chesapeake Bay. It is a positive means of communication to ensure ship's position reporting, the safety and movement of vessels, as well as messages related to the operational needs of vessels proceeding to the port, and provide the Pilots communications instructions expediting operations of vessels when they are aboard.

The pilot boat has a black hull and is located 2 miles North of Cape Henry Lighthouse.

The pilot ladder should be 2 ft. above the water – manropes not required.

Send ETA pilot station via WMH 24 hours before arrival. Also advise if change in ETA is over 2 hours.

The ETA message should state whether arriving via Chesapeake and Delaware Ship Canal or Cape Henry, and deepest draft and speed of vessel.

Cable address of Pilot: "Marpilot, Baltimore", pilot vessel on VHF Channel 16, 13A and 18A.
ANCHORAGE: Numerous anchorages located within harbour limits for ocean-going vessels. 7 such areas are available for vessels of light and heavy draft. 4 of these anchorages are located on the East side of the main ship channel between the entrance channel to the Central Soya Company Grain Elevator and Fort Carroll. 2 are on the West side of the main ship channel, and 1 on the North side of Curtis Bay channel.

At Sandy Point, approximately 22 miles South of Baltimore, there is an emergency anchorage in natural deep water with depth of 50 ft. or more.

RESTRICTIONS: There are two different approaches and exits to the sea lanes. The principal route is by way of the Southerly course through the Chesapeake Bay and Cape Henry to the ocean. The distance by this route is approximately 150 nautical miles. There is a main ship channel 20 miles long from Baltimore to the Chesapeake Bay; this channel is 800 ft. wide and 42 ft. deep.

The other route to the sea lanes is via the Chesapeake and Delaware Ship Canal. This offers a short protected route between Baltimore and other leading North Atlantic ports by way of Delaware Bay and allows ships serving North Atlantic European ports to save about 115 miles sailing distance.

Entrance to the Chesapeake and Delaware Ship Canal is located about 50 miles North of Baltimore. The width of the channel is 450 ft. Max. draft 26 ft. 06 ins. The canal itself is 15 miles in length, and from the Delaware Bay side the distance to sea lanes is about 60 miles. Navigation lights are maintained so the canal is open to navigation day and night.

MAX. SIZE: Length 1,250 ft., draft 42 ft. at Canton Ore pier.

HEALTH: See "Health; All Ports" before first U.S.A. port (Albany). Illness reports made to Baltimore Quarantine Station.

AGRICULTURE: See "Agriculture" before first U.S.A. port (Albany).

TUGS: The port has an efficient fleet of tug-boats in operation. The tugs usually take vessel in tow at Quarantine Station.

BRIDGES: The Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel is located across the entrance to the Bay, between Cape Henry and Cape Charles. This vehicular crossing consists of fixed causeways and bridges, and 2 tunnels – one under the Chesapeake Channel and one under the Thimble Shoal Channel.

No bridges cross the main ship channel in Baltimore Harbour. Vessels en route to the harbour from the ocean via the Chesapeake Bay pass under the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, about 151 statute miles above the ocean entrance to the bay. This bridge is 3.7 miles long from shore to shore; its western end is 0.5 miles S.W. of Sandy Point and its Eastern end is on Kent Island, 4 miles S.W. of Love Point. The Curtis Creek and Middle Branch sections of harbour are each crossed by highway and railraod bridge.

The Francis Scott Key Bridge is being constructed at the entrance to Baltimore Harbour between Sollers Point and Hawkins Point. Completion is scheduled for January, 1977. The bridge will be 8,640 ft. long, the main channel horizontal clearance will be 800 ft. and vertical clearance 180 ft.

DENSITY: The salinity of Baltimore harbour waters requires full fresh water draft allowance.

RESTRICTIONS: There are 3 main channels of entrance from sea to President Roads.

Broad Sound North Channel from Broad Sound to President Roads from N.E. Dredged 35 ft. deep and 1,500 ft. wide and is deepened to 40 ft. in a width of 900 to 1,100 ft. This channel well marked by lighted buoys.

Broad Sound South Channel from Broad Sound S.W. and Westerly to President Roads. Dredged 30 ft. deep and 1,200 ft. wide. This channel is well marked by buoys and ranges but most aids to navigation are not lighted.

The Narrows is channel leading into Boston Harbour from S.E. between Boston Lighthouse and Lovells Island on the N.E. and Point Allerton, Georges Island and Gallups Island on S.W. Depth is 27 ft. Width is generally 1,000 ft. except in a section between Narrows Light and Georges Island where shoaling on N.E side limits it to 700 ft. Channel is well marked.

The Main Ship Channel of Boston Harbour extends from President Roads to the mouths of the Chelsea and Mystic Rivers and to Charlestown Bridge on the Charles River. Channel has been dredged 35 ft. deep and 1,200 ft. wide to the inner end where widths decrease near the river mouths. It has been deepened to 40 ft. for 600 ft. width from President Roads to the mouth of the Mystic River, with a widening to 1,200 ft. at the bend just Northerly of Commonwealth Pier No. 5, South Boston.

Charles River is the approach by water to Cambridge and Watertown. About 0.5 mile above the lower bridge there is a dam with a lock 45 ft. by 350 ft. with depth of 17 ft. over the lower sill. Depths above dam decrease gradually to 9 ft., basin level, at head of navigation. Mystic River is approach by water to Everett, Malden and Medford. Controlling depths are 35 ft., from Mystic River bridge to approximately 1 mile above, thence 20 ft. from the 35 ft. channel to 800 ft. above the Malden Bridge to a point abreast Monsanto Chemical Company plant. Chelsea River is approach to city of Revere. Channel from entrance to a point opposite the Tenneco Oil Co. terminal has a controlling depth of 35 ft. Weymouth Fore River is approach by water to Quincy and Weymouth. Controlling depth is 30 ft. to Fore River Bridge. Controlling depth for a distance of 2,800 ft. above Fore River Bridge is 30 ft. Town River extends N.W. from Weymouth Fore River at Quincy Point. River has a controlling depth of 27 ft. from deep water in Weymouth Fore River to a point opposite the Quincy Oil Co. terminal. Opposite Quincy Oil Co. terminal there is a turning basin 18 ft. deep, 400 ft. wide and 1,000 ft. long.

MAX. SIZE: The primary entrance to Boston Harbour is via the North Channel and President Roads. Controlling depth is 35 ft. MLW. Average rise of the tide in Boston is 9.5. ft.

Generally speaking, vessels drawing 40 ft. are taken at the top of the tide to White Fuel and Exxon only. Vessels going to berths in the Mystic River above the Mystic River Bridge are limited by the bridge's vertical clearance of 135 ft. MHW.

Vessels consigned to berths in the Chelsea Creek are limited to a length of 669 ft., beam of 90 ft. and draft of 36 ft. high water docking. Furthermore, vessels which exceed 630 ft. going above the Chelsea Street bridge are restricted to daylight docking. Daylight sailing is required from the berths above the McArdle Bridge if the vessel is over 585 ft. long.

As a rule, vessels are docked bow in at the Chelsea Creek berths. If docked between the bridges, departure is stern first through the McArdle Bridge. If docked above the Chelsea Street bridge, then on sailing, the vessel is turned in the basin West of the Gibbs and Union terminals.

The controlling depth in the channel leading to Weymouth Fore River is 28 ft. MLW. Vessels with a max. draft of 33 ft. 6 in. will be taken at high water, but it should be noted that docking and undocking in Fore River are daylight operations – between sunrise and sunset – and no vessel longer than 628 ft. will be handled.

Ships going to the liquid gas facility in Dorchester are restricted to daylight docking and sailing. The controlling depth in the entrance channel in 18 ft. MLW.

Many of them have railroad connections. The depths of water available alongside these terminals range up to a maximum of 40 ft. at mean low water. Bulk Cement Piers:
There are 2 berths in Boston used exclusively for the discharge of bulk cement from barges. Both are in the Mystic River.

No. 28: Allied Concrete Corp. Telephone. 389-2800. This berth is leased to: Marquette Cement Manufacturing Co. Telephone. 235-8006.

No. 33: Atlantic Cement Company, Inc. Telephone. 241-9090.

Meat Inspection Station: The Massachusetts Port Authority operates a meat inspection station on Mystic Pier (No. 38) adjacent to the Moran Container Terminal.

Random incoming meat samples are cut, defrosted, weighed, inspected, and re-frozen at this new facility, enabling inspectors to use one central location instead of the 5 other waterfront stations previously utilized.

The chief component of the building is the large, well-lighted, well-ventilated, and sanitary inspection room. Walls are ceramic tile, the floor has quarry tile, and the ceiling is of acoustical tile.

Up to 50 containers of meat a day will be inspected at this modern facility.

LNG/LPG: Presently there are 2 facilities in Boston Harbour which handle LNG (Liquid Natural Gas – methane). Boston Gas at Commercial Point, Dorchester, Mass., and Distrigas on the Mystic River, Everett, Mass., have storage capabilities for LNG.

The Exxon Everett facility receives and stores LPG (Liquefied Propane Gas).

The Captain of the Port has issued very specific requirements for vessels transitting the harbour and transferring cryogenic cargoes. The Coast Guard team consisting of Port Safety Station, representing the Captain of the Port, and Marine Inspection Office boarding officers and the men assigned to the escort and monitoring details are charged with the responsibility for insuring compliance with these regulations which are detailed in the 60-page LNG/LPG Contingency Plan issued by the Captain of the Port. Included in the plan are the following General Regulations:

The vessel must:

(1) Hold a current Letter of Compliance for the carriage of methane/propane issued by the Commandant and a Certificate of Financial Responsibility for Oil Pollution.

(2) Enter the harbour only during daylight hours. Additionally, vessels transitting Dorchester may only do so within 2 hours of high water. Weather permitting, the COTP may authorize night departures providing the vessel does not have a full or partial cargo.

(3) Enter the harbour only during periods of good visibility. If the visibility is less than 2 miles the vessel must:

(i) If at sea, not enter the port without the COTP's premission.

(ii) If in port, notify COTP of position and then proceed to berth or anchorage, whichever nearer.

(4) Maintain a radio watch on Channel 13 (156.65 mHz) while underway in the port area. Additionally, a watch should be maintained on Channel 16 (156.8 mHz).

(5) Not commence offloading cargo prior to the satisfactory completion of the arrival safety inspection by Coast Guard Marine Inspectors and the issuance of the Permit to Handle Explosives or Other Dangerous Cargo (CG Form 4260).

Additionally:

(1) The vessel must moor either bow to seaward and be prepared to get underway on short notice, should an emergency so require, or have a tug standing by during all cargo operations. A tug standby will be required on a vessel's first visit to this port.

(2) The vessel will normally be boarded while anchored in President Roads by COTP/OCMI Inspectors unless, prior to the vessel's arrival, the Master sends a message to COTP stating that: "To the best of my knowledge and belief there are no known casualties to this vessel or its machinery which might affect the seaworthiness. I further state that all cryogenic handling and detection equipment is in proper operating condition."

If this message has been received, the inspection will be made at the dock unless it is the vessel's first visit to Boston. On a vessel's first visit to Boston the boarding will always be made in President

Roads. If the vessel does not hold a Letter of Compliance the boarding will be made in Broadsound and the vessel will not be allowed to enter the port until a temporary Letter of Compliance is issued.

(3) Venting gas to the atmosphere is not permitted in port.

(4) All cargo operations must cease if electrical storms are present.

(5) If interpreters are not available, all ship's personnel directly involved in the transfer operation shall readily speak the English language.

(6) If the vessel is at anchorage a live bridge watch shall be maintained. A round of bearings fixing the vessel's position shall be taken hourly followed by a report, every 4 hours, to USCG Group Boston on Channel 16 FM reporting anchor holding and operations normal or any significant change in position or deviation from the norm.

Also, whenever an LNG/LPG vessel is transitting Boston Inner or Outer Harbour (to the seaward entrance of the Boston North Channel) no other vessel will be allowed to be underway in an area 2 nautical miles ahead and 1 nautical mile astern of the LNG/LPG vessel in transit. This concept can be thought of as a "moving restricted area" centred on the LNG/LPG vessel. For vessel movement in an area of the Port other than that described above, express permission from COTP Boston must be obtained.

Furthermore, the maximum allowable speed for any vessel movement during an LNG/LPG vessel transit, will be 6 knots. A Coast Guard escort craft will always be present during an LNG/LPG vessel transit and will vigorously enforce these vessel movement restrictions. The maximum penalty for violation of any of the rules established under the above authority is imprisonment for not more than 10 years and a fine of not more than $10,000.

It should be noted that these rules establishing a restricted envelope around the LNG/LPG vessel and the 6 knot speed limit apply not only to other vessels but to the LNG/LPG vessel itself. Therefore, the LNG/LPG vessel may not approach any closer than 2 nautical miles to another vessel underway, thus eliminating a possible collision should another vessel lose steerage or suffer a casualty. These rules prohibit crossing, meeting or overtaking situations from occuring in Boston Harbour out to the seaward entrance to the North Channel. However, other vessel movements during an LNG/LPG vessel transit may be allowed with permission of the Captain of the Port.

LNG/LPG Vessel Inspections: Before an LNG/LPG vessel is allowed to conduct cargo operations in the Port of Boston, the vessel must undergo a joint COTP/MIO Boston inspection to determine if all cargo handling and detection systems are in proper working order. One of the tests involves the introduction of a properly certificated amount of test gas (span gas) into the vessel's gas detection system. This allows the Inspector to determine if the gas detection system is functioning properly and is able to detect the presence of LNG or LPG should an actual leak occur somewhere on the vessel. Until recently, if a vessel did not have on board a cylinder of the properly certificated span gas, the Coast Guard Inspectors would provide this service. However, due to the increasing costs of the gas (LNG over $40.00 and LPG over $63.00), the vessel will be required to provide the span gas with a valid certificate attesting to its composition before the inspection can begin. Also, for the inspection to continue, shipboard or civilian technicians must be available to rectify any problem that may develop.

BURNSIDE, (Including St. James), Louisiana: 30.08 N. 90.55 W.

East bank of Mississippi River, about 200 miles from sea.
DOCUMENTS/PILOTAGE: For all general information refer to "New Orleans".
HEALTH: See "Health: All Ports" before first U.S.A. port (Albany). Illness reports made out to New Orleans Quarantine Station.
AGRICULTURE: See "Agriculture" before first U.S.A. port (Albany).
TUGS: Not normally required.
BERTHING: Bulk Marine Terminal: berth 800 ft. long, 40 ft. depth; Ormet Corporation berth 825 ft. long, 50 ft. depth.
TANKERS: St. James: The facility is located on the West bank of the Mississippi River at Mile 180 above Head of Passes.

The operators are Shell Pipeline Corporation, Donaldsonville, Louisiana.

There are 2 berths, one of which is 800 ft. long and the other 1,100 ft. long. At the newer dock there are two 16 in. arms and the berth is capable of unloading 28,000 barrels per hour.

The depth alongside these berths is 55 to 60 ft. However, the draft of the vessel is limited to that available at Southwest Pass.

It is important to note that due to the design of this terminal it is impractical for vessels to receive stores at this location. Additionally there are no bunkers provided at this terminal nor is there any fresh water available from the terminal and there is no authorized anchorage in the immediate area of this facility. Vessels expecting less than 24 hours delay awaiting berth are generally anchored at New Orleans and then proceed to the terminal (which is a different port of entry for Customs) otherwise vessels would have to anchor at Burnside which is about 10 miles up river from St. James.

Because of an underwater pipe-line near the dock, the terminal management requires all vessels using their facility to have at least 1 tug of 1,800 h.p. to assist in docking and undocking. Note that the tugs emanate from New Orleans which means approximately 7 hours transit to St. James.

As a point of reference it generally takes approximately 15 or 16 hours transit from Southwest Pass to St. James Terminal for most vessels.
FRESH WATER: Available ex-berth.
FUEL: Not available.
DENSITY: Fresh water, 1000.

Crew must not clean hatches. Labour has claim on cleaning and has to be paid in addition to crew. Crew open and close hatches, but not until hatch foreman present. Not before labour working hours.

Working heavy lifts with ship's gear loading rate very slow, especially at end of shift. Due to nature of deck cargo; 11 ton lifts 52 ft. long.

Constant supervision needed for deck cargo.

Head stevedore checks Factory Act Book before starting.

No plan makers. Details sent back to New Orleans for redistribution to discharge ports.

General: Pilot boards from large grey metal cutter off fairway buoy. Flash every 2.5 seconds. Give good lee and have ladder 8/10 ft. above water with usual manropes, heaving line, etc.

If you have to anchor most vessels use the Eastern anchorage about 1.5 miles East of fairway buoy and clear of fairway marked channel. Soft mud bottom. Use plenty of cable.

Berth; Ships spaced very close to each other. Rise and fall of tide about 1 ft.

Moorings: at least 4 head lines and stern lines plus 2 springs each end. Ships frequently passing and channel narrow consequently a good deal of surge. Lines to be frequently looked at and kept tight. Parted 3 springs in as many days!!! Gangway also to be watched. General rule is to use ship's gangway. Wide apron in front of sheds with rail lines but fork-lifts used most.

Agents have office on wharf with direct line to city office and outside lines.

Wooden piling which acts as fenders. Bollards of the large cleat type. Sufficient but not plentiful. Two linesmen each end when arriving and departing. No permanent cranes but mobile ones can be hired. Quay about 25 ft. above water.

Recommended not to walk about or up to bus especially at night. Better for 2 or more to get a taxi. Fairly good 3–4 dollars to Houston.

Seamans Mission near by. Very good, new and modern.

Tugs: Used for berthing and unberthing. Had 2 on arrival due to strong wind and close proximity of mast top to bridge.

Sailing had 1 tug lashed up alongside forward shoulder.

Tugs use own lines.

Bridge: There is a bridge above Upper Clinton Bend from Manchester on the South to Clinton Park on the North. This is a relatively new bridge to be passed under with a clearance of only 135 ft. Check the rise of tide on way up.

AUTHORITY: Port of Houston Authority.

HUENEME, California: 34.09 N. 119.12 W.

(See Plan)

DOCUMENTS: See "San Francisco".

PILOTAGE: It is requested that ships entering port stand by 1 mile off harbour entrance and await port Pilot who will board from a tug. The U.S. Coast Guard Station at the harbour entrance maintains a radio beacon.

All vessels 300 gross registered tons and over entering, leaving and shifting within the Port of Hueneme, including area of the Oxnard Harbour District, must be piloted by a port Pilot duly licensed to perform the services of piloting vessels within the Port of Hueneme. The Oxnard Harbour District does not maintain Pilots; licensed Pilots are available on a 24-hour-a-day basis from the Commanding Officer, Naval Construction Battalion Center. As a service to all vessels, requests for Pilots may be made by Agent or ship to General Manager of Oxnard Harbour District, who will act for ship in obtaining necessary Pilots. They can also be obtained by an electronic message request addressed to "CO, CBCEN, PORHUE" or by direct request to the Port Services Officer, U.S. Naval Construction Battalion Center. It is not necessary to change Pilots at this port.

ANCHORAGE: If there is a wait for Pilot caused by weather, visibility, congestion in harbour, or any other reason, the best anchorage area is W.S.W. of the harbour entrance where there are no hazards and there is some protection afforded by the natural curve of the coastline.

RESTRICTIONS: The length of entrance channel is 2,300 ft. The narrowest width of harbour entrance channel is 330 ft. However, because of prevailing fresh winds, this is a one-way channel; thus, deep-draft ships not able to manoeuvre easily in a restricted channel have precedence over smaller craft.

RADIO: The U.S. Coast Guard Station, Channel Islands Marine, located at the entrance to harbour, guards the following frequencies: 2182 kc/s., 156.8 mc/s., and VHF Channels 12, 16, 21, 22, 23 and 83. After initial call up the Coast Guard can shift to 2670 kc/s., 2694 kc/s., 5080 kc/s. The Naval Construction Battalion Center (Port Hueneme Control) guards Channel 16. The harbour tugs guard Channel 16 continuously. The harbour Pilots, when expecting a commercial merchant vessel guard Channel 16 voice circuit and voice call "Port Hueneme Pilot".

HEALTH: See "Health: All Ports" before first U.S.A. port (Albany). Illness reports made to Los Angeles Quarantine Station.

Ships required to pass quarantine may enter port and moor. "Q" Flag is to be flown. Upon mooring, ship must post gangway watch until ship has passed quarantine. When Port of Hueneme is its port of first arrival in the United States from foreign ports or from States other than California, a ship must be inspected by the Department of Agriculture. There is a local representative in Oxnard. The Oxnard Harbour District will order officials if requested by ship or Agent.

AGRICULTURE: See "Agriculture" before first U.S.A. port (Albany).

TUGS: Tug services for port of Hueneme are furnished by the Commanding Officer, Naval Construction Battalion Center, Port Hueneme, California. Requests for tug services may be made to the General Manager of the Oxnard Harbour District, who will act as Agent for ship in forwarding them. 2 tugs are available on a 24 hour basis. They are Class YTB, with 2,000 shaft horsepower. The number of tugs to be used on any movement is determined by port Pilot in charge of the movement. Tugs are not available for deep-sea towing, except in case of emergency to save life or property. As a service to all vessels, the Oxnard Harbour District, acting as Agent for vessel, will pay all necessary tug fees to United States Government, subject to reimbursement conditions as arranged between the vessel, her owners, or Agents, and the General Manager, Oxnard Harbour District. Seldom are tug charges more than the minimum due to the short transit time to berths.

BERTHING: Berthing arrangements should be made with the General Manager by Agent as far in advance of arrival date as possible, specifying dates of arrival and sailing, and nature and quantity of cargo to be handled. The Oxnard Harbour District also has a licence agreement with the U.S. Naval Construction Battalion Center, Port Hueneme, for the use of additional berths and terminal facilities on an "as available" basis. Prior arrangements must be made, should use of these additional facilities be desired or necessary. The Port of Hueneme has three 600 ft. berths with depth 35 ft. MLW and appropriate terminal facilities. At the present time there are 10 deep-draft berths within the entire port area.

Bottom is sand and mud. Mean low water is + 1.5 ft. Height of wharf above the MLLW is 13 ft.

STEVEDORES: All stevedore work is presently performed by resident stevedores, the Marine Terminals Corporation, who also have offices in San Francisco, Long Beach, etc. They maintain an office at 111 Ponoma Street, Port Hueneme. They provide modern handling equipment to suit cargo's need. There is no special fixed bulk handling equipment available as yet. Longshoremen are members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and conform to the Pacific Coast Longshore Agreement. Hours of work are as outlined in this agreement. Longshoremen at this port do all covering and uncovering of hatches and rig the gear. There are 8 gangs available in the port. Day and night gangs for Tuesday through Saturday (except Monday through Saturday, 1900 hrs. initial start) must be ordered by 1530 hrs. the previous day. Night gangs required Monday for a 1900 hrs. initial start, and Sunday and Monday gangs must be ordered by 1100 hrs. Saturday. Cancellation time is same as ordering time, if gangs which have been ordered are cancelled after the aforementioned deadlines, the agreement's 4 hour minimum applies. Normal day shifts begin at 0800 hrs. and normal night shifts at 1800 hrs. Each shift consists of 8 hours and on sailing day 10 hours may be worked by the final shift. There are no obstructions on the wharf to keep all hatches from being worked concurrently.

MEDICAL: Patients are provided with medical attention at the Medical Center, Port Hueneme, or St. John's Hospital, Oxnard California. Temporary visa must be obtained from Department of Immigration and Transportation if a crew man or passenger must remain after the ship sails.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water is available. There are hydrants along the wharf and delivery to ship is effected by hose. Water is good to taste but is hard. It is suitable for boilers. Contact wharfinger on duty for delivery of water.

FUEL: Diesel oil is obtainable from a local port-based tenant. Quantities beyond the capability of that tenant's ability can be delivered by tank truck direct to ship's tanks. In an emergency, the Navy will make Navy special black oil available.

REPAIRS: Minor repairs may be made in port. Machine shops in Ventura and Oxnard are qualified for normal voyage repair work.
GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: Gangway or special wharf watchmen are available upon request.
TELEPHONES: 2 pay-telephone booths are located at the East end of Wharf 1 adjacent to the wharfingers office and maintained for the convenience of ships berthed at Wharf 1. The wharfinger's office has a telephone which may be used by people calling in to contact the ship. This phone is manned 24 hours a day for convenience. Its number is (805) 488-4615. The Port of Hueneme office telephones are available to ship's officers and Agents for local calls or collect long distance calls. Wharf lines permit a telephone to be installed at a nominal charge if desired by Agent.
HEAVY LIFT EQUIPMENT: The U.S. Navy, in special circumstances, makes available a 100 ton floating derrick barge, subject to its prior needs. The General Manager of the Oxnard Harbour District will assist those desiring derrick barge services.
HOLIDAYS: U.S. Federal and State holidays are observed by the Port and Terminal management. If stevedoring is required on holiday it is performed in accordance with the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union-Pacific Coast Longshore Agreement.
AUTHORITY: The U.S. Navy (Commanding Officer, U.S. Naval Construction Battalion Center) exercises overall Port Control Authority; the Oxnard Harbour District is solely responsible for its commercial operations.

Berths 1 through 4 form one continuous wharf 2,155 ft. long. Berths 1, 2 and 3 are equipped to handle general cargo, logs, tallow, petroleum products and a limited number of containers. 2 multi-purpose travelling gantry cranes serve Berths 1 and 2 and a 600-ton capacity twin-boom derrick for heavy equipment lifts is located at Berth 3. The 3 berths are served by a system of pipe-lines through which petroleum can either be received from tankers and barges or pumped to vessels for bunkering purposes. A bulk liquid plant used for the storage and transferring of tallow serves Berth 2. 5 transit sheds with a total capacity of 144,876 sq. ft. are located along the 3 berths, and railway trackage consists of 1,500 ft. of surface track on the wharf apron plus 2 spur tracks under the gantry cranes.

Berth 4 is used primarily for the receiving and shipping of grain and serves a 5,165,000 bushel capacity grain elevator leased to the Continental Grain Company. The 655 ft. berth is equipped with an overhead grain gallery extending along the wharf with 5 loading spouts. A marine leg at the rear of the wharf is used for unloading grain from barges.

Berth 5, located upstream from Berth 4, is a 515 ft. wharf which extends to 691 ft. with mooring dolphins fore and aft. It was constructed primarily for receiving alumina by self-unloading vessels, but can be adapted to handle most types of bulk ores, minerals or chemicals with modifications. The berth is also used for loading logs from the river with ship's gear and for handling barge traffic. 2 storage tanks are located near the berth with a total capacity of 25,000 tons of alumina.

Berths 6 and 7 form a continuous wharf 1,500 ft. long, with the last 96 ft. upstream portion at an 8 ft. lower level. The berths are equipped to handle general cargo, logs, lash barges, containerized cargo and, at the lower portion, Roll-on/roll-off vessels. Adjacent to the cargo handling area is an open storage site of approximately 14 acres and 2 transit sheds with a total capacity of 120,604 sq. ft. A gantry crane serves both berths and 3 rail tracks are located along the length of the wharf apron.

The Port operates its own facilities and performs all terminal services between ship's tackle and consignees or inland carriers. The only exception is the operation of the grain elevator facility, which is leased to the Continental Grain Company.

In addition to these facilities operated by the Port, there are 9 other berths operated privately in the Longview Port District. Weyerhaeuser Company owns 6 berths and Reynolds Metals Company, International Paper Company and Longview Fibre Company each operate 1 berth apiece. 6 of the 9 berths are used primarily for export while the other 3 are used mainly for receiving raw materials used by the mills.

BULK/HANDLING FACILITIES:

Containers: The Berth 6–7 area serves as a multiple use facility, handling both break-bulk and containerized cargo. This complex includes a berthing facility 1,500 ft. long, incorporating a ro-ro dock at the extreme upstream end, an open storage and marshalling site capable of accommodating all sizes of containers, and 2 storage sheds with 120,000 sq. ft. of covered space. The dock and cargo handling area is a 120 ft. wide concrete surfaced area equipped with 3 rail tracks and a crane track.

In addition to the Berth 6–7 area, containers are being handled at Berths 1–2 where there is also considerable back-up storage area available for the storage of containers.

Grain: The Continental Grain Company operates the 5,165,000 bushel capacity grain elevator at the Port of Longview Terminal. An overhead gallery equipped with 2 × 36 in. electric belt conveyors extends from the elevator to the grain berth and then for 255 ft. along the length of the wharf where it serves 5 vessel-loading spouts. Vessels can be loaded with grain through any 2 spouts at a combined rate of 29,000 bushels per hour.

Incoming waterbourne grain is unloaded from barges moored alongside the rear of the wharf by a bucket-type marine leg at a rate of 12,500 bushels per hour. The marine leg feeds grain onto a conveyor system located beneath the dock which then carries back into the elevator.

The elevator has a rail car tipper for unloading grain from box cars at a rate of 9 cars per hour; facilities for emptying hopper-type rail cars; a hydraulic truck dumper; a portable-type marine leg for unloading grain from vessels to trucks at a rate of 5,000 bushels per hour; and a spout for loading rail cars.

Other equipment includes a fumigation system, washer, separators, scourer, dryer and scales.

Ore: A facility for unloading aluminium ore is located at Berth 5. The discharge equipment consists of 2 travelling hoppers with boom conveyors which extend over the face of the wharf to the side of self-unloading vessels. The hoppers feed ore onto a 60 in. electric belt conveyor located along the rear of the wharf. This conveyor feeds onto another conveyor which travels from the berth to 2 storage tanks which have a total capacity of 25,000 tons. A metering system located at the storage tanks fills hopper-type rail cars for outbound movement of the ore.

Roll-on/Roll-off: A 240 ft. extension to the upstream end of Berth 7 to accommodate Roll-on/roll-off vessels is now available at the Port of Longview. 96 ft. of the extension are constructed at a level 8 ft. lower than the remainder of the dock and will serve as the loading/unloading area to accommodate a ro/ro vessel's stern ramp. This section will have a width of 50 ft. from the wharf face to the access ramp leading to the upper level of the dock. The entire extension is constructed of concrete and steel on timber piling.

CRANES: 2 electric-powered gantry cranes serve Berths 1 and 2 on 550 ft. of track. They are readily adaptable for handling various types of bulk cargoes, containers, logs, machinery and large equipment. 1 crane is equipped with a 130 ft. boom and has a capacity of 60 tons at a 45 ft. radius. The other crane has a 120 ft. boom with a 50 ton capacity at a 45 ft. radius. Both cranes are served by two 400 ft. railroad tracks permitting direct handling between rail cars and vessels.

A third gantry crane serves Berths 6–7 on 1,050 ft. of track. This crane has a 165 ft. boom with a capacity of 50 tons at a 45 ft. radius. 2 × 1,000 ft. rail tracks are located between the crane tracks for handling rail cars at shipside.

The 600 ton capacity 'Columbia Giant', a fixed twin-boom derrick is located at Berth 3.

PILOTAGE: The pilot boat serving the Delaware river and ports of Philadelphia is a 165 ft., 1,000 gross ton steam vessel, painted light blue with letter "P" on stack. All pilots carry portable radios for bridge-to-bridge traffic to facilitate movement of vessel (VHF 156.7). Pilot boat is on permanent station in Cape Henlopen on a 24-hour basis and guards following frequencies: 156.65 VHF and 2738 and 2182 khz. Telegraphic address is Del. Riv. Pilots, 214 S. 11th St., Phila., Pa. 19107. Arrangements for Pilot are normally made by ship's Agent but can be made direct by vessel.

No particular advance notice is required and incoming vessels are served as they arrive. Normally no delays are encountered. In event of an unscheduled delay in berth availability, a deep-water anchorage is readily available in the bay adjacent to pilot boat. There are 18 anchorage areas available along the Delaware.

RESTRICTIONS: There are no restrictions imposed upon entry except those dictated by vessel draft. Throughout most of its length, the Delaware river is dredged to 40 ft. at MLW. In addition there is a mean tidal range of about 5.7 ft. Vessels of 38 ft. draft can readily navigate the river.

MAX. SIZE: Deep-draft vessels (oil-carriers) can off-load to barge in the lower Bay in water capable of handling vessels up to 60 ft. draft.

PILOTAGE: Come up in vicinity of the sea buoy. 24 hours notice of ETA should be given and revised if ship is delayed 1 hour or more. Telegraphic address is "Sabine Pilots, Port Arthur, Texas". Pilot station keeps 24 hour continuous watch on VHF Channel 12 – 156.6 mc/s. and on 2738 kc/s. Pilot boat is motor vessel with black hull, white housing flying Pilot insignia by day and Pilot light by night. Location of Pilot boat is in general vicinity of Sabine Pass sea buoy. Pilot ladder only on lee side of vessel.

Pilot will, upon request and at extra cost, board incoming vessels at buoy marked "SB" in position 29.25 N. 93.40 W.

RESTRICTIONS: The Port Arthur ship channel is in operation 24 hours per day. The only restrictions that might hamper vessel traffic would be the draft of the vessel (Port will be able to handle vessels taking up to 40 ft. of water) or extremely bad weather conditions such as fog or high winds. Also, vessels of the 85,000 ton or more class can only be moved during daylight hours.

MAX. SIZE: Port Arthur ship channel will be authorised to 40 ft. in depth and will vary from 400 to 800 ft. in width. Turning basin, which is located at mile 19 (only about 0.5 miles upstream from existing port facility) is 900 ft. in width. Bulk carriers going to grain elevator at Port Arthur or to one of the oil refineries would only be restricted by draft which would vary from 30 ft. to 40 ft. depending on load/discharge berth the vessel is en route to. See "Berthing".

HEALTH: See "Health: All Ports" before first U.S.A. port (Albany). Illness reports made to Houston Quarantine Station.

AGRICULTURE: See "Agriculture" before first U.S.A. port (Albany).

RADIO: For a vessel in the Gulf of Mexico, and en route to Port Arthur, the best way to route an ETA message is to radio "Port Arthur Radio" (Radio Marine Corporation of America) whose call sign is WPA. Port Arthur Radio will then either send the message through Western Union via its telefax machine or via telex if the receiver of the message has a telex machine. There are also radio stations located in Galveston, Texas (Mackay Radio, call sign KLC) and in Mobile, Alabama (call sign WLO).

TUGS: The exact position that the tug meets the vessel varies with each vessel but usually they meet just below Texaco Island. In some cases they meet as far up as Great Lakes Carbon (usually when vessel is in ballast and going to Gulf Oil Docks). Whether or not the tug uses the vessel's lines or its own lines depends entirely on the circumstances involved but the tugs usually use the ships lines. Port Arthur is served by 2 towing companies, (1) Moran Towing of Texas and (2) Sabine Towing & Transportation Company, Inc.

BERTHING: The first procedure for obtaining a berth at Port Arthur is to submit a Berth Request Form. The Berth Request will contain the following information and will be submitted, in duplicate, to P.O. Box 1428, Port Arthur, Texas: Date of request; type and name of vessel; loading ports; registry or flag; where vessel is to arrive from; ETA; where vessel is to sail for; estimated date of departure; what inbound cargo, if any, consists of; what outbound cargo, if any, consists of; date you expect to begin receiving outbound cargo. The Form must be signed by the Agent or Owner of the vessel. (Berth Request Form will be made available by the Port.) Upon receipt of a Berth Request from the Agent or Owner, the Port will then, upon determining availability of berth, return 1 copy of the initial Berth Request to the Owner or Agent as an assignment of berth. Berths are assigned on a first come first served basis at all times. All changes in vessel's ETA must be given to the Terminal Office immediately. All mooring and unmooring will be done by the Port. Procedure may differ at the various private terminals which are not under the jurisdiction of the Port Arthur Navigation District.

Also see "Developments".

BRIDGES: There are no bridges that would require a vessel to arrive at any certain time at Port Arthur, however, the first bridge approached involves a vertical clearance of 136 ft. MHW.

STEVEDORES: Advance order for longshore gangs varies as to contract held by ILA (International Longshoremen's Association). In Port Arthur, gangs have to be ordered as follows: Order by 1900 hrs. for the next morning (either 0700 or 0800 hrs.); order by 1100 hrs. for 1300 hrs.; order by 1600 hrs. for 1900 hrs. Must order by 1900 hrs. day before for any starting time Sunday or Holiday.

MEDICAL: It is not usually required that the Agent be given advanced notice of required medical attention but in some instances it is helpful in arranging transportation to a hospital and in obtaining a bed in the event the hospitals are near full. Port Arthur is served by 2 hospitals; (1) St. Mary's Hospital and (2) Park Place Hospital, both of which are very well staffed and have adequate facilities for almost any emergency. Also, advance notice is helpful when vessel is scheduled to dock late in evening or during night, as doctors are not in their offices and have to be located.

Particular inoculations required by the Public Health Department vary as to the vessel's last foreign port of call. The only inoculation required of all vessels is smallpox. Any crew members who have not had the required inoculations can usually be given these inoculations on board either by the Public Health Officer or a Physician. This is usually arranged by the Agent or Owner.

TANKERS: There are 3 major Oil Companies: Gulf Oil Corporation; Texaco Oil Company, Inc.; and Petrofina Company. Gulf Oil Corporation and Texaco Oil Co., Inc. are 2 of the largest Oil refineries in the country. The diameter of load/discharge lines range anywhere from 4 in. to 12 in. depending on the grade of the petroleum product being loaded. As far as slop discharge facilities are concerned, ballast tanks at all major oil companies. Gulf Oil has 3,400 linear feet of berth accommodations and Texaco Oil Co. has 5,299 linear feet of berth accommodations together enough to accommodate 11 supertankers plus barges. Petrofina Co., being the smaller of the 3 oil companies, has berth accommodations for 3 vessels.

BULK HANDLING FACILITIES: Texas Oklahoma Port Company's Bulk Marine Terminal in the Port's deepwater industrial park is located at Mile 26, handles dry bulk commodities from rail cars to storage to vessels at rates up to 3,000 t.p.h. and has space available for shipper storage tanks on pads, with open storage for 300,000 tons. The terminal also includes a 750 ft. wharf and is located directly on the Sabine-Neches Waterway which presently offers an authorized channel depth of 40 ft. All terminals described above are served by subject waterway and limitations of depth will vary at the face of dock at individual terminals. The Texas-Oklahoma Bulk Terminal maintains 40 ft. depth at the face of their facility.

DENSITY: Varies from fresh water (1000) to pure salt water (1025) depending on amount of rainfall and tide variations. According to figures obtained from the National Cargo Bureau, average density is 50% salt water or (1012.5).

FRESH WATER: The Port has 4 ships service outlets for fresh water, each of which is served by a 4 in. water line. Watering barges are available in the area for facilities which are not equipped to provide watering services.

FUEL: Almost any grade of fuel or marine diesel is available. In some instances there are fuel lines running directly to docks, but if not, bunkering barge is available. An advance notice is usually required by bunkering barge depending on number of vessels awaiting bunkering.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: The Port has, in each of 4 equally spaced indentations along the front of its transit shed, a fire hose outlet fed by an 8 in. water line and there are numerous fire hose boxes throughout the transit shed. In addition to this a 24 hour guard service is constantly on the watch and is in direct communication with the Port Arthur Fire Department which is only seconds away. Authorized on dock smoking areas are clearly defined for proper safety controls.

DEVELOPMENTS: Located only 19 miles from sea, the new Public Ocean Terminal of the Port is located on the Sabine-Neches Waterway, presently 40 ft. deep with a minimum bottom width of 400 ft. The initial facility encompasses 360,000 sq.ft. including 1 transit shed 180 ft. × 600 ft. or 108,000 sq.ft. Rail trackage totals 120 car-spots at dockside with a 150-car storage yard behind the wharves. The facility includes a Gantry Crane (handling dry bulk, magnet, container and heavy lift cargoes) which straddles 2 of the 3 marginal tracks, travelling the entire 1,200 ft. length of dock. Crane will lift 75 tons a distance of 75 ft. off the face of docks, with all areas brilliantly lighted for 24 hour cargo operations. In addition to the 25 acre facilities described above, the District owns a total of 73 acres or 1 mile of frontage for future development. The master plan calls for a total of 4 Transit Sheds, additional open-dock wharves and roll-on/roll-off facilities.

(a) STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA TERMINAL.

DOCUMENTS and all general information, refer to "San Francisco".

LOCATION: Richmond Long Wharf and Point Orient Wharf are situated on N.E. side of San Francisco Bay, a protected harbour. The refinery and storage tanks are near the wharves.

The exact position of the Long Wharf is Lat. 37° 55′ 20″ N. Long. 122° 24′ 35″ W. Wharf heading is 324° to 144°.

The exact position of the Point Orient Wharf is Lat. 37° 57′ 20″ N. Long. 122° 25′ 39″ W. Wharf heading is 356° to 176°.

There is adequate anchorage and room for manoeuvring in the bay.

MAX. SIZE: The main ship channel into San Francisco has a project depth of 50 ft. However, the 35 ft. depth of the Southampton Shoal channel restricts the size of ships to wharves.

LIGHTENING: When a lightening operation is necessary the terminal management will direct the ship to anchorage 9. The ship to be lightened will install fenders before the lighter ties alongside. The terminal will provide the fenders. The lightening supervisor and ship's officer will hold a meeting to discuss the cargo transfer. During transfer, follow the same precautions and safety regulations that apply to cargo transfer at the wharf. The transfer rate will be regulated by the lightening vessel. The lightening supervisor will observe all the lightening operations. The terminal wil provide oil spill recovery equipment during lightening.

HEALTH: See "Health: All Ports" before first U.S.A port (Albany). Illness reports made to San Francisco Quarantine Station.

AGRICULTURE: See "Agriculture" before first U.S.A. port (Albany).

RADIO: San Francisco harbour advisory radar system, designated bridge-to-bridge frequency: VHF Channel 18a (156.9 mHz).

Federal communication regulations require that at any time VHF radio is in operation, Channel 16 must be monitored (156.8 mHz distress and calling frequency).

The 2-3 mc. radio telephone call letters for the San Francisco Bay area are KLH.

Richmond Long Wharf (radio call – Chevron Shipping) is equipped with VHF radio, manned 24 hours per day. Channel 10 (156.5 mHz) is the operating frequency. While at anchor, in San Francisco Bay, vessels should maintain normal listening watches on VHF Channel 10.

The Master of a vessel bound for San Francisco Bay is requested to advise Chevron Shipping (Cables address: Chevronship Richmond Sanfrancisco) of ETA, 7 days, 3 days and again 1 day (24 hours) before arrival at the wharf. First ETA message should include:

Estimated time of arrival at the wharf (local time).
Last port of call.
Estimated deep draft at arrival.
Quantity of ballast to be discharged.
Quantity and grade of cargo to be transferred.
Distance from bow to cargo and bunker manifolds.
Size and type of cargo and bunker connections.
Quantity and grade of bunkers and lubes required.
Quantity of fresh water required.
Number of crew replacements expected.
Amount of provisions and stores to be loaded.
Repair work anticipated.
Make 24-hour ETA as accurate as possible and whenever arrival time changes, by 1 hour or more, send a correcting message promptly.

BERTHING: At least 1 hour before docking contact Chevron Shipping, in Richmond, by VHF radio (Channel 10, 156.5 mHz) and request a berth assignment. They will try to berth as soon as you arrive. However, if no berth is available, anchor in the prescribed anchorage (as directed by the Captain of the port) and maintain radio contact with Chevron Shipping, Richmond.

There are 2 piers that accommodate oil transfers. They are referred to as Richmond Long Wharf and Point Orient Wharf.

Long Wharf: Richmond Long Wharf, a "T"-head pier, has an overall length of 2,464 ft. It consists of concrete and wooden piles and a concrete superstructure connected to the shore, 4,200 ft. away by a piled causeway. The fender-to-fender width is 114.5 ft.

There are 4 deep water berths on the West side, each approx. 600 ft. long. They are numbered 1 to 4 from South to North. Water depth is 38 ft. at MLLW. Carefully observe deep draft during periods of low water. There is an inner berth, No. 5 that may be used for bunkering small ships; water depth is 18 ft. at MLLW. The other inner berths, Nos. 6 to 12, are used primarily for barge loading.

Point Orient: The Point Orient Wharf, an "L"-head pier, is 2.25 miles North of the Long Wharf. It is 504 ft. long and 60 ft. wide. It is supported on wooden piles and has a causeway that extends 1,200 ft. to the shore.

There is one ship berth, No. 1 where the water depth is 36-40 ft. at MLLW. There is also one barge berth No.2.

LOADING AND UNLOADING: All berths are fitted with 4-, 6-and 8-in. hoses for cargo transfer. Berth No. 4 is fitted with 1×8-in. and 2×12-in. Chiksan loading arms. Berth 1, at the Long Wharf has a similar Chiksan system – 2×12-in. arms. All flange facings are ANSI 150-pound rating.

Several products can be loaded at each berth.

BALLAST: The terminal has facilities to receive some ballast (max. capacity 25,000 bbl/s – normal capacity 15,000 bbl/s). However, arrangements for this to be made through Agent before arriving at the wharf. All ballast to be discharged must be pumped to shore while berthed at wharves.

POLLUTION: The Federal Water Pollution Control Act prohibits the discharge of oil or oily waste in the waters of San Francisco Bay which causes a film or sheen on the water or discolours it or causes a sludge or emulsion beneath the surface of the water.

Regulations enforced by the Bay Area Pollution Control District also prohibit the emission of smoke and soot. Vessel can be fined if it emits visible smoke (Ringelmann 1) for more than 3 minutes in one hour, or blows its boiler tubes enough to create a soot nuisance on shore.

In addition, the terminal has certain regulations designed to eliminate obnoxious odours. Vessel may, therefore, be required to follow special procedures before tank cleaning, loading or ballasting. If, in spite of precautions, vessel does cause such odours, loading or unloading operations may be stopped.

PILOTAGE: Pilotage in and around Golden Gate Region is provided by 2 groups of experienced, licensed ship Pilots.

The San Francisco Bar Pilots' Association, maintains a sea station 12 miles outside the Golden Gate, in the vicinity of the lightship for vessels arriving and leaving the area.

On station around-the-clock. Pilot boats are equipped with VHF radio-telephone, and maintain continuous watch for ship traffic and operate co-operatively with the Marine Exchange communication centre and lookout station. The Bar Pilots also carry portable VHF radios.

Some 8,500 ships are piloted annually into and out of the port complex, through the Golden Gate and the 2,000-ft. wide, 50-ft. deep main ship channel across the alluvial sand bar about 9 miles outside the Gate.

Considerable Summer fog is experienced on the pilot grounds. In Winter months radiation or tule fogs frequently occur. The tidal prism of hundreds of square miles of inland waters cause unusually swift and changing currents in the area. Pilotage for San Francisco Bar and entrance is compulsory and available 24 hours a day. The Pilot boat is at a station 3 miles outside Main ship Bar channel about 14 miles from San Francisco, VHF Channels 18A and 10 for radio contact. Vessels with a draft of 42 ft. or more are requested to arrive at the Pilot station for the inward passage about one hour before high water at the Golden Gate Bridge.

ANCHORAGE: Several anchorages available in San Francisco Bay for any type of vessel up to 50 ft. draft.

The well-protected bay affords excellent shelter and anchorage in all weather. The Captain of the Port (Coast Guard) will assign an anchorage to a vessel upon request. In San Francisco and San Pablo Bays, there are a large number of anchorages available for naval, quarantine, general and explosives.

RESTRICTIONS: The San Francisco Bay region is the first on the West Coast to have sea lanes established by the Coast Guard for greater safety in its ocean approaches. Use of the lanes is not mandatory, but is strongly recommended to reduce chance of ship collisions in congested approach and departure areas. The lanes are not intended to supersede or alter applicable rules of the road.

The lanes begin within 6 miles of the San Francisco Lightship, with each lane inbound and outbound separated by a buffer zone. The headings are: North lane outbound, 305°; North lane inbound 120°; main line outbound, 247°; main line inbound, 058.5°; Southern lane outbound, 169°; Southern lane inbound 343°.

The size of the bay and the narrowness of the Golden Gate cause tricky and sometimes difficult tidal and current conditions. The flood current sets into all parts of the bay and causes swirls as far East as Alcatraz and Angel Islands. At the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge there are large current eddies near the foundation piers which may require care to maintain proper course.

The bar channel is dredged to 50 ft. MLLW by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Entrance channels to the various ports are dredged to 35 ft., with the exceptions of Sacramento, Stockton and Redwood City, which are 30 ft. Stockton, however, is approved for a 5-ft. deepening, and study of similar deepening for Redwood City is being completed.

MAX. SIZE: The max. permissible draft for tankers at the oil installation is 35 ft., for regular freighters and passenger ships at the San Francisco piers is 30 ft. No restrictions on length or berth. The best time to dock with max. draft is at a rising tide.

HEALTH: See "Health: All Ports" before first U.S.A. port (Albany). Illness reports made to San Francisco Quarantine Station.
AGRICULTURE: See "Agriculture" before first U.S.A. port (Albany).
RADIO: Radio station via RCA – Radio Corporation of America – Station KPH ITT – World Communications – Station KFS.

Safe and efficient navigation for all bay vessel traffic is maintained through a Ship Location and Reporting Service operated by the Marine Exchange. U.S. Coast Guard Vessel Traffic Service on Yerba Buena Island and at Port Bonita maintains 24 hour radar surveillance of all traffic from Golden Gate on the West (with 32 mile capacity beyond) to Oakland on the East, Dumbarton Bridge on the South and Port San Pablo on the North. Vessel Movement Reporting System (VMRS) extends beyond Port San Pablo all the way to the Ports of Stockton and Sacramento. Coast Guard urgently requests that all vessels as specified below, moving anywhere within the VMRS (including all area under radar surveillance), tune to Channel 13 (156.65 mHz., VHF FM): All ships of 300 gross tons and over, passenger ferries for hire over 100 gross tons, and tugs with tows of barges or dredging rigs of over 26 ft. length.
TUGS: Tugs available and normally join the vessel when approaching their pier. Tug's lines are always used, with no extra charge.
BERTHING: No restriction on berthing other than draft limitation and preferable at slack water.

Uruguay

REGULATIONS: Increased fines became effective in June 1973 in respect of infringements of the Uruguayan Marine Code. There are approximately 119 Articles to the Marine Code, and Owners and Masters of vessels proceeding to Uruguayan ports are recommended to obtain a copy of the Code (which lists port regulations and amounts of fines for infringements) prior to arrival. We understand that copies of the Code, entitled "Reglamento Preventivo y Represivo de Infracciones Maritimas, Fluviales y Portuarias", may be obtained from Centro Navegacion Transatlantica, Colon 1486 p. 3, Montevideo.

Freely translated, we give below some extracts of Port Regulations as specifically applicable to Montevideo, but also to all Uruguayan ports in general:

Articles 1 to 8 cover respectively the reasons for setting up this preventive set of regulations; the definition of what a vessel is in terms of the legislation; the establishment and amount of fines (they may be tripled in the event of repeated offences); the fact that very small vessels may only have imposed 10 per cent of the full fine; the jurisdiction for the regulations covering the whole of the Uruguayan coast and river frontage; the stipulation whereby the General Marine Prefecture must send to the Captain of the vessel a statement of the offence immediately it is observed and this in triplicate and to the local Agent for the vessel.

The actual information which the form must contain is delineated. Notification of offences can be made after a vessel has sailed, this being to the local ship's Agent by phone and confirmed within 24 hours in writing. All Captains must give written consent to their local Agent, and the Agent must accept this in writing, empowering the Agent to act in the Captain's name in all cases of fine payment. The Authorities may delay the sailing of a vessel if they see fit in connection with any offence. Finally, article 8 deals with the right to appeal to the General Marine Prefecture against any fine imposed, this having to be done within 10 days dating from the day following personal notification of the offence.

Articles 9 to 119 cover the specific offences subject to fine and indicate individually the full fine imposable in local pesos.

An abridged summary of each of the articles is as follows: No anchoring within 900 metres of the illuminated buoy in the port access channel.

Vessels carrying hazardous cargo must hoist flags according to the Int. Code of Signals.

Vessels with anyone on board with contagious diseases must hoist appropriate flag (letters QL).

Flag Q must be hoisted and maintained in position until health authority has given free pratique.

All vessels anchoring in the roads, bay or ante-port must take due precautions not to harm or cause damage to other vessels; the fine will be imposed notwithstanding claims for damages from third parties.

Agents of vessels which may wish to anchor in the roads must obtain prior permission from the Marine Authority, specifying vessel's measurements and the reason. If authorised, the anchorage to be used will be notified.

No anchoring at the docks unless justified, and anchors must be raised immediately the reason for dropping them has gone. There must be no delay on the part of vessels in complying with the Marine Authorities instructions to change berth or anchorage.

No tying up to other vessels without Marine Authority permission; no attachment to berths which have not been allocated and no changing of berth without authorisation.

No anchoring in places not authorised by the Marine Authority, the maximum fine being applied should this have caused damage to third parties.

No small craft to be tied up obstructing gangway or quays. Where this is necessary for embarking crew members, passengers, provisions, etc., the small craft must be removed immediately the operation has been completed.

Small craft must not be tied up to buoys or beacons. Vessels must not tie up at buoys or beacons.

Maximum speed of vessels in docks is 4 knots.

Navigation in channels of access to ports is governed as follows:

Maximum speed 8 knots.

Vessels must always keep to starboard.

Vessels must not overtake each other, but where this is necessary they must conform to the International Signal Code.

No anchorage in channels.

No fishing in channels.

Vessels navigating in channels must keep a distance of 1,000 metres from each other.

Vessels must not cross in front of each other in the fore-ports.

All vessels entering or leaving the ante-port or docks, changing berths or anchorages must be assisted by a Pilot and tug, unless specifically given exception to this rule by the Marine Authority.

No vessel must enter port with damage to hull, machinery or rudder unless prior inspected by the Technical Commission of the Mercantile Marine Directorate.

Any vessel springing a leak whilst navigating in the access channel, and which the bilge pumps cannot overcome, must go aground as quickly as possible off the channel so as to leave the channel open.

In case of fire on board whilst navigating in the access channel, Captains must observe usual procedure and give signals accordingly.

The strict use of semaphore signals within port must be observed.

When vessels enter the docks or remain in them, Captains, owners or Agents must request permission from the Marine Traffic Office, and report to the Office of Pilotage, and proceed in whatever form they may instruct. On leaving the same procedure must be followed.

Captains and owners of vessels must see that their vessels do not obstruct or cause harm to port works, beacons, buoys, or semaphores and once tied up they must not slacken ropes without permission of the Marine Authority except under conditions covered by items 1, 2 and 3 of article 64 of the Port of Montevideo Marine Regulations.

No vessel to have badly stowed cargo, excess weight, or evidence of lists due to bad trim of cargo.

Only those lines necessary for tying up to be used. When two or more vessels tie up alongside to load or discharge they are all obligated to ensure that the handling of their respective cargoes does not prejudice the working of the others.

Vessels must take proper precautions when loading or discharging raw material, i.e. sand, bones, ash, coal, etc., by placing suitable planks of wood close together to prevent any such material falling into the water.

No vessel to enter docks with the gangway already rigged.

During unloading operations, no goods to be thrown on to the quay. This must be done manually or mechanically.

During discharge operations, cargo must be so positioned on the quay as to leave adequate passage for vehicular traffic, i.e. police, fire-brigade, health authorities, customs and port officials.

Planks of wood — when planks are used for any operation, they must not be placed in contact with mooring bitts or cables. When work ceases all pieces of wood, ladders, small trucks, etc, must be removed from quay, and those belonging to the ship must be taken on board, this so as not to obstruct the public path along the quay.

When cleaning or washing ships tied up at quays, no rubbish, water or cleaning material must be allowed to fall on the quay.

A very serious offence is the throwing into the water of any rubbish, sewage or other material susceptible to dirtying the water.

Very serious offences are the lightening of ships carrying petrol, crude oil, or the like, likewise the washing-out of tanks, except in authorised zones. The fine is based on the area spoiled by the wrongful discharge.

All ships should have local Agents, otherwise in the case of offences the Captain is held responsible and vessels may be detained.

Vessels are responsible to ensure that no damage is made to quay installations by the cargo they load or discharge, and must always leave berths in a tidy and clean state.

Vessels' auxiliary small craft, launches and the like must not hang over the side of the vessel in port, except during operations of launching and reshipping on board, where such operations are conducted at points indicated by the Marine Authority. Such small craft may only be used for the purpose and at the times authorised by the Marine Authority.

Usual regulations concerning carriage of passengers in vessels and heavy fines are imposable for the carriage of passengers or crew members not listed.

Vessels exceeding their navigation limits shown in their Certificate of Navigability are subject to fine.

All vessels must be cleared to sail by the Marine Authority.

Vessels must use their proper name and this must be painted on in letters of minimum of 15 centimetres height and 8 centimetres wide. Letters must be white on black or black on light colour.

Captains, Owners and Agents must report any crew offence or irregularity on board to the Marine Authority.

Vessels in port must hoist the Uruguayan flag. N.B. It is recommended that Masters correctly establish the proscribed times for raising and lowering the Uruguayan flag, in order to avoid fines.

Vessels must have their gangway equipped with handrails, and the gangway must be clearly lit at night.

All lines to shore must have rat-guards fitted.

When there are hazardous goods on board or when such goods are being worked, the vessel must hoist the International Signal Code letter B, and at night show a red light on the bow masthead, must always have engines in a state of readiness in case of danger, keep two-thirds of the crew on board, keep watchmen and firemen available (the number of whom will be determined by the number of holds containing the hazardous material), must only work with incandescent lights, and keep a port pilot on board if the Marine Authority so directs.

Vessels moored at quays must not move propellors, except under the direction of the Marine Authority.

Vessels must not moor in the port access channel. There must be no improper use of the International Signal Code. Signal flags must not be interspersed with flags of nationality.

If a vessel wishes to dress flags over all, or fly a flag at halfmast due to a bereavement on board, the Marine Authority's permission must be first obtained.

The use of whistles, sirens or any other audible signal within the area of the roads, bay, ante-port or docks, for any reason other than justifiable for navigation is prohibited.

Any vessel anchored, tied up to other vessels or to the shore or quays, must show a white light from sunset to sunrise which can be seen at a distance of 500 metres.

In the access channel to Montevideo, no more than 4 vessels may navigate at one time — 2 entering, 2 leaving.

Maximum speed in the Montevideo ante-port is 6 knots. There must be no anchoring in the Free Zone, reserved for the manoeuvring of vessels entering and leaving.

At Montevideo there must be no anchoring along the route leading from the Free Zone to channel "A", between the quay and the pier of the same letter. Also on the route leading from pier "A" along a line to 100 metres to the North of the end of the West Jetty.

No anchoring in any area less than 200 metres from pier "A" in a semi-circular coverage, taking as middle point a position half way between quay "A" and pier "A".

All vessels must keep to the right or to the middle when there are no other vessels in the vicinity.

International Regulations for the Prevention of Collisions apply, plus the following:

Vessels navigating along the routes established in the anteport or which have to pass directly through the passage between jetties "A" and "B", must keep to the right when another vessel is coming in the opposite direction.

Vessels which have to cross the North, the South route or directly between jetties "A" and "B", must ensure that they pass any other vessel at a distance not less than 50 metres.

Any vessel navigating under her own power must give way to a vessel under tow by a tug.

Vessels with tugs following routes which cross one another, thereby creating a collision risk, the one passing to the starboard of the other is the vessel which must take the precautionary measures to avoid collision. If, however, the risk persists, the vessel passing to port of the other must also take measures to increase the distance between the two vessels.

No vessels to pass in pairs or in opposite direction between jetties "A" and "B"; the semaphore signals transmitted by quay "A" must be observed. If the signal is "vessel entering from the anteport to the docks", the vessel in the docks, ready to sail, must wait until the incoming vessel has entered.

If the signal is "vessel leaving the docks for the ante-port" the vessel in the foreport, moving towards jetty "A" to enter the docks, must wait in the free zone, stop engines, keeping to the right, and drop anchor if necessary, until the outgoing vessel is outside and well clear of jetty "A".

The same regulation applies to vessels leaving the River Dock. In this case, the vessel leaving to jetty "A" has priority, coming from docks I and II the first will wait for the second before starting engines.

All vessels navigating in the same direction in the ante-port must keep a distance of not less than 300 metres from each other stern to bow. They must not pass each other or navigate in pairs.

In the event of offences being incurred whilst an Uruguayan pilot is on board, at the request of the local ship's Agent, the Marine Authority will determine whether the Pilot is responsible for the offence having occurred, and take measures accordingly.

Vessels which load beyond the appropriate load line will be subject to a fine of 1,000,000 pesos.

Other Documents

Masters must also have at hand all the usual certificates, such as Freeboard, Classification, Measurement, Safety Equipment, Radio, Fumigation, or certificate of exemption (valid for six months only).

All persons on board must have their smallpox vaccination certificates, while vessels proceeding from recognised endemic or epidemic Cholera or Yellow Fever zones must also have the necessary certificates, or Inoculation or Vaccination. All these certificates will be examined by the Boarding Commission before pratique is confirmed.

In resume, the following number of various documents are needed, plus extra copies where possible:

Crew List: 6 plus 1 visaed form from each port where changes are made.

Passenger List for the port: 10, plus 1 visaed list from port of origin and from each port of call with new passengers.

Store Lists: 5. Separately for Deck Engine and Cabin Stores. Engine List to include Declaration of Bunkers and Luboils.

Health Declaration: 1.

Baggage Declaration: 1 for each passenger.

Manifest and Bill of Lading: 1 visaed, alternatively Ballast certificate or Negative plus sufficient copies for Agents as per individual needs.

Consular Clearances and Manifest etc. – Great importance is attached to these documents. Consular clearances must cover all ports declared in the Health form by the Master, irrespective of whether the ship has cargo or passengers for Uruguay from those ports. These documents must be carefully checked prior to arrival to make sure that the Health form only shows those ports with clearances and/or cargo or passengers for the Country.

A vessel receiving orders en route to call at Montevideo, if not previously contemplated, must take out Consular Clearances at that port and take care with the declarations.

Vessels arriving from Buenos Aires, with no cargo or passengers from previous ports of call for Uruguay, can declare Buenos Aires only on this form.

At first port of sailing, the crew list is legalised by the Consul, and any subsequent changes must be legalised at the port where the change takes place, or if not at the next port of call where there is a Consul.

The Consuls at first and subsequent ports will send, care of the Master, envelopes addressed to the Direccion General de Aduanas (Custom House) and to the Prefecto del Puerto de Montevideo. The former will contain the legalised manifest and stamped Bill of Lading, or a negative manifest, and the latter a Consular Passenger List or a legalised Negative passenger declaration. Such envelopes must be produced for each port as declared by the Master.

A vessel arriving direct from a port or series of ports where there is no Uruguayan Consul will pay the dues on arrival, but without fine.

The fine for non compliance with these regulations is heavy.

3. Store Lists

Separate list for Deck, Engine and Cabin stores must be prepared before arrival, and be ready in triplicate for the authorities with extra copies for the Agents, whose intervention is later needed in any ordering of further stores or in case of difficulties.

The same forms as in use in Buenos Aires are accepted, and the same regulations as to weights in kilos or measures in litres, etc., rule. There are some points of difference, however.

Full quantity of bunkers must be declared. A separate list must also be made, detailing ship's store of cigarettes, cigars, tobacco and liqueurs.

This refers to the maximum quantities which it is permitted to purchase in Montevideo for ship's stores of these particular items, as the final permit for such shipments will be subject to the list of cigarettes, spirits and liqueurs on board on arrival.

According to the latest decree, vessels of over 1,000 tons gross will have the right to purchase, ex bond, 1 litre bottle per person on board for each 6 days of voyage, with a maximum of 40 cases of 12 litre bottles. In cigarettes, the allotment is 1 packet of 20 per person per day of voyage, with a maximum of 20,000 such packets.

Agents must be informed of any orders placed for Bonded stores since their signature is required on the documents.

Bonded lockers are sealed by Customs on arrival, and any bonded stores purchased in Uruguay must not be opened or used whilst in port.

PILOTAGE: Also see "Montevideo" Pilotage section for Port Control in the River Plate. Pilotage is compulsory in all river and port zones, except for vessels coming from the East to ports between La Paloma and Montevideo Roads, or entering Montevideo Roads for no commercial reason. All coastal vessels either Uruguayan or foreign are also exempt.

Pilotage Zones.

(1) RIVER PLATE – Comprises zone between imaginary Lines in the East from Punta del Este (Uruguay) and Punta Rasa, on Cape San Antonio (Argentina) and on the West between Colonia and San Isidro (Argentina).

(2) RIVER URUGUAY – From 56.5 km. of Farallon Channel to Uruguayan ports on the River Uruguay.

(3) PORTS – Pilotage zones, comprises limits of each port including its Roads.

In the River Plate, Pilots presently board to the South of the wreck of the Calpean Star, approximately 4.5 km. South and lying 70 m. West of the dredged access channel.

Several of the pairs of buoys are missing, and only the mid channel buoy indicating the entrance to the access channel, 5 miles South from the port, and the 2 pairs nearest to the breakwaters are operating.

When taking tankers, the port Pilot usually goes out to the 5-mile mark.

There is no more than 30 ft. in the access channel at the moment; dredging is being carried on, but there are only 2 dredgers operating between the channel and the port of Montevideo itself.

The current is across the channel, running at about 1 knot, and changes direction more with the wind than the tide.

Vessels awaiting Pilot should anchor on the West of the channel and South of the Calpean Star; there is 24 ft. up to 500 m. West of the channel. The zone to the East of the access channel has submarine cables and must therefore be avoided.

Pilots are ordered through the Agent, and have an up to date communications system installed in their office on the 21st floor of a modern skyscraper, whence they dominate a large area of the estuary.

Permanent watch is kept on Channel 16 VHF, and operator speaks English. It is possible to call "Practicos Montevideo" and ask to be connected by phone to the vessel's Agent's office for last minute instructions, etc.

Channel	Frequency	Channel	Frequency
9	15450	11	15550
16	15800

The port is closed when wind force exceeds 43 knots or, at night, 37 knots, or if visibility is less than 1 kilometre, but otherwise vessels can enter or sail at any time.

There is also a Telex machine with 24 hour watch, over which messages can be transmitted to Agents out of office hours, over a weekend, for example. Call sign is DGT 843 Pilot CX. This is particularly useful for vessels sailing late from Buenos Aires, and the Office will pass on the message to the corresponding Agency by phone.

All Pilots carry a "walkie-talkie" and can communicate either with their office, the Port Authority or the Semaphore station, using Channel 9 for the port offices and 11 for the Pilot's office, 16 being kept for use with vessels.

Ordering of River Pilots for sailings from Uruguayan River Ports – Although Masters can apply directly for Pilots such applications must be made by telegram addressed to the Practico Mayor Montevideo, it is preferable for them to keep their Montevideo Agent fully informed and leave the latter to order the Pilot.

The opportunity of ordering Pilots at any hour having been discontinued makes it more essential than ever that Montevideo Agents are kept accurately informed regarding expected readiness to sail. Failure to do so will result in unnecessary demurrage being paid to Pilots or delay to the ship concerned.

Pilots for vessels proceeding from sea to a Uruguayan Port on the River Uruguay – A Uruguayan Pilot must be employed to conduct ships from sea to a Uruguayan Port on the River Uruguay.

Vessels must call at Montevideo Roads to embark Pilot and pay the cost of tug to take out Pilot. They can also, alternatively, take an Argentine Pilot at Recalada who will take the vessel to Intersection, where in either case an Argentine river pilot will board to take the vessel to the Roads of port of destination, where a Uruguayan Port pilot will come aboard, this being a simpler procedure and all handled by Agents in Buenos Aires (one radio advice).

Vessels from an Argentine Port bound for Uruguayan River Port – Such vessels are normally taken to immediately off port of destination by an Argentine Pilot, but they must be berthed by a Uruguayan Pilot who has to be sent from Montevideo, thus Montevideo Agents must be kept promptly informed of vessel's position to enable them to order a Pilot to berth ship without delay.

Vessels leaving Uruguayan Port for Argentine Ports on the River Parana – Uruguayan River Pilot supplied from Montevideo must be employed for unberthing, and this Pilot takes vessel to the Bravo Channel off Nueva Palmira, where the Argentine River Parana Pilot, who is normally already aboard, takes over.

The Uruguayan Pilot is paid in accordance with tariff to Nueva Palmira plus an unberthing fee and travelling expenses.

HEALTH: In order to be able to enter port and berth without delay, the Authorities accept a radio, cable or telex request, couched in the following terms (messages must be sent in Spanish).

Vessels arriving from elsewhere

Capitan .... solicita libre platica

here the name of the vessel

informando proceder de Buenos Aires, siendo su escala anterior

....

here a port in another previous country which could be Santos, Valparaiso, Capetown, etc.

condicion sanitaria buena..Capitan

here the name of the Master

Vessels arriving from Buenos Aires

Capitan .... solicita libres platica

here the name of the vessel

informando proceder de...

here a port of origin, say London – Liverpool – San Francisco – Rijeka – Kotka – Tokyo – Oslo, etc.

siendo su ultimo puerto...

here say Santos – Valparaiso – Capetown, etc.

condicion sanitaria buena..Capitan

here the name of the Master

There have been cases of delay in delivery of radio messages, even though passed on by phone, but the original message must accompany Agent's request for free pratique, hence it is advisable to use cable or telex services if possible. Messages must be sent at least 24 hours ahead, and changes in ETA advised.

Although it is possible to take pratique in Uruguayan River ports, there is frequently delay there, and since vessels must enter Montevideo to pick up the river port pilot also, it is advisable in these cases to ask for pratique at Montevideo as above, and the order from Sanitary Authorities granting Free Pratique will be handed to the Pilot to take on board with him.

In no case, however, does the granting of pratique by radio modify the inspection in port, where the usual commission must be the first to go on board.

Illness on board – Any private doctor attending a patient on board must immediately inform the Sanitary Inspector should the disease be contagious.

No patient can be landed without the consent of the doctor of the Health Department with the exception of accident cases that require immediate medical attention, and even in those cases the Health department Doctor must be informed in order to issue a Sanitary Pass for the Hospital where the man was taken to.

If a Captain does not report the existence of illness on board he is liable to fines which are double if patients land without the consent of the Sanitary Authorities.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

River Uruguay

Rises in Brazil, and later separates Argentina and Uruguay. Its right bank is generally low, wooded and swampy, the left bank high and hilly. Preparatory work has commenced on a large hydroelectric dam to be built at 332 km., above Concordia, which will take some years but will contribute to a regularisation of the river, which at present rises and falls twice every year, with the varying rainfall seasons in its basin, so that approximately half the year the water is low, usually from January to April and again in August. However, the wind also affects the depth of the water as in the River Plate, so that any seasonal forecast is impossible. A safe year round draft to Concepcion del Uruguay can be taken at 20 ft. 6 in., though vessels from time to time load to 22 ft. 6 in.

The Ministry of Marine publishes fortnightly a bulletin with all information on depths of water in the channels, as well as of changes in buoys, lights, etc.

Two new bridges communicating with Argentina now span the Uruguay river at Fray Bentos and Paysandu. The bridge at Fray Bentos has a clearance of 36 m. over zero, and a main span of 220 m.

CARGO

Movement of Cargo

Once stevedores have come aboard, no cargo, either for the port or in transit, may be handled by the crew, as otherwise the vessel will be called on for high extra wages to stevedores. This also affects the lashing of transit cargo on deck.

Stevedores will not work in the rain, except when loading meat, earning double wages while doing so. They can also be persuaded to handle baggage or mail.

When handling dusty cargo in general, or which gives off ammoniacal, nicotine, or organic emanations, masks must be provided for stevedores' use.

Overcarried Cargo

Cargo for Montevideo is often overcarried to Buenos Aires with the consequent delays in delivery and expenses for the vessel. Holds should be carefully inspected as soon as discharge is said to have been finished to avoid possible overcarrying.

Clean Receipt

Agents will advise if they wish to receive any cargo for which a clean receipt cannot clearly be given, otherwise the cargo should be rejected. Mate's receipts cannot be claused to cover any damage from rain, wetting or other causes which might be sustained after the cargo is received on ship's tackle.

Bulk cargoes falling or drifting into water or on dock

When handling bulk cargoes vessels must place between the vessel and the dock side a wooden scaffolding, with lateral boards, or strong canvas to collect all material which is liable to fall into the water or on to the Dock during handling. There is a heavy fine for non-compliance.

This should be remembered when writing charter parties, especially under FIO conditions, as this should be for account of shippers or receivers.

Delivery of cargo from vessels

The cargo is discharged direct to Fiscal Warehouses, to lorries, lighters or wagons. When the cargo is delivered to Fiscal Warehouses, receipt for this is given to the vessel's agents by the Custom House official in charge of the Warehouse. If discharged to lighters the lighterman obtains receipt from the Custom House official once the cargo is received in warehouse. When the cargo is delivered direct to Consignees' lorries, the receipt is given by special Custom House officials called "Cargo Receivers".

The goods are delivered by the Custom House officials to the Consignees against the presentation of the "transferencia" (transfer ticket) signed by the Agents of the vessel. The Agents sign the "transferencia", extended on stamped paper, against the Original Bill of Lading, which must be legalised by the Uruguayan Consul at the port of loading.

The steamship Agents must keep a special register of all "transferencias", and are responsible to the Authorities for keeping this register. Agents must retain Original Bill of Lading for cargo discharged, as it must be shown to the Customs Authorities immediately if demanded.

When the Consignees have not received the original documents and they wish to take delivery of the goods from the Custom House they must present a Bank guarantee, drawn up in accordance with the form approved by the Shipagents Association.

Cargo manifested to this country in transit to other countries without documents for Uruguay may not be re-shipped to other countries without government permission.

Marks on goods imported to Uruguay

By a Decree dated 30th January 1939, the Uruguayan Government decided that:

"Packages entering Bonded Warehouse, excepting those containing provisions or beverages, and excepting also 'Barraca' articles, shall be marked with the gross weight, the nett weight and corresponding measurement, in a clear and legible manner. These marks may be either 'fire-branded or printed'.

"The 9th August 1939, the Customs Authorities requested that marks and numbers of cases entering Montevideo warehouses should be placed on the extreme ends".

The Customs Authorities have also made known that it is necessary for the packages entering the warehouse to show their weight and measurement in the decimal-metric system.

The inspection of potato cargoes can be effected on board the carrying vessel, and if found in good sanitary condition, can be discharged direct to shore.

Opening and Closing of Hatches

This can be carried out by either crew or stevedores, and hatches must be kept closed when not in use.

Shipments of Meat

These are controlled by the Ministry of Agriculture, whose inspectors check ships' holds before shipment can commence. Holds must be clean and disinfected and temperature controlled to minus 1° to a maximum of plus 1° Celsius for chilled meat, or minus 10° for frozen meat.

Chilled is to be hung on hooks adjustable for height and space and stow of frozen must give a uniform distribution of weight. Alternatively, special cuts are packed and shipped in cartons.

Containers

Use of containers is very limited, since these must be opened up and emptied on the dock alongside, or even on board the vessel. The container itself is considered as part of the vessel's gear, and must be reshipped without delay.

On rare occasions the Armed Forces have had containers moved out to their barracks.

The Port Authority is buying a crane to handle containers of 8 ft. × 8 ft. × 20 ft. and a maximum loaded weight of 44,800 pounds.

Consular Dues

All ships arriving at Montevideo must pay Consular dues, with the following exceptions:

Ships that due to a change en route, or by special call of their Agents in Uruguay, during passage, arrive at Montevideo with the sole purpose of receiving orders, as long as no commercial operations are effected.

Ships arriving in distress and which leave port without effecting operations.

Ships arriving for the sole purpose of landing or embarking pilot.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs consider bunkering as an operation, therefore ships calling at Montevideo for bunkers must pay Consular dues.

Consular value of the Uruguayan Peso – For the payment of fees abroad, the Executive Power will fix periodically the respective values of the peso, in accordance with exchange fluctuations.

Hours of Attendance at the Uruguayan Consulates – The Office hours of the Consulates will be those fixed by the Government in agreement with the Consuls in each country, endeavouring in each case to have the same working hours as those of the Custom House and other Public Offices of each City. Outside these hours, overtime is charged.

Consular dues on Bills of Lading – When vessels load cargo for Uruguay at ports where there is no Uruguayan Consulate, these dues are collected when the vessel arrives at Montevideo or at any other Uruguayan port. The Agent then recovers these charges from the Consignees.

CREW:

Deserters – Captains and/or Agents must report any deserters when the vessel sails. The Maritime Authorities give intervention to the Police Department, and if the men are located, the Agents must hand them over to the respective Consuls. However, the Agents continue to be responsible before the Authorities for the ultimate repatriation of the men, which must be done at first opportunity.

Vessels are subject to a fine per man. The Agents have also to pay repatriation expenses, in cases where the respective Consuls will not do so.

They must also deposit a guarantee which can be used for repatriation expenses in case the deserter stays in the country for more than 15 days.

Time limit for getting crew members left behind out of the country – According to law, Agents must arrange that such crew members leave the country within fifteen days. This period of grace commences as from the date of vessel's departure in respect of deserters and for those disembarked for medical treatment as from date on which they are medically certified as fit for travel.

Upkeep of men left in hospital or temporarily disembarked and traced deserters – The Agents are responsible for the maintenance of men disembarked for medical treatment, or temporarily with a special Immigration permit, and for deserters, until they leave the Country.

Stowaways – Captains of vessels having stowaways on board must report them to the Authorities, stating their name and port of embarkation. The stowaways must be kept on board. If they escape and are found after the vessel sails, Agents will be responsible for their repatriation and upkeep charges until they leave the Country. As with deserters, vessels with stowaways on board are liable to a fine per man if this regulation is not complied with.

Agents must also deposit a guarantee per man, amount to be used for repatriating the stowaway or for conveyance to the port of embarkation.

Landing members of crew – Paying off men for other than medical assistance is not permitted, but exceptions are granted in special cases. An application must be presented by the Agents to the Immigration Department, and if the permit is granted, a formal declaration is signed by the Captain of the vessel, the Agents, the Immigration Inspector and the person wishing to disembark, setting forth length of time he is going to remain in the Country and conditions of departure. The personal documents of the person allowed to land, remain in charge of the Immigration Board.

If any member of the crew is landed for medical treatment or paid off without the corresponding permit, the vessel will be fined.

Gangways and Rat-Guards

A gangway must be placed and ready after a vessel comes alongside the quay, but this must not be presented before coming in to the quay. Authorities will only come aboard by the gangways.

Gangways must also have a lifebuoy with suitable line attached and handy, and a safety net must be placed under the gangway, otherwise shore labour will not board vessels, with consequent delay.

The gangway must also be brightly illuminated at night; an oil lamp is not sufficient.

As soon as vessel is securely moored, regulation size (not less than 80 cms.) rat-guards must be placed on all ropes, wires, fenders, lines and hoses.

Heavy fines are imposed for non-compliance with any of these or other regulations.

Overside Discharges

All overside discharges from latrines, bathrooms, gallery, scuppers, engine room, etc. must be screened or covered when vessel is alongside the quay, as vessels will be fined if the discharge falls on the dock or gangway.

Adjustment of Compasses

Vessels proceeding through Magellan Straits – The disposition issued by the Chilean Shipping Authorities on 13th April 1953, states:

"When a foreign ship arrives at the Magellan Straits and applies for a pilot, official or private, for navigating the Channels, the Pilot must first check the compass for deviations of more than 5 degrees, and if such deviation has been determined more than 6 months ago, especially in a place with great difference of latitude or different hemisphere, compensation of compass is obligatory when not in true order, and a written declaration to this effect will be made in the pilotage agreement. The Authorities will also send an officer to verify that the compass is in satisfactory condition before entering the Straits".

To avoid probable delays, ships heading for the Straits can make the necessary compensation in the Port of Montevideo or in the ante port whilst waiting for orders for departure. This port is most convenient for this class of compensation because at the present moment there is no magnetic variation and also because it is a quiet harbour with sufficient depth for turning. A compass adjuster may be obtained at any time.

200 Mile Limit and Fishing

Uruguay has declared sovereignty over 200 miles off shore, reserving all fishing and undersea exploitation rights. A number of foreign flag vessels fishing without permits have been seized and heavily fined, their catch and gear being confiscated.

Permits are obtainable, but in no case for vessels over 500 tons gross, to operate within sixty miles from shore, while all activity in territorial waters (200 miles) is forbidden in the months of May and June.

Garbage

Garbage is collected every morning by truck. There is a strict prohibition of dumping anything into the port, and oil tanks must not be cleaned within 30 miles of the coast, and on a falling tide.

Old dunnage should not be dumped or sold, without permission from the Authorities, through Agents.

Ships' Boats

Use of ship's boats is forbidden within the port, unless they are being lowered, with prior permission, for maintenance or exercises.

Fenders

All vessels must have at least 2 large fenders, to keep them 5 feet or more off the quay. If the vessel has no fenders, or due to deck cargo cannot use them Agents should be warned in advance to rent the necessary equipment and have it ready on arrival.

Dropping Anchor when Berthing

If an anchor is dropped when approaching a dock to berth, to control the vessel as she moves in, it is essential that the anchor should be hove in again once the ship is moored. Port regulations require this and any damage to other craft, real or imaginary, through fouling anchor or chain, would cause considerable trouble.

MONTEVIDEO: 34.55 S. 56.13 W. (See Plan)

DOCUMENTS/PILOTAGE/HEALTH/RADIO: See beginning of Uruguay section.

APPROACHES: The Roads of Montevideo consist of the Outer Roads situated to the South of the bay and Inner Roads situated outside the Western breakwater.

Both anchorages are very exposed and vessels are recommended to enter the anteport.

The entrance channel has 30 ft.; the channel to Ancap's wharf (La Teja) 30 ft. 6 in. Basins 1 and 2 have a depth of 28 ft. to 31 ft., and the River Traffic Basin, 15 ft. These depths depend on dredging being maintained, but even so vessels often "drag" when on the higher marks; the bottom is fine soft silt.

PILOTAGE: A system of ship control has been set up for Montevideo and its approaches.

The system of control and information comprises:

1. Zona "Alfa". Zone of the River Plate, situated between Long. 55° 30′ W. and 56° 15′ W., the coast and the limit of the River Plate with the Argentine Republic.

2. Zona "Bravo". Zone between the meridians which encompass Punta Yeguas and Punta Brava, the coast, and parallel Lat. 35° 01′ S. It also comprises the Access Channel of the Port of Montevideo, Anteport, Basins, the channel to the Inflammables Basin, and the Inflammable Basin (ANCAP).

Control and Information Centre:

1. The system is controlled from the Prefectura Nacional Naval, Pilot Office, situated on floors 11, 12 and 13 of the Edificio Aduana, Lat. 34° 54′ 07″ S., Long. 56° 12′ 07″ W. (Custom House Building).

2. The call-sign of the Control and Information Centre is CWC104, henceforth to be known as Control Montevideo Prefectura.

A — Channels and Frequencies.

The Channels for transmission and reception to be used are the following: (it is intended to utilize Channels which will not interfere with 12 and 14, used by the control and security system of the River Plate of the Argentine Prefectura Nacional Maritima).

Channel	Frequency		Employment
16	156.800 mHz		Call-sign and Security

B — Listening-out by Vessels.

1. Vessels will maintain a listening-out watch on Channel 16 from the moment they enter the Zones of the system until they are tied up alongside, in the Port of Montevideo, or until they leave the Zones of the system.
2. Whenever a vessel may not, for some reason, listen-out on Channel 16, it will pass to Channel 11 or 10, informing the Control and Information Centre of this.
3. In Zones A and B, vessels will communicate with the Centre on Channel 11 (eventually 10).

C — Language.

The personnel operating the Centre use Spanish. Any vessel which cannot use the Spanish language may do so in English, and if any further difficulties are encountered, may make use of the international code, the international word/letter system or the 'Q' code.

D — Communications from Ships (Messages).

Ships navigating in Zone:

1. ALFA: Must inform the Centre of the following details:
   a) Entering the Zone: Flag; Name of the ship; Destination; Position (Lat., Long., and time); Course and Speed; ETA Channel Entrance Buoy; Max. Draft.
   b) During navigation her position: Abreast of Flores Island; Abreast of the Channel Entrance Buoy; If comes to anchor in any position in the Zone.

a) Any vessel taking up a mooring, unmooring or anchorage, must request to carry out the manoeuvre required. It is to be understood that the Master will have complied with all the necessary formalities required by the Authorities for entry or departure of the vessel.

b) This permission expires automatically after 15 minutes of its being given further permission must be applied for in order to carry out the manoeuvre.

G — Information Service

The Centre will issue:

1. Notices to Mariners at 0900 hrs. and at 1500 hrs. local time. Urgent information will be broadcast immediately it is received.
2. Meteorological reports every 4 hours commencing at 0001 hrs. local time.

The Centre will provide to any vessel information with regard to Maritime Traffic, weather, security in navigation, and any port information which may be used to speed up or aid the vessel's future operation.

BREAKWATER: The Eastern breakwater projecting from Punta Sarandi is 940 m. long and the breakwater lying to the West at right angles with the Eastern one is 1,300 m. long. The passage between the 2 breakwaters is 300 m. wide.

ANTEPORT: The Anteport is to the North of the entrance, between the breakwaters, and has 27 ft., but requires dredging, there not being safe room for more than 5 vessels at present.

PORT: The port is formed by the North side of the Montevideo Peninsula and the "Dique de Cintura", a breakwater running parallel to the coast, about 840 m. distant.

It consists of 3 basins, 2 of which are for ocean-going vessels and 1 for river traffic.

Basins 1 and 2 have a depth of 30 ft., and the basin for river traffic 15 ft.

ANCHORAGE: In Montevideo outer or inner roads. Vessels must not anchor within 0.5 mile of the entrance channel to the anteport, nor in the area bounded by Lat. 35° S. and 35° 15′ S. and Long. 55° 56′ 30″ W. and 56° W. where there are submarine cables. Outer roads and inner roads are separated by the Western breakwater. Both anchorages are exposed in bad weather.

Captains of vessels anchoring in the roads should bear in mind that as the bottom consists of soft clay, it does not afford a good hold for the anchors, which are liable to drag during a severe storm. In consequence, precautions should be taken to anchor at a safe distance from other vessels already riding at anchor, and to use a stout anchor and chain, while having another ready for emergency.

A vessel that anchors in the Outer or Inner Roads and does not effect commercial operations is not considered an arrived vessel in Uruguayan waters, and is not boarded by the Authorities.

Semaphores: There are 2 Semaphores, 1 on the corner of Depot 1, on Pier A, which controls traffic in the port and which is in constant touch with Pilots on board through the "walkie-talkie". At night the following emergency code signals are used.

Red light	meaning stop
Green light	meaning proceed
White light	meaning anchor

These are beamed with an aldis lamp to the bridge of the vessel and must be obeyed.

The other semaphore is situated 47 m. above sea level, on the S.W. post of the anemometric tower of the Central office, and indicates wind forecast as follows:

Red Red	strong wind starting to blow from the N.W.
White White	strong wind starting to blow from the S.W.
Red White	strong wind starting to blow from the N.E.
White Red	strong wind starting to blow from the S.E.
Red	strong wind from indeterminate quarter.
Green	winds over 100 km/hour are expected.

MAX. SIZE: Up to 30 ft. fresh-water draft. Also see "Tankers".

TIDE: Rise and fall is nominal, rarely exceeding 1 ft.

TUGS: Compulsory for vessels berthing in the harbour basins. 2 tugs normally used, join vessel in the anteport.

Booms – Masters are reminded that the Port Authorities require a special boom to be placed on the side of the vessel where the nose of the tug will push, to avoid damages and subsequent claims.

BERTHING: Anteport: 7 anchorage berths in 28 ft. depth. However in practice there is rarely room for more than 5 vessels to anchor. Basin No. 1: 7 berths, 28 to 33 ft. depth alongside. Basin No. 2: 4 berths, 28 to 33 ft. depth alongside. La Teja: Ancap basin with berths for 2 tankers 30 ft. depth in basin and entrance channel.

Berths are allotted by the Port Authorities in the order of arrival of the vessels and according to their category, as follows:

1. Mail vessels.
2. Regular Line vessels carrying immigrants.
3. Cargo vessels.
4. Sailing vessels.

The Authorities allocate the deposit at which vessel must discharge or load.

Port Authorities give preference at Deposit No. 10 to ships operating with refrigerated cargo from this Deposit; and at Deposit No. 11 (Florida Wharf) to tankers discharging to the pipe-line situated there. Conditional that they vacate the berth within 2 hours notice, to permit berthing a preference vessel, other ships may operate at either berth.

Muelle de Escala – On the pier head, formed by the Southern side of the River Traffic Basin, and running Westwards, a quay has been built, known as "Muelle de Escala", 288 m. long, originally constructed for berthing passenger liners and war vessels, but now only used by cargo vessels, loading and discharging, when there is port congestion. There are no shore cranes and work is very slow, nor are there shore deposits. A fixed heavy lift boom capacity 200 tons is placed at the East end.

The berth is very exposed to wind and swell, and Masters are recommended to take every precaution to ensure their vessels are strongly moored and a lookout kept for changes of weather which, locally, are very sudden.

The depth of water alongside depends on dredging, but generally is over 28 ft.

River Traffic Basin – This basin is situated on the Western side of Pier "A". It is 400 m. long and has a passenger landing station on one side. The opposite side of the basin is used for coastal vessels, but mainly by the Navy.

2 warehouses, called Warehouse "A" and Warehouse "B", have been built on the East side of this basin and are serviced by 3 electric cranes. In addition, there are on the quay a 1.5 and 6-ton steam crane, which are employed when necessary.

These berths can only be used by light-drafted vessels, as depth of water is around 16 ft.

Basin No. 1 – This basin is situated between piers "A" and "B". Its entrance between the "Dique de Cintura" and the pier head "A" is about 150 m. wide. It encircles a total mooring space of 1,093 linear metres and 7 vessels can comfortably berth along the quay walls.

Pier "A" is 501 m. long on the West side; 306 m. on the East side, and 50 m. wide at the Northern pier-head.

On this pier 2 brick and concrete warehouses, Nos. 1 and 2, have been constructed, consisting of a ground floor, 3 storeys and a basement.

On the City side of Basin 1, there are 3 brick warehouses, numbered 3, 4 and 5, consisting of a ground floor of between 17,800 and 19,600 cu. m. capacity.

On the Western side of Pier "B" facing Basin No. 1, there are 2 brick and concrete warehouses, Nos. 6 and 7, with a ground floor and 1 storey having a capacity of 30,174 and 33,140 cu. m. respectively.

In Basin No. 1, berths Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 are generally used for the discharge and/or loading of liners running to timetable.

Depths alongside vary, as it depends upon dredging, but generally are 26 ft. to 30 ft.

Basin No. 2 – This basin is situated between Pier "B" and the foot of Florida Street. The entrance to this basin is also about 150 m. wide. It has a total mooring space of 722 m. and it can accommodate 4 vessels.

Pier "B" is 294 m. long on the Western side, 328 m. long on the Eastern side, 148 m. at the Northern pier-head and 13 m. wide on the bend at the Western corner of the pier-head.

At the Northern end of pier-head "B", livestock is embarked. This berth is also used for general cargo operations in times of congestion. Moorings must be strong and carefully watched as the berth is very exposed to wash of passing vessels.

There are 2 warehouses on this pier, numbered 8 and 9, facing Basin No. 2, built of brick and concrete, with a ground floor and 1 storey and with a capacity of 33,320 cu. m. each. On the city side, there are 2 warehouses, built of brick, numbered 10 and 11, consisting of a ground floor with a capacity of 15,362 cu. m. each. Warehouse No. 10 carriers an additional storey, and is being used for refrigerated cargo. Vegetable oils can also be loaded at Warehouse 11 berth ex pipe-line from 4 storage tanks each of a capacity around 1,250 tons, in the vicinity.

Depths of water alongside vary, depending upon intensity of dredging but are generally 28 to 30 ft.

Coasting Quay Wall – From Florida Street to Mole F, which is the end of the Port, and over a distance of 1,900 m., there is a quay used for coastal craft, and on part of which a fish-receiving and industrialising plant is being opened; depth in this zone is 15 ft.

A floating dock is also anchored in the N.E. part of this section.

Basin For Inflammables "La Teja". (Also see "Tankers".)

On the North side of the Bay, the National Administration of Alcohol, Cement and Fuels, known as A.N.C.A.P., has a basin with concrete walls for the discharge of tankers arriving with oil to their consignment. This basin is known as the "Darsena de Inflamables", and has 1 berth for tankers on the North side in 30 ft. 6 in. and for liquid gas discharge on the Southern side, max. draft 22 ft., while on the West or land side there is a berth for coastal vessels. Width of the basin here is 147 m., which is the same as the entrance, while the South berth is 248.75 m. long. On the North berth the jetty protrudes 34 m., and is 96 m. long.

Vessels berth bows to shore, and on leaving turn immediately outside the basin, if draft is less than 22 ft., otherwise they must reverse back down the narrow access channel.

The North berth has separate lines for Crude, 10 in. and 12 in. maximum pressure 105 lbs. Fuel Oil, 8 in. and 10 in. with a pumping rate of 300 t.p.h. at temperatures between 40° and 70°C. Diesel/Gas Oil/Kerosene 6 in. connections and pumping rate of 300 t.p.h. Naptha 8 in. Lube oils 6 in. lines, 150 t.p.h. and a line for Alcohol 6 in. There is no line for Gas. There are 3 × 5-ton electric cranes and 1 × 12-ton diesel crane. Coal and Cement are also discharged at this berth, the coal to Decauville cars and the Cement to trucks, handling 750 tons per 8 hour day, with 5 gangs.

At the South berth the oil lines are identical, and there is also a 6 in. connection for loading or discharging Super Gas, at 200 t.p.h. There are no cranes at this berth.

The Western berth has the same installations except for Super Gas and Alcohol.

There are 3 in. water lines at each berth, and use of 2 tugs is essential for berthing or unberthing. At the North berth, vessels fully loaded often lie up to 15 m. out from the quay, owing to accumulation of mud, and will gradually close in as the vessel lightens. Access gangways are placed by the Port.

Railway Connections – Basins 1 and 2, River Traffic Basin and also Deposits "A" and "B" have railway lines on all sides, belonging to the Port Administration, which are connected with the main lines of the Uruguayan State Railways.

The Port Administration has 2 electric locomotives used exclusively in the port.

Cranes – The Port Administration has 1 heavy-lift floating crane of 80,000 kilos, a mobile crane of 20,000 kilos, also 46 movable electric cranes of 5,000 kilos each; 5 movable electric cranes of 1,500 kilos each; 1 fixed electric crane of 4,000 kilos; 33 of the aforementioned 5,000 kilos cranes, are placed alongside the quay walls for vessel's operations.

There are also 24 electric trolleys of 1,500 kilos, and one of 1,000 kilos. There is a fixed crane for 200 tons on Muelle Escala.

Fiscal Lorries – The Port Administration has purchased special lorries and 12 auto cranes for receiving cargo, as the railway wagons available are not sufficient to carry all the cargo that is at present being handled at this port.

Loading Operations – Loading is effected from carts, lorries and/or wagons and the cargo is hoisted on board with the cranes. Cargo is also loaded from lighters.

Grain Loading – There are 2 Mobile grain vacuvators, each of which can load bulk grain at around 35/50 t.p.h, also 10 smaller machines that can each load around 20 t.p.h.

Fumigation – Montevideo is the only port in Uruguay at which vessels can fumigate, using the Cyanide method. The tariff is per cubic metre fumigated over a basic charge which varies according to nrt. There are surcharges for overtime.

Disinfection of Mail Bags – To avoid delay through disinfection mail bags can be fumigated on board in a 10% formalin solution and kept in a closed space for 4 hours before vessel gets into port. The closed space will be opened in the presence of a Health officer who will verify the use of formalin. When in doubt, fumigation will be carried out again and exposed for 2 hours.

Height of Quay above water – Tide being very small, the height of quay above water only varies from 8 to 10 ft. at low water to 10 to 12 ft. at high water. Wind influence is felt even in the bay, as a South wind will raise water as much as 5 ft., or a Northerly wind reduce it 2 or 3 ft.

New Equipment – In process of supply:

Fork-lift trucks – 3 of 5 tons and 1 of 6 tons, to lift to 3 m.

Container lifter – 1 to lift to 22.4 short tons, size 8 ft. × 8 ft. × 20 ft.

Fork extensions for fork-lift trucks in use – 25 pairs.

Mobile cranes (diesel) – 2 capacity 7.5 tons with telescopic arm up to 10 m., turning through 360°; 8, capacity 7.5 tons, fixed arm; 1 capacity 10 tons with telescopic arm up to 12 m., 360°; 1 truck-mounted crane no less than 60 tons, with arm not less than 21.5 m.

Pallets – material for making 15,000 pallets, in 2 sizes.

Slings for these pallets, also for heavy-lift cargo for use with the mobile cranes.

Lighters – 7 new lighters, ranging from 100 to 400 tons.

STEVEDORES: Working hours: 1st shift, 0700 to 1300 hrs.; 2nd shift, 1300 to 1900 hrs.; 3rd shift, 1900 to 0100 hrs.; 4th shift, 0100 to 0700 hrs.

Normal capacity per gang per hour: (a) Rice – about 80/90 tons per gang/hour. (b) Meat – about 60/100 tons per gang/hour.

Overtime is compulsory if port is congested.

Lavatory Conveniences for Shore Labour – Each vessel must furnish conveniences for all shore labour employed on board. Work has been stopped until such conveniences are installed. It is advisable, therefore, for vessels calling at Montevideo to be equipped with 2 spare lavatories, 1 for talley clerks and 1 for stevedores, etc.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water is supplied by the Port Authorities at all quay berths. Request must be made through the Agents, vessels supplying their own hoses where possible. It is important that the water meter should be read together with the Port official both at connecting and disconnecting to verify the exact quantity. The cost of water is high.

FUEL: All grades available by barges during loading/discharging. Vessels calling for bunkers only are refuelled in the anteport. There are 2 barges, capacities respectively 311 tons and 598 tons.

TANKERS: Apart from La Teja Basin, mentioned above, tankers discharge in Basin No. 2 at Muelle Florida. Distance to oil tanks is considerable and discharge rate is about 80/100 t.p.h. Heavy grades of cargo require high heating to facilitate discharge.

At La Teja, vessel's max. dimensions LOA 230m., Draft at HW. 31 ft. Max. d.w.t. 35,000. Max. loading rate 300 cu.m./hour. Max. discharge rate 850 t.p.h.

REPAIRS: All repairs possible.

DRY DOCKS: 2 dry docks available: Nacional, length 463 ft., width 61 ft. Maua, length 260 ft., width 28 ft. Also a floating dock, lifting capacity 12,000 tons, 545 ft. long and 93 ft. wide.

Entrance is by turn, counting from presentation of the application, but this may vary.

(a) when the vessel has damage to repair.
(b) when there is a fixed sailing date.
(c) when a vessel requires a dock for no more than 4 days, and is preceded by 1 requesting 15 days or more.
(d) when by reason of size a vessel cannot enter with another which is on turn.
(e) national Naval vessels.

GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: Shore watchmen compulsory. Arranged by Agents. 1 required on deck and 1 for each gangway. Vessels carrying dangerous cargo must also employ a guard of the Prefectura.

Vessels calling for supplies only, for orders, in distress or to land sick crew members or to enter dry dock, need not employ Watchmen. Repairs afloat require a watchman, if they do not carry out commercial operations.

Shifts are of 8 hours, commencing at 0700 hrs. Vessels under repair, and those at Ancap moles may fix 12-hour shifts, paying a shift and a half.

If special watchmen are required for goods or working equipment, application must also be made to the Union.

If watchmen are needed in the holds, same applies.

Regulations also require a watchmen in the holds wherever the ship has a crew member, cadet or officer permanently on watch to prevent pilferage. However, where ship's personnel are in the hold to watch the stowage of the cargo, no extra watchman is required. Masters should therefore, advise Agents if they intend to place crew members permanently in the holds during discharge, so that Agents can advise the Association before they make their claims.

Care must also be taken on arrival, since the watchman is on duty from 0700 hrs. on, whereas it may be necessary to place the gangway safety net, etc., before that time, so that Pilot may disembark.

Only those involved in this operation should go ashore. The Receiving Commission may ask for the gangway to be opened before 0700 hrs., which is in order, but no one else should use the gangway to avoid claims from the Union.

Vessels lying in the anteport must provide launches for the transport of watchmen employed.

DENSITY: This varies according to wind and tide. The degree of salinity is broadcast daily in the weather reports by radio, and varies from fresh to brackish to sea water. Steady South winds give the highest degree of salinity.

LAYING UP MONTEVIDEO: Montevideo Ante-Port is considered the most convenient and cheapest place for vessels arriving in the Plate in ballast, unfixed, to anchor, lay up or await orders.

Vessels could subsequently load at any of the Argentine or Uruguayan River Ports and would also be in a handy position to load at an Argentina South Atlantic coast port. She could also be ordered away again from the Plate in ballast having incurred no heavy pilotage bills or other expenses, as would be the case had vessel proceeded up to, and anchored in Buenos Aires Roads, or entered an Argentine port.

The expenses at Montevideo, including inward and outward pilotage, light dues and clearance, are not high, and no written permit is necessary for a vessel to lie in the anteport, but the permission of the Captain of the Port must be obtained in each case.

This permission will not be refused unless there is congestion in the anteport.

No vessel can be laid up at Uruguayan ports, unless a responsible shipping Agent is nominated to attend.

Venezuela

AMUAY BAY: 11.46 N. 70.15 W. (See Plan)

OPERATORS: Lagoven, S.A.

ESSENTIAL REQUIREMENTS:

1. Incoming vessels must send ETA at least 3 days before arrival at Amuay Bay. During hours of darkness vessels must identify themselves on arrival either by radio-telephone or aldis, preferably the former.
2. If a ship originally cleared for another port (including some other Venezuelan port) is diverted at sea to Amuay Bay, certain information must be radioed prior to arrival to avoid heavy fine and/or delays. See "Radio".
3. No dirty ballast may be pumped overside in port or in Venezuelan coastal waters. Ballast disposal facilities are available at Amuay Terminal.
4. The use of Venezuelan Government Pilots is compulsory for docking and for movements inside the bay.
5. The Venezuelan flag should be displayed at the mast-head during daylight hours by ships anchored and berthed in Venezuelan waters.
6. In addition to other clearance documents, 2 copies of an itemised list of articles in the ship's chest must be presented to Authorities on arrival.
7. Emergency fire signal is 5 long blasts on ship's whistle or siren. No other signal is to be given in the case of emergency.
8. Ratguards must be in place on all mooring lines.

LOCATION: The port of Amuay Bay is located on the Gulf of Venezuela, on the West Coast of the Paraguana Peninsula, Venezuela. The seabuoy marking the entrance to the bay is located in Lat. 11° 44′ 25″ N., Long. 70° 14′ 50″ W.

DOCUMENTS: Inward clearance is effected on board immediately after docking by Government Port Officials and a representative of the Marine Department. It is necessary that the following documents be ready on arrival:

Clearance from last port (Consul Mail) 1 visaed.
Ballast Certificate from last port (1 copy, visaed according to paragraph (a) if there is no Venezuelan Consul).
Crew Lists (5 copies).
Passenger and Baggage Lists (5 copies visaed, 2 copies not visaed).
Lists of Passenger in Transit, if any (4 copies not visaed).
Lists of Personnel Effects (3 copies not visaed).
Store Lists (3 copies, see note below).
Lists of Slop Chest (3 copies not visaed).
Sailing permit (issued by Maritime Authority of last port).

Vessels arriving with cargo to discharge, will also require:

Manifest (Sobordo) (1 original visaed and 2 copies not visaed from each loading port).
Consular Mail (1 sealed envelope from each loading port).
Bills of Lading, 1 original and 1 copy visaed, and 4 copies not visaed from each loading port.
Tally Books (6 from each loading port).
Consular Invoice (3 originals visaed and 3 copies not visaed from each loading port).
Commercial Invoices (3 from each loading port).
Store Lists prepared should indicate separately all deck, engine and cabin stores.

The store lists may be prepared on board prior to arrival unless the ship is coming from the Islands of Aruba, Curacao, Barbados, Jamaica, Trinidad and the Guianas, in which case 2 copies must be visaed by the Venezuelan Consul at the port of departure.

(a) Cargo and clearance documents should be visaed by the Venezuelan Consul at the last port of call. In the absence of a Venezuelan Consul, they may be visaed by the Consul of a friendly nation, by the Chamber of Commerce, or by 2 reputable merchants, the latter's signatures to be notarised. In the absence of a Venezuelan Consul the following notation should be written on each document, in Spanish, and signed by the alternates designated above:

"Por no existir en la localidad Agente Consular Venezolano y a peticion de los embarcadores, certifico el presente documento."

(Signature) ....

Although vessels proceed directly to Amuay Bay, clearance documents should be prepared showing the port as Las Piedras, Paraguana (Amuay Bay). Failure to observe this requirement may result in penalties up to a maximum of Bs.2,000.

All ships calling at a Venezuelan port for the first time must be measured for tonnage by the Captain of the Port. It is the usual practice to take ashore the ship's Panama Canal or Suez Canal Certificate, which is used as a basis for recalculating tonnage under the Venezuelan Regulations, and is returned before sailing. The Venezuelan Admeasurement Certificate, when later issued, is forwarded to the owners. A fee is charged for this certificate, which is payable only on the ship's first call. Vessels registered in the following countries are excluded from the above regulations: Netherlands, Germany, France, Portugal, United Kingdom, Denmark, Sweden, U.S.A, Ireland and Norway.

Outward clearance and cargo documents are delivered on board by the Marine Dispatcher. However, in order to obtain the sailing permit, a special form, delivered on board on arrival, must be completed, not later than 2 hours before sailing time. This form gives cargo and freeboard information by the Captain of the Port.

In the event the berth is required by another vessel, a vessel having completed loading may be required to vacate the berth promptly and proceed to anchorage to await cargo documents.

PILOTAGE: Pilots are employees of the Venezuelan Government and pilotage is compulsory for vessels entering or leaving the harbour. The Marine Department will arrange for Pilots to board all vessels as necessary.

The Pilot acts in an advisory capacity; the Master retains responsibility for the ship at all times. In the event it becomes necessary to disregard the Pilot's instructions in order to ensure the safety of the ship, the Master must forward through the Marine Department a full written report of the circumstances, for delivery to the Captain of the Port.

ANCHORAGE: For vessels awaiting berth, there is a good anchorage about 1 mile N.W. of the seabuoy in 8 to 12 fathoms with a sand and mud bottom. Ship Masters are requested not to anchor at a distance greater than 3 miles from the seabuoy.

RESTRICTED AREA: A restricted fishing area has been established by the Venezuelan Government which is prohibited for mechanically propelled vessels drawing more than 5 ft. This zone lies within the area off the Paraguana Peninsula from Punta Macolla, Lat. 12° 5′ 32″ N., Long. 70° 12′ 55″ W., to Punta Estanques (Los Taques), Lat. 11° 48′ 45″ N., Long. 70° 16′ 45″ W., and a line connecting the positions below indicated: Lat. 12° 07′ 40″ N., Long. 70° 14′ 25″ W.; Lat. 12° 03′ 15″ N. Long. 70° 19′ 23″ W.; Lat. 11° 49′ 25″ N., Long. 70° 21′ 50″ W.

HEALTH: A close control of VD has been put into effect. All persons will be inspected and any person found with an infection will be sent to the government Clinic for treatment.

MAX. SIZE: Length 1,000 ft.; draft 43 ft.

RADIO: The cable and telegraphic address for the Lagoven S.A. at Amuay is "Largomar Judibana". Radio messages to and from ships at sea are routed through "shipward 2 New York" for retransmittal through aircon system to Judibana (Amuay Bay).

Vessels that were originally cleared for another foreign port, or another Venezuelan port, and were subsequently diverted at sea, should radio the following information to "Lagomar-Judibana" prior to arrival:

Vessel's name
Master's name
Vessel's flag
Number of crew
Estimated time of arrival.
Last port of call
Port for which originally cleared
Grade and quantity of cargo to be lifted.

This information is required in order to make in advance special arrangements for inward clearance, to avoid payment of fine.

Radio notice of arrival should be sent 72 hours prior to arrival at Amuay.

Ship-to-shore telephone: Radio-telephone listening watches are maintained on a 24-hour basis in the Marine Office on the following frequencies: 2182 kc/s.; 156.8 Mc.

International telephone: International telephone calls are routed through Caracas, Venezuela. Telephone number is Punto Fijo area 069-51557. (It is usually difficult if not impossible to complete a call.)

TUGS: Tug-boat assistance is considered essential and is afforded all vessels entering, leaving or shifting in the harbour by 2 × 1,600-h.p. tugs. Disposition and manoeuvres of tug-boat are directed by the Pilot, who uses a "walkie-talkie" to convey orders to the tugs.

BERTHING: 4 finger piers provide 8 berths, numbered 1 to 8, from South to North.

The use of an anchor when docking is permitted at all berths. It is considered prudent to have the outboard anchor hove-out prior to entering the harbour in order to facilitate speedy release if necessary while docking. The Pilot will advise whether the ship is to be berthed port or starboard side to the dock.

LOADING: Loading rates particulary for low-flash products loaded during the hours of darkness or when topping-off cargo tanks, will be reduced by the terminal to meet existing conditions.

All loading and discharging will be stopped during the passage of an electric storm, and ullage covers must be closed and dogged down. During periods of calm, loading of gasoline or other similar low-flash products may be loaded at reduced rates or loading stopped if the heavy vapours are not being dispersed quickly enough to prevent hazards from accumulated gas pockets. Ship's officers are cautioned to be on their guard during such conditions.

Loading rates will be reduced when topping-off, if requested by the ship's officer.

Some of the fuel cargoes are loaded from fuel reservoirs through certified positive displacement meters, and shipping documents are prepared on the metered figures. All reconstituted crudes are line blended with conditions recording of component rates and quantities. Actual loading rates of both this crude and metered fuel cargoes are available at any time upon request of the standby.

Instructions as to grade or grades of cargo, and the approximate loading rate anticipated, will be given to the Master on completion of inward clearance. Supplementary information including number and size of lines and hoses will be furnished to the Chief Officer before loading commences.

If vessel's loading orders from owners or charterers do not agree with the terminal's orders, either as to grades or quantity, the marine representative should be advised immediately. The terminal is authorised to load 10% more or less than the quantity nominated; if the cargo to be lifted will be more or less than this 10% limitation it is necessary to cable New York for confirmation.

A terminal employee is stationed at each pier during the entire time the ship is discharging ballast, bunkering, or loading cargo. Fifteen minutes "stand-by" notice should be given to this man prior to completion of ballast, bunkers, or cargo.

Vessels loading liquid and flaked sulphur: For vessels loading liquid sulphur, the following applies:

Location: Pier 2, berth 3 at Amuay Bay.

Draft - 40 ft., length overall - 700 ft., beam - no limitation.

Loading will be at the rate of 400 long tons per hour through a 6 in. line and rubber hose.

Maximum cargo size - 25,000 long tons.

Normal loading temperature is 275° F. Minimum - 265° F. Maximum - 295° F. Density at normal loading temperature is 112 pounds per cu. ft. Viscosity at same temperature is 8.5 centipoises.

Safety precautions/provisions: Molten sulphur classified as "Grade E Liquid" by U.S. Coast Guard. No naked light, open flames or sparks should be permitted near any tank openings. Molten sulphur is combustible but is handled at temperatures below its flash point (325-370° F) and ignition temperatures (476-502° F).

For vessels loading flaked sulphur, the following applies: Physical characteristics of the loading facilities:

(a) Location: Lat. 11° 44′ N., Long. 70° 14′ W. Anchorage approximately 2,000 ft. South Punta Adaro with a depth of 33 ft. 400 yards offshore and dropping off to 50 ft. 1,000 yards offshore. In the rare event that the wind is Westerly the vessel would anchor further offshore.

(b) No draft, length or beam limitation. (Vessels loading up to 24 ft. draft may be anchored inside the bay).

(c) Loaded barges whose overall dimensions are 200 x 42 x 17 ft. will be brought alongside with the aid of tugs and removed when required, barges will be equipped with fenders. The hoppers are 160 × 37 × 14 ft. Loading from barges to ship will be done using ships gear and clam shells of 1.25 ton capacity. Clam shells will be furnished by Lagoven free of charge. Personnel (stevedores) to carry out the loading operation will be supplied by Lagoven or the ships crew can be used if this is set forth in the charter party. Loading rate 1,000 long tons per day.

(d) The anchorage is sheltered in the lee of the Adaro peninsula. Wave heights vary between 1 and 2 ft.

(e) Normal Maximum parcel size - 10,000 tons loaded at a rate of 1,000 tons per day, however, an additional 2,500 tons can be supplied at a loading rate of 500 tons per day.

(f) Flaked sulphur when stored in large quantities varies in density from 55 to 90 pounds per cu.ft. Average density is anticipated to be 70 lbs./cu. ft. Individual flakes are of irregular shape and are less than 0.5 sq.in. in area and less than 0.0625 in. thick. This size data is not a specification nor guarantee and is provided only to indicate the order of magnitude dimensions.

General:

Fee of Bs. 200 will be charged for trips between the Terminal and the anchorage by launch or tug for delivering personnel.

Method of cargo quantity determination: Barge drafts are marked to the nearest inch and capacity tables prepared by Charles Martin. The draft prior to commencement of and upon completion of discharging are noted. The amount transferred is obtained by consulting the tables. The quantity arrived at by totalling the amounts from the barges used is compared to the ships figures and reconciliation reasoned.

BALLAST: Vessels should arrive with sufficient ballast to permit safe handling. The Pilots require a draft of min. 8 ft. forward, 18 ft. aft, on a T-2 or similar size tanker, 11 ft. forward and 20 ft. aft on a 26,000 d.w.t. or larger vessel. Ballast should be carried in a minimum number of tanks, and all other tanks stripped, so as to minimise deballasting time.

A relatively small amount of salt water remaining in ship's tanks or lines can contaminate crude and cause operating problems for the refiners. It is important therefore to strip tanks and lines as dry as possible.

Vessels provided with completely segregated ballast system are permitted to discharge ballast and load cargo simultaneously.

Absolutely oil-free ballast may be discharged overside. All dirty ballast must be pumped ashore. A 30-in. ballast line, 2×60,000 and 1×120,000 barrel slop tanks and separator system are available.

A considerable number of vessels are now participating in the programme to eliminate pollution of the seas. Under this programme, vessels may arrive carrying quantities of oil/water emulsion. If it is desired to follow the "load-on-top" procedure in such instances, it is requested that the Marine Representative be informed on arrival.

MEDICAL: Medical treatment and hospitalisation, if required, is provided at a hospital located in the concession, operated by the Society of Catholic Medical Missionaries. Several dentists are located in the area.

Italian crew members covered by Casa Maritime insurance receive medical attention from the appointed medical representative in Punto Fijo.

Authorisation forms for medical and dental treatment are provided, which require Master's signature. Transportation is available at the Marine Office. Please note that if the patient does not speak Spanish or English, an interpreter should accompany him.

FUEL: Ship's requirements specifying grade and quantity desired are to be given to the Marine Representative boarding the vessel on arrival. All grades of bunker fuel, intermediate fuels and Diesels are available. Bunker delivery rates average 2,500/3,500 barrels per hour. Bunkers are loaded through meters which automatically register quantities on bunker receipts. It is the responsibility of ship's engineer to give "standby" notice to the terminal employee and advise him when to shut down.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water can be supplied if necessary; however, supplies are limited to essential requirements. All fresh water is piped from distant sources. Loading rate is about 10 t.p.h.

CUSTOMS: Venezuelan laws are strict in regard to contraband and Masters are requested to instruct their crews not to take cigarettes or other articles ashore. Cigarettes in carton lots, cigars, tobacco, souvenirs, gifts (particularly items of women's apparel) should be collected prior to arrival in port, listed with the items in the slop chest and placed in the custody of the Master for deposit in the slop chest or closet which will then be sealed for the duration of the vessel's stay in port.

Firearms on board any merchant vessel calling at Venezuelan ports must not exceed one per officer, nor can the ammunition exceed 18 cartridges per officer, All firearms and ammunition must be noted on the stores list. Officers must not carry firearms while the ship is in Venezuelan waters and these sidearms and ammunition should be collected and held in the Master's safe custody. Crew members should be warned against taking knives or other weapons ashore.

While the vessel is in port, Venezuelan National Guard Officials are assigned on board to ensure compliance with Customs regulations. The law requires that meals be supplied to these officials during regular meal hours. Masters are requested to give them the privilege of eating in the officers' mess-room, to avoid difficulties.

DENSITY: The usual specific gravity of sea water at the berth is 1025, temperature ranges from 78°F. to 85°F.

CONSULS: Brazil, Great Britain, Italy, the Netherlands, and Norway have consular representatives in the area.

TIME: GMT minus 4 hours.

SHORE LEAVE: Shore passes will be granted to all healthy persons. A representative of the Captain of the Port boards on arrival and issues the required number of passes. Shore passes are to be collected prior to sailing and given to the Pilot undocking the vessel. Vessels are not permitted to sail until all crew members are on board, unless hospitalised or prior arrangements made for disembarking. A letter to this effect is required from the Master.

REGULATIONS: (i) Pollution: The laws of Venezuela are very strict in regard to the pollution of harbour and coastal waters by oil, and heavy fines are imposed for violations. No dirty ballast, oil or bilge slops are to be pumped or allowed to escape overboard. All overboard discharge valves from cargo tanks and bilges are to be secured before loading or discharging commences. Loading is to be conducted with the greatest care and vigilance in order that errors or delays in handling cargo valves may not result in overflows. All deck scuppers should be plugged before loading to avoid harbour contamination should an overflow occur. The Authorities require that a written report be submitted by the ship involved in the event of an oil spill.

(ii) Gangways: All vessels using the port of Amuay must provide a safe gangway. The use of rung ladders, pilot ladders, etc., is contrary to Port Regulations, and Port Authorities will not board except by means of a safe gangway or accommodation ladder.

(ii) Passengers: Passengers will not be permitted to disembark unless in possession of the required visa and documents. To facilitate clearance, if passengers are carried, the Master should include advice to this effect in his radio ETA.

(iv) Visitors: All visitors to ships are prohibited except those company employees, petroleum inspectors, etc., whose duties require their presence aboard.

(v) Rats: Rat guards required at all times.

GENERAL: (a) Weather Conditions: There is little rainfall at Amuay Bay; annual precipitation averages 12 in. The so-called rainy season usually coincides with the Caribbean hurricane season, from August to November, although Amuay lies South of the usual hurricane track. During these months calms are often experienced and winds from a Westerly direction may be expected. Normal winds are steady from the N.E., average force 4, Beaufort Scale, with a max. of force 8. Temperatures average about 85°F., with little variation from day to night or season to season.

(b) Tides: The normal range of the tide is about 12 in.; however, a 28-in. range has been observed during spring tides.

(c) Lubricating oil: Supplies of lubricating oils are available. Requirements should be given in vessel's radio notice of arrival.

(d) Bonded Stores: Cigarettes or other stores in bond are not obtainable in Amuay Bay.

(e) Cash Advances: The local currency is the Venezuelan Bolivar and cash advances are made only in this currency. It is requested that any requirement for cash advances be included in the vessel's ETA radio, to permit delivery on board on arrival.

(f) Charts: No supplies of charts or sailing directions are available at Amuay Bay.

(g) Laundry: A 6 hour laundry service is available throughout each working day. Such service should be requested in the vessel's ETA message.

(h) Mail: Itemised lists are required for ship's mail, to be signed by the Master. Unless other instructions are given, ship's mail received after sailing, or for vessels on which no advice has been received, will be held for 30 days and then returned to Owners or Operators at ship's expense.

(i) Inspection – Petroleum Products: Chas. Martin & Co. and E. W. Saybolt, petroleum inspectors, are available if specified. Telephone numbers, Chas. Martin 44665, 44650 and 44211; Saybolt 44639, 44645 and 44227.

(j) Norwegian Government Seamen Service: A field representative of the above service is stationed at Amuay providing Norwegian and Swedish film exchange and other usual services. His telephone number is 51459.

(k) Personnel – Seamen Left Ashore: In the case of seamen left ashore for hospitalisation, repatriation or other reason, all documents and personal effects are to be delivered to the Marine Office before sailing. A letter is required from the Master advising the maximum advances to be made to the seamen, if any, and instructions concerning his repatriation. All expenses incurred by seamen left ashore, including cost of repatriation, are for ship's account. It is important that Masters bear in mind that the Venezuelan law will at all times hold the vessel, her Master, Agent or owner, responsible for any seamen left behind in Venezuela.

(l) Provisions and Stores: Provisions and stores in limited quantities are available, the prices and quality of some items, such as fresh fruit, fish, shrimps, vegetables, etc. are competitive; dry stores are considerably higher than in most ports. The Port Steward will assist in filling requisitions.

(m) Radar and Radio: Radar and radio repairs can be effected in Amuay. A service repair man is available, but spare parts are limited.

(n) Repairs: Shore facilities are available only for emergency repairs of a minor nature. The nearest dry docks are those at Puerto Cabello and Curacao, N.A. Several contractors in the area provide labour for hull painting and for tank cleaning. Contracts for these services are made by the ship's Master directly with the contractor.

(o) Surveyors: There are no appointed surveyors to American Bureau of Shipping or Lloyd's in the area. However, with sufficient advance notice, arrangements can be made to have their nearest representatives come to Amuay to attend surveys.

(p) Walport Film Exchange: Subscribers to the Walport Service may exchange films at the Marine Office.

ATTENDANCE: Representatives of the Marine Department board vessels immediately on arrival, and it is particularly requested that Masters indicate at that time all ship's requirements. The Marine Office Building is located at the Pierhead Trestle and personnel are available for assistance at all hours. Telephones are located on all docks and the Marine Shift Supervisor can be called on telephone No. 444475 or 444465.

CARIPITO: 10.09 N. 63.02 W.

OPERATORS: Lagoven, S.A.

LOCATION: Caripito is located on the West bank of the San Juan River in Lat. 10° 09′ 25″ N., Long. 63° 02′ 01″ W.

ESSENTIAL REQUIREMENTS:

1. Incoming vessels must send to Caripito their ETA Guiria at least 3 days in advance followed by confirmation 48 and 24 hours before arrival.

2. If a ship originally cleared for another port (including some other Venezuelan port) is diverted at sea to Caripito, certain information must be radioed to Caripito prior to arrival to avoid a heavy fine and/or delays. See "Radio".

3. No dirty ballast may be pumped overside in port or in Venezuelan coastal waters. Limited ballast facilities are available at Caripito Terminal.

4. Vessels calling at Caripito must obtain Government Pilots at Guiria.

5. The Venezuelan flag must be displayed during daylight hours while vessel is within port limits.

6. The emergency fire signal in Caripito dock area is 6 short blasts and 1 long blasts on ship's whistle or siren. No other signal is to be given in the case of emergency.

APPROACHES: The traffic in San Juan River is restricted to one-way from Marieta Point to Caripito. Therefore, instructions are issued at Guiria to incoming vessels relative to what action to take on arrival at Marieta Point. Outbound traffic is controlled so as not to conflict with these instructions.

1. Guiria. The town of Guiria is located on South coast of Paria Peninsula on N.W. shore of Gulf of Paria. When approaching from East a signal tower will be observed on a bluff slightly to North of town.

2. Maturin Bar. Buoy E-1, marks the entrance to Maturin Bar Channel. At Punta Gorda there is a light tower located in approximate Lat. 10° 09′ 50″ N., Long. 62° 37′ 52″ W. displays a flashing red light.

3. Channel. Maturin Bar Channel is 14 miles in length and 400 ft. in width. The tidal range over the bar varies from 4 ft. 6 in. to 4ft. 9 in. with currents up 3 knots. The average salinity of water is 1.009; however, this may vary considerably between wet and dry seasons and spring and neap tides. Maximum draft permitted by Venezuelan regulations is 34 ft. in fresh water. There is a restriction of 6 in. less for all motor tankers. On leaving Maturin Bar Channel the San Juan River narrows from approximately 1.25 miles in width to about 0.7 miles with slight variations in width up to Marieta Point where it narrows to about 1,200 ft. and varies between 800 and 2,000 ft. up to Caripito. Marieta Point marks intersection of Cano Frances and the San Juan River. It is also at this point that course of San Juan River changes approximately 100° to starboard and it is the beginning of one-way traffic. Frequently, incoming vessels are requested to anchor below this point to await outbound traffic. There are 32 lights marking strategic points in San Juan River between Maturin Bar and Caripito terminal. These light towers are painted aluminium and are easily visible during daylight hours.

DOCUMENTS: (also see under "Radio").

1. Clearance (inward and outward). Inward clearance is effected at Caripito. The sanitary inspector boards vessel at anchor or at berth depending on tidal conditions and/or the availability of a berth. The Customs and other Government officials usually board at the berth. However, should there be a delay awaiting berth or tide, the entry will be granted while vessel is at anchor, in which case accommodation ladder must be rigged.

It is necessary that the following documents be ready on arrival:
Ballast List (1 original, visaed).
Passenger List (5 copies, none of which visaed).
Baggage List (5 copies, none of which visaed).
Crew List (7 copies, none of which visaed).
Sailing Permit from Last Port (1 original, visaed).
Stores List (5 copies, see Note).
List of Personal Effects (3 copies, none of which visaed).
List of Contents of Slop Chest (3 copies, none of which visaed).
List of Passengers in Transit (5 copies, none of which visaed).

Note: The Stores Lists may be prepared on board prior to arrival unless ship is coming from Netherlands Antilles or the Guianas, in which case they must be visaed by Venezuelan Consul at port of departure.

2. Cargo documents. The Port of Caripito has in force a system of cargo documentation for expediting the sailing of vessel. It is as follows:

a. Certain documentation with approximate cargo figures of unofficial nature are placed on board and official cargo documents are airmailed to discharge port.

b. Blank signed documents are placed on board to vessel's departure from Caripito and thence correct figures are radioed to sub-agency at Guiria who delivers them in writing to Master, who acknowledges its receipt by signing carbon copies of transmittal sheet.

PILOTAGE: Pilots are employees of Venezuelan Government and act in an advisory capacity. The Master retains responsibility for ship at all times. In the event it becomes necessary to disregard the Pilot's instructions in order to ensure the safety of the ship, the Master must forward through the Marine Department a full written report of the circumstances, for delivery to the Captain of the Port.

Pilots are compulsory and are embarked and disembarked at port of Guiria through a sub-agent. Vessels should proceed to the Guiria sea buoy (position 10° 33′ 12″ N. 62° 15′ 00″ W.) and await instructions. If arriving during the hours of darkness, certain instructions are usually transmitted by light signals from the signal tower. Voice radio communications can be established at any time with Guiria or Lagoven Caripito on frequencies 2182 kc/s, 2638 kc/s and 2738 kc/s. The launch which embarks the Pilot will also deliver instructions to the Master relative to the movements of his vessel en route to Caripito, port regulations, facilities, etc. The regular pilotage fees cover the area from the entrance to Maturin channel to and from Caripito. The Pilot is to be provided sleeping quarters and food equal to that provided the officers aboard ship.

Note: Complaints or observations concerning the Pilot's handling of vessel should be noted on back of pilotage ticket.

TIDES: The normal range of tide in the dock area is about 12 ft. with currents up to 3 knots during the flood and 4 knots during the ebb in rainy season (May-December). The normal current is 2.5 knots during the flood and 3 knots during the ebb.

ANCHORAGE: For vessels awaiting berth, there is an anchorage about 1,000 m. up-stream from the Caripito terminal. Vessels awaiting clear channel may at times be requested to anchor at Punta Marieta. Vessels awaiting high tide anchor at Punta Marieta or off Punta Gorda.

MAX. SIZE: Vessels up to 780 ft. and 48,000 d.w.t. can be accommodated with a low water depth of 35 ft.

RADIO: The cable and telegraphic address for Lagoven at Caripito is "Lagomar – Caripito". Messages to and from ships at sea are routed through the Government Radio Station at Maiquetia (La Guaira), call letters "YVG". This station operates on a 24-hour continuous watch, on the following frequencies:

Listening Frequencies: low frequency, 500 kc/s; high frequency, 4178, 6267, 8356, 12534, 16712, 22225 kc/s. Transmitting Frequencies: low frequency, 500, 472, 464, 417 kc/s; high frequency, 4322, 4352, 6505.5, 6519.5, 8722, 8730, 12817.5, 17141.6 kc/s. Radio notice of arrival should be sent 72 hours prior to arrival at Guiria and corrected if weather or other conditions delay the vessel.

Radio telephone listening watches are maintained on a 24-hour basis at Guiria and at Caripito on 2182 kc. The following frequencies are available for communications after contact: 2638 kc and 2738 kc.

All vessels en route to Caripito may also communicate with Amuay or La Salina Marine offices and request that message dealing with corrected ETA's, Pilots and other business be relayed to the Caripito Marine Office.

Vessels that were originally cleared for another foreign port, or another Venezuelan port, and were subsequently diverted at sea, should radio the following information to Creole Caripito prior to arrival:

Vessel's name
Master's name
Vessel's flag
Number of crew
Estimated time of arrival at Caripito.
Last port of call
Port for which originally cleared.
Grade and quantity of cargo to be lifted.

This information is required in order to make in advance special arrangements for inward clearance, to avoid payment of a fine. It is necessary in such a case that the following documents be ready on arrival:

Crew List (original and 6 copies).
List of Personal Effects (original and 2 copies).
List of Contents of Slop Chest (3 copies).
Stores List (original and 1 copy).

Also required are the original and 2 copies of the radiogram instructing Master to proceed to Caripito. Outward clearance documents are placed on board the vessel prior to departure from the Caripito terminal.

Masters should bear in mind that while vessels are within Venezuelan territorial waters, Government authorities do not permit the use of ship's radio equipment. Cables and radiograms should be handed to the company representative for transmittal via shore radio communication system. Caripito has also radio telephone communication with North and South America and Europe. For further information contact Port Services Section in the terminal building, telephone C-335.

BALLAST: Ballast is not required when mooring. Any ballast carried should be in a minimum number of tanks, and all other tanks stripped, so as to minimise deballasting time.

A relatively small amount of salt water remaining in ship's tanks or lines can contaminate crude and cause operating problems for the refiners. It is important therefore to strip tanks and lines as dry as possible.

Vessels provided with completely segregated ballast system are permitted to discharge ballast and load cargo simultaneously. Absolutely oil-free ballast may be discharged overside. Contaminated residues may be pumped ashore, where facilities are available for receiving up to a max. of 20,000 barrels.

A considerable number of vessels are now participating in the programme to eliminate pollution of the seas. Under this programme, vessels may arrive carrying quantities of oil/water emulsion. If it is desired to follow the "load-on-top" procedure in such instances, it is requested that the Marine Representative be informed on arrival.

BERTHING: The Marine Office Building is located on the West bank of the San Juan River upstream from the berths. Representatives of the Marine Department board vessel immediately upon arrival and it is particularly requested that Masters indicate at that time all ship's requirements. Personnel are available for assistance at all hours.

Lagoven maintains a deep water terminal, consisting of 2 ocean tanker berths, Nos. 2 and 3. These are T-type piers with breasting dolphins located approximately 10 ft. off the face of each pier.

All terminal facilities are under the control of Lagoven, S.A. The port is open for navigation during day and night. All ocean tankers are moored at berths No. 2 and 3 on the flood tide only. Vessels may sail from berth No. 3 at any stage of the tide. Sailings from berth No. 2 are restricted to flood tide only when berth No. 3 is occupied.

A vessel entering or leaving port must be assisted by a Docking Master in the general employ of and furnished by Lagoven. The Docking Master will board an inbound vessel at San Juan River Light Beacon No. 29 and relieve the Government Pilot of his duties. A Custom guard will board at the same time and remain with the vessel. The Docking Master will deliver to the Master his loading and docking instructions together with any other information pertinent to the vessel's call. He will also sign the Notice of Readiness if requested. The vessel will proceed to anchor to await flood tide to dock, to await berth, or will swing to the flood tide in the turning basin and proceed directly to the berth depending on circumstances.

LOADING: Loading rates, particularly for low-flash products loaded during the hours of darkness or when topping off cargo tanks, will be reduced by terminal to meet existing conditions.

All loading and discharging will be stopped during passage of an electric storm, and ullage covers must be closed and dogged down. During periods of calms, loading of gasoline or other similar low-flash products may be loaded at reduced rates or loading stopped if the heavy vapours are not being dispersed quickly enough to prevent hazard from accumulated gas pockets. Ship's officers are cautioned to be on their guard during such conditions.

Loading rates will be reduced when topping off, if requested by the ship's officer.

Instructions as to grade or grades of cargo, and the approximate loading rate anticipated, will be given to the Master. Supplementary information including number and size of lines and hoses will be furnished to the Chief Officer before loading commences.

If vessel's loading orders from Owners or charterers do not agree with terminal's orders, either as to grades or quantity, the marine representative should be advised immediately. The terminal is authorised to load 10% more or less than the quantity nominated; if the cargo to be lifted will be more or less than 10% limitation consultation is necessary.

A terminal employee is stationed at each pier during the entire time the ship is discharging ballast, bunkering, or loading cargo. Fifteen minutes "standby" notice should be given to this man prior to completion of ballast, bunkers, or cargo.

MEDICAL: Medical treatment and hospitalisation, if required, is provided at a hospital located in the concession. Several dentists are located in the town of Caripito. Authorisation forms for medical and dental treatment are provided, which require Master's signature. Transportation is available at the Marine Office. Please note that if the patient does not speak Spanish or English, an interpreter should accompany him.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water is available in any quantity. Delivery is made through 2.5 in. national standard fire hose thread hydrants. Ship's personnel must provide hoses and connect up.

FUEL: Bunker "C" fuel oil, marine diesel and intermediate fuels are available. It is the responsibility of ship's engineer to give "standby" notice to the terminal employee and advise him when to shut down.

CONSULS: There are no consular representatives in the area. Vessels bound for U.S.A. or British Caribbean ports will be provided with a letter stating this fact.

CERTIFICATES: All ships calling at a Venezuelan port for the first time must be measured for tonnage by Captain of the Port. It is the usual practice to take ashore the ship's Panama Canal or Suez Canal Certificate, which is used as a basis for recalculating tonnage under the Venezuelan regulations, and is returned before sailing. The Venezuelan Admeasurement Certificate, when later issued is forwarded to the Owners. A fee is charged for this certificate, which is payable only on ship's first call. Vessels registered in following countries are excluded from above regulations: Netherlands, Germany, France, Portugal, United Kingdom, Denmark, Sweden, U.S.A., Ireland and Norway.

CUSTOMS: While the vessel is in port, Venezuelan National Guard officials are assigned on board to ensure compliance with Customs regulations. The law requires that meals be supplied to these officals during regular meal hours. Masters are requested to give them the privilege of eating in the officers' messroom, to avoid difficulties.

Venezuelan laws are strict in regard to contraband and Masters are requested to instruct their crews not to take cigarettes or other articles ashore. Cigarettes in carton lots, cigars, tobacco, souvenirs, gifts (particularly items of women's apparel) should be collected prior to arrival in port, listed with the items in the slop chest and placed in the custody of the Master for deposit in the slop chest or closet which will then be sealed for the duration of the vessel's stay in port.

Firearms on board any merchant vessel calling at Venezuelan ports must not exceed 1 per officer, nor can ammunition exceed 18 cartridges per officer. All firearms and ammunition must be noted on the stores list. Officers must not carry firearms while ship is in Venezuelan waters and these side-arms and ammunition should be collected and held in the Master's safe custody. Crew members should be warned against taking knives or other weapons ashore.

REPAIRS: Only minor repairs of an emergency nature can be made. There are no electronic repair services available in the area.

SHORE LEAVE: Shore leave is permitted and a representative of the Captain of the Port boards on arrival and issues the required number of passes. Shore passes are to be collected prior to sailing, and given to the Docking Master undocking the vessel. Vessels are not permitted to sail until all crew members are on board, unless hospitalised or prior arrangements made for disembarking.

TIME: Local time is GMT minus 4 hours.

GENERAL:

Gangways: Gangways at berths No. 2 and 3 are provided by the terminal.

Plimsoll Marks: The Captain of the Port requires that the Plimsoll Marks of all vessels using the port be clearly visible. Vessels will be checked on completion of loading, and if the Plimsoll Marks are not readily legible, permission to sail may be withheld.

Surveyors: There are no appointed surveyors to the American Bureau of Shipping or Lloyd's in the area. With 48 hours notice, non-exclusive surveyors can be obtained from Caracas, or at times from Puerto La Cruz, or qualified Masters or chief engineers may be available for appointment as surveyors when required.

Bonded Stores: Cigarettes or other stores in bond are not obtainable at Caripito.

Cash Advances: The local currency is the Venezuelan Bolivar and cash advances are made only in this currency. It is requested that any requirement for cash advances be included in the vessel's ETA radio, to permit delivery on board on arrival. Cash returns can be accepted only during the normal working day – 0700 to 1600 hrs. Sundays and holidays excluded.

Provisions and Stores: Provisions and stores in extremely limited varieties and quantities are available at prices considerably higher than in most other ports.

Charts: No supplies of charts or sailing directions are available at Caripito.

Personnel – Seamen Left Ashore: In the case of seamen left ashore for hospitalisation, repatriation or other reason all documents and personal effects are to be delivered to the Marine Office before sailing. A letter is required from the Master advising the maximum advances to be made to the seaman, if any, and instructions concerning his repatriation. All expenses incurred by seamen left ashore, including cost of repatriation, are for ship's account. It is important that Masters bear in mind that the Venezuelan law will at all times hold the vessel, her Master, Agent or owner, responsible for any seamen left behind in Venezuela.

Laundry; Laundry service is available.

Lubricating Oil: Supplies of marine lubricating oils are available from Puerto La Cruz. Quantities required should be included in the ETA cable.

Mail: Any pending ship's mail will be delivered on board by the marine dispatcher on arrival at Caripito. At the same time he will receive any ship's mail to be dispatched. The marine dispatcher will accept personal mail only if it carries the proper amount of Venezuelan postage, or if Master authorises postage by signing 7 copies of the Company Post Transmittal form. Masters interested in knowing the individual postage amounts to be paid by each crew member, should provide a list, in duplicate, of the senders, and number of letters sent by each one identified by a number written on each letter. Copy of this will be returned aboard vessel when leaving this port outward bound. If not ready on time, it will be air-mailed to the vessel's next port of call.

Inspection – Petroleum Products and Crude Oil: Charles Martin & Co. and E. W. Saybolt, petroleum inspectors, are available from Puerto La Cruz if specified.

Visitors: All visitors to ships are prohibited except those company employees, petroleum inspectors, etc., whose duties require their presence aboard.

Passengers: Passengers will not be permitted to disembark unless in possession of the required visa and documents. To facilitate clearance, if passengers are carried, the Master should include advice to this effect in his radio ETA.

Pollution of Harbour and Coastal Waters: The laws of Venezuela are strict in regard to pollution of harbour and coastal waters by oil, and heavy fines are imposed for violations. No dirty ballast, oil or bilge slops are to be pumped or allowed to escape overboard. All overboard discharge valves from cargo tanks and bilges are to be secured before loading or discharging commences. Loading is to be conducted with greatest care and vigilance in order that errors or delays in handling cargo valves may not result in overflows. All deck scuppers should be plugged before loading to avoid harbour contamination should an overflow occur. The authorities require that a written report be submitted by the ship involved in the event of an oil spill.

EL PALITO: 10.29 N. 68.07 W. (See Plan)

OPERATORS: Llanoven, S.A.

LOCATION (of El Palito Terminal): The terminal facilities operated by Llanoven S.A. at the port of Puerto Cabello (Punta Chavez), are situated on the Venezuelan coast, 7 miles West of Puerto Cabello. The terminal has a 2,475 ft. pier, part causeway and part trestle, extending out from Punta Chavez along a shallow reef then angling into water 48 ft. deep. 2 tankers can tie up simultaneously at the berths.

WEATHER: Winds are normally from the N.E. with an average Beaufort scale force of 2-3. Average temperature about 85°. The months of January, February and March have the roughest sea and swell, and vessels may not be able to dock due to the weather.

TIDE: The normal range of the tide is 1 ft.

ESSENTIAL REQUIREMENTS:

1. Incoming vessels must send ETA 72 hours before arrival at El Palito Terminal and another 24 hours before arrival advising any change of ETA.

2 If a vessel originally cleared for another port (including some other Venezuelan port) is diverted at sea to El Palito, certain information must be received prior to arrival, to avoid heavy fine and/or delays.

3 No Ballast may be pumped overside in port. Ballast disposal facilities are available at the El Palito Terminal.

4. The use of Venezuelan Government Pilots is compulsory for docking and undocking.

5. The Venezuelan flag should be displayed at the mast-head during daylight hours by vessels anchored and berthed in Venezuelan waters.

6. In addition to other clearance documents, 2 copies of an itemised list of articles in the ship's slop chest must be presented to the authorities on arrival.

7. The emergency fire signal is 5 long blasts on the vessel's whistle or siren. No other signal is to be given in case of emergency.

8. Rat guards must be in place on all mooring lines.

APPROACHES: The terminal pier is marked by the following lights: One occulting red light at the top of No. 1 (N.W.) Hose Rack, 80 ft. above sea level. Latitude 10° 29′ 51″ N., Longitude 68° 07′ 13″ W., and one green light, flashing every 3 seconds at the top of No. 2 (S.E.) Hose Rack, 80 ft. above sea level, located 275 ft. S.E. of No. 1 Hose Rack. A group of 5 crude storage tanks, painted aluminium, visible 20 miles on a clear day, are located 1.25 miles 200° from the head of the pier.

DOCUMENTS:

A. Admeasurement Certificates. All vessels calling at Venezuelan ports for the first time must be measured for tonnage by the Captain of the Port. It is the usual practice to take the Ship's Panama Canal or Suez Canal Certificate, which is used as a basis of recalculating the tonnage under the Venezuelan regulations and is returned before sailing. The Venezuelan Admeasurement Certificate is forwarded to the owners at a later date. A fee is charged for the certificate which is payable only on the vessel's first call. Vessels registered in the following countries are excluded from the above regulations: Denmark, France, Germany, Ireland, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, United Kingdom and U.S.A.

B. Inward clearance is effected on board immediately after docking by Government Port Officials and a representative of the Marine Department. It is necessary that the following documents be ready on arrival:

Clearance from last port (1 copy).
Ballast Manifest from last port (1 copy, visaed according to paragraph (d) if there is no Venezuelan Consul).
Crew List (9 copies).
Passenger and Baggage Lists (5 copies, visaed; 2 copies not visaed).
List of Personal Effects (5 copies not visaed).
Store List (3 copies, see paragraph (c)).
List of Slop Chest (3 copies not visaed).
Sailing Permit (issued by maritime authority of last port).

Vessels arriving with cargo to discharge, will also require:

Consular Mail (one sealed envelope from each loading port).
Manifest (Sobordo), 1 original visaed and 2 copies not visaed from each loading port.
Bills of Lading, 1 original and 1 copy visaed, and 4 copies not visaed from each loading port.
Tally books; 6 from each loading port.
Consular invoice: 3 originals visaed and 3 copies not visaed, from each loading port.
Commercial invoices: 3 from each loading port.

C. Store list prepared should indicate separately all deck, engine and cabin stores. The store lists may be prepared on board prior to arrival unless the vessel is coming from the Netherlands Antilles or the Guianas, in which case they must be visaed by the Venezuelan Consul at the port of departure.

D. Cargo and clearance documents should be visaed by the Venezuelan Consul at the last port of call. In the absence of a Venezuelan Consul, they may be visaed by the Consul of a friendly nation, by the Chamber of Commerce or by two reputable merchants, the latters' signature to be notarised. In the absence of a Venezuelan Consul, the following notation should be written on each document in Spanish, and signed by the alternates designated above: "Por no existir en la localidad Agente Consular Venezolano y a peticion de los embarcadores, certifico el presente documento".

(Signature)

Vessels originally cleared for another port, and diverted at sea to El Palito, should radio Llanoven Puerto Cabello the following information as soon as the change of sailing orders are received:

1. Advise diverted.
2. Name and class of vessel.
3. Number of crew.
4. Flag of vessel.
5. Last port of call.
6. Port from which originally cleared.
7. Estimated time of arrival at Pilot station.
8. Type and amount of cargo vessel will load.
9. Time required to discharge ballast.
10. Master's name in full as signature (John Jones, Master).

This information is required in order to make in advance special arrangements for inward clearance to avoid payment of fines.

Outward clearance and cargo documents are delivered on board by the Marine Dispatcher. However, in order to obtain the sailing permit, a special form which is delivered on board on arrival must be completed, not later than 2 hours before sailing time. This form gives cargo and freeboard information required by the Captain of the Port. In addition, one of the 9 copies of the crew list specified above, corrected to show any changes made while in port, should be attached to the form.

PILOTAGE: The Pilot's working hours are from 0600 to 1800 hrs. There are no special charges for their assistance during those hours on workdays. On Sundays and holidays they charge overtime. There is also a charge when ship has anchored in the bay as according to the pilotage law each movement (and entering the bay is one movement) requires a Pilot. By special agreement only Pilot's overtime will be charged for anchorage, as anchorage and docking is considered as one movement with respect to Government Pilotage Fee.

Pilotage is compulsory government service. The government charges the Pilot's assistance according to ship's net tonnage. Vessels under flags of Panama and Liberia are required to have their Venezuelan Tonnage Certificate. The government charges for docking and sailing.

Pilots are employees of the Venezuelan Government and pilotage is compulsory for vessels entering or leaving the harbour. The terminal will arrange for Pilots to board all vessels as necessary. Pilots meet the vessel via launch provided by the terminal. The Pilot may decline to moor the vessel if it is not equipped with satisfactory mooring equipment, lines, gear, etc., or if it is not sufficiently ballasted. It is the responsibility of the Master to notify the Pilot of any special conditions or peculiarities, such as defective navigation equipment, mooring lines, tackle, gear or lack of necessary equipment, which might impose hazards in connection with the handling, mooring, discharging or loading of vessels.

At the berths, vessels must be moored to the entire satisfaction of the Pilot and the terminal operators' Mooring Master.

The Pilot acts in an advisory capacity. The Master retains responsibility for the vessel at all times. In the event it becomes necessary to disregard the Pilot's advice in order to ensure the safety of the vessel, the Master must forward a full written report of the circumstances through the terminal for delivery to the Captain of the Port.

ANCHORAGE: Notice of Readiness can be tendered at anchorage. The suggested anchorage for El Palito Terminal is located 0.5 to 1 mile North or West of the seaward end of the pier. The area to the East of the pier is not recommended as an anchorage.

RESTRICTIONS: None. Vessels enter day or night and at any state of tide.

MAX. SIZE: East berth draft 38 ft. 6 in. West berth draft 40 ft. Length 800 ft.

BALLAST: Due to the exposed location of the oil piers, vessels are required to be ballasted to the following minimum drafts for safe manoeuvring to and from the berths:

Overall Length of Vessel	Minimum Draft Required
400–480 ft.	forward 9 ft., aft 17 ft.
481–700 ft.	forward 12 ft., aft 20 ft.
701–800 ft.	forward 14 ft., aft 23 ft.

A total capacity of 220,000 barrel slop pits and a 20 in. ballast line are available to receive all ballast.

Vessels with separate ballast tanks, lines and pumps may discharge ballast overside. Ballast for entering the harbour should be carried in the minimum number of tanks, and all other tanks stripped dry so as to minimise the time required for discharging ballast alonside berths.

All ships in ballast from abroad are charged for Consular Ballast Certificate.

HEALTH: No radio pratique. Health officers board vessel at berth.

RADIO: Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, Coastal Station call sign YVL, makes radio contact with all vessels "CQ" on 8722 kc. at the following hours: 1130, 1330, 1530, 1830, 2130, 0030, 0200 GMT. Also "CQ" on 17.141 kc. at 1630 GMT and "CQ"on 4.322 kc. at 0430 and 0630 GMT.

Vessels originally cleared for another port, and diverted at sea to El Palito, should radio Llanoven Puerto Cabello the following information as soon as the change of sailing orders are received:

Advise diverted.
Name and class of vessel.
Number of crew.
Flag of vessel.
Last port of call.
Port from which originally cleared.
Estimated time of arrival at pilot station.
Type and amount of cargo vessel will load.
Time required to discharge ballast.
Master's name in full as signature (John Jones, Master).

This information is required in order to make in advance special arrangements for inward clearance to avoid payment of fines.

TUGS: Tugs are not available at El Palito.

BERTHING:

1. The use of both anchors is required for docking at both berths. It is considered prudent to have both anchors hove-out prior to entering the harbour in order to facilitate speedy release while mooring. The Pilot will advise whether the vessel is to be moored port or starboard side to the dock.

2. In the event the berth is required by another vessel, a vessel having completed loading may be required to vacate the berth promptly and proceed to anchorage to await cargo documents.

3. East Berth. Approach at very dead slow speed along a line parallel to a line formed by the East and the West berth at a distance from it equal to the distance of the North buoy. Drop the starboard anchor at the point of intersection of the ship's fore with a line formed by the two East shore range markers. Continue along same path at very dead slow speed until reaching with the ship's fore the East berth. Drop the port anchor. Allow the ship to drift into position alongside berth. This will be done by tying mooring lines as required by Pilot and with the help of the ship's engines.

4. West Berth. Approach at very dead slow speed along a line parallel to a line formed by the East and West berths and at a distance from it equal to the distance of the North buoy. Drop the port anchor at the point of intersection of the ship's fore with a line formed by the two West shore range markers. Continue along same path at very dead slow speed until reaching with the ship's fore the West berth. Drop the starboard anchor. Allow the ship to drift into position alongside berth. This will be done by tying mooring lines as required by the Pilot and with the help of the ship's engines.

5. General. Available hose connections, all 8 in., are as follows: 3 for Fuel oil, 1 for diesel products and 1 for leaded or unleaded gasolines. All dirty ballast to be pumped ashore through the fuel oil loading hoses.

LOADING:

1. Cargo: On completion of inward clearance, information regarding the number of hoses and loading rate will be given to the Master and Chief Officer. During ballast discharge supplementary information will be gien to the Chief Offier. A 15 minute standby is required prior to finishing any grade.

2. Contamination of Crude: It has been established that one of the major causes of contamination of crude oil is the small amount of salt water remaining in the ship's tanks, pumps and ballast lines after discharging ballast. This small amount of salt water frequently results in costly damage and downtime to refining equipment and also presents many other problems. Therefore all tanks and lines must be pumped as dry as possible.

3. Draining of Hoses: Hoses are drained by gravity on all products and crude. Ship personnel must co-operate with terminal personnel in this operation to ensure complete draining of hoses into ship tanks and adequate drip cans must be placed to catch the remaining oil in line. Sawdust or equivalent must be on standby to clean up any oil leaks.

4. Loading Rates:

Commodity	Available at berths	Size of line (in.)	Estimated max. barrels per hour	Hoses Pier 1 (in.)	Hoses Pier 2 (in.)
Crude oil	1–2	30	27,000	3–8	2–8
Bunker C	1–2	24	17,500	3–8	2–8
Diesel	1–2	16	9,000	1–8	1–8
Unleaded gasoline	1–2	16	8,000	1–8	1–8
Leaded gasoline	1–2	16	8,000	1–8	1–8
Ship's bunkers	1–2	24/16/8	6,000	1–8	1–4
Lube	2	8		1–8	1–4

Loading rates will be reduced by the terminal when topping off tanks at the vessel's request.

5. Scuppers: Loading will not be started till all deck scuppers are properly sealed to the satisfaction of the terminal.

6. Simultaneous Deballasting and Loading: Vessels equipped with separate and completely segregated ballast tanks, and lines and pumps never used for oil may be permitted to discharge ballast and load simultaneously providing approval has been obtained from the terminal.

MEDICAL: Medical treatment and hospitalisation, if required, are available at the Seguros Sociales in Puerto Cabello. Several dentists are located in Puerto Cabello. Authorisation for any medical and/or dental treatment must be made by the Master. Transportation is available at the Terminal Office. If the patient does not speak Spanish an interpreter should accompany him.

FRESH WATER: Available.

FUEL: Bunkers are available only for vessels loading cargo. Disputes as to quantity should be registered by signing the bunker receipt under protest and noting the ship's quantities thereon.

CUSTOMS: While the vessel is in port, Venezuelan National Guard officials are assigned on board to ensure compliance with Customs regulations. The law requires that meals be supplied to these officials during regular meal hours.

Venezuelan laws are strict in regard to contraband and Masters are requested to instruct their crews not to take cigarettes or other articles ashore.

Cigarettes in cartons, cigars, tobacco, souvenirs, gifts (particularly items of women's apparel), should be collected prior to arrival in port, listed with the items in the slop chest and placed in the custody of the Master for deposit in the slop chest which will be sealed for the duration of the vessel's stay in port.

CONSULS: French, Norwegian, Danish, Italian and Panama Consulates are represented in Puerto Cabello. There is no American Consulate. It is necessary for Masters of anaanian flag essels to isit the Panamanian Consulate at Puerto Cabello to present documents and receive dispatch as required by law. Regular office hours are from 0800 to 1200 hrs. and from 1400 to 1700 hrs. Mondays through Fridays; any dispatch issued outside of regular office hours is billed at double fees. Terminal Office will arrange transportation to Puerto Cabello upon request.

REPAIRS: Only emergency repairs of a minor nature can be made. Prices are very high.

REPATRIATION: The documents and personal effects of seamen left ashore for hospitalisatin, repatriation or other reason, must be delivered to the Terminal Office before sailing. A letter from the Master is required advising the maximum amount of advances to the seaman and any other instructions concerning his repatriation. All expenses incurred by the seaman, including the cost of repatriation, are for the vessel's account. Venezuelan law at all times holds the Master, Agent or Owner responsible for any seaman left behind in Venezuela.

AIRPORT: Distant about 4 miles.

TIME: Local time is about GMT minus 4 hours.

SHORE LEAVE: Shore leave is permitted and a representative of the Captain of the Port boards on arrival and issues the required number of passes. Shore passes are to be collected prior to sailing and given to the National Guard watchmen on board.

Vessels are not permitted to sail until all crew members are on board, or special permission has been obtained to sail without a crew member.

No dirty ballast or oil is to be pumped or allowed to escape over the side. No engine-room or pump-room bilges may be pumped overboard. All pump-room sea suctions and overboard discharge valves must be secured prior to loading or discharging cargo. Loading must be conducted with the utmost care and vigilance so that errors or delays may not result in spills. All deck scuppers must be plugged tight before loading so that in the event of a spill pollution of the harbour may not result.

5. Garbage; No garbage is to be thrown over the side while the vessel is in port.

6. Passengers: Passengers will not be permitted to disembark unless in possession of the required visa and documents. To facilitate clearance, if passengers are carried, the Master should include this information in his ETA.

7. Firearms: Firearms on board any merchant vessel calling at Venezuelan ports must not exceed one per officer, nor can the ammunition exceed 18 cartridges per officer. All firearms and ammunition must be noted on the store list. Officers must not carry firearms while the vessel is in Venezuelan waters and these sidearms and ammunition should be collected and held in the Master's safe custody.

RADIO: In order to enable Agents arrange for quick entry and berthing, Masters should give their ETA message at following intervals, via Curacao Radio (ITT): 72, 48 and 24 hours prior to arrival, indicating in the 48-hour message, the quantity of parcels (or tonnage if bulk cargo) per hatch. This is imperative for applying for the necessary personnel of the National Port Services. Also, draft, passengers, requirements for bunkers, fresh water, provisions, repairs, medical assistance, etc. This telegram the Master to sign with his full name.

TUGS: The use of tugboats within the port is compulsory, both for entering and leaving port, as well as for manoeuvres in the port basin. Ships longer than 139 m. must be assisted by 2 tugboats.

BERTHING: Normally a minimum of 19 ocean-going vessels can berth at a time. Berths No. 1, 2 and 3 are along the breakwater pier East-West, parallel to the coast.

Within the port is a finger pier, parallel to the breakwater pier, with 2 Customs warehouses alongside, with berths North and South, 2 each. The main pier is parallel to the coastline, East-West, with berths Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15,, along which piers there is ample Customs warehouse space, including outdoor space on the roofs as well as ample uncovered storage area.

The Passenger Terminal is on a finger pier, in direction North-East with its land end in the corner of berth No. 15. There are 2 berths each side, namely Nos. 16 and 17 in the inner basin and Nos. 18 and 19 in the outer basin.

Passenger vessels have priority for berthing and they have to leave port within 24 hours.

LOADING/DISCHARGING: Cargo is discharged into railcars alongside the piers, or directly into the transport means of the Importer and vice versa when loading. The latter, however, applies only for bulk cargo or considerable one-type commodity.

If electric shore cranes are used, the same procedure applies unless the cargo is to be stored outdoors on the roof of the warehouses. Piers Nos. 4 and 9 have no rails alongside, so the cargo is discharged on the pier, wherefrom it is immediately taken away by two-boys, fork-lifts and/or other mechanical equipment supplied by the National Port Services as per kind of cargo. The use of such equipment is included in the handling fee per weight. There are 2 grain towers on berths 3 and 3A leading via conveyor belts to storage silos of 12,000 ton capacity. Average daily discharge rate 2,000 tons approximately.

STEVEDORES: Supplied exclusively by the governmental National Port Services at costs per weight of cargo in accordance with governmental decrees.

The Port Agent applies for the necessary number of gangs per ship. Each gang consists of 11 stevedoremen (estiba) and 11 longshoremen (caleta).

Switching of gangs from one hatch to another is not permitted.

There are no longshoremen costs for cargo handled during straight time, but only for that handled during overtime.

(a) Straight time

Monday–Friday	0700–1100 hrs.
	1230–1630 hrs.
Saturday	0700–1200 hrs.

(b) Overtime

Monday–Friday 1800–2300 hrs.

(c) Saturday afternoon work is not permitted, but if a vessel could terminate operation and sail within a maximum of 3 additional working hours, a special permit would be granted by Customs and Port Authorities. In such a case, the additional working hours are considered as overtime.

(d) Work on Sunday is not permitted except for passenger vessels (officially those carrying 60 passengers, but exceptionally vessels with less passengers might occasionally obtain same consideration by authorities).

EQUIPMENT:

(a) Electric Shore Cranes: Berths 10 to 15 have 14 electric shore cranes on rails, of 6 tons capacity each. The National Port Services allow 2×6-ton cranes to lift pieces up to 9 tons weight. The arms of the cranes reach the roofing of the warehouses. Use of shore cranes is not compulsory, unless the Technical Board of the National Port Services rules to use them. There are also 13×8-ton mobile cranes. Other piers have no shore cranes.

(b) Diesel – Driving Rolling Cranes: There is a considerable number of these cranes which can lift heavy pieces of about 17 tons.

(c) Floating Cranes: Not available.

(d) Special lumber carriers of about 20 tons capacity.

(e) Tow trucks, fork-lifts, trucks and trailers up to 10 tons capacity.

OPENING/CLOSING HATCHES: Not performed by the National Port Services but by either the ship's crew, or the assistance labour of the Agent.

FRESH WATER: Available through pipe-line on the pier, day or night, by water trucks of up to 10 tons capacity in day time only.

OFFICIALS: Once the vessel is anchored at La Guaira, Representatives of Customs, Port Captain, National Guard, Health Service, Immigration and Agency board the vessel.

4 copies – 2 visaed Store Lists.
5 copies Crew Lists.

Vessels arriving with cargo should have, in addition to the foregoing:

4 copies – 2 visaed Sobordos (Venezuelan Inward Manifests).
6 copies – 2 visaed Bill of Lading.
2 copies visaed Inward Manifests.

In absence of a Venezuelan Consul at the last port, clearance documents should be signed by consul of a friendly nation, one of the Port Authorities, Notary Public, the Chamber of Commerce or by two well-known firms.

(b) Inward Clearance for Diverted Vessels: Vessels diverted to Maracaibo Lake Ports to load cargo, should submit all documents indicated in 1 through 10 above, except consular mail, which they will not have.

Vessels diverted at sea to Maracaibo Lake Ports which do not have a Venezuelan clearance on board, must advise loading port via radio to arrival, the name of vessel, Master's name, vessel's flag, Venezuelan net tonnage (if available, if not, the registered net tonnage), last port of call, destination port for which originally cleared, ETA San Carlos Pilot station and grade and quantity of cargo to be lifted. This information is required in order that Inward Clearance may be arranged with government officials in ample time prior to vessel's arrival. Also 3 copies of the diversion telegram received by vessel and signed by Master, together with copies of those documents listed under (a) should be presented to the Port Authorities upon arrival at Maracaibo. In the absence of this information, or of presentation of each of these documents to the Port Authorities the vessel will be subject to a fine. Please note, that the documents covered under (a) have to be presented upon arrival, regardless, if the vessel is not arriving with consular clearance or arriving after being diverted at sea.

(c) In Maracaibo 2 clearances from Custom's authorities are needed: One for proceeding from Maracaibo to loading berth, and another after loading for proceeding from Maracaibo to destination. For this reason Custom Dispatch charges may be incurred twice.

(d) American Crew List. All non-American vessels loading for a U.S.A. port should have the American Crew List ready on arrival in Maracaibo to be visaed by the American Consulate in Maracaibo and placed aboard ship before departure. The crew list should be prepared on Immigration and Naturalization Service form No. I.–418 (Crew List Manifest) and should contain 2 sections:

Section 1 should list those crew members who are American or who possess individual visa documentation to the United States.

Section 2 should list, in the alphabetical order of their last names, those alien crew men who lack United States visa documentation and therefore require inclusion in the visa of the crew list.

Only one name may be placed on each line of the crew list. Two names should not be placed in the space of one line, nor should a full line between two names be left vacant. All copies of the crew list presented must be legible. Occasionally the names of the crew men included on the carbon copies of some crew lists presented at the consulate are blurred beyond recognition.

The information requested under columns 1, 2 and 3 should be filled in completely. Column 1 should always contain the complete first name and middle initial of the crew man. Column 2 should show the nationality of each crew member and the number of his travel Document. Column 3 should always include the name of the port where the crew man was shipped, not simply the country.

At the time of vessel's first application for a crew list, the crew list must be presented in four copies: Original and 1 copy should contain only information requested under Columns 1, 2 and 3. 2 copies must include following information of those crew men to be included on crew list visa. Column 4 should list date, city and country of each crew man's birth. Column 5 should show place of issuance of seaman's travel document and name of Government which issued travel document. (It is not necessary to list date of issuance of travel document).

Below is a sample line correctly entered on the Master crew list.

(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)
Bello, Tomas E.	Z.23455 Venezuelan	Maracaibo Venezuela	December 8, 33 Caracas, Venez.	Cabimas, Venez

Upon subsequent crew list applications by same vessel within same year, the crew list need be presented in duplicate only, and the information in Columns 4 and 5 need be provided only concerning any new crew members who require visa documentation. When twelve months have elapsed since presentation of Original crew list, a crew list should again be prepared in 4 copies and should contain all the information required in columns 1–5. Such a master crew list is required after each 12 months period.

APPROACHES: The Channels leading to the Lake of Maracaibo are called the Outer channel, the Inner Channel and the Lake Channel. The controlling depths of the Outer Channel, Inner Channel and the channel Southward to buoys M1 and M2 are normally 45 ft. At certain times the controlling depth may be less. At such times suitable notices are published advising mariners of these temporary reductions of controlling depth.

Outer Channel. The Outer Channel starts at the E.M. Buoy in position 11° 13′ 47″ North and 71° 33′ 31″ West. The light characteristics of E.M. Buoy are: flashing white every 5 seconds, visibility approximately 5 miles. The distance from E.M. buoy to the Southern end of the outer Channel, marked by buoys B–27 and B–28, is approximately 15.75 miles. The channel is 1,000 ft. wide and has a normal controlling depth of 42 ft. minimum monthly observed lowest water (MMOLW) with tidal range varying about 2 ft. 3 in. This depth is maintained by periodical dredging. Tankers are required to have a keel clearance of at least 2 ft. and dry-cargo vessels a keel clearance of at least 3 ft. Vessels navigating the channel at the maximum allowable draft are confined from 2 hours before to 2 hours after high water. There are no turns in the channel and the course is 189°.

There is a breakwater 0.5 mile East of, and parallel to, the Outer Channel and extending 1.6 miles Northward from the North side of Zapara Island. The end of this breakwater is marked with a skeleton steel tower with a light 27 ft. above sea-level. Light characteristics – flashing white light every 8 seconds; visibility about 3 miles.

On Zapara Island there is a skeleton iron tower with a height of 136 ft. above sea-level.

Cross currents are sometimes encountered near Zapara, San Carlos and Pescadero Islands, especially at low water when the cross currents are strong. Overtaking at these points should be avoided.

There is one anchorage zone in the Outer Channel which is a trapezoid on the port side when navigating inbound near the Buoys B–14, B–15, B–16 and B–18. All buoys in the Outer Channel are equipped with radar reflectors.

Caution: Masters are warned to keep adequate speed in the Outer Channel even when embarking the Pilot as strong cross currents are encountered near San Carlos and Zapara Island. Pilot boats are fast and fitted with a flying bridge.

Inner Channel. The Inner Channel continues on the same course as the Outer Channel for about 10 miles, whereafter the direction changes to 150°. Entire length of the Inner Channel is about 12 miles.

The beginning of the Inner Dredged Channel is marked by buoys B–29 and B–30. Channel is marked by beacons, and terminates at beacons T–55 and T–56. The channel is 800 ft. wide and the normal controlling depth is 43 ft. MMOLW with tidal range varying from 1.5 ft. to 2.5 ft.

The channel from beacons T–56 to Maracaibo Harbour is a dredged channel, the end of which is marked by buoys Nos. B–73 and B–74.

About 0.2 mile South of buoys B–29 and B–30, there are located 2 towers – 1 on each side of the channel, and about 1 mile further South are 2 more towers. These 4 towers are marked E–31 and E–32 (North) and E–33 and E–34 (South). Towers No. E–31 and E–32 are of single steel pipe construction on a concrete pile base. Towers No. E–33 and E–34 are of skeleton steel construction (former oil-well derricks) each mounted on 4 concrete piles. The characteristics of these towers are:

	Height above water (LWS)
Tower No.	Light	Light
E–31	43′	Green – Fl.
E–32	43′	Red – Fl.
E–33	123′	Green – Fl.
E–34	128′	Red – Fl.

Vessels are not allowed to overtake each other in the Inner Channel between buoys B–29 and B–30 and light beacons T–25 and T–26. Vessels may overtake each other in the Inner Channel between light beacons T–39 and T–40 after having exchanged prescribed signals with the vessels to be passed. This manoeuvre is, of course, allowed only if conditions are favourable and no vessel navigating in the opposite direction is in sight.

Lake Channel. The channel starting at light beacons T–39 and T–40 and leading to Maracaibo Roads is called the Lake Channel. This is a natural channel 3,000 ft. wide and 11 miles long.

The Main Channel through Maracaibo Lake is approximately 83 miles long, not less than 244 m. wide and with a greater depth than the outer channels.

The access channels to the various ports and terminals branch off from the main channel as described under Section for each port.

CHANNEL NAVIGATION:

(a) Inbound vessels leave to starboard side the buoys and beacons marked with even numbers and to port side the buoys and beacons marked with odd numbers.

(b) Outbound vessels shall leave to port side the buoys and beacons marked with even numbers and to starboard side the buoys and beacons marked with odd numbers.

(c) Vessels should pass as close as possible to the channel's edge on starboard side. Loaded vessels have preference.

(d) Approaching vessels are to reduce speed in order to minimise the suction force of the displacing waters.

(e) Vessels must maintain a distance of 5 ship's lengths by day and 8 ship's lengths by night from other vessels navigating in the same direction.

(f) No vessel should start to manoeuvre to overtake another vessel before having received clearly the affirmative signal from the ship to be passed.

(g) A grounded vessel is not allowed to start any manoeuvre when another vessel is passing.

(h) Dredgers are frequently at work in the channels and caution should be exercised in passing them. Signals used by the dredgers are as follows:

Daytime

Black cylinder hoisted on side of yardarm: You can overtake me on the side on which the cylinder is shown.

Two black balls over the bridge: The channel is blocked.

Night

Green light on side of yardarm (a white light on mast-head helps to show on which side the green light is placed): You can overtake me on the side on which the green light is shown.

2 red lights over the bridge: The channel is blocked.

The tidal range is 4 ft. at neaps.

(i) Maximum speed for vessels navigating in lake channels has been limited to 10 knots. Masters should exercise the utmost care in complying with this regulation as heavy fines may be imposed to offending vessels.

PILOTAGE: (N.B. Maracaibo Pilotage Regulations require that inbound tankers, in ballast, while crossing the Bar, shall not have greater than 8 ft. difference between fore and aft draft. The Government Pilot will not take the vessel if this requirement is not met, unless he is satisfied that the actual draft of the vessel will permit safe navigation through the Outer and Inner Channels.

Every Master of a vessel navigating in Lake Maracaibo who desires to enter the main ship channel in Pilotage Zones No. 1 or No. 2 must first ensure that said Channel is free of traffic.

The limits of the Main Ship Channel in Pilotage Zone No. 1 are from buoys B1/B2 located at the entrance to the Outer Bar Channel and buoys B73/B74, of the city of Maracaibo. Pilotage Zone No. 2 begins approximately 1 mile below Maracaibo and extends Southward to lightfloats M36/M37. All other channels are considered as access channels to their respective port zones and subject to special local rules. Every vessel navigating to or from any port in Lake Maracaibo must follow the prescribed routes through the main and access channels leading to or from such ports, (unless special permission has been granted to do otherwise).

(a) Pilots are employees of the Venezuelan Government and act in an advisory capacity; the Master retains responsibility for the ship at all times. In the event it becomes necessary to disregard the Pilot's instructions in order to ensure the safety of the ship, the Master must prepare a full written report of the circumstances, for delivery to the Captain of the port.

(b) Inbound vessels have the option at present to embark government Pilot at the following areas:

(i) In the channel off San Carlos Pilot Station between buoys B-24 and B-26.

(ii) Anchorage area approximately 5.5 miles N.E. of Pilot station, San Carlos Island. Position N. 11° 04′ 22″, W. 71° 33′ 48″ East of buoy B-17. This area is demarcated with green light buoy equipment with radar reflector.

(iii) At the E.M. Buoy.

(c) The Port Captaincy of Maracaibo is unable to guarantee embarking or disembarking Pilots at the E.M. buoy or at anchorage area position. For this reason Masters should communicate with San Carlos Pilot station for necessary instructions as to where to pick up Pilot, who usually embarks between buoys B-24 and B-26. The communication system between San Carlos Pilot station and vessels will be by Morse lamp and radio-telephone. The stand-by frequency at San Carlos is 2182 kc/s. Other existing frequencies are 2120 and 2080 kc/s.; 156.6 and 156.8 mc/s. Each Pilot launch has a radio-telephone with 2182 kc/s. frequency. The launch that leaves San Carlos Pilot station with Pilot for ship, takes approximately 20 to 30 minutes to cover distance, and distance between Buoys and San Carlos is approximately 6 miles or 10 kms.

(d) Pilot Permit to navigate the Outer Channel without aid of a government Pilot will be granted to those Masters who desire to obtain same. In order to fill the application required, a blank sealed paper and 3 copies should be signed by Master on arrival. Copy of this solicitude duly endorsed by port Captain of Maracaibo, will serve the Master as temporary permit until the official one has been received. Masters in possession of permits to cross the Outer Channel without a Pilot, have the option to enter channel either at the E.M. buoy or between any other buoy, taking into consideration the heavy traffic of the channel. Government pilotage through the inner channel is compulsory at all times.

(e) Outbound vessels will receive Pilot in Maracaibo, who will Pilot vessel up to San Carlos area approximately between Towers E-31 and E-33, where he will disembark. The Port Captain of Maracaibo has instructed that all Captains should always in ample time identify themselves with the San Carlos Pilot station by radio-telephone regardless of time of day. While inbound – between buoys B-17 and B-19 and sailing outbound – between markers T-42 and T-40. These instructions are obligatory and are required in order for the Pilot service to be aware, at any moment, of any emergencies which may arise, and also to avoid, especially during the night, the launch departing with an official Pilot aboard believing that the ship in sight needs his services, in which case, even though the launch or Pilot services are not rendered, the same will be charged to the company owning the ship, or its representative.

TONNAGE: Venezuelan Port Authorities base part of their pilotage charges on the size of the vessel, i.e.:

(a) On Registered Net Tonnage. Venezuela will accept the tonnage of ships registered in countries with which they have a reciprocal tonnage agreement. As of this date, such countries are:

Norway
England
France
Sweden
Ireland
Germany
U.S.A.
Denmark
Holland
Portugal

(b) On Venezuelan Nett Tonnage. Ships not registered in countries listed above, when calling at Venezuelan ports for the first time, must be measured for Venezuelan tonnage by the Captain of the Port. It is the usual practice to take ashore the ship's Panama Canal or Suez Canal Certificate, which is used as a basis for recalculating tonnage under the Venezuelan regulations, and return it before sailing. The Venezuelan admeasurement certificate, when later issued, is forwarded to the Owners. A fee is charged for this certificate, which is payable only on the ship's first call.

(c) In practice, the procedure for stating the tonnage of all ships entering the Lake of Maracaibo is as follows: The inward Pilot boarding the ship presents Master a form on which among others the Master should fill in the tonnage of ship. Pilotage charges are based on this tonnage given by the Master. Master's attention is drawn to the fact that the Venezuelan nett tonnage is usually higher than the International nett tonnage. Care should be taken if an old Venezuelan nett tonnage certificate is on board, because the country in which the ship is registered might later have signed the reciprocal tonnage agreement with Venezuela. If the pilotage charges are made on basis of a higher tonnage than the one that should be applied, it is later very difficult, if not impossible, to get a refund.

CUSTOMS: (a) Customs Watch. While vessel is in port, Venezuelan National Guard Officials are assigned on board to ensure compliance with customs regulations. The Law requires meals be supplied to these officials during regular meal hours. Masters are requested to give them the privilege of eating in officers' messroom, to avoid difficulties.

(b) Firearms and Ammunition. Firearms must not exceed one per officer nor may the ammunition exceed 18 cartridges per officer. All firearms and ammunition must be carefully declared on Store List and should be collected and held in Master's safe custody while vessel is in Venezuelan waters.

(c) Contraband. Strict compliance with the customs law of the country is enforced by the authorities, and Masters are strongly advised to caution crew members against attempting to smuggle cigarettes. 1 open package per person is allowed to be carried ashore, but greater quantity will result in fine and imprisonment of the offender as well as lost ship's time. Due to very strict enforcement of the customs regulations, it is recommended that no goods be carried which are not shown on Store List. Any new articles (clothes, shoes, etc.) should be included in Store List and marked as personal belongings. If during a check-up by Customs, articles considered as contraband are found, this will not only mean confiscation of these articles, but also hours or days of lost ship's time, while the case is handled at court.

CONSULS: The following nations maintain consular representative in Maracaibo:

Belgium
Chile
Colombia
Costa Rica
Denmark
Ecuador
El Salvador
France
Germany (West)
Great Britain
Guatemala
Italy
Netherlands
Norway
Nicaragua
Panama
Peru
Portugal
Spain
Sweden
Switzerland
United States of America

TIME: Local time is GMT minus 4 hours.

VISITORS: All visitors to ships are prohibited except those company employees, petroleum inspectors, etc., whose duties require their presence aboard.

PASSENGERS: Passengers will not be permitted to disembark unless in possession of the required visa and documents. To facilitate clearance, if passengers are carried, the Master should include advice to this effect in his radio ETA.

POLLUTION: The Laws of Venezuela are very strict in regard to the pollution of harbour and coastal waters by oil, and heavy fines are imposed for violations. No dirty ballast, oil or bilge slops are to be pumped or allowed to escape overboard. All overboard discharge valves from cargo tanks and bilges are to be secured before loading or discharging commences. Loading is to be conducted with greatest care and vigilance in order that errors or delays in handling cargo valves may not result in overflows. All deck scuppers should be plugged before loading to avoid harbour contamination should an overflow occur. The Authorities require a written report to be submitted by the ship involved in the event of an oil spill.

SEAMAN LEFT BEHIND: Sailing may be withheld until all crew members are aboard with exception of those ashore for justified reasons. It is important that Masters bear in mind that the Venezuelan Law will at all times hold the vessel's Master, Agent, or Owner responsible for any seamen left behind in Venezuela.

Duplicate of "Manifiesto de Carga".

(Both stamped and signed by Customs).

Communication – A letter from Maracaibo Customs Authorities to Customs Authorities in Port of Destination.

PILOTAGE: Mooring Master will assist in docking. It should be borne in mind that Docking Master acts as adviser only. The Master retains full responsibility at all times. Any damage incurred to vessel or loading platform which may be deemed to have been caused by Mooring Master or Docking Master's fault or negligence, may be held against the ship.

Min. drafts for berthing: 12 ft. forward and 18 ft. aft. Vessels over 18,000 d.w.t. should have deeper drafts.

RADIO: Information to be cabled to Boscanven 3 days prior arrival.

(a) Cable Address is: Boscanven Maracaibo. Please send through PJC (Curacaoradio) and AAC (All America Cables). Boscanven offices in Bajo Grande have direct teletype communication with the offices of All America Cables in Maracaibo, and Boscanven also receive cables over the telephone from AAC until 2100 hrs.

(b) Flag. If vessel has loaded in Bajo Grande before the nationality of the vessel need not be cabled.

(c) Sailing port, and at which other port vessel will call in this area. For clearing vessel in and out in Maracaibo, Boscanven must know beforehand from where ship comes and which other port it will call in this area. Therefore, it is of importance to inform Boscanven whether vessel will load part cargo or bunker, at which terminal, and whether inbound or outbound.

(d) Port for which vessel is cleared. In case vessel was diverted en route and consequently is not cleared for Maracaibo or one of the terminals in Lake of Maracaibo, Boscanven must obtain from authorities special permit for vessel to enter Lake of Maracaibo.

(e) Ballast Certificate. If vessel arrives in ballast a Ballast Certificate is mandatory. A fine against vessel will be issued by Port Authorities if vessel does not have this certificate.

(f) Estimated Time of Arrival. Cable ETA San Carlos pilot station Buoys 25–27, 72 and 48 hours prior to arrival there, or, if vessel is taking part cargo or bunkering inbound, cable ETA bunker or first loading port. Please use local time if possible (four hours slow of GMT).

(g) Net Tonnage. If vessel has not loaded in Bajo Grande before, also cable net tonnage. To determine whether international or Venezuelan net tonnage should be mentioned, see "Maracaibo Lake".

(h) Master's full name. Please sign first message with Master's first name and surname.

(i) Changed ETA. An additional cable should be sent about 48 hours and 24 hours prior to arrival at pilot station buoys 25–27 if ETA is changed.

TUGS: The Venezuelan Government has ruled mandatory the use of 2 tugs for docking and undocking and also to have stand-by tugs during loading operations.

BERTHING: Loading Pier in position 10° 50″ N. and 71° 36′ 8″ W. or about 8 miles or 12.8 kms. South of Maracaibo on Western shore of lake and about 9,000 ft. offshore with its centreline North–South. 2 vessels can berth simultaneously, 1 outside at berth No. 1 and inside at berth No. 2. Bajo Grande Pier heads are 700 ft. apart. However, longer ships have been tied up. Design of fenders permits berthing of vessels with a displacement of 42,000 tons.

NOTICE OF READINESS: Masters are free to tender their ships as being ready to load at any place and time which, in their opinion, conforms with the terms of the charter party. Boscanven's personnel authorised to countersign notice of readiness have been instructed to indicate the time vessel was all fast or, if vessel anchored to wait for berth, the time vessel anchored. This does not imperil in any way the rights of the shipowner in his negotiations with the charterer and it limits Boscanven's liability to the consignee.

BALLAST: Shore deballasting facilities are available at Bajo Grande. Deballasting facilities at Bajo Grande are subject to no special regulations and procedures. Tanker ballast water is pumped through 2×8-in. hose connections into a 24-in. line of about 9,000 ft. in length to a 120,000 bbls. receiving basin situated on shore. Contamination of Lake Maracaibo waters with only material of any nature is strictly prohibited by Venezuelan Laws. Boscanven is required to report to the authorities any such contamination by vessels docked at Bajo Grande. Heavy fines are then assessed against the ships. Co-operation is requested to prevent contamination from tank overflows, bilge oil, line leaks or any other source.

TANK CLEANING: (Before Loading). Precautions as are common for any heavy oil should be taken to insure that no ballast was left in any tank. If the cargo is contaminated with water, the water will not separate from the oil. The salt content of the oil will be raised approximately ten pounds per one thousand barrels for every 0.10% contamination by sea water. All cargo compartments must be stripped extemely dry. Cargo pipe-lines should be drained and/or purged of water. On standard T–2 type vessels, this can be done by draining the fore and aft main cargo lines, both suction and discharge sides, into the pump room bilges followed by opening of main suction valves on each individual compartment, thereby releasing water retained in dead and transverse lines. After this procedure is completed, each compartment should be restripped with stripping pumps and lines, followed by draining the stripping line to pump-room bilges. On other ships equipped with looped systems, it is possible to blow the system with air and drain water into the bilges. In other situations, fresh water might be used to flush cargo systems of salt water and in turn strip salt water and fresh water as outlined for T–2 vessels. All deck scuppers should be securely plugged and all precautions should be taken to avoid pollution of lake waters.

(a) Inspection of Tanks. Before loading can commence, tanks and loading system must be inspected and passed. This is usually done by Boscanven's own cargo inspector, but, if consignee so requests, third party inspection can be arranged. Both Chas. Martin and E. W. Saybolt & Company are represented in Maracaibo.

(b) Line Displacement. When a vessel is loading crude and products, it is usually necessary to displace lines once or twice during loading. Masters will be advised of necessary line displacements before loading starts and are requested to take note because notice has to be given by vessel when pumping should be stopped and tank changed. Once shore tanks have been changed it will not be possible to change the quantity of the product already in the ship, as shore lines will then contain a product different from the one already loaded. Ship's gauges and/or draft should be carefully checked when calculating required quantities.

(c) Spillage. In case spillage occurs, the port supervisor must be advised immediately, as any spillage must be reported to the Authorities without delay.

(d) After Loading. All butterworth plates, tank tops and ullage plugs should be inspected to insure against entry of salt water. Inspection of ullage plugs should follow on completion of temperature readings because of the necessity of taking temperatures en route. Sea suction valves should be secured by positive means until all cargo has been discharged. This may be accomplished by numbered seals, chains and padlocks. The method of securing should be noted on the inspection documents. Regardless of which method is used, appropriate log entries should be made indicating the date, time and method used and under whose supervision, both vessel officer and/or cargo inspector, such method was applied. About 1 hour is required for preparation of documents.

BUNKERING:

(a) In order to serve customers without inconvenience or delay nominations should be placed as much in advance of the delivery date as possible.

(b) Bunker Facilities. Bunkers available ex pipe-line for vessels loading and unloading cargo at berths No. 1 and No. 2. Bunkering rate up to 10,000 barrels per hour for Bunker Fuel and Intermediate Bunker Fuel, up to 6,200 barrels per hour for Marine Diesel.

(c) Marine Fuels and Lubricants available: Bunker Fuel, Intermediate bunker fuels, Marine diesel, Lubricants – Full line of Marine Lubricants subject to 7 days' advance notice.

(d) Lighterage. Bunker fuel, Intermediate bunker fuels and Marine diesel available for ships in the Maracaibo area. 72 hours advance notice is required for barge deliveries of all products.

FRESH WATER: Delivery of boiler and potable water is made by barge. Min. quantity 80 tons. The barge holds about 160 tons and the pumping rate is about 25 t.p.h. Requirements should be cabled in advance.

REPAIRS: No major repair facilities are available in Maracaibo but small jobs can be taken care of by local machine and electric shops. Shore labour can be furnished if required. Technicians are available for minor radio repairs. Nearest dry docks are at Curacao for vessels up to 18,000 d.w.t. and at Puerto Cabello for vessels up to 30,000 d.w.t. There is a submarine 2400 volt power line to the pier. Electric power can be supplied.

SHORE LEAVE: Shore Leave is permitted at the discretion of the port authorities: required number of shore passes will be brought on board on arrival in Maracaibo and have to be returned to the customs guard again before the vessel leaves Bajo Grande. Shorts may not be worn ashore.

GENERAL: (a) Visitors: According to port regulations concerning access to ships and loading terminals and in the interest of industrial safety, only persons directly concerned with loading operations will be permitted to board vessel or visit the loading platform at Bajo Grande.

(b) Guards. 2 customs guards are stationed on the platform at Bajo Grande. They must be provided with sleeping quarters on the ship and seated in the officers' mess for their meals. Non-compliance may cause cargo stoppage and fines. The customs guard will request Master to countersign his time on board the vessel. This is counted from time first hose was connected until all hoses were disconnected, regardless of whether vessel was receiving cargo or not.

(c) Plimsoll Marks. Port Captain requires that Plimsoll marks be readily visible. If they are not clearly legible, permission to sail may be withheld.

(d) Marine Stores/Charts. Marine stores are available in limited supply. Marine charts are not available.

(e) Compass Adjusters. There are no compass adjusters in Maracaibo.

(f) Classification. American Bureau of Shipping and Lloyd's Register have Agents in Maracaibo.

(g) Cash Advance. Cash advances are made only in local currency (Bolivares). In order that money be available on arrival, Masters are requested to include the amount required in the arrival message.

(h) Launch Service. The launch is primarily for the use of the port staff, but will transport crew when convenient.

(i) Taxi. Taxi service is generally available at Bajo Grande. It is recommended that the price be fixed in advance.

(j) Crew in Transit. In case a crew member is left ashore for a justified cause, as hospitalisation, repatriation, etc., his documents and personal effects are to be delivered to the port supervisor at Bajo Grande before sailing. A letter is required from the Master with detailed instructions as to maximum cash advance etc. All expenses incurred by such members are for vessel's account.

(k) Gangways. The ship is to supply a safe gangway, which allows easy access to the vessel. Boscanven has a gangway which may be used on request with the understanding that any damage to the gangway or ship or shore personnel through its use may be held against the ship.

SAFETY: Vessel must be in readiness to move at all times. The attention of Masters of turbine steamers is called to this regulation.

Ship's fire-fighting equipment must be ready for instant use while vessel is alongside. Shore personnel will render assistance in an emergency but, since no fire-boats are stationed in the immediate area, vessels should be prepared to combat fire without outside assistance. It is necessary to obtain docking Master's approval for repairs of propelling machinery. Normal safety precautions apply, no smoking is permitted on the pier. No hotwork is permitted on vessels alongside without a written permission from the Port Supervisor. Swimming alongside pier is dangerous and absolutely prohibited.

CARGO TEMPERATURE: On short voyages, as for instance to the U.S.A., it was proved most practical to maintain the loading temperature. On longer voyages, as for instance to Europe, the temperature may be dropped to 130°F, which does no harm as long as sufficient time is given to bring the temperature up again to that required for discharging. Masters should, however, not expect a temperature rise of more than 5°F per day, especially if the sea temperature is low. The heat transfer properties of Boscan Crude are very poor as are those of the heavy products made from this crude. Many ships have been delayed at the discharging port due to too low cargo temperature. Without exception, Boscan Crude, Topped Boscan and cutback asphalts should have at least 160°F on arrival in discharge port.

DISCHARGE: Boscan Crude has a flash point of 90–160°F and a max. viscosity of 1400 SSF at 140°F. The viscosity at other temperatures follows the pattern of other petroleum products. Boscan Crude has been successfully handled in ships fitted with both reciprocating and centrifugal type pumps with forward and after pump rooms respectively. It is generally found that this crude can best be handled at a temperature which brings its viscosity to about 600 SSF 160°F. Vessels with forward pumproom should control stern trim so that it does not exceed about 4 feet while stripping the after tanks. Also a 5° list is very helpful when stripping. Once the cargo gets below heating coils, tanks must be pumped empty as fast as possible. At times it has been found helpful to gather tanks strippings into a single tank for discharge ashore, as it is very difficult to strip against heavy back pressures. Watch reciprocating pumps for vapour-lock. Because of high viscosity, proper care should be taken that no oil is left in vessel discharge lines at low temperature.

TANK CLEANING: (After Discharge). Many Masters have expressed concern over tank cleaning after discharge. Assuming that ship proceeds to sea for this operation and has sufficient time for proper execution, vessel may be cleaned quite thoroughly using the butterworth system. However, it is of vital importance that the system be used at maximum pressure, and temperature not below 160 PSI and 170°F respectively. At these readings and with 2 machines, it has been found that about 4 hours are required for each tank. It is important to keep the tanks well stripped during the butterworthing.

Some Masters prefer to steam out the tanks before butterworthing. If this course is adopted care should be taken that the steaming does not last more than 1 hour as the heat will drive off the light ends of the oil and leave a rubbery residue that is very difficult to remove.

It has been found helpful to keep the machines in low position for about 1 hour and then high – middle and low in order, in the usual manner.

(2) OPERATORS: Palmaven, S.A. Location: S.W. of Channel buoys B–87 and B–88.

PILOTAGE: A government Pilot will assist each vessel from Maracaibo to Bajo Grande and on the outbound trip to Maracaibo. The government Pilot will also assist in the berthing and unberthing operations. The ship's Agent will inform the Master of each vessel, as well as the government Pilot, the schedule for berthing the vessel.

The Plant Mooring Master will board each vessel prior to approaching the dock. Mooring Master will assist in the mooring and unmooring operations. It should be understood that the Mooring Master acts only in an advisory capacity to the Master. The vessel's Master retains full responsibility at all times. The Plant assumes no responsibility in connection with any acts or advice given by the Mooring Master.

RESTRICTIONS: Bridge, clearance at MHHW 146 ft.

MAX. SIZE: The maximum permissible fresh water draft at the dock is 36 ft. and the maximum overall length vessel the dock will accept is 700 ft. Vessels with a berthing displacement up to 20,000 long tons will be accepted, providing the approach velocity can be controlled to 0.3 ft. per second or less.

RADIO: Palmaven's Export Department also has radio-telephones with the following frequencies: 2080, 2120, 2182 (stand-by), 2638 and 2738 kc/s. and 156.6 (stand-by) and 156.8 mc/s., operated in accordance with the following schedule:

Monday through Friday:	From 0730 until 1130
	From 1300 until 1700
Saturday, Sunday and Holidays:	From 0730 until 1030 approx.

Any tanker or vessel bound for Bajo Grande shall cable Palmaven, at least 5 days in advance of its scheduled arrival time in Maracaibo, giving notice of its estimated time of arrival, cargo capacity, amount and type of product to be lifted and condition of ship's tanks.

At least 48 hours in advance of arrival at the San Carlos Pilot Station, the vessel's estimated time of arrival, nationality, Venezuelan net tonnage (if available, otherwise the amount and type of cargo to be lifted), condition of ship's tanks, name of Agent, last port, Master's name and all requirements of the vessel while in port should be cabled to Palmaven and to the ship's Agent. As the cable office in Maracaibo is not able to communicate directly with vessels at sea, messages to Palmaven Maracaibo and to Agent should be routed via PJC Curacao, and should be prefixed "Via AAC" (All America Cables and Radio Inc.). Failure to give such proper notices shall absolve the Plant from any claim for delays or demurrage.

TUGS: 2 tugs, each 1,600 h.p.; will be used for mooring and unmooring operations.

BERTHING: The dock proper may be identified by the overwater pipe-line trestle that connects the dock with shore.

The dock is located approximately 10° 30′ N. 71° 36′ W., which is 2 miles off shore from the Bajo Grande Natural Gas Liquids Processing Plant and S.W. of channel buoys B–87 and B–88 on the Maracaibo channel. The dock is single sided and consists of 4 breasting pilings, 4 mooring dolphins and a loading platform.

The dock is equipped with a compressor and auxiliary equipment to assist the ship in compressing and re-condensing the ship's vapours. No liability will be assumed by the Plant Operator for unavailability of the Dock's vapour compressor. The dock is also equipped with a vent system to dispose of contaminated vapours.

A tie-up crew will handle all mooring or pick-up lines before and after loading. The Plant tie-up crew will assist the ship's crew in positioning and connecting the cargo loading arms and in removing same on completion of loading. The dock loading arms are equipped with 10 in. ASA 300 lb. RF flanges. It shall be the responsibility of the ship to furnish its own fittings to mate with the dock's 10 in. ASA 300 lb. FR flanges.

Mooring procedure. Any vessels calling at Bajo Grande must be equipped with mooring hawsers of sufficient length and strength to run a line to each of the 2 bow and 2 stern mooring dolphins and shall use such equipment while at the dock. Vessels equipped with tension winches and cables shall utilise these in addition to the mooring hawsers or alone if the vessel has sufficient cables to meet the minimum requirements of running a cable to each of the bow and each of the stern mooring dolphins. For added security of those vessels not equipped with tension and/or cables, 1 steel cable will be furnished for a bow and another for a stern mooring dolphin by the Plant. It should be recognised by all parties that while the use of these cables is strongly recommended, the Plant accepts no responsibilities for loss or damage to any vessel or to any facility or to any person that may result from the failure of this equipment.

For the convenience and safety of all personnel boarding or unboarding while at Bajo Grande it is recommended that the vessel's accommodation ladder be rigged on the port side, this being the side normally laying against the dock. The ladder should be suspended after the Mooring Master boards and during docking operations to avoid being fouled.

Notice of Readiness: Upon arrival at Bajo Grande and after clearance by Customs Authorities, and after obtaining any other governmental approval required prior to loading, the Master of a vessel shall notify Operator in writing that the vessel is ready to load cargo. Such notice shall include a report of the condition of vessel's tanks which shall accurately state the temperature, pressure, last cargo, amount of fuel, possibility of contaminants or any other conditions which might affect loading and except as hereinafter provided, laytime as hereinafter defined, shall commence upon the expiration of 6 hours after arrival in Bajo Grande. Laytime shall cease when last mooring line is cast off from the dock.

For purposes herein, actual exchange of the written notice referred to above may be made after the vessel is secured at the dock; however, arrival at Bajo Grande shall be defined as the point in time when the vessel passes between the buoys numbered B–87 and B–88 which are markers of the Maracaibo ship channel and are located approximately 1,000 m. in front of the Bajo Grande dock.

BALLAST: There are no disposal facilities for dirty ballast at Bajo Grande. Vessels calling on Bajo Grande must arrive at Bajo Grande with clean ballast. In the event, the Plant representative or the representative of the National Guard observes dirty ballast, bilge or other contaminants being discharged into the lake, such operations shall be suspended immediately. All consequences resulting therefrom shall be strictly for the vessel's account. It is strongly recommended that the Master instruct all ship's personnel to avoid any possible spillage or contamination of the lake.

LOADING: Loading arm position and connections must be to the satisfaction of ship's personnel in charge. Upon approval of ship's personnel in charge of loading, the cargo valves may be opened to test connections for leaks and to commence loading.

The responsibility for and custody of cargo passes to the ship when the cargo reaches the connection owned by the ship.

The minimum loading rate is 250 barrels per hour (b.p.h.) and then only when starting to load or when slowing down to trim vessel at completion of loading. The maximum loading rate to be expected under normal conditions is 8,000 b.p.h.

All loading and discharging will be stopped during the passage of an electric storm, and ullage covers must be closed and dogged down. During periods of calms, loading of gasoline or other similar low flash products may be loaded at reduced rates or loading stopped if the heavy vapours are not being dispersed quickly enough to prevent hazards from accumulated gas pockets. Ship's officers are cautioned to be on their guard during such conditions.

Under normal operating conditions it may be necessary to displace the loading line. This will require the ship's personnel in charge of loading to advise the Plant representative when the cargo is short by an amount equal to the content of the loading line.

Cargo documents: Vessel's clearance and cargo papers will be delivered to the Master by the ships' Agent on arrival in Maracaibo harbour outbound.

FUEL: Heavy and medium marine diesel, intermediate fuel, and bunker "C" fuel oil are available in the area. Lubricating oils in limited quantities are also available from local contractors. All bunker, lubricating oils, water and other requirements should be cabled to the ship's Agent. For reasons of safety, no bunkers may be taken on the vessel while berthed at Bajo Grande.

FRESH WATER: Available at Maracaibo Harbour.

MEDICAL: Complete medical services are available in Maracaibo.

REPAIRS: Maracaibo: No major repair facilities are available, minor repair jobs can be taken care of through local machine and electrical shops. Shore labour can be furnished if required. Radio, radar and gyro compass technicians are available upon request.

Bajo Grande: No repair facilities are available, but when required, personnel from shops in Maracaibo will travel to Bajo Grande to effect repairs.

SHORE LEAVE: Launch service for official business purposes and emergencies is readily available in Maracaibo. Launch service for shore leave can be arranged through contact marine service and will be the responsibility of ship's personnel. Arrangements for shore leave transportation can be made through the ship's Agent. No shore leave facilities are available at Bajo Grande.

CLASSIFICATION SOCIETIES: American Bureau of Shipping and Lloyd's Register of Shipping, U.S. Salvage Association, Salvage Association of London, Det Norske Veritas, Bureau Veritas, Registro Italiano Navale, and Germanisens Lloyd have Agents in Maracaibo. Surveyors are available by appointment from any of these Agents.

CURRENCY: The Venezuelan unit of currency is the Bolivare (Bs) and is the only currency recognised as legal tender within the country. Masters desiring a cash advance should make the request to their Agent when advising ETA.

MAIL: Outgoing mail for ship's account may be given to the Agent's representative who boards the vessel on arrival at Maracaibo inbound. Personal mail will be accepted only if carrying the correct amount of Venezuelan postage, or if postage is authorised by the Master for the vessel's account.

OPERATING RULES: (Some of which follow). Refrigerated LPG vessels will not be considered ready for loading at Bajo Grande unless all LPG tanks contain LPG vapours and are cooled down sufficiently to permit loading of product(s) nominated.

The dock is equipped with a vapour compressor and condensing facilities for liquifying vapours, however, no liability will be accepted for failure or unavailability of the equipment.

Vessel must be able to match the dock's unloading connections which are:

Propane	10 in.	flange	ASA 300 RF
Butane	10 ,,	,,	,,
Vapour return	10 ,,	,,	,,
Gasoline	10 ,,	,,	,,

No facilities are available for inerting. LPG vessels requiring chill down, purging or other assistance at Bajo Grande may be accepted for such purposes upon request by the Master of the vessel, however, a charge for such services shall be made to the Agent of the vessel.

The charge for assistance to effect purging and/or chill down is Bs 733 per hour for all time that such purging or chill down operations causes the vessel to exceed allowed laytime. Such charge shall include the use of the dock vapour compressor. The quantity of product involved in such purging or chill down shall be for the account of the owner(s) of the product to be lifted by the vessel concerned.

In the event that the dock vapour compressor is operated at the request of the Master of the vessel for purposes other than purging or chill down, a charge of Bs 500 per hour will be made to the Agent of the vessel. The plant also has the facilities to odorise vessels when required. The charge to the vessel for the odorant shall be the actual landed cost for such odorant.

If, in the event a vessel is berthed at the dock and after six running hours have expired after notification by operator to the Master of the vessel that the facilities are ready to deliver products and the vessel at the end of such time is unable to receive products, then at the discretion of operator, the vessel may be cast off from the dock to prevent flaring of products or curtailment of production.

A vessel may be cast off at any time for reasons of safety.

Maximum percentage by volume of air or oxygen allowable for safe loading of respective product when vessel's tanks are inerted with CO_2 or N_2.

L	Air		Oxygen
Product	(CO_2)	*(N_2)	(CO_2)	*(N_2)
LPG	50	40	8	7
Gasoline	50	40	8	7

*Nitrogen percentages do not include nitrogen of the air in mixtures.

Example: If a vessel is to be loaded with LPG and is to be inerted with N_2, enough N_2 must be added to ensure that the mixture will contain no more than 40% by volume of air. The other 60% being N_2.

Section B

LA ESTACADA: 10.42 N. 71.32 W.

(N.B. For important details of Documentation, Pilotage, etc., see "Maracaibo Lake").

OPERATORS: Deltaven, S.A.

LOCATION: Loading Terminal in the Lake of Maracaibo at La Estacada, located at 10° 42′ 30″ N. and 71° 31′ 40″ W. Entrance to and leaving this terminal is made between buoys B.65 and B.66.

DOCUMENTS: As soon as vessel is safely moored marine dispatcher will board the ship together with the port authorities.

PILOTAGE: (See "Maracaibo Lake").

1. All vessels must call Deltaven on 2182 kc/s. when passing the E.M. Buoy and when embarking the Pilot at San Carlos.
2. Reduce speed approaching inner channel buoy B–63; rig accommodation ladder starboard side properly illuminated. Company Mooring Master will board between B–63 and B–65.
3. Listen during transit on 2182 kc/s.
4. In event of unforeseen circumstances requiring vessels to anchor, area West of Estacada Northern Buoy mooring outside of channel limits will be used.

Vessels proceeding to La Estacada Terminal must enter the Outer Channel and embark the Government Pilot between buoys B–25 and B–27. After vessel arrives in the vicinity of the E.M. buoy, Master must contact San Carlos Pilot Station by radio-telephone on frequency 2182 kc/s. requesting Pilot between buoys B–25 and B–27.

Once Pilot is on board, the vessel will proceed to Estacada, reducing speed in vicinity of Inner Channel buoys B–63 and B–65 where Mooring Master will board. Vessel should have a strong line ready to hoist Mooring Master's radio on board. The official Pilot will stay on board until vessel is moored.

MAX. SIZE: Water depth in both buoy moorings is 44 ft. mean monthly observed lowest water (MMOLW). Because of the depth of the surrounding approaches, 41 ft. (MMOLW), admissible mid ship's maximum draft in both moorings is 39 ft. freshwater. Under certain tidal conditions, however, with vessels over 60,000 d.w.t. and LOA exceeding 750 ft., it may be necessary to restrict loading to 38 ft. 6 in. Masters are requested to be guided by Mooring Masters in appropriate draft to be loaded.

Berth No. 2 will accommodate vessels up to 850 ft. LOA, and Berth No. 1 up to 720 ft. LOA. Beam in both berths is unlimited.

RADIO: Information to be cabled to Deltaven, Maracaibo.

Upon vessel's departure from the last port bound for La Estacada cable 72–48 and 24 hours ETA at San Carlos Pilot station, including in this message last port, Master's name, if a.c. current on board and any requirements. If diverted, cable original destination, also have 5 copies of diversion cable ready on arrival. If the vessel is nominated to load a part cargo only at La Estacada, indicate at which port cargo will be completed. All cables should be sent via PJA (Curacao Radio) and via ITT All American Cables.

BERTHING: (a) Description: Marine Oil Loading Terminal, is an offshore installation and consists of two permanent buoy moorings, No. 1 to the South, and No. 2 to the North.

Berths No. 1 and No. 2 consist of 4×14-ft. cylindrical steel buoys, each fitted with a pelican hook to which ship's mooring lines are attached by mooring launches. On each buoy there are 2×1.625-in. improved plow steel wirelines to supplement mooring lines in order to provide additional security during strong winds. In berth No. 1 the plow steel wires are 520 ft. long and in berth No. 2 585 ft.

Both berths are two directional; ships moored heading North or South according to prevailing current.

(b) Deballasting. No facilities at La Estacada to receive dirty ballast. Ballast must be clean, and is discharged into the Lake.

(c) Mooring. All ships should have an adequate supply of stoppers or other special, equipment necessary to handle wires attached on mooring buoys. Vessels mooring in berths must be equipped with 4 ropes forward and 4 ropes aft. Vessels are cautioned that good quality ropes are essential and that they will be held liable for any damage occurring through improper or poor mooring ropes or inability to properly handle same.

Vessels in buoy moorings must have deck winches in readiness for use at all times. Method of berthing will be at discretion of Company's Mooring Master, as weather and other conditions permit. During berthing and unberthing, ship's engines, tackle and all other gear must be in operative condition and in a state of readiness for use on immediate notice.

Weather permitting, and berths being available, vessels may be berthed at any hour of the day or night. Mooring buoys are properly lighted. Mooring Master will assist in mooring the vessel in berth No. 1 or 2. Loading hoses can be connected both port and starboard side, according to ship's position. The Mooring Master will remain on board ship to advise on connecting and disconnecting loading hoses, and loading of cargo. He will later unmoor vessel and hand over to government Pilot on departure.

Mooring Master acts as adviser only and the Master retains full responsibility at all times. When ship is in position and mooring wires tautened, mooring winches such as tension winches must have their manual brakes put on securely, and should not rely on automatic rendering devices.

During time vessel is at the berth, frequent and regular inspection of mooring essential to ensure that mooring lines are kept taut and that movement of ship is kept to a minimum. When tugs are alongside or assisting a tanker, all cargo openings, permanent ballast tanks, lids and pump-room doors must be closed no matter what grade oil is being or has been carried, unless these spaces are gas-free.

The mooring operations are carried out by 2 mooring launches and 2 tugs.

TUGS: Use of 2 tugs of at least 1,600 h.p. is compulsory for mooring and unmooring at La Estacada (Government Decree). Use of 2 mooring launches with crew including a diver, who inspects the submarine loading hoses, is compulsory at La Estacada. These mooring launches remain alongside ship during stay in berth order act in any emergency.

TANK INSPECTION: As soon as all ballast is discharged and hoses connected, production supervisor from La Estacada boards to inspect ship's tanks. If same are dry and clean he will sign corresponding certificate.

LOADING: Berth No. 1 has 2 loading lines (1×24-in. and 1×16-in.) with corresponding manifold, and Berth No. 2 also has 2 lines (1×24-in. and 1×18-in.). 12-in. - 150 lb. marine loading hoses are used. Each berth capable of a max. loading rate of 25,000 barrels per hour, with an appropriate reduction for topping-off.

However, maximum loading rate entirely at Company's option and will vary according to circumstances and type of tanker concerned. When completing loading, stoppage of cargo will be determined on board, and Masters are requested to inform Mooring Master at least 30 minutes in advance in order reduce pumping rate for topping-off. Mooring Master will be in continuous contact with pumping station by means of portable radio. Should this means of communication fail, the following signals on ship's whistle will apply:

One long blast	Stand by
Two long blasts	Commence pumping
Three long blasts	Stop pumping

Upon completion of loading, marine dispatcher, together with ship's officer, will gauge ship's tanks and later prepare cargo documentation.

FUEL: Bunkers and marine fuels supplied by barge before or after loading operation at anchorage.

FRESH WATER: Must be ordered with first ETA cable so that arrangement can be made with supplier. A water barge and a tug must be hired, the hire of tug and barge is very expensive. Recommended that Masters obtain adequate fresh water at other ports.

REPAIRS: Only smaller repairs can be effected locally; however, technicians available for radio and radar repairs.

SHORE LEAVE: Launch is primarily for use of authorities and company staff, but will effect trips for crew if required by Master. Contact Mooring Master who will make necessary arrangements.

GUARDS: One National Guard stationed on board. He must be provided sleeping quarters and seated in officers' mess for meals.

CLEARANCE: Immediately after termination of loading operations, hoses are disconnected and Mooring Master will proceed to unmoor vessel. In the meantime, cargo documents are prepared by Agency personnel, the Government Pilot is ordered, and as soon as vessel is cleared, she will proceed to her destination.

CURRENT/DENSITY/TIDE: Current velocity max. 4 knots. Nature of bottom, mud. Salinity of water, 997–1003. The tidal range in feet for the Estacada Terminal is springs 1.5, neaps 0.5.

GENERAL: (a) Cash Advance. Cash advance will be in local currency (Bolivares). Cable in advance any such requirements.

(b) Mail. Outgoing correspondence may be given to the marine dispatcher. For personal mail (crew) a list should be made, indicating name of crew member, quantity of letters and destinations.

(c) Ship Chandlers. 2 ship chandlers in Maracaibo who can supply vessels with fresh meat, fish, vegetables, fruits, etc. Requirements should be transmitted in first ETA cable.

Section C

LA SALINA: 10.22 N. 71.28 W.

(N.B. For important details of Documentation, Pilotage, etc., see "Maracaibo Lake").

OPERATORS: All terminal facilities are under the control of Lagoven, S.A.

APPROACH: Entrance and leaving this terminal is made between buoys B.97 and B.98.

LOCATION: La Salina located on Eastern shore of Lake Maracaibo, in Latitude 10° 22′ 18″ N., Long. 71° 27′ 49″ W.

CARGO DOCUMENTS: These are generally placed on board prior to departure. Vessels whose Master accepts the early departure procedure may sail with documents in blank. Figures are then radioed for inclusion in blank documents. Outward clearance documents are placed on board the vessel prior to departure.

PILOTAGE: In the event that no contact can be made with San Carlos pilotage station, or if there is a language problem, contact should be made with Lagoven Marine at La Salina by voice radio on 2182 kc/s. or 156.6 mc/s.

A vessel entering or leaving the harbour must be assisted by a Docking Master in the general employ of area furnished by Lagoven, an inbound vessel being boarded by him at the anchorage area approximately 3 miles off shore.

ANCHORAGE: For vessels awaiting berth there is an anchorage area located West of a line between rig L–175 to buoy S3 and the light buoys M1, M1A and S1 (chart No. MO–G–4–C) about 3 miles West of the loading terminal in 6 to 7 fathoms of water with a mud bottom.

RESTRICTIONS: None. The port is open for navigation during the day and night, allowing ships to enter and sail at any hour.

MAX. SIZE: Up to 110,000 d.w.t. The access channel to La Salina has a least depth of 41 ft.

RADIO: The cable and telegraphic address for the Lagoven, at La Salina is "Lagoven La Salina". Radio messages to and from ships at sea are routed through the Government radio station at Maiquetia (La Guaira) call letters YVG. This station operates on a 24 hour continuous watch, on the following frequencies: Listening frequencies: long wave: 500 kc/s.; short wave: 4178–6267–8356–12534–16712–22225 kc/s.

Transmitting frequencies: long wave: 500–472–464–417 kc/s.; short wave: 17141.6–12817.5–8730–8722–6519.5–6505.5–4352–4322 kc/s.

Radio notice of arrival should be sent 72 hours prior to arrival at La Salina and corrected if weather or other conditions delay the vessel.

La Salina Port Services section maintains radio-telephone listening watches on a 24 hour basis on following frequencies: 2182 kc/s., 156.8 mc/s.

Frequencies 2638 kc/s., 2738 kc/s., 2120 kc/s. and 156.6 mc/s. are available for use after initial contact on one of the above listening frequencies.

All vessels en route to La Salina may also communicate with Lagoven Amuay or Caripito Marine offices and request that messages dealing with corrected ETA's, Pilots and other business be relayed to the La Salina Marine Office.

TUGS: Creole maintains one 3,000 h.p. diesel tug and one 1,600 h.p. diesel tug. Tug-boat assistance is considered essential and is afforded all vessels entering, leaving or shifting in the harbour.

BERTHING: At La Salina, Lagoven maintains a deep-water terminal (Lacustre) consisting of an island where are located 2 finger piers, each 1,100 ft. in length and 500 ft. between piers, providing 4 berths to accommodate tankers up to 110,000 d.w.t. Berths are numbered 6N, 6S, 7N and 7S, from North to South. At these berths various crudes can be loaded simultaneously. In addition there is an offshore platform (Pier No. 3) where liquefied petroleum gases (Butane and Propane) can be loaded and refined products can be loaded or discharged.

Instructions concerning berthing are given by Port Services Section by means of radio-telephone.

The use of an anchor when docking is permitted at all berths. It is considered prudent to have the outboard anchor hove-out prior to entering the harbour in order to facilitate speedy release if necessary while docking. The Pilot will advise whether the ship is to be berthed port or starboard side to the dock.

BALLAST: Vessel should arrive at La Salina with sufficient ballast to permit safe handling. Docking Master requirements in this connection under normal weather conditions are interpreted as drawing approximately 8 ft. forward, 18 ft. aft, on a T–2 or similar type tanker, and 11 ft. forward, 20 ft. aft on a 26,000 d.w.t., or larger type vessel.

Ballast should be carried in a minimum number of tanks, and all other tanks stripped, so as to minimize deballasting time.

It has been established that one of the major causes of contamination of crude oil is the relatively small amount of salt water remaining in the ship's tanks, pumps, and ballast lines after ballast discharge. This very small amount of salt, nevertheless, frequently results in costly damage and downtime to refining equipment, besides presenting many other processing problems.

It is therefore requested that the full co-operation of the Master and Officers of ships loading for Aruba, be given to ensure that all ballast tanks and lines are flushed with lake water and stripped as dry as possible.

Vessels equipped with a separate and completely segregated system of ballast tanks, lines and pumps, will be permitted to discharge ballast and load cargo simultaneously, providing approval of both the pier foreman and Petroleum Inspector is secured.

A pier supervisor who is in direct communication with the loading pumphouse is stationed at each pier during the entire time the vessel is discharging ballast or cargo or receiving cargo.

Absolutely oil-free ballast may be discharged overside. All dirty ballast must be pumped ashore. A 34 in. ballast line, with dirty ballast treating facilities are available.

If it is desired to follow the "load-on-top" procedure it is requested that the marine representative be informed on arrival.

LOADING: Instructions as to grade or grades of cargo, and the approximate loading rate anticipated, will be given to the Master on arrival. Supplementary information including number and size of lines and Chiksan arms will be furnished to the Chief Officer before loading commences. Loading rates will be reduced as required when topping off.

If vessel's loading orders from owners or charterers do not agree with the terminal's orders, either as to grades or quantity, the marine representative should be advised immediately. The terminal is authorised to load 10% more or less than the quantity nominated.

A terminal employee is stationed at each pier during the entire time the ship is discharging ballast, bunkering, or loading cargo. Fifteen minutes "standby" notice should be given to this man prior to completion of ballast, bunkers, or cargo.

Shut-down controls for all crude oil pumps are available at each loading berth at ship's rail of loading vessels for use in case of emergency only.

LOADING RATES: Loading operations at La Salina Terminal are normally carried out at relatively high pumping rates; up to an average of 40,000 b.p.h. Ship's officer will be advised by the pier supervisor at what rate the cargo will be loaded. LPG is loaded up to an average max. rate of 7,500 b.p.h. at Platform No. 3.

The loading and discharging of all crude petroleum and its products will be stopped during the passage of an electric storm, and ullage covers must be closed and dogged down. During periods of calms, loading of gasoline or other similar low flash products may be at lower rates or loading stopped if the heavy vapours are not being dispersed quickly enough to prevent hazards from accumulated gas pockets. Ships' officers are cautioned to be on their guard during such conditions.

Loading rates will be reduced when topping off, if requested by the ship's officer.

MEDICAL: Complete medical, dental and hospitalisation facilities are available at La Salina. Medical treatment is provided at a Lagoven operated clinic.

Authorisation forms for medical treatment are provided which require the Master's signature. Transportation will be supplied by Port Services Section.

If the patient does not speak Spanish or English, an interpreter should accompany him.

FRESH WATER: A limited supply of fresh and boiler water is available at La Salina Lacustre Terminal. Delivery is made through 2.5 in. National Standard Fire Hose Thread hydrants. Ship's personnel must provide hoses and connect up.

FUEL: Bunker C fuel oil, marine diesel and intermediate fuels are available at La Salina Terminal Lacustre. Delivery is made alongside Piers 6 or 7 by 8 in. diameter Chiksan hose, located about midship's.

It is the responsibility of the ship's engineer to give "stand-by" notice to the terminal employee and advise him when to shut down.

Supplies of lubricating oils are available. Delivery will be effected while loading and requirements should be incorporated in the ETA radio.

DENSITY: The average density at the berth is 1002 but varies dependent upon amount of rainfall. The temperature ranges from 82° to 86°F.

REPAIRS: The Marine Port Staff will assist with emergency repairs as may be required in each case depending upon availability of competent personnel and equipment. The company's shop facilities while not equipped for extensive ship repairs, may be made available to fabricate or repair items that are urgently required.

The nearest dry docks are those at Puerto Cabello and Curacao, N.A. Several contractors in the area provide labour for hull painting and for tank cleaning. Contracts for these services are made by the ship's Master directly with the contractor.

Radio technicians are available for minor repairs. With sufficient advance notice a radar specialist can be arranged to board the ship at La Salina.

CONSULATES: The following countries have consular representatives in the area:

Belgium
Chile
Columbia
Costa Rica
Denmark
Dominican Rep.
Ecuador
El Salvador
France
Germany (West)
Great Britain
Guatemala
Italy
Netherlands
Norway

SHORE LEAVE: Shore leave is permitted and a representative of the Captain of the Port boards on arrival and issues the required number of passes. Shore passes are to be collected prior to sailing, and given to Pilot undocking the vessel. Vessels are not permitted to sail until all crew members are on board, unless hospitalised or prior arrangements made for disembarking. No launch service for liberty parties is available while vessel is anchored off La Salina awaiting berth.

GENERAL: Representatives of the Marine Department board vessels immediately on arrival, and it is particularly requested that Masters indicate at that time all ships requirements. The Marine Office Building is located at the Pierhead Trestle and personnel are available for assistance at all hours.

(a) Bonded Stores. Cigarettes or other stores in bond are not obtainable in La Salina.

(b) Cash Advances. Cash advances are made in local currency, the Venezuelan Bolivare. Cash requirements should be included in the ETA radio.

(c) Charts. On first arrival of each tanker, the Marine Dispatcher will furnish a set of local charts if required. No supplies of U.S. Hydrographic or British Admiralty charts, or sailing directions, are available.

(d) Classification Societies. American Bureau and Lloyd's Register have non-exclusive Agents in Maracaibo, and qualified Masters and Chief Engineers are available for appointment as Surveyors when required.

(e) Gangways. All vessels using the port of La Salina must provide a safe gangway. The use of rung ladders, Pilot ladders, etc., is contrary to port regulations and port authorities will not board except by means of a safe gangway or accommodation ladder.

(f) Plimsoll Marks. the Captain of the Port requires that the Plimsoll Marks of all vessels using the port be clearly visible. Vessels may be checked on completion of loading, and if the Plimsoll Marks are not readily legible, permission to sail may be withheld.

(g) Port services. On arrival at La Salina terminal, a company representative boards vessels, so it is particularly requested that Masters make known to him all ship's requirements. Master should bear in mind that while vessels are within Venezuelan territorial waters, Government authorities do not permit the use of ship's radio equipment. Cables and radiograms should be handed to the company representative for transmittal via shore radio communication system. La Salina also has radio telephone communication with North and South America and Europe. For further information contact Port Services Section in the terminal building, tel. 88694 and 88695.

(h) Rat-guards. By order of the Port Authorities, vessels are required to use ratguards on all mooring lines.

(i) Personnel – Seamen left ashore. In the case of seaman left ashore for hospitalisation, repatriation or other reason, his documents and personal effects are to be delivered to the Marine Office in La Salina before sailing. A letter is required from the Master advising maximum advances to be made to seaman if any, and instructions concerning his repatriation. All expenses incurred by seamen left ashore, including cost of repatriation, are for ship's account.

It is important that Masters bear in mind that the Venezuelan law will at all times hold the vessel, her Master, Agent or Owner, responsible for any seamen left behind in Venezuela.

(j) Provisions and stores. Fresh and dry provisions are supplied by various shipchandlers in Maracaibo and Cabimas (La Salina). Master should deliver his signed requisition to the Marine Department representative who boards on arrival. Provisions would then be delivered to the vessel while loading. The prices and quality of some items, such as fresh fruit, fish, shrimps, vegetables, etc., are competitive; dry stores are considerably higher than in most ports. The Fleet Steward will assist in filling requisitions. It is important that the Master sign the ship-chandlers invoice as authorisation for the Marine Department to make settlement.

(k) Mail. Any pending ship's mail will be delivered on board by the Marine Dispatcher on arrival at La Salina. At same time he will receive ship's mail to be dispatched. The Marine Dispatcher will accept personal mail only if it carries the proper amount of Venezuelan postage, or if Master authorises the postage by signing 7 copies of the Company Postal Transmittal form. Masters interested in knowing the individual postage amounts to be paid by each crew member, should provide a list, in duplicate, of the senders, and number of letters sent by each one identified by a number written on each letter.

Copy of this list will be returned aboard the vessel when leaving this port outward bound. If not ready on time, it will be airmailed to the vessel's next port of call.

(l) Inspection of Petroleum Products and Crude Oil. Chas. Martin & Company and E. W. Saybolt petroleum inspectors are available if specified.

(m) Laundry. Laundry service is available between 0700 and 1700 hrs. on week-days. No guarantee can be given on time of delivery.

LOCATION: Situated at Eastern shore of entrance to lake of Maracaibo, in position Lat. 10° 46′ N., Long. 71° 34′ W.

OPERATORS: Maraven, S.A.

CLEARANCE: Pratique and Custom's clearance will be granted on arrival either at the anchorage or after the vessel has been berthed. Masters therefore requested to have the accommodation ladder ready on arrival to avoid delays, since the Government Officials do not board the vessels by pilot ladder.

On arrival when pratique is requested, all vessels should fly International flag signal "Q", or show a yellow light during hours of darkness.

PILOTAGE: On arrival Puerto Miranda under Government Pilot's advice the vessel will be boarded by Government Berthing Master, who will assist Master in docking vessel. He will also assist in undocking.

CHANNEL: Channel has a leading mark formed by the towers "P" and "M" and is marked by buoys.

(1) Incoming traffic bound for Puerto Miranda must leave the main channel between the buoys B-57 and B59 towards the anchorage.

(2) Vessels coming from the Lake in ballast or to complete cargo at Puerto Miranda must leave the main channel when passing the buoy B–65 on their starboard side and proceed in the direction of Jetty 3 towards the anchorage.

(3) All vessels on leaving Puerto Miranda should enter the main channel by the buoyed exit channel marked by the buoys numbered AP3, AP2, AP1 and B59.

Once the ship is unmoored, the Berthing Master on duty at Puerto Miranda will emphasise to the official Pilots the route to be followed in each case.

MAX. SIZE: The max. permissible draft is 40 ft. even keel, including the ship's sagging when taking advantage of high water. Otherwise, draft must be in accordance with depth available at time of departure, which under no circumstances can be higher than 43 ft.

RADIO: Port Services Office equipped with radio-telephone installation operating on 24 hours basis, transmitting on following frequencies (simplex press to talk system).

		Int. Channel
Approach calling and safety	156.8 mc/s	No. 16
CSV and other tankers port operations	156.6 ,,	No. 12
Emergency calling	2.182 kc/s

ARRIVAL ADVICE: Vessels equipped with radio-telephone installation operating on above frequencies are requested call Puerto Miranda about 3 hours before arrival at port. Calls made in Spanish language will be answered promptly, since there is always a Spanish-speaking clerk on duty. Calls in English will be answered by Berthing Master on duty, except when he is occupied, in which case the call should be repeated later on, as an alternative, the Master could ask Government Pilot to report in Spanish his vessel to Puerto Miranda. During hours of darkness all vessels must identify themselves on arrival, either by radio-telephone or Aldis lamp.

TUGS: 2 motor tugs of 2,800 h.p. assist all vessels in docking and undocking. Also one or two mooring launches will be standing by to take ropes.

BALLAST: Discharge of oil or water polluted by oil into lake waters is prohibited and will incur heavy fines and compensation to beach owners and fishermen for cleaning nets.

All dirty ballast must be discharged ashore. Clean ballast in cargo tanks may only be pumped overboard after prior consultation with Port Services Dept. Deballasting line pressure must not exceed 100 lb. p.s.i. Vessels equipped with a special separate and clean ballast system are to discharge their ballast into lake.

Ocean vessels should be ballasted on arrival E.M. Buoy for inward passage with minimum ballast necessary for safe handling, taking into consideration Article 31 of Maracaibo Pilotage Zone Regulations, which states all vessels entering lake Maracaibo shall have a trim of no more than 8ft., to permit safe navigation through channels.

One of the major causes of contamination of crude oil is relatively small amount of salt water remaining in ships tanks, pumps and ballast lines after ballast discharge. This very small amount of salt, nevertheless, frequently results in costly damage and down-time to refining equipment, besides presenting many other processing problems. It is therefore requested that full co-operation of Master and officers be given to ensure that all ballast tanks and lines are stripped as dry as possible.

General: Nature of bottom soft mud, but near buoys B-59 and AP-1 is partly hard.

Density of Water at Berths 997-1003.

Density of Water outer channel 1015-1025.

These alongside drafts are subject to reduction owing to depth in inner and outer channels.

Recommended under keel clearance (UKC) in Exit Channel 2 ft.

Vessels drawing 37 ft. and over will according to monthly sailing draft table issued by Maraven, S.A.

MOORING: Vessels are to be moored to satisfaction of Pier Master A suitable gangway will be provided by shore installation. When it is out of order vessel's gangway has to be used, which will be notified on VHF telephone before arrival at E.M. buoy.

Vessels of any deadweight must secure with at least: Forward: 4 headlines; 4 breasting fibre ropes in berths 1 and 2; 1 spring. Aft: 2 sternlines; 4 breasting fibre ropes and one spring in berths, 1 and 2. In berths 3, 4 and 5, Forward: 2 headlines; 4 breasting lines; 1 spring– Aft: 2 sternlines; 4 breasting lines; 1 spring.

When vessel is fitted with tension winches (forward and aft) the following ropes are required:

Forward: 2 headlines; 2 wires from tension winches as breasting lines in berths numbered 1, 2, 5 or 6; 1 spring. Aft: 2 sternlines; 2 wires from tension winches as breasting lines in berths numbered 1, 2, 5 or 6; 1 spring.

When vessels are nominated to load at berth 1 or 2 of Jetty 2 one extra headline and a second spring is required. Vessel's best ropes or wires should be used as breasting lines.

LOADING: Vessels should load in accordance with International Loadlines Regulations taking into account maximum permissible draft at this Terminal and also at Maracaibo bar channel.

The Captain of the Port requires that the load-line marks of all vessels using the port be clearly visible. If Harbour Authorities should refuse to pilot an out-going vessel due to being overloaded, Master will be held responsible for all delays and expenses, in connection with discharging any overloaded cargo and all further losses.

Vessels' maximum permitted loading rate should always be required. Maximum shore loading rate is 7,000 M.T. per hour, using 2 shore lines and 4 hoses.

Following ship's whistle signals should be used for loading: 2 blasts=Stand by (15 minutes prior to completion of cargo and or part cargo). 1 blast=Stop (2 minutes prior to complete cargo and or part cargo).

EMERGENCIES: In order to deal quickly and efficiently with any emergency during loading/deballasting operations, the following equipment is available:

(a) Control for quick closing of shore manifold valves. This is a red-painted hydraulic valve situated on the ship/shore gangway. In the event of a spillage aboard, this valve must be opened. Within ninety seconds the shore manifold valves will close against the loading pumps.

(b) Direct ship/shore telephone. This is a red telephone and in order to obtain instant communication with the loading supervisor in the Control Room it is only necessary to lift the receiver. An Alarm Bell will alert the supervisor and a light will advise him from which berth the call originated.

FUEL: Available ex wharf: Bunker "C", thin fuels from 200 to 3,500 seconds Redwood 1 at 100 deg. F., and marine diesel. Delivery rate 400 and 80 tons respectively. Gas oil, F. oil and thin fuels may be supplied by barge ex Maracaibo delivered at anchor, at a max. rate of 110 and 140 tons.

FRESH WATER: Available on all jetties with a loading rate between 20 and 30 t.p.h. This depends on number of vessels at the same time.

MEDICAL: Ship's personnel may visit local doctor on week-days between 0700 and 1130 hrs., or 1400 and 1700 hrs. Outside these hours, or in cases which require special treatment, patients receive attention in Maracaibo. Written request for medical attendance, as well as a shore pass, is always required.

SHORE LEAVE: Not granted until shore passes are stamped and signed by Authorities. Passes must be shown to guards at gangway and gates. Crew members must be properly dressed (long trousers and shirt) before proceeding ashore. Master must collect all passes and return them to Agent before vessel's departure.

GENERAL: (a) Tides: In view of the available depth in the channels which allow navigation to vessels up to about 70,000 d.w.t. fully laden at high water, permanent predictions of sailing draft tables have been prepared by Maraven S.A., and they will send these on board ships of over 47,000 d.w.t.

(b) Currents: The tidal current (Lunar tide) at this port can at times be very strong and subject to changes. Usually outgoing tide runs for 7 to 8 hours against 4 to 5 hours for incoming tide. Direction approx. at right angles to jetty.

PUNTA DE PALMAS: 10.26 N. 71.38 W.

(N.B. For important details of Documentation, Pilotage etc., see "Maricaibo Lake").

OPERATORS: Palmaven, S.A.

LOCATION: The terminal is located at Punta de Palmas del Sur, approximately 13 miles South of the port of Maracaibo on the West shore of Lake Maracaibo. The terminal proper may be identified by a 300 ft. radio tower, having 2 small red lights 200 ft. from the base, and 1 large red light on top of tower. The top light flashes every 2 seconds.

CARGO DOCUMENTS: Vessel's clearance and cargo papers will be delivered to the Master on arrival in Maracaibo Harbour outbound. Palmaven will accept no responsibility for delay in clearing a vessel due to unavailability of personnel from offices of the Port Authorities.

CHANNEL: The channel between Punta Palmas and Maracaibo is 10 miles long with a minimum width of 244 m. and a maximum width of 305 m. Depth 45 ft.

LAKE PILOT: A government Pilot will assist each vessel from Maracaibo to Punta de Palmas, and on the outbound trip to Maracaibo. The government Pilot will also assist in the mooring and unmooring operations. The ship's Agent will inform the Master of each vessel, as well as the government Pilot, the mooring scheduled for berthing.

MAX. SIZE: The maximum permissible fresh water draft in Mooring No. 2 is 38 ft. and the maximum length vessel this mooring will accommodate, is 835 ft. in length. Vessels exceeding 785 ft. in length must be equipped with 2 bow and 2 stern tension deck winches with sufficient wire rope to run a line to each of the bow and stern buoys.

The maximum permissible fresh water draft in Mooring No. 1 is 38 ft. and the maximum length vessel this mooring will accommodate is also 835 ft. in length. Deeper water exists to N.W. of both moorings.

RADIO: When vessel departs from its last port bound for Punta de Palmas Terminal, the date of departure and best ETA Maracaibo should be cabled to Palmaven Maracaibo. At least 48 hours before arrival at Pilot station the ETA should be sent by cable to Palmaven. Vessel's nationality, Venezuelan net tonnage (if available, otherwise registered tonnage), last port, Master's name and all requirements (fuel, water, etc.) should be included in cable. The cable address for the company is "Palmaven Maracaibo". As the cable office in Maracaibo is not able to communicate directly with vessels at sea, messages to Palmaven Maracaibo, should be routed via PJC Curacao, and prefix the message "Via AAC" (All American Cables and Radio).

MEDICAL: Emergency cases only will be transported to Maracaibo for medical treatment.

BALLAST: Since there are no disposal facilities for dirty ballast at Punta de Palmas Terminal, it is imperative that vessels arrive with clean ballast as Venezuelan laws are very strict regarding contamination of lake water.

TUGS: Tug service consisting of 2 tugs of not less than 1,600 h.p. each is provided by the terminal operator for all vessels. Both tugs will assist all vessels in mooring and unmooring operations. Should it be deemed necessary by the terminal operator to require a tug in addition to the 2 terminal tugs for mooring or unmooring vessels exceeding 750 ft. in length, charges for this additional service will be for the account of vessel.

MOORING: Moorings are designed as No. 1 and No. 2 and are located approximately 5.5 miles off shore from the Terminal and approximately 1.25 miles due West of channel buoy B–95 and B–96 on the Maracaibo ship channel.

Mooring No. 2 is located N.E. of Mooring No. 1 and is further off shore. Mooring No. 2 is equipped with 2 bow buoys, 2 stern buoys, and a starboard stern breasting piling with cable.

All vessels planning to moor in either Mooring No. 1 or Mooring No. 2 shall be equipped with mooring hawsers of sufficient length and strength to run 2 lines to each of the bow and stern buoys and shall use such equipment while in moorings. Vessels equipped with tension winches and cables shall utilise these in addition to mooring hawsers or alone if vessel has sufficient cables to meet minimum requirements of running 2 cables to each bow and stern buoy. For added security of those vessels not equipped with tension winches and/or cables, 1 steel cable will be furnished on each of the bow and stern buoys by Palmaven. It should be recognised by all parties, that while use of these cables is strongly recommended, Palmaven accepts no responsibilities for loss or damage to any vessel or to any facility or to any person that may result from failure of this equipment. 2 carpenter stoppers are available with each mooring for handling the steel safety cables and their use is also recommended.

Vessels in excess of 750 ft. length are required to moor in Mooring No. 2 and must use their starboard bow anchor for mooring and starboard stern breasting cable furnished in this mooring.

For convenience and safety of all personnel boarding or unboarding while at Punta de Palmas, it is recommended that vessel's accommodation ladder be rigged on port side, this being lee side under prevailing weather conditions in this area. The ladder should be suspended after Mooring Master boards and during mooring operations to avoid being fouled by mooring tugs or launches.

Mooring Master will board each vessel prior to entering mooring to establish radio contact between ship and tie-up launch as well as with terminal office. The Mooring Master will assist in mooring and unmooring operations. It should be understood that Mooring Master acts only in an advisory capacity to the Master. The vessel's Master retains full responsibility at all times.

The tie-up launch will handle all mooring or pick-up lines before and after loading. Tug service is on call 24 hours per day from the main terminal harbour. The tie-up crew will assist the ship's crew in lifting and connecting the cargo hoses and in removing same on completion of loading. The approximate lift required to haul cargo hoses into connecting position is 4 tons. The tie-up launch will carry connections and other equipment to facilitate hose connecting, which will be at the disposal of ship's crew, if required.

LOADING: Cargo hose position, supports, and connections must be to satisfaction of ship's personnel in charge. Upon approval from ship's personnel in charge of loading, cargo hose valves may be opened to test cargo hose connections for leaks and to commence loading.

The responsibility for and custody of cargo passes to ship's personnel when cargo reaches the connection owned by ship.

The minimum loading rate is 4,000 b.p.h. and then only when starting to load or when slowing down to trim vessel at completion of loading. The maximum loading rate to be expected under normal conditions is 15,000 b.p.h.

Under normal operating conditions it may be necessary to displace terminal sea line as cargo loading is completed. This will require ship's personnel in charge of loading to advise terminal representative when cargo is short by an amount equal to the sea-line displacement.

The sea-line displacement is a set amount and should not be cut short or exceeded. Therefore, when displacements are to be made, the cargo should be carefully planned by ship and terminal personnel to eliminate the possibility of either cutting the displacement short or short loadings of cargoes.

The Mooring Master will be equipped with charts and drawings of both sea moorings and will make these, as well as advice, available to Captain, if so requested. The Mooring Master will also be available to inspect ship's tanks as required, and will act as a liaison between the ship's Captain and the Agent or Punta de Palmas Terminal to transmit any information pertinent to the ship. This person should be furnished with food and accommodation fitting a ship's officer.

FUEL: Heavy and medium marine diesel, intermediate fuel, and bunker "C" fuel oil available. Lubricating oils also available.

FRESH WATER: Available from local contractors with barges.

STORES: Fresh and dry provisions procurable through ship chandlers in Maracaibo for delivery at the terminal.

REPAIRS: No repair facilities are available, but when required, personnel from shops in Maracaibo, will travel to Punta de Palmas to effect repairs.

SHORE LEAVE: Launch service for business purposes and emergencies is readily available. Launch service for shore leave can be arranged through contract marine service and will be responsibility of ship's personnel. Arrangements for shore leave transportation can be made through Loading Master on board.

CUSTOMS: All vessels entering from foreign ports and bound for Punta de Palmas Terminal are required to anchor in Maracaibo Harbour for formal customs clearance and visit of government port authorities prior to proceeding to destination.

The vessel's accommodation ladder should be rigged prior to the vessel's arrival at Maracaibo. A member of the National Guard will board each vessel at Punta de Palmas to observe all activities connected with loading or unloading operations. This official is authorised as the customs representative, and is referred to as Customs Watch. Food and accommodation similar to officers should be made available to him by vessel in order to avoid difficulties.

CONSULS: See "Maracaibo".

GENERAL:

(a) Oil spillages: There has been considerable discussion in Venezuela concerning oil spillages resulting in contamination of Lake Maracaibo, to the extent that a special commission has been formed by the oil companies in order to collaborate with government officials in combating and eliminating oil spillages. In addition, considerable pressure has been exerted by governmental agencies and commercial organisations to eliminate oil spillages in lake water. Palmaven is making every effort to prevent contamination of Lake Maracaibo because, if this is not done, stronger measures will be taken by government officials.

Because of the above, it is strongly recommended that Masters emphasise to the officers on deck to endeavour avoid all possible spillages and to make certain that the scupper plugs are installed prior commencement of loading operations in order to withhold on deck any spillage that might occur.

(b) Mail: Outgoing mail for ship's account may be given to the Agent's representative who boards vessel on arrival at Maracaibo inbound. Personal mail will be accepted only if carrying the correct amount of Venezuelan postage, or if postage is authorised by Master for the vessel's account.

(c) Classification Societies: American Bureau and Lloyd's Register have Agents in Maracaibo. Surveyors are available by appointment from any of these agents.

(d) Currency: The Venezuelan unit of currency is the Bolivare (Bs) and is the only currency recognised as legal tender within the country. Masters desiring a cash advance should make the request when advising ETA. Payment of all invoices for disbursements shall be made in Bolivares to the Palmaven's Maracaibo office, unless other instructions are given.

1. As early as possible, advise Puerto Ordaz Radio Station, call letters YVM, giving ETA at Buoy EO of North (natural) channel, or at Buoy 01 of South (dredged) channel.
2. 24 hours prior to arrival, send another ETA to YVM.
3. Upon arrival, depending on whether Master intends to enter Orinoco waterway through North or South channel, adhere to following procedure:
   - (a) North Channel. Notify Port Captain, Ciudad Bolivar, via YVM, of time of arrival at Buoy EO and give ETA at Beacon G7 (mile 27.7).
   - (b) South Channel. Request permission to enter from Port Captain, Ciudad Bolivar, via YVM. Do not enter until notified by YVM that Port Captain has granted permission; while awaiting, lay to or anchor at least 1 mile outside of Buoy 0.1.
   - (c) All vessels must also communicate with the Point Barima pilot station, call sign YV5QE on 2182 kc/s. HF or 43.18 VHF to be informed of traffic.
4. While navigating waterway, inbound or outbound, report position to YVM hourly on the hour.
5. No Pilot required nor available for navigation along North or South channel at the Boca Grande of the Orinoco River.
6. The International Rules for Preventing Collisions at Sea apply outside of Beacon G7, mile 27.7.
7. Given the case of 2 vessels navigating North and South channels respectively the one navigating South channel is the privileged vessel.

8. Anchoring either in North or South channels is forbidden.
9. Throughout Orinoco waterway, the down-bound loaded vessel is the privileged vessel.
10. It is compulsory to fly Venezuelan ensign inside of Buoy EO or Buoy 0.1.
11. Vessels can only carry clean ballast within Orinoco Waterway.
12. Pilotage compulsory within Pilotage Zone No. 1 of the Orinoco. Pilots board at outer boundary of said pilotage zone in upstreamward vicinities of Beacon G7.
13. Regulations for the Pilotage Zone No. 1 of the Orinoco apply inside of Beacon G7.

APPROACHES: (Also see "Radio" - paragraphs (b) and (c)).

1. The Waterway

A Radio Direction Finder, located at Lat. 8° 31′ 45″ N., Long. 60° 28′ 28″ W., transmits following signal continuously: YV - AYV. The transmitter has an output of 500 watts with a range of about 200 miles and operates on a frequency of 305 kc/s. While navigating the waterway, ships should favour the shore on their starboard side to the extent possible, giving preference of manoeuvre to loaded vessels in all cases. Ships navigating upstreamward (inbound), upon approaching narrow channels should await the passing and give way to downbound vessels. It follows, therefore, that downbound loaded vessels are the privileged vessels.

2. The Boca Grande (Barima Bar) Channels

There are 2 navigable channels across the Boca Grande (Barima Bar), identified as follows: North channel (or natural channel), and South channel (or dredged channel). The 2 channels have converging courses and meet at mile 27.7 in the vicinity of Beacon G7. Vessels navigating the South channel are privileged, regardless of the direction in which they travel.

(a) The North (Natural) Channel

This channel has a min. depth of 12 ft., referred to Mean Low Water. The approach from the sea is marked by a battery-operated electric flashing black buoy, identified with the letters EO. This buoy is located in 46 ft. of water at Lat. 9° 00′ 10″ N., Long. 60° 18′ 20″ W. Its characteristics are: colour of light, white; flash, 1.0 seconds; eclipse. 6.0 seconds; height above water, 10.7 ft., visibility, 7 miles. From seabuoy EO, the channel develops for 7.3 miles to Buoy EOA on a course of 213° 40′ true, then for 2.8 miles to Buoy EOB on a course of 198° 57′ true. From this point the channel follows an approximate straight course of about 205° true for a distance of 17 miles to Beacon G7. Starting from EOB distances between successive navigation aids are as follows: G1 at 1.9 miles; G1A at 1.5 miles; G3 at 2.1 miles; G3A at 2.3 miles; G5 at 3 miles; EL 24 at 2.6 miles; G7 at 3.7 miles. All navigation aids are black buoys fitted with white lights, except Beacon G7 and EL 24 which is a range structure indicating the West side limit alignment of the South (dredged) channel. This structure has been fitted with a white flashing light to mark the North (natural) channel.

(b) The South (Dredged) Channel

The South channel is a 400 ft. wide dredged channel. Depths therein accommodate the maximum draft authorised by the Port Captain. The approach from the sea is marked by a battery-operated electric flashing black buoy, identified with the number 0.1. This buoy is located in 45 ft. of water at Lat. 8° 55′ 52″ N., Long. 60° 11′ 17″ W. Its characteristics are: colour of light, white; flash, 0.5 seconds; eclipse, 11.5 seconds; height above water, 25 ft.; visibility, 11 miles. From seabuoy 0.1, the channel develops along 4 different courses over a total distance of 27.7 miles to Beacon G7. The course reduces by about 7° true at each of 3 turning points, located at miles 9, 15 and 21 respectively. The initial course of 234° 18′ true continues to mile 9 where it changes to 227° 07′ true. Upon reaching mile 15, the course again changes to 219° 51′ true to mile 21. At mile 21, the course changes to 212° 45′ true to Beacon G7 at mile 27.7. The centreline of the channel on all courses is visually marked by range structures fitted with green flashing, directionally beamed lights. The West (right ascending) side limit of the channel through mile 21 is also visually marked by range structures fitted with amber flashing, directionally beamed lights; the alignment given by the side ranges develops 200 ft. to the West and parallel to the centreline of the channel. Battery operated electric flashing navigation aids are located along both sides of the channel. All navigation aids along the East (left ascending side of the channel are located 325 ft. from centreline or 125 ft. outside of the channel lateral limit. White flashing navigation aids are located at 1 mile intervals through mile 25.1; all aids along this side are black buoys, except beacons 8.1, 9.1, 14.1, 15.1, 20.1, 21.1, 22.1, 23.1, 24.1, 25.1, 27.1 and 27.7 (G7). All navigation aids along the West (right ascending) side of the channel are located 200 ft. from centreline or on the exact lateral limit of the channel. Red flashing buoys painted red are located at 1 mile intervals from mile 1.6 to mile 11.6. From mile 11.6 to mile 27.7, there are only 2 aids; red buoys 13.6 and 26.0.

3. The River Channel

From mile 27.7, the navigable channel develops upstream. The river channel is generally deep and wide, except for the following 12 reaches which require periodic dredging: miles 27.7 to 36.5; miles 37.3 to 38.6; miles 53.1 to 54.2; miles 99.0 to 106.5; miles 109.1 to 111.0; miles 131.7 to 131.9; miles 136.6 to 139.0; miles 141.2 to 145.8; miles 146.2 to 149.4; miles 167.6 to 170.8; miles 178.4 to 182.4; miles 183.5 to 184.1. Dredged channels are normally 300 ft. in width, but occasionally can be restricted to a min. of 250 ft. The depth maintained therein can accommodate the maximum draft authorised by the Port Captain. By notice to Mariners, the Port Captain has instructed all Masters and Pilots to reduce speed and to proceed with caution while navigating the aforesaid reaches, especially during the low water season.

4. River Stages

In response to the cycle of wet and dry seasons, the flow of the Orinoco River follows a relatively regular pattern of rise and fall each year. The river normally begins rising in late March or early April and continues to rise until it peaks at crest in late August. In September, the river begins a fairly steady recession until the extreme low-water stage is reached, generally in March. The amplitude of stage variation above the low water plane of reference (0.0 ft.) at Palua (Mile 181.7) averages about 35 ft. with min. variations of 31 ft. and max. variations of 39 ft. The effects of the flood rise decrease progressively below Palua and practically vanish in the upstreamward vicinities of the Boca Grande.

5. Tides and Currents

(a) The indicated mean tidal range is 5.4 ft. Tidal influence is not experienced above mile 60 during high river stages. At low river stages, a tidal effect can be observed throughout the waterway, although it progressively diminishes, moving upstreamward. However, the tidal effect is still significant at Puerto Ordaz, mile 184, where a max. semidiurnal change of 1.7 ft. has been recorded.

(b) The strength of river currents is generally commensurate with flow, the strongest currents occurring at high river stages. The velocity of currents at any one time generally decreases moving downstreamward. However, in certain locations, this pattern is affected by particular characteristics of river width and shape as well as by bottom gradient. Max. velocities of about 6 knots have been recorded.

6. Navigation Aids

(a) The navigation aids installed along the waterway consist of buoys, beacon and ranges. All aids are lighted. Identification is provided by means of numbers representing the approximate mileage of each aid, to the nearest one-tenth of a mile. The last digit of numbers identifying white lighted aids is odd, while the last digit of numbers identifying red lighted aids is even. White lighted aids mark the left ascending limit of the navigable channel, while red lighted aids mark the right ascending limit. Aids are placed as to be intervisible, to the extent that — when abreast of any one aid — the preceding and following ones can be sighted. Consecutive aids always carry different light characteristics. Buoys are normally placed on the exact lateral limit of the channel (except for black buoys along the South channel at the Boca Grande); beacons, instead, are located at variable distances outside of the channel.

(b) During the execution of dredging along any of the reaches which require periodic maintenance, buoys are generally moved 100 ft. outside of the channel lateral limits. This information is made available to ships by YVM.

(c) The Ministerio de Comunicaciones, Direccion de Marina Mercante, publishes semi-annually a complete list of navigation aids. Monthly lists of changes are also published so that the complete current list can be maintained up to date.

(d) Upon encountering damaged, inoperative, or misplaced navigation aids, vessels should immediately notify YVM.

(e) Vessels are forbidden to make fast to any navigation aid.

7. Dredging Aids

Range structures, generally located close to shore or over the bank, are normally used to mark the lateral alignments of the channel along the reaches which require periodic dredging. These ranges are generally fitted with amber flashing, directionally beamed lights. The lights are extinguished except during execution of dredging. Dredging ranges are not to be used for navigation.

8. Navigation Charts

Navigation charts of the Orinoco Waterway should be aboard vessels for use by the Master. These charts are sold by the Instituto Nacional de Canalizaciones and are also available for purchase from the Orinoco Mining Company. If requested, CVG will, if possible, arrange to make the charts and latest revisions available through the Pilot who boards at Punta Barima, provided such request is received by radio (YVM) at least 48 hours in advance of the Pilot's boarding. A set of navigation charts, corrected to latest revisions, is maintained in the office of the Traffic and Ships' Agency of CVG in Puerto Ordaz. Masters may use this facility to keep their charts up to date.

DOCUMENTS: (Clearance, documentation and other requirements).

1. Consignment of Inbound Vessels

The official documents of all vessels proceeding to Puerto Ordaz should show the following consignment: to: CVG Ferrominera Orinoco, Ciudad Bolivar, Zona de Puerto Ordaz. The proper consignment of vessels proceeding to Palua, on official documents, is as follows: Iron Mines Company of Venezuela, Ciudad Bolivar, Zona de San Felix.

2. Customs Requirements

Vessels bound for Venezuela in ballast, without passengers, from foreign ports outside the West Indies or Guianas, require the following documentation:

(a) Vessels must have a ballast despatch statement (Certificado de Lastre) which must consist of a note from the Venezuelan Consul, if such Consul is present at the port of departure; otherwise, in descending order of desirability, from the Consul of another friendly nation, the local Chamber of Commerce or 2 reputable merchants of the port of departure. The note should include the name and nationality of the vessel, name of the Captain, registration number of the vessel and tonnage, sailing date and assertion that the vessel is en route in ballast, cargo, or with passengers. The note should be given to the Captain of the vessel or his Agent in an open envelope, which the Captain can exhibit in intermediate Venezuelan ports of call and can turn over to Customs authorities in the Venezuelan ports of destination. Under no circumstances may the ballast despatch statement be signed by an Agency of the government of the country from which the vessel is departing.

(b) The vessel must have a clearance certificate (Certificade de Zarpe) or sailing authorisation issued by the Customs Authorities of the port of departure, representing the government of the country the vessel is departing from. No consular certification need be placed upon this document.

(c) Stores List (Lista de Rancho) signed by Master unless vessel is dispatched from the West Indies or Guianas, then the stores list must be visaed by the Venezuelan Consul at port of departure. Stores list must indicate separately all deck, engine and cabin stores. These lists may be prepared on board prior to arrival.

(d) Spare Parts List (Lista de Repuestos). It must contain a note of all the spare parts and objects for the service of the vessel, including fuel. No consular certification required. To be signed by the Master and to be current as of the day of entering the Venezuelan port.

(e) List of Effects for use of Captain and Crewmen (Lista de efectos personales de la dotacion). No consular certification required. To be signed by the Master and to be current as of the day of entering the Venezuelan port. The Customs are very strict and will confiscate any article that appears new.

3. Health, Immigration, and Police Requirements

Vessels bound for Venezuela in ballast, without passengers, from foreign ports outside the West Indies or Guianas, require following documentation.

(a) Current individual International Vaccination Certificates for each member of the crew.

(b) Rat Eradication Exemption Certificate. No consular certification required.

(c) Crew Lists (original and seven copies). No consular certification required.

(d) Panama or Suez Canal or any comparable type measurement certificate.

Contraband: The Venezuelan law is very strict on this subject. It cannot be emphasised too strongly that all new articles, clothing, cigarettes, liquor, etc., must be declared and sealed-up upon arrival.

Meals for Pilots and government officials. It is requested these men be granted the privilege of eating in the officers' dining salon.

N.B. Masters of vessels calling at Trinidad for bunkers before proceeding to Venezuela must also have the documents stamped by the Venezuelan Consulate at Port of Spain.

PILOTAGE: In order to expedite the movement of shipping in the waterways, Masters are requested to establish contact with YVM station as soon as possible, giving ETA pilot station at Barima (Orinoco River entrance). At the same time a radio-telegraph message must be sent to Agents giving ETA Barima and cargo required. When vessels is 24 hours from pilot station, send another ETA via YVM.

After reporting the ETA in advance of arrival, try to contact directly, by radio, the Estacion de Pilotos when the ship approaches the sea-buoy of the bar entrance (about 2 hours before arrival at the pilot station).

After taking the Pilots aboard, report to Radio Marina and continue giving the ship's position according to the mile, up-river, at exactly every hour on the hour, and receive from Radio Marina the pertinent information concerning the traffic in the river waterway. If no communication can be established by voice radio aboard, comply by radio-telegraph by way of the YVM station.

Pilots are employees of the Venezuelan Government and act in an advisory capacity. The Master retains responsibility for the ship at all times.

(1) Pilotage is not required and Pilots are not available for navigation outside the pilotage zone. Masters will take charge of inbound and outbound navigation on the North or South channel outside Beacon G7 at the Boca Grande, without Pilot's assistance.

(2) Pilotage is mandatory within the Pilotage Zone No. 1 of the Orinoco. Inbound vessels will embark the government River Pilot in the upstreamward vicinities of Beacon G7. It is important that vessels pass Beacon G7 and be in sight of the pilot station at Barima in order to avoid any delay, as Pilots may not proceed until vessel is sighted. The government River Pilot will pilot the vessel while navigating the waterway; a special government Docking Pilot will generally take the vessel into and out of the Puerto Ordaz harbour.

Signals

(1) All signals used outside of the pilotage zone (that is to say. seaward of Beacon G7 – mile 27.7) shall conform to the International Rules for Prevention of Collisions at Sea.

(2) Within the pilotage zone (that is to say, inside of Beacon G7 – mile 27.7) the signals used shall be in accordance with the "Regulations for the Pilotage Zone No.1 of the Orinoco". It should be noted that these signals are peculiar to the Orinoco Waterway, and are not necessarily in conformance with the International Rules.

(3) Within the pilotage zone, special signals are used for passing dredgers at work along the waterway.

Speed

The Captain of the Port has the authority to impose speed restrictions. By means of "Notices to Mariners", the Port Captain has ordered that all vessels reduce speed while navigating by the following locations: San Felix Dock, mile 179.8; El Toro, miles 95.4 to 96.6. It is recommended that speed be also reduced while navigating by the Palua Dock (mile 181.8), Barrancas (mile 143.2), and Curiapo (mile 60.4). At the inception of the low water season each year (generally in early January), the Port Captain has in the past issued a "Notice to Mariners" instructing all vessels to reduce speed and proceed with caution while navigating the following river reaches: (1) miles 184 to 178, (2) miles 171 to 167, (3) miles 150 to 141, (4) miles 140 to 137, (5) miles 133 to 131, (6) miles 112 to 109, (7) miles 106 to 98, (8) miles 55 to 53, (9) miles 39 to 36

ANCHORAGES:

(1) No ships are permitted to anchor either in the North or South channel at the Boca Grande. Vessels are to anchor at least 1 mile outside of Buoy EO or Buoy 0.1.

(2) Within the pilotage zone, no vessel is allowed to anchor in narrow channels, nor close to a turn.

(3) Between Beacon G7 — mile 27.7 and mile 137, vessels which need anchoring may do so by coming as close as possible to shore on the ship's starboard side.

(4) Between mile 137 and mile 184, the Pilotage Regulations provide for 3 permanent anchorages and 1 seasonal anchorage, as follows: Area No. 5 (permanent); miles 139.3 to 140.4. Area No. 6 (permanent): miles 150.1 to 151.7. Area No. 7 (permanent): miles 178.0 to 179.0. Area No. 8 (seasonal): at the junction of the Caroni and the Orinoco. It should be observed that Area No. 7, as determined in the Pilotage Regulations, partially encroaches on the narrow (dredged) channel and on shore. Vessels are to anchor in the naturally deep and wide part of the area.

(5) The low-water anchorage (for 1 ship only) previously established by the Port Captain between miles 182 and 183 is no longer in use. This area is currently used as the turning basin for vessels exiting the Palua channel, upon sailing from the new Palua dock at mile 181.8.

(6) If due to emergency a ship is required to anchor in places other than the designated areas, it should do so in such a way as not to obstruct the channel and by taking the necessary precautions to avoid swinging around.

(7) Upon anchoring vessels should notify YVM.

MAX. SIZE:

(1) Max. permissible draft. The Port Captain of Ciudad Bolivar can establish the permissible draft for the Orinoco waterway to a max. of about 43 ft.

(2) Controlling Depths and Authorised Draft

The draft authorised by the Port Captain for the Orinoco Waterway is made public by means of a "Daily Bulletin of Depths and Draft" (Boletin Diario de Profundidades y Calado). Each daily bulletin issued by the Port Captain carries the following information, in Spanish and English:

(a) Controlling (minimum) depth between miles 184 and 133, and corresponding location.

(b) Controlling (minimum) depth between miles 133 and 42, and corresponding location.

(c) Controlling (minimum) depth between miles 42 and 0, and corresponding location.

(d) Predicted high tides (height and times) at mile 13.5.

(e) River stage (height of river level above low water plane) at Puerto Ordaz and Palua.

(f) Authorised draft, in feet and inches.

The controlling depths given for locations comprised between miles 184 and 42 are actual depths, and reflect depth conditions as of the date of the bulletin. The controlling depth given for locations comprised between miles 42 and 0 is referred to mean low water springs and does not include the height of tide at high water.

The authorised draft may be predicted either on the controlling depth existent between miles 184 and 42 or between miles 42 and 0, dependent upon whichever is the least.

When the controlling depth between miles 184 and 42 is the significant factor, the permitted draft authorised is at least 2 ft. less than the controlling depth in this sector.

When the controlling depth between miles 42 and 0 is the significant factor, the permitted draft authorised is generally less than the mean low water springs controlling depth but occasionally can be equal to the mean low springs controlling depth.

Whenever the MLWS controlling depth existing between miles 42 and 0 does not provide sufficient clearance under the keel of the vessel at low water, the Master is expected to navigate by the site where the controlling depth is located only at times when the height of tide will assure a safe passage.

(3) Variations in authorised draft:

(a) The authorised draft is generally increased or decreased by multiples of 6 inches.

(b) Throughout the year the authorised draft is susceptible to variations, according to the conditions of the depth and width existing in the channel at any one time. On the basis of average river stages it is estimated that the authorised draft should be about 33 ft. in the dry season from December to May.

During the rainy season, from June to November, the max. permissible draft may be as high as 43 ft.

HEALTH: Radio pratique may be obtained by sending a message, after picking up Pilot, to the Port Health Officer, advising that there is no sickness on board, name of last port, ETA, number of crew and nationality of vessel and name and nationality of Master.

RADIO:

(a) Communications: Communications are generally handled through the radio-telegraph station at Puerto Ordaz, call letter YVM. This station is operated on a 24 hour basis. The operating frequencies are: 440 kc/s; 472 kc/s; 4322 kc/s; 6505.5 kc/s. The GMT — CQ times and frequencies are: 0900 hours, 4322 kc/s; 1200 hours 6505.5 kc/s; 1430 hours 8722 kc/s; 2000 hours 8722 kc/s; 0030 hours 8722 kc/s; 0300 hours 4322 kc/s.

There is no charge for messages from ship to shore or from shore to ship handled directly through YVM. A VHF frequency modulated radio system provides voice communications along the Orinoco Waterway. Master sets for the system are installed in the Puerto Ordaz radio-telegraph station (voice call: "Master Radio"); Marine Radio handles shipping matters exclusively, The system consists of a high-band VHF frequency modulated voice radio net. To ensure a more efficient and satisfactory coverage, this system operates on dual frequencies alternating according to location, so that ships can either transmit on 161.700 mc/s receiving on 159.000 mc/s, or transmit on 161.150 mc/s receiving on 159.850 mc/s. For best results, ships should select frequencies according to the following: From sea to mile 50: transmit on 161.700 mc., receiving on 159.000 mc.; From mile 50 to mile 112: transmit on 161.150 mc., receiving on 159,850 mc.; From mile 112 to mile 159: transmit on 161.700 mc., receiving on 159.000 mc.; From mile 159 to mile 184: transmit on 161.150 mc., receiving on 159.850 mc.

Pilot station at Barima Bar, Palua and Matanzas are equipped with this system. For the Puerto Ordaz area, ships will transmit to Marine Radio on a frequency of 43.02 megacycles and to others on a frequency of 43.18 megacycles, receiving in both cases on a frequency of 43.18 megacycles.

(b) Control of Navigation:

(i) Navigation on the North (natural) channel at Boca Grande is free. However, vessels are requested to notify the Port Captain, Ciudad Bolivar, via YVM, upon arrival at Buoy EO, giving ETA at Beacon G7, mile 27.7.

(ii) Simultaneous navigation in opposite directions by 2 or more vessels is not permitted on the South (dredged) channel at the Boca Grande. The restriction is placed on inbound traffic, to the extent that any vessel wishing to enter the South channel requires prior authorisation from the Port Captaincy of Ciudad Bolivar. The request for permission to enter the South channel is to be addressed to the Port Captain, Ciudad Bolivar, via YVM, and is to be transmitted before the vessel reaches Buoy 0.1. Upon receipt of the request, the Port Captain will notify the vessel via YVM whether permission is or is not granted, indicating, in the latter case, the approximate waiting time. Until permitted to enter, vessels are to anchor at least 1 mile outside of Buoy 0.1. Once that authorisation has been granted, vessels are to enter the South channel at the earliest opportunity. Any vessel which has been notified to wait may elect to proceed and enter through the North (natural) channel; in this case, the vessel will have to satisfy the requirements outlined in paragraph (1) above.

(iii) While navigating the Orinoco Waterway inbound or outbound vessels are to report their position to YVM hourly on the hour.

(c) Accident, Stranding, etc.

(i) Should a collision, stranding or other accident occur in the waterway, or should it be found necessary to take control of the vessel away from the pilot for any reason, the Venezuelan law requires that a written report be made to the Captain of the Port by the Master of the vessel involved within 24 hours. The report is to be addressed to the Captain of the Port and may be handed to the Pilot or the ship's Agent for delivery. The Master need not appear in person before the Captain of the Port unless specifically ordered to do so.

(ii) Slight groundings or touching of banks and bottom may simply be noted on the reverse side of the receipt for pilotage signed by the Master.

(iii) In case of collision, stranding, slight grounding, touching of banks and bottom, or other accidents, vessels should immediately notify YVM.

Section B

PALUA: 08.21 N. 62.41 W.

N.B. See "Orinoco River" for all important entry requirements. Specific details, relevant to Palua only, are as follows:

SUPPLIER: The ore supplier is Iron Mines company of Venezuela, cable address El Pao San Felix (Venezuela). Their Palua office is fitted with VHF radio-telephone on 161.150/159,850 megacycles and 2182 (call) kilocycles.

CLEARANCE: Agent will secure the Clearance dispatch.

Note: The Palua dock and facilities are the private property of Iron Mines Company of Venezuela. All Company regulations must be obeyed by vessels and vessels personnel.

The Bill of lading will be prepared by Iron Mines Company of Venezuela, also the Commercial Invoice on the Consular Invoice form 138. The Inward Foreign Manifest, U.S. Customs form 7527–B, should be prepared by Master after sailing from Palua.

MAX. SIZE: Max. Draft 43 ft. Max. d.w.t. 70,000 tons.

BALLAST: To provide the best manoeuvring trim on docking, it will be at the discretion of the Master to properly ballast the vessel. But in order to lose no time on loading operations, as well as to prevent short loading, the ballast should be pumped out as soon as possible, using utmost caution not to pump oil or sludge overboard in the port area.

APPROACH AND DOCKING IN PALUA: After passing the village of San Felix, and before reaching the turn off from the main channel, a tug and a Docking Pilot will meet the vessel and will assist in the docking manoeuvre. Although the Master will always be responsible for the vessel's movements either in the case of docking or undocking, the Docking Pilot will actually pilot the vessel to, and dock the ship at Palua.

At mile 180.5 the ship should leave the main channel, turning to the left to follow the new dredged entrance channel of approach which is marked by 2 flashing buoys: white on the port and red on the starboard side. Diamond-shape range marks of 6 ft. side, painted white with black diagonal cross, indicate the centre line of the approach channel. The front range, fastened on the ore loading pier, shows flashing green light, and the rear range, set on a tower shows flashing green light, and the rear range, set on a tower approximately 2,000 ft. away, has fixed green light.

The docking shall be port side to in all events; and please stow all hatch boards, or pontoons, or steel battens, etc., on the starboard side of the hatch as this will keep the gear cleaner and lessen the work of the ore handling gang.

The dock will provide a gangway for access to the ship. Nothing should overhang the port side of the vessel on docking.

If the loading berth is not available the arriving vessel would be instructed to anchor at an anchorage just below the entrance to Palua approach channel at mile 179.

LOADING DOCK: The ore loading port is located at mile 181.5 of the Orinoco waterway, along the left bank going up-river. The new steel dock here is aligned up and down stream in the general direction of the current. It is 907 ft. long between its pointed heads, with 791 ft. of boarding side along, the deck fixed at about 6 ft. over the maximum rise of the river in the flood season. It has a strong fender system of steel structure covered with timber overhanging the side, down to near the lower river stage; and is fitted with 14 bollards plus 2 more, one on each head, for proper docking and securing the vessel.

Once the vessel is moored alongside the new ore loading dock, there shall be no further shifting necessary to load, as the loading tower moves along the dock on rails to facilitate the loading through the various hatches.

LOADING: The ore handling and loading equipment for Palua has a capacity to load 3,000 metric tons of ore per hour, for the time being. With this capacity, the vessel's mooring lines should be tended during the operation.

The boom of the loading tower is so designed as to allow free movement in any direction, fore and aft. The gantry and boom travel along the dock for a distance of 518 ft., and can place the ore at a distance horizontally out from the dock fenderline of 23 ft. min. and 62 ft. max. at the highest water stage, and from min. 29 ft. to max. 67 ft. horizontally out at the lowest stage.

Care must be taken during the course of loading to avoid piling the ore too high in the holds, as this necessitates hand trimming before the hatch covers can be properly secured, and incurs unnecessary trouble.

UNDOCKING: The Master, assisted by a Docking Pilot, if required, will handle the vessel on leaving the dock, going upstream from the dock not less than 0.75 miles distance to the turning basin in the same heading as when the ship moored alongside. 1 tug (or 2 tugs if required), will go alongside the ship prior to undocking and will assist the vessel until it is headed downstream in the main Orinoco channel. The amber lights at the heads of the dock form a range to mark the shoreside boundary of the local dredged channel. A red light high up on the loading gantry will come in the same range as the 2 amber lights. In the turning basin a tug-boat will assist the vessel swinging downstream.

When the ship is in the main channel, properly headed downstream, the Docking Pilot will leave on the tug, and the River Pilots (2 of them) will assume the navigational direction. Report to Radio Marina by voice radio and give ETA at mile 31.

Report again to Radio Marina giving position every hour, and try to contact Barima Pilot station sometime before arrival at mile 31, where the Pilots will disembark.

If voice radio communication is not possible, comply by radio-telegraph by way of the YVM station.

HEALTH: The vessel will be boarded by the Public Health Doctor after docking at Palua; unless instructions to the contrary.

In the event that the Authorities have to board the vessel anchored out in the stream, an accommodation ladder should be rigged, preferably on the starboard side, to keep the port side clear for docking. Venezuelan authorities and workmen will not use Pilot ladders.

REGULATIONS: The Master, members of the crew and passengers if any, are required to have in their possession individual smallpox vaccination certificates. Serious delays may result in the dispatch of the vessel if this requirement is not complied with.

The Venezuelan law is very strict on the subject of contraband. It cannot be stressed strongly enough that all new articles, clothing, cigarettes, liquor, etc., must be declared and sealed up on arrival.

Concerning passes, the regulation states that "members of the crew who are not officers of the vessel, in order to go ashore and return aboard, have to be supplied with an identification card to be issued by the Purser of the vessel or his substitute, which card will contain the name of the vessel, the name of the crew member and the date of issue. This card will have to be signed by the person issuing same and has to be authorised by the respective officer of the Port Captain's office for the district".

GAS-FREE CERTIFICATE: Vessels reporting to Palua to load ore should have the holds and cargo compartments swept clean and ready to receive cargo. Also, any combination ore/tanker vessel tendering to load iron ore at Palua shall present, along with the notice of readiness, a Gas-free Certificate if said vessel has in the past been employed in the carriage of petroleum products. Such certificate shall be dated subsequent to the discharge of the vessel's last petroleum cargo. But they are advised that around Palua in Venezuela there is no chemist available for granting such a Gas-free Certificate. It may be secured before arriving at Venezuela by calling at Trinidad, reporting to cable address: Harriman, Port of Spain.

In case of necessity, or for convenience, it could be arranged for the chemist to travel to Venezuela to meet the ship in Palua, advising Harriman (Port of Spain) at least 3 days before arrival at Palua.

If the vessel is equipped with a gas-indicating meter (explosimeter), Iron Mines Company of Venezuela will accept the Master's certification in writing that the vessel is gas-free. However, they reserve the right to check the vessel with their own equipment prior to acceptance.

RADIO: Should a vessel receive radio advice at sea to proceed to Palua, and the clearance is to another port, the Master must radio to Agents and advise the name of the vessel, flag, port of embarkation, original port of destination, Captain's name and the number of members in the ship's crew including the Master. This is necessary in order to comply with the Venezuelan Custom Law.

CONSULS: At the present time there are no Consular Agents located around Palua, the nearest being in Ciudad Bolivar or Caracas.

FLOOD SEASON: The port experiences a yearly flood season from the middle of June to the middle of November, to a max. of about 38 ft. at the last days of August, above the lowest stage (during the first days of April) in the dry season that occurs from the middle of November to the middle of June.

TIDE: The wind in the locality blows generally upstream, and on exceptional occasions during the dry or low-river season, when the current is weak, does overcome the current and cause the anchored ships to tend with stern upstream.

REPAIRS: Minor emergency repairs of mechanical, electrical and electronical types may be carried out in the shops by the personnel of the Iron Mines Company of Venezuela. The American Bureau of Shipping has a surveyor at Puerto Ordaz, near Palua.

MEDICAL: There is a medical dispensary at Palua, and a hospital of the Company at El Pao, where seamen may be admitted when requiring hospitalisation in emergency cases.

FUEL: All grades of bunker fuel are available at Palua, delivered by barge.

FRESH WATER: Drinking water is available at the dockside in limited quantity of about 100 tons every 24 hours. Small amounts of fresh provisions may be obtained in the locality.

PUERTO ORDAZ: 08.21 N. 62.43 W.

OPERATORS: CVG Ferrominera Orinoco.

LOCATION: The operations of the CVG Ferrominera Orinoco are centred in the State of Bolivar in Eastern Venezuela and iron ore is loaded into ocean-going vessels at Puerto Ordaz 8° 21′ N., 62° 43′ W., at the junction of the Caroni and Orinoco Rivers, approximately 184 nautical miles from the open sea.

GAS-FREE CERTIFICATE: Any combination ore-tanker vessel tendering to load iron ore at Puerto Ordaz shall present, along with the notice of readiness, a gas-free certificate if said vessel has in the past been employed in the transportation of petroleum products. Such certificate shall be dated subsequent to the discharge of the vessel's last petroleum cargo. Gas-free certificates can be obtained through an approved surveyor in Puerto Ordaz.

HEALTH: Vessels will be boarded by the Public Health Doctor in the stream off Puerto Ordaz. He will not come up a Pilot ladder and will insist on an accommodation ladder which should be rigged and ready when he approaches. In order not to delay docking, this accommodation ladder should be rigged on the port side during low river stage, and starboard side during high river stage.

RADIO: Should a vessel receive radio advice at sea to proceed to Puerto Ordaz, and the clearance is to another port, the Master must radio station YVM Puerto Ordaz, and advise the name of the vessel, flag, port of embarkation, original port of destination, Master's name and number of members in the ship's crew. This is necessary in order to comply with article 17 of the Venezuelan Customs Law.

TUGS: All vessels touching at Puerto Ordaz will be assisted by a tug in docking and undocking manoeuvres. Line-handlers are available on the dock to secure mooring lines on vessel's arrival, and to release them on vessel's departure.

BERTHING:

1. The Harbour: The Puerto Ordaz Harbour extends from mile 183.5 to mile 184.1 of the waterway. The harbour consists of a natural basin formed by the mouth of the Caroni as it flows into the Orinoco. The width of the turning area within the basin varies from a min. of about 1,600 ft. at low water to a max. of about 2,000 ft. at high water. The lighted buoys marking the navigable limits on either side of the harbour are moved to different positions according to river stages in order to achieve full utilisation of navigable waters. The bottom of the harbour is generally rock, with scattered layers of sand overburden deposited as sediment by the river. This sand is regularly removed by dredging in order to maintain depths which will accommodate the maximum draft authorised by the Port Captain. The bottom configuration across the harbour consists of a rocky shelf extending about 900 ft. from the face of the dock. Beyond this shelf the bottom slopes steeply into a deep gorge, then rises to form a sandy beach along the opposite shore. The velocity of river currents at this site varies according to stage levels. A slower current is generally experienced over the rocky shelf adjacent to the dock, with velocities averaging about 1.5 knots at flood stages and about 0.5 knots or less at reduced river stages. The velocity of the current over and along the deep gorge averages about 3.5 knots at flood stages and 1.5 knots or less at reduced river stages. During extreme low water, the basin is subject to tidal influence and the velocity of currents is minimal, although there is no reversal of flow. The direction of the current is aimed slightly toward the face of the dock at its S.E. end but deflects away from the pier about 500 ft. downstreamward. Access to the harbour is by way of a naturally deep and wide fairway which is the continuation of the gorge as it enters the Orinoco River.

2. The Dock: The Puerto Ordaz dock is located along the right ascending side of the harbour and extends outward from shore on a S.E. by East alignment. The all-steel fixed-height dock is 1,885 ft. long; its elevation is 41 ft. above low water plane (0.0 ft. stage). This dock is fitted with a strong fender system and with a sufficient number of accessible bollards for proper docking and securing.

3. Arrival:

(a) Notice of Readiness: When completely ready to receive cargo, vessels will submit "Notice of Readiness" to CVG Ferrominera Orinoco. Vessels will be loaded in the order in which Notices of Readiness are accepted by CVG Ferrominera Orinoco. The Company will advise when the vessel may proceed alongside the dock.

(b) Docking: Special Docking Pilots are provided for the docking and undocking of vessels at Puerto Ordaz. These Pilots are qualified River Pilots, thoroughly familiar with local conditions. All vessels will dock starboard side to. During the low water stage, which is from the middle of November to the middle of June, no gangway should be rigged and nothing should overhang the starboard side of the vessel. When the river is sufficiently high which is from the middle of June to the middle of November vessels are requested to have starboard gangway or accommodation ladder rigged and ready to lower immediately after docking in order to expedite the commencement of loading. Venezuelan authorities and workmen will not use Pilot ladders. Vessels reporting to Puerto Ordaz to load ore should have holds and cargo compartments broom clean and ready to receive cargo. Considerable time will be gained if this requirement is met prior to reporting.

(c) Hatches: On arrival at Puerto Ordaz all hatch boards or pontoons, beams, tarpaulins, steel battens, wedges, etc., should be stowed on the port side of the hatch. This will keep the hatch gear cleaner and lessen the work of the ore handling clean-up gang.

(d) Ballast: In order to lose no time with the loading operations, as well as preventing short-lifting, all ballast should be pumped out before arrival at the dock. Use utmost caution not to pump oil or sludge overboard in the port area. CVG Ferrominera Orinoco Ships' Agency Representative will contact vessel on arrival and will assist in every way possible.

4. Departure: All vessels which have completed loading at Puerto Ordaz and have received the latest river information from the port officials, and are ready for their river transit in every respect, will proceed outward via the Orinoco Waterway, disembarking the pilot at mile 31. Once the Pilot has disembarked, vessels shall proceed over the South (dredged) channel to mile 0, and exit the waterway.

TANKERS: See "Punta Cuchillo".

MEDICAL: There is a hospital at Puerto Ordaz which will admit seamen requiring hospitalisation.

FRESH WATER: Drinking water is available alongside the dock.

FUEL: Bunker "C" and diesel oil is available.

CONSULS: An Italian consulate Agent at Puerto Ordaz, nearest consuls for other countries at Cuidad Bolivar or Caracas.

REPAIRS: Minor emergency repairs may be carried out in the shops of CVG Ferrominera Orinoco.

TIME: The legal time of Venezuela, which is 4 hours behind G.M.T., shall be used in Pilotage Zone No. 1 of the Orinoco river.

SHORE LEAVE: Permitted, but it is mandatory that all crew members should report back to their respective ships before sailing time.

GENERAL: 1. Ore Loading Equipment: The ore handling and loading equipment installed on the pier has a speed ratio of 6,000 long tons of ore loaded per hour. Due to this great loading capacity the vessel's mooring lines must be tended at all times.

2. Handling Facilities: A movable 110-ton, rail mounted stiff-leg derrick is installed on the dock for the handling of general cargo.

3. Provisions: Small amounts of fresh provisions are available.

4. Surveyor: The American Bureau of Shipping has a non-exclusive surveyor in Puerto Ordaz. Lloyds has an Agency in Ciudad Bolivar with a branch office in Puerto Ordaz, and will appoint surveyors upon request.

AGENTS: Mailing Address: CVG Ferrominera Orinoco C.A., Agencia de Barques, Puerto Ordaz. Telex No. 86249 (ORINADM).

CVG Ferrominera Orinoco acts as ship's Agent for all vessels consigned to load iron ore at Puerto Ordaz. This function is performed by the Superintendent, Traffic & Ship's Agency and his staff, whose offices are located adjacent to the loading dock at Puerto Ordaz.

Section D

PUNTA CUCHILLO, (Puerto Ordaz Terminal): 08.20 N. 62.47 W. (See Plan)

N.B. See "Orinoco River" for all important entry requirements. Specific details relevant to Punta Cuchillo only are as follows:

OPERATORS: Roqueven S.A.

LOCATION: The terminal and dock is located near Mile Post 192 on the South side of the river.

PILOTAGE: Government Pilot will pilot vessel to Puerto Ordaz. In some cases this same Pilot will act as Mooring Pilot and dock vessel at the terminal. If River Pilot does not also act as Docking Pilot, the River Pilot will disembark at mile 178 during low water, and mile 183, in high water, and a Docking Pilot will embark and take the vessel to mooring.

Pilots are obtained at the G7 buoy of the old channel, which is the same as Buoy 27.7 of the new channel and is located 5 miles West of the old lighthouse at Punta Barima at Lat. 08° 36′ 00″ N., Long. 60° 30′ 40″ W. It is important that vessels pass this buoy and be in sight of the Pilot Station (1 mile E.S.E. of Punta Barima Lighthouse), as pilots will not proceed to the vessel until it has been sighted.

RADIO: Vessels diverted at sea to Punta Cuchillo which do not have a Venezuelan clearance on board, must advise Roqueven by radio as soon as they receive their orders to change destination. The following information must be given: Master's name, vessels flag, net tonnage, last port of call, port to which originally cleared and ETA. This information is required in order that inward clearance may be arranged with government officials in ample time prior to vessel's arrival. In absence of this information, vessel will be subject to a fine.

HEALTH: Vessel will be boarded by the Public Health Doctor in the stream off San Felix or Puerto Ordaz or occasionally at the Terminal. If he boards before docking, an accommodation ladder should be rigged and ready when he approaches, as he will not come up a pilot ladder.

All Masters, members of the ship's crew, and passengers, if any, are required to have in their possession individual smallpox vaccination certificates. If this requirement is not complied with, a serious delay may result in the dispatch of the vessel.

BERTHING: The dock at the terminal consists of a docking platform, 2 breasting dolphins and 2 mooring dolphins. The docking platform is connected to shore by a 10 ft. causeway capable of carrying a light truck.

At mean low river stage, water depth at the face of breasting structures is 40 ft. The bank rises sharply from face of dolphins toward shore. The 40 ft. depth contour extends parallel to shore for a considerable distance upstream and down stream from the dock, allowing a flat approach angle.

Current is negligible during low river stage and is approximately 6 knots at midstream at high river stage. Current runs generally parallel to the face of the dock at the dock site.

Top of dock elevation is 45 ft. above low water stage. Buffering system extends from a point below low water stage to a point immediately below top of dock. Nothing should overhang the shoreward side of the vessel when docking during the lower stages of the river. The buffering system is designed to accommodate forces exerted by a vessel of 47,000 tons displacement, approaching the dock with a velocity component perpendicular to the dockface, of 0.5 ft. per second.

Bollards for vessel's lines are provided at the mooring dolphins and at the breasting structures. Mooring dolphins will safely withstand 200,000 lbs. of mooring line tension.

The facilities include a 24 in. diameter submarine pipe-line which crosses the river a short distance down-stream of the dock. The crossing is marked by triangular-shaped signs on both banks of the river. Masters are cautioned against use of vessel anchors in this area.

The terminal pumps are capable of loading oil aboard ship at the rate of approximately 14,000 barrels per hour.

INWARD CLEARANCE FOR DIVERTED VESSELS: Vessels diverted to Puerto Ordaz to load cargo should submit all documents, except consular mail, which they will not have. In lieu of this, they should submit 4 copies of the cable to divert, leaving enough space for the translation in Spanish. Vessels diverted at sea to Puerto Ordaz (Roqueven Terminal) which do not have a Venezuelan clearance on board must advise Roqueven at Puerto Ordaz, by radio as soon as they receive their orders to change destination. The following information must be given: Masters name, vessels flag, net tonnage, last port of call, port to which originally cleared and ETA. This information is required in order that inward clearance may be arranged with government officials in ample time prior to vessels arrival. In absence of this information, vessels will be subject to a fine.

SAFETY: The following is a condensation of the safety precautions that should be observed when the vessel is alongside the dock:

(i) All passageway doors leading to the cargo deck areas are to be kept closed during cargo-loading operations.

(ii) Ship's firefighting equipment must be kept ready at all times while berthed at Roqueven dock.

(iii) Smoking or carrying lighted or unlighted pipes, cigars or cigarettes on the weather decks of the vessel, or on the dock, is strictly prohibited under all circumstances. Masters are requested to instruct their crew not to throw lighted cigars or cigarettes over the side or out of the portholes.

(iv) An efficient watch must be maintained on deck and in the engine-room on the vessel, and a sufficient number of men must be on board at all times to move the vessel any time, in case such is required.

(v) If the galley is located near oil-handling operations of any nature, the skylight lids should be kept down and secured to prevent the galley being sprayed with oil in the event of a burst hose.

(vi) Ventilators in the vicinity should be turned away from the scene of operation.

TUGS: The use of tugs is necessary in docking and undocking manoeuvres of boats at this Marine Terminal. Alcoa has a 2,100 h.p. tug available for this service. A tie-up launch will be provided to assist in the mooring of the vessel, and will handle all the mooring lines before and after loading.

LOADING: Monagas crude is the only cargo available at the Puerto Ordaz Terminal. This crude has an API gravity of 11.9° to 12.5° F. (6.490–6.517) U.S. barrels per long ton. This cargo must be heated to approximately 140° F. in order to attain normal discharge rates.

Loading is accomplished through 3×10-in. hoses provided with 10-in., 150 lb. ASA flanges. Hoisting gear is provided for handling the hoses. A dock crew will connect the cargo hoses and disconnect them on completion of loading. Some adapters and other tools are available on dock. The oil will be loaded at an elevated temperature.

Precautions, as are common for any heavy oil, should be taken to ensure that no ballast water is left in any tank to be filled with this oil. If the cargo is contaminated with water, the water will not separate from the oil. The salt content of the oil will be raised approximately 10 lb. per 1,000 barrels for every 0.10% contamination by sea water.

All cargo compartments must be stripped dry. Cargo pipe-lines should be drained and/or purged of water.

There is no provision at the Puerto Ordaz Terminal for disposal of dirty ballast or tank washings. Tankers bound for Puerto Ordaz for loading must dispose of all dirty ballast and tank washings before entering the Orinoco River.

Prior to proceeding to sea, all butterworth plates, cargo tank hatch covers and ullage plugs should be inspected to ensure against entry of salt water.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water is available ex-barge; cable advice of 24 hours is required. Dry provisions may be obtained in very limited quantities.

FUEL: Bunker fuels are available at all hours from Astilleros Orinoco C.A., who operate a floating storage and blending facility in the Orinoco River. Bunker fuels may be received at Roqueven dry dock while loading crude. Fill cargoes can be made available.

TIME: GMT minus 4 hours.

MEDICAL: Medical assistance can usually be arranged, particularly in the case of an emergency.

REPAIRS: No major repair facilities are available. However, small repair jobs can be taken care of through local machine and electrical shops, and shore labour can be obtained if required.

AGENCY: Roqueven handles all papers and documentation connected with the ship's business. Roqueven will also help the ship's Master in providing required land transportation, limited provisions, or any other assistance that may be required for the operation of the ship's normal business. Alcoa will also assure that the ship's requirements are met in regard to Sanitary Inspection, Customs Inspection and Guardia Nacional.

PERTIGALETE: 10.15 N. 64.34 W.

LOCATION: Situated in a sheltered bay about 2 miles East of the port of Guanta, or about 4 miles from the pilotage zone situated in the North.

PILOTAGE: The pilotage zone in Pozuelos Bay is the same as for Guanta, i.e. an area situated between the islands of Borracha and Chimana, in the Bay of Pozuelos (formerly called Bergantin Bay).

From the pilotage zone for the port of Guanta/Puerto La Cruz, the private pier Pertigalete is to be approached by sailing between the Isla de Plata and the island of Cachicamo. Pilotage is compulsory in and out and is performed by well-trained government Pilots. The navigation is considered very safe.

MAX. SIZE: The depth of water for ocean-going vessels alongside the Pier is 20 ft. (shore side) to 40 ft. (sea side).

TUGS: Available from inward clearance port at Guanta/Puerto la Cruz.

BERTHING: The private pier in Pertigalete for berthing ocean-going vessels is up to 150 m. (492 ft.) long. The apron is ample and allows easy manoeuvre of trucks with cement. On the same pier the cement factory is regularly receiving raw material and machinery, but the berthing is along the West side of the pier for coastwise trade, so does not interfere with operations for ocean-going vessels. There are chutes, conveyor belts from the nearby silos, and a heavy crane.

TANKERS: Berth at private wharf at Pamatacualito, operated by Baroid de Venezuela SA.

Length of berth 113.60 m., depth alongside 10 m.

LOADING: The cement factory is able to deliver to the pier 2,000 to 2,300 bags per hour, to be loaded simultaneously into arrived vessels. According to experience load rate is about 300 bags per hour and gang by steam winches, and about 400 bags per hour and gang by electric or hydraulic winches.

STEVEDORES: Loading operations are performed exclusively by the personnel of the cement factory. Winchmen are also supplied by the cement factory. All costs, including overtime, are for account of the cement factory, inclusive of stowing and trimming the vessel.

Under normal conditions on Saturday afternoon there is no work, but almost without exception the cement factory works overtime on Saturdays if by doing so the vessel can be despatched that day. On holidays, if circumstances call for urgent operation, the cement factory has the option to work overtime. Work on Sunday is prohibited.

PUERTO CABELLO: 10.29 N. 68.07 W. (inc. Barburata)

PILOTAGE: Pilotage is compulsory and vessels have to wait for Pilot in the pilotage zone, West and N.W. of the port entrance (S.W. of Punta Brava).

MAX. SIZE: Bulk Cargo Pier: up to 32 ft. draft. Inner Port: up to 28 ft. draft. Also see "Tankers".

TUGS: The use of tug-boats within the port is compulsory both for entering and leaving port, as well as for manoeuvres in the port basin, for foreign flag ships over 300 tons.

BERTHING: The port entrance is 100 m. wide in direction West to East. Berth No. 1 and half of Berth No. 2 are along the same entrance channel, where ships are berthed only as an exception or when the port is rather congested. The total length of the North (main) Pier for the berthing of ocean-going vessels is 1,025 m., room enough for 6 to 8 vessels. For administrative reasons the pier is divided into 8 berths of about 128 m. each. Between Berths No. 2 and 3, the pier is bent Southwards. Along the pier there are warehouses which under normal circumstances provide sufficient indoor space.

Along the East Pier, of 350 m. length, there are no warehouses. This pier gives berthing facilities to 3 or 4 middle-sized vessels.

Along the South Pier, of 500 m. length, there are 2 warehouses. This pier is exclusively used for coastwise shipping, fishery and small craft in general.

The dredged channel along the East Pier is only 80 m. wide. This is the only channel which connects the main basin of the port with the South basin of the port, the latter served through the South Pier.

BULK-HANDLING FACILITIES: 400 m. long new pier, designed exclusively for the handling of bulk cargoes.

This bulk cargo pier has an apron of about 25 m. and allows ships with a draft of 10 m. at any time.

Ships moored along this new pier are not able to take water there, but have to be shifted to the general cargo piers in the port of Puerto Cabello.

There is no telephone installation on the new pier.

Tug-boat service and assistance of Pilots is compulsory to negotiate the distance to and from the bulk cargo pier.

General cargo is not allowed to be handled at this pier. There are no cargo handling facilities whatsoever and no kind of rolling equipment either. All the vessels, unless they have up-to-date discharging equipment of their own, have to provide derricks of minimum 5 tons capacity to support the SKT discharging equipment of receivers. The cargo is discharged in bulk cargo trucks, fully closed and with only rather narrow manholes for the SKT arm.

The new grain terminal has been opened. The wharf is 400 m. long and allows 2 vessels to berth. Max. depth 30 ft. Average discharge rate 1500 tons per day.

TANKERS: Borburata: The Maroven Terminal lies about 2 miles East of the port entrance.

1	400 ft.	—	20 ft.
2	575 ft.	72 ft.	31 ft.

No. 1 berth is used for bunkering only.

No. 2 berth is used for the discharge of refined products and bulk chemicals. It is fitted with 4×8-in. chiksans and a range of hoses form 4 to 8 in.

A Pilot is compulsory, and boards at Puerto Cabello. If the vessel is cleared outwards at Borburata, the Pilot may return to the pilot station by road.

Relief Gangs: Obtainable, if there are not too many ships working in the port at a time, for the hours from 1100 to 1300 and 1700 to 1800.

Work on Sunday: Not permitted except for passenger vessels, and considered as such are those carrying more than 60 passengers, and with a medical doctor on board.

Saturday afternoon work: Not permitted. But if a vessel can terminate operation and sail with a maximum of 3 additional hours' work, a special permit can be obtained from Customs and Port Authorities. In such case, the additional working hours are considered straight time work.

FRESH WATER: Water is supplied through pipe-line on the pier, day or night.

For night work, a special gratuity to watermen is customary.

The drinking water in Puerto Cabello is tropical treated, well-filtered and wholesome.

Every vessel of over 600 tons net calling at Puerto Cabello, and other ports in Venezuela, should arrange to take water only at Puerto Cabello in order to avoid double water dues.

OPENING/CLOSING HATCHES: Is not performed by the National Port Services, but instead either the ship's crew or hired assistance labour must be used. Recommended that ship's crew open and close hatches.

REPAIRS: The adjacent Naval Yard, the entrance to which is within the main ports, opposite the North Pier, is equipped for minor repairs both on engine and hull. For emergency purposes, the dry dock could be used. Its capacity is for ships up to 30,000 to 35,000 tons. All repairs on the hull are effected by a special crew transferred from the Naval Yard.

At the dry dock there is 1 crane of 15 tons capacity. Within the Naval Yard there are 2 slipways for ships of 125 ft. max. and 210 ft. length max. respectively.

Venezuelan Navy ships always have priority.

PILOTAGE: The use of Government Pilots is compulsory for all vessels entering or leaving territorial waters. The Company will arrange for this service at all times. If it becomes necessary for the Master of the vessel to disregard Pilot's orders in order to ensure safety of the ship a written report from the Master shall be submitted promptly to the Government Port Captain in Spanish. Meneven will assist in translation, when necessary.

The zone for Pilot to board or to anchor awaiting Pilot is delineated by the following 3 lines: South by parallel 10° 15′ N., East by meridian 64° 40′ W., and West by an imaginary line from Punta Puinare on Isla Chimana del Oeste to the North point of Morro de Barcelona.

When ready to dock, a Pilot will be despatched by launch to ship.

MAX. SIZE: No limitation is placed on width of tankers. Ships up to 1,000 ft. in length can be turned around in the inner harbour area. Max. safe draft alongside (berth No. 5) is 55 ft. (Also see "Berthing".)

HEALTH: In theory the Government Port Doctor is to board each incoming vessel and board only outgoing vessels which carry passengers. In practice, however, the doctor boards at his discretion.

Ships cleared between the hours of 1700–0800. Mondays through Fridays and all day Saturday, Sundays and holidays are charged by Immigration Service for the issuance of shore leave passes. There is no charge for this service from 0800–1700 hrs. Mondays through Fridays. Transportation and immigration clearance fees on movement of seamen are billed at cost.

RADIO: Masters are requested to advise Meneven Puerto La Cruz by radio 48 hours in advance of estimated arrival giving vessel's name, date and hour of arrival, bunkers, name of Master, port of departure, draft (arrival), Venezuelan gross tonnage, flag of ship. Vessels may contact the terminal by radio-telephone on 2182 kc/s. and VHF Channel 16. There is standby attention 24 hours a day. The terminal also has the frequencies 2080, 2120, 2638, 2738 and VHF Channel 13.

Notice of diversion at sea, not received prior to arrival of vessel, subjects ship to incontestable fine from the government.

Ship-to-shore radios are installed on the oil dock and on both tugs. A 350-watt AM transmitter-receiver is monitored 24 hours a day.

TUGS: Two-tug service is compulsory by law in this port. The Company has available a first-class diesel-electric tug of 1,600 h.p. and a contract tug of 2,100 h.p.

Tug assistance is charged from the moment the tugs leave their mooring, after having been requested, until they have returned and made fast. In other words, time is charged during the entire period the tugs are at the service of the requesting vessel, whether or not the latter is under actual manoeuvres. Generally, the Pilot will not commence movement of the vessel until he is assured that the tugs are standing by.

BERTHING: The loading facilities consist of 5 berths. Products available and safe draft are as follows:

	Berth 1	2	3	4	5
Crudes	×	×	×	×	×
Heavy fuel oil					×
Refined products			×	×
LPG		×	×
Bunker "C" fuel	×	×	×	×	×
Diesel fuel	×	×	×	×	×
Intermediate fuels	×	×	×	×	×
Fresh water	×	×	×	×	×
Max. safe draft	38′	38′	38′	38′	55′
Max. dwt (thous.)	45	45	45	45	110

Upon arrival at dock the following rules must be observed:

(a) Masters must ensure that mooring lines are properly tended during the discharge of ballast and loading of cargo, and that sufficient personnel is on board at all times to handle same. Discharging or loading will be temporarily suspended upon infringement of this regulation.

(b) Masters are requested to remove the blank flanges from their vessel's loading manifold before docking, so as to expedite the connecting of the shore hoses by company personnel. Vessels using berth No. 5 are also requested to have their derrick and gangway ready for use.

Note: Vessels normally dock with starboard side to dock, unless otherwise advised.

(c) While docked, discharge of sea water, hot water or steam on dockside of ship is prohibited. Hot water or steam may activate the automatic sprinkler system as well as damage piping located under the dock surface.

(d) Rat-guards must be placed on all ropes connected with the shore.

(e) Heavy exhaust smoke from vessel's funnel is not permitted. Any infringement of this rule will result in Government fine and/or removal of ship from dock.

(f) Meals must be provided in officers' mess-room for Venezuelan National Guard personnel who may be assigned to the vessel during stay in port.

LOADING: After the vessel has been cleared, the Company Dock Supervisor on watch will give the Master of the vessel written instructions as to grade or grades of cargo, loading rates, information on size of hoses and lines, and other information pertinent to the loading of the vessel.

During loading operations, company employees are on watch to administer to the needs of each vessel.

Upon termination of loading cargo, hoses are normally displaced with air at controlled rates prior to disconnecting. If the ship's officers request that the alternate procedure of draining hoses be effected, shore personnel will be happy to comply provided the following steps are observed by ship's officers:

1. Advice be received prior to termination of loading cargo.
2. Ship's receptacles be situated to receive oil drained on board. It should be noted that heavy fines are imposed for spills or overflows which contaminate the bay.

Shortly after completion of loading company personnel will take ship's ullages and, later, deliver cargo and sailing papers to an officer of the vessel.

Ships must vacate berth upon completion of loading and await papers at anchorage if the berth is needed for another vessel. The Dock Supervisor on duty will advise ship's officer of this matter.

MEDICAL: All requests for medical or dental treatment must be accompanied by a written request from the Master to the vessel's Agent. The Company makes available to ship's personnel the same clinic which has been designated for its employees. Seamen requiring medical attention should first contact the Company's Dock Supervisor who will provide them with a medical order and also provide transportation to and from the hospital.

In the event of hospitalisation, and after a seaman has been discharged, he must rejoin his vessel if it is still in port. Otherwise, he will be lodged in a hotel pending instructions as to his disposition.

Company doctors do not visit ships. If medical attention is required aboard ships, the Government Port Doctor will board and attend the patient.

BALLAST: Although climatic conditions in Puerto La Cruz are relatively mild, vessels should arrive with sufficient ballast to permit safe handling. Venezuelan regulations strictly prohibit the pumping overboard of dirty ballast in territorial waters. All ballast must be pumped ashore with the exception of vessels especially equipped with clean segregated systems which are reserved for ballast only. Vessels so equipped will be permitted to pump overboard after first being inspected and approved by shore personnel. Heavy fines are imposed for pollution of waters and industrial fishermen are quick to report any infringement. Max. discharge pressure to shore installations is 90 p.s.i. through the 16 in. line which dumps into ballast lakes approximately 300 m. South of dock.

No vessel will be allowed to discharge ballast if last previous cargo was sower crude and/or could result in unpleasantness to area inhabitants.

FRESH WATER: Fresh chlorinated water is available at an average rate of approximately 10 t.p.h. Total volume of water that can be supplied during the normal period alongside averages about 150 tons. As water is not held in special reserve for vessels requirements but supplied from terminal water system, availability may be limited dependent on time of year and other conditions.

FUEL: The terminal is not a general bunker station. Only ships loading petroleum may take bunkers.

Bunker "C", heavy diesel fuel and complete range of intermediate fuels are available in quantity. Delivery rates to the ships are approximately as follows: Bunker "C", 200 t.p.h.; heavy diesel, 150 t.p.h.; intermediate fuels, 150 t.p.h.

Bunkers are delivered concurrent with the cargo and should be taken as soon as clearance is granted.

Meters are installed on all bunker systems and are calibrated in net barrels.

The dock valves on the bunker lines will only be opened and closed upon advice from the ship's personnel.

Lubricants and gasoil are available through the vessel's Agent.

CUSTOMS: Crew members should be warned against taking knives or other lethal weapons ashore, as this is strictly prohibited. All firearms and ammunition must be noted on stores list. They cannot exceed 1 per officer nor 18 cartridges per gun. No arms may be carried while ship is in Venezuelan waters or tied up at dock. Contraband of any description will be confiscated. Each man is allowed 1 package of cigarettes on his person and this package must be opened. No liquor is to be taken ashore. It is prohibited to carry liquor from shore to ship without authorisation from captain of vessel. It is further strictly prohibited to consume liquor in dock area.

It is normally forbidden to take photographic cameras ashore. However, upon written request to the National Guard contingent on the oil dock, special permission may be obtained. This is subject to 2 limitations: (1) that the camera is returned to the ship; (2) that no photographs are taken of the petroleum installations.

IDENTITY CARDS: Passes for shore leave are issued by the officials of the "Capitania de Puerto", who board with the Customs authorities upon the vessel's arrival at dock. These passes are valid for the duration of the vessel's stay in port and must be returned before sailing to the guard assigned to the vessel.

In order to comply with Immigration Regulations, crews should be carefully checked before sailing, and any missing seamen reported to the vessel's Agent. Crew members left behind when the vessel sails will be held in custody until deported at the vessel's expense.

CONSULS: The following foreign countries have consular offices in the vicinity of Puerto La Cruz:

Belgium
Brazil
Colombia
Denmark
France
Great Britain
Italy
Norway
Sweden
The Netherlands
Dominican Rep.

Vessel's Agent should be appraised of vessel's consular requirements promptly upon docking.

REPAIRS: Request for repair work by local contractors must be accompanied by a written request from the Master of the vessel.

REPATRIATION: Seamen discharged from hospital for transfer to another port, seamen arriving from another port or those being repatriated are handled by the vessel's Agent, who must comply with all Venezuelan Regulations.

In the case of seamen left ashore for any reason, Masters are requested to furnish a letter accepting responsibility for all expenses incurred, advances if any, and instructions for repatriation. Venezuelan regulations, at all times hold the vessel responsible for a seaman during his stay in the country. Close contact is maintained by radio with ship owners regarding disposition of their seamen.

TIME: GMT minus 4 hours. Permanent.

REGULATIONS:

Excessive Smoke. It is absolutely prohibited to exhaust heavy smoke through a ship's funnel while tied up at the Company's docks. It is also prohibited to blow boiler tubes. Failure to comply with this regulation will result in any or all of the following actions:

1. Vessel's discharge of ballast or loading of crude or products will be immediately shut down.
2. Vessel will be subject to fine from authorities.
3. Vessel may be removed from dock.
4. Owners will be advised of infractions of this regulation.
5. Fines, time lost, and other related expenses will be charged against the vessel.

Pollution. Venezuelan laws are very strict on this subject and local authorities quickly enforce existing statutes. For this reason each Master is handed a circular that emphasises the necessity of complying with federal and local laws and customs.

The spilling or discharge of dirty ballast, crude oil or petroleum products into coastal waters is defined as pollution, as is also the throwing overboard of garbage, trash or other unwanted objects while the vessel is at anchor or dockside. Prior to the start of loading operations all discharge valves, bilges and scuppers must be closed and strict vigilance exercised during deballasting and loading operations.

When a spill does occur, the Master, Government officials and a company representative evaluate the quantity and submit a report to the Government Petroleum Inspector. This report becomes the basis for a federal fine that is practically incontestable. An additional expense occurs when local authorities require assistance in cleaning beaches and shorelines after a major spill and can pinpoint the responsible vessel or source.

TONNAGE CERTIFICATE: Due to reciprocal agreements between Venezuela and the following countries, ships flying the flag of any of the below-named countries exempted from Arqueo compliance and payment of fees: Denmark, England, France, Germany, Holland, Ireland, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, United States.

Ships bearing the flag of any other nation shall require a Venezuelan Arqueo Certificate. The cost of measuring is contingent on the size and tonnage of vessel. The certificate is usually issued after the ship sails from port. It is then sent to the marine department of the Owners of the vessel by airmail.

GENERAL:

Cash. Masters are requested to consider their cash requirements carefully, as return cannot be accepted. The local currency is the Venezuelan "Bolivar". No other currency is available from the Company. Foreign exchange may be secured from local banks by interested parties. Local banks are open Monday through Friday from 0900–1200 hrs. and from 1430–1630 hrs., excepting holidays.

Charts. No charts or sailing documents are available in the terminal. Same should be forwarded by airmail to the vessel's Agent for delivery to the ship.

All ship requirements such as chandlery supplies, mail, cash advances, medical, dental, consular requirements, repair work, laundry service, bonded stores, transportation etc. should be obtained through the vessel's Agent.

PETROLEUM INSPECTORS: E. W. Saybolt Company, Chas. Martin & Company and Redwood have resident representatives in Puerto La Cruz for independent petroleum or product inspections. Their offices are located in the dock office building located between berths Nos. 1 and 2 (second floor).

TELEPHONES: There is a telephone booth on each dock. The supervisor on duty may be contacted by calling number 308 or 906.

AGENCY:

Meneven as operator, charges a fixed fee for General Services. The Company does not act as Agent for a vessel, but it does render all of the services required for a prompt and efficient tanker turnaround.

Offices of Meneven loading and marine personnel are located on the first floor of the building between berths Nos. 1 and 2. Any matter concerning loading, bunkering, is handled through this office, which is open 24 hours of every day. On the ground floor of this same building is located the Documentation Section.

PUNTA CARDON: 11.36 N. 70.15 W.

PORT LIMITS: The area enclosed by the parallels of 11° 38′ 00″ N. and 11° 36′ 38″ N. and the meridian of 70° 14′ 25″ W.

OPERATORS: Maroven, S.A.

FLAG: It is compulsory to display a Venezuelan flag at the foremast starboard yardarm during daylight hours for ships anchored or berthed in Venezuelan waters. The ships Services will provide a Venezuelan flag at any time for ship's account.

LOCATION: The port of Punta Cardon is located on the Gulf of Venezuela, on S.W. coast of Paraguana a Peninsula, Venezuela. Punta Cardon is an open sea port with practically no swell, due to the Easterly winds prevailing almost all year from the shore side.

ESSENTIAL REQUIREMENTS:

1. Incoming vessels must send ETA at least 3 days before arrival at Punta Cardon.
2. If a ship, originally cleared for another port (including any other Venezuelan port) is diverted at sea to Punta Cardon, certain information must be radioed prior to arrival in order to avoid heavy fine(s) and/or delays.
3. No dirty ballast may be pumped overside in port in Venezuelan coastal waters. Ballast disposal facilities are available at Punta Cardon Terminal.
4. The use of Venezuelan Government Pilots is compulsory for berthing and unberthing.
5. In addition to other clearance documents, 5 copies of an itemised list of articles in the ship's slop chest must be presented to the authorities on arrival.
6. The emergency fire signal is 5 long blasts on the ship's whistle or siren. No other signal is to be given in cases of emergency.
7. Rat-guards must be placed on all mooring lines.

DOCUMENTS: Clearance (inward pratique). Inward clearance is effected on board by Government Port and Customs Officials and a representative of the Oil Movements Department immediately after berthing. The following documents must be ready on arrival:

(1) In ballast:
(a)* Clearance from Last Port (1 copy).
(b)* Ballast Manifest from Last Port (1 copy).
(c) Crew List (7 copies).
(d) Steward's Store List (all foodstuff, liquors, tobacco, etc.), to be declared on a separate and independent sheet (5 copies, see note (2)).

(k) List of Passengers in transit (if any) (4 copies).

* Documents marked with asterisk are to be visaed by Venezuelan Consular Authorities at the last port of call.

In the absence of a Venezuelan Consul the documents must be visaed by the Consul of a friendly nation, or by the Local Chamber of Commerce, or by 2 local reputable businessmen, whose signatures shall be notarised.

In the absence of a Venezuelan Consul the following notation should be written in Spanish on each document signed by the alternates designated above.

"Por no existir en la localidad Agente Consular Venezolano y a peticion de los embarcadores, certifico el presente documento".
(Signature)

(2) Both the Steward's Store List, the Deck and Engine Stores and Spare Parts List may be prepared on board prior to the vessel's arrival. However, if the vessel is dispatched from the colonial Antilles or Guianas, these lists as well as the personal Effects List must be visaed by the Venezuelan Consul at the port of departure. The Steward's Stores List must be comprehensive and accurate, especially with regard to cigarettes and liquor. All new clothing, gift, souvenirs, etc. are to be clearly marked. All personal effects of the crew are to be collected and placed in the Bonded Stores Locker, ready for sealing by the Customs Authorities on arrival.

Although vessels proceed directly to Punta Cardon, clearance documents should be made out showing the port as "Las Piedras, Paraguana (Punta Cardon)". Failure to comply with this requirement may result in fines up to a max. of U.S. $600.00.

(3) Clearance documents out-bound: Outward clearance and cargo documents are delivered on board by the Ships Services Representative.

In the event that the berth is required by another vessel, a vessel having completed loading may be required to vacate the berth promptly and proceed to anchorage to await cargo documents and clearance.

PILOTAGE: Pilots are employees of Venezuelan Government and pilotage is compulsory for vessels entering or leaving harbour. The Ships Services Office will arrange for this service at any time. If it becomes necessary for Master of the vessel to disregard Pilot's orders in order to ensure safety to the ship, the Master must promptly submit a written report to the Harbour Master on the matter, via the Ships Services Representative, stating reason for this action.

Pilots sustaining injuries: It is compulsory to submit a full report in cases where a Pilot is injured while performing duties on board vessels.

ANCHORAGE: The anchorage at Cardon roads within a radius of 2 miles from end of jetties has depths varying from 54 to 100 ft. (LWS) and a bottom consisting of mud with some patches of small stones, sand and shells. There are no known obstructions from West to N.W. of the Piers and there is ample water for a clear approach when coming from West and N.W., but the anchorage is limited on the South by a sandspit projecting 1 mile S.W. off Punta Cardon Cape. A beacon is located on this Sandspit in position: Lat. 11° 36′ 03.4″ N., Long. 70° 14′ 15.6″ W. Fl.R. ev. 1 sec. 17 ft. 5 miles (U).

APPROACHES: Restricted Fishing Area. Masters when approaching coast should keep a particularly sharp lookout for fishing boats, nets and small craft.

Mechanically propelled vessels drawing more than 5 ft. are prohibited from navigating in the restricted fishing area that extends off Paraguana Peninsular from Punta Macolla, Lat. 12° 5′ 32″ N., Long. 7° 12′ 55″ W. to Punta Estanques (Los Taques), Lat. 11° 48′ 45″ N., Long. 70° 16′ 45″ W., and a line connecting the position indicated below:

BALLAST: It is suggested that vessels nominated to load at this installation arrive with the minimum of ballast on board, necessary for the safe handling of the vessel under normal conditions. In this connection experience has shown that, under normal weather conditions, vessels can be safely berthed and unberthed with a quantity of ballast of approximately 20% of their respective Summer deadweights. Clean ballast can be pumped into the sea, but Masters are reminded that pollution of the sea incurs heavy fines. Dirty ballast can be received ashore. Maximum discharge pressure to shore installation is 150 p.s.i. in the 20 in. ballast line of Jetty No. 2; Jetties Nos. 4 and 1 have a 24 in. ballast line, and Jetty No. 3 has a 16 in. line. Masters are requested to endeavour to arrive at this port with 20% SDW ballast.

TUGS: 2 tugs of 1,200 h.p. and 1,600 h.p. respectively are available, and their assistance is compulsory for berthing. Number, disposition and manoeuvres of tugboats are directed by the Pilot. The following tug signals in practice in this port are listed below for Master's guidance:

Short blasts are used to give orders to the tug situated ahead.
Long blasts are used to give orders to the tug situated aft.
1 blast means push tug engine, ahead (if it is stopped); stop tug engine, stop (if it is moving).
2 blasts, pull tug engine, astern.
1 long, 1 short, 1 long and 1 short whistle, "Calling tugs".
2 long and 2 short whistles, "Tugs Dismissed".

RADIO: Arrival messages (ETA). Master of vessels bound for or diverted to Cardon are requested to radio the following information to "Maroven. Caracas" via "La Guaira Radio", call sign YVG, 72 hours in advance of estimated arrival, or as soon as possible.

(a) Name of vessel
(b) Flag
(c) ETA
(d) Last Port.

(e) Master's name
(f) Number of crew and passengers
(g) Port for which the vessel is cleared
(h) Quantity of clean ballast on board
(i) All requirements

This information is of the utmost importance to the Harbour Authorities in facilitating the entry of vessels in general, and in case of diversion.

VHF Radio Telephony. The radio and communication centre is located in the Oil Movements Office Building situated at the foot of No. 2 Pier at a height of 50 ft. above sea level. The roof of the building is painted black and the word "Marine" painted across in large white letters.

There is a RT set operating 24 hours a day on the following frequencies, and manned by English speaking operators:

156.6 mc/sec.FM	VHF (Channel 12)	Range limit	25 miles
156.8 mc/sec.FM	VHF (Channel 16)	,, ,,	25 ,,
2120 kc/sec. AM	HF	,, ,,	150 ,,
2182 kc/sec. AM	HF (Channel 1)	,, ,,	150 ,,
7620 kc/sec. (SSB)	HF (Channel 3)	,, ,,	300 ,,

Call sign: "Marine Cardon".

Vessels not equipped with radio telephone may call the installation by signal lamp (Aldis' lamp) whereupon the service launch will be sent out to vessel to pick up any message it may have.

BERTHING: Without exception ships always moor head-in on all berths. It is considered prudent to have the outboard anchor hove out prior to approaching piers to facilitate speedy release while docking if necessary. Vessels are to be moored to satisfaction of the Port Services Superintendent or his deputy; mooring lines must be tended regularly and kept hove taut to prevent surging and possible damage to ships, docks or hoses. When adjusting mooring lines, the assistance of harbour tugs should be requested before slackening off any mooring line.

MEDICAL: Facilities are available for medical and dental treatment, vaccination and hospitalisation in a private clinic.

The doctor's working hours for out-patient treatment are as follows: Monday to Friday, 0900 to 1100 hrs., 1400 to 1700 hrs. Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, only urgent cases will be attended to.

Emergency cases will be attended to at all times.

Masters requiring medical or dental service or vaccination for their crew members should call Ships Services by dialling 2105. Our representative will make the necessary arrangements with the clinic and arrange for transportation to pick up the crew members on the pier and to take them to the clinic and back. Any crew member who is sent ashore for medical or dental treatment, and who does not speak English or Spanish, must be accompanied by a crew member who speaks one of these languages.

Doctors do not attend patients on board. In serious cases where the patient is unable to walk an ambulance will be provided to take him to the hospital.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water is available at all berths. Loading rate is 30 t.p.h.

CUSTOMS: Venezuelan National Guards are stationed at the piers to ensure that vessels in port comply with regulations.

1. Smuggling. Strict compliance with the Customs laws of the country is enforced by the Authorities and Masters are strongly advised to caution crew members against attempting to smuggle ashore cigarettes in carton lots, cigars, tobacco, souvenirs, gifts (particularly items of women's apparel) or other articles. A maximum of twenty cigarettes per person for personal use is allowed to be carried but a greater quantity will result in the imprisonment of the offender with possible heavy fines and delay to the vessel.

2. Bar. On Customs Authorities instructions vessels maintaining a "Bar Service" on board for the use of officers, crew, passengers and visitors, must keep the bar closed during the vessel's stay in port.

3. Firearms. Firearms on board any merchant vessel calling at Venezuelan ports must not exceed one per officer, nor can the ammunition exceed 18 cartridges per officer. All firearms and ammunition must be declared on stores list. Officers must not carry firearms while ship is in Venezuelan waters. Said arms should be collected together with the ammunition and held in the Master's safe custody. Crew members should be warned against taking knives or other weapons ashore as these will be confiscated and the bearer fined.

CONSULS: Brazil, Great Britain, Italy, the Netherlands and Norway have Consular representatives in this area.

TIME: Local time is GMT minus 4 hours.

CERTIFICATES: All ships arriving in Venezuelan ports for the first time must be measured by the Maritime Authorities for issuance of a Venezuelan Tonnage Certificate, known as "Certificado de Arqueo". This document gives the measurements and weight of the vessel in accordance with existing laws. The cost of measuring and issuing of the Certificate is contingent on size and tonnage of vessel.

It is usual practice to take ashore the ship's "General Arrangement" and "Capacity" plans, which are used as a basis for calculations. These plans and the Venezuelan Tonnage Certificate are later forwarded to ship's Owners.

Vessels registered in following countries are exempt from above regulations, due to existing reciprocal agreement with Venezuela: U.S.A., Great Britain, Denmark, France, Germany, Holland, Ireland, Sweden, Norway, Portugal.

The Venezuelan Tonnage Certificate is used in calculating Venezuelan Government Port charges, such as Port Captain Habilitation for entry and despatch of vessels and Pilotage Dues, for all vessels except those registered in the countries mentioned above, in which case the Lloyd's Registered Tonnage is used.

HOLIDAYS: By order of the local Port Authorities it is requested that all ships in port be fully dressed on the following national holidays: January 1st, April 19th, July 5th, July 24th, October 12th, December 25th.

REPAIRS: Shore facilities are available for emergency repairs of a minor nature. The nearest dry docks are located at Puerto Cabello and Curacao, N.A. Request for repairs should be mentioned in the ship's ETA message.

SHORE LEAVE: Shore leave is permitted and Harbour Master's representative who boards vessel on arrival issues the required number of shore passes. These passes must be shown when proceeding ashore to the Government and Company Guards at the gangway and refinery gates. They are to be collected by Master prior to sailing and handed to Pilot unberthing the vessel. Masters are reminded that in accordance with the instructions of local police, crew members be properly dressed before leaving the vessel, i.e. long trousers and shirts.

Masters are requested to have shore leave expire at least 2 hours before expected departure. Men then found missing should be reported to the Ships Services Office, tel. 2105, who will endeavour to locate them. An officer must accompany shore personnel in order to identify the missing crew member.

Vessels are not permitted to sail until all crew members are on board, unless said crew members are hospitalised or previously signed off by the Master through the Ships Services representative. If any crew member is missing at sailing time and cannot be found, his passport and other personal documents must be handed to the Ships Service representative, as well as written instructions as to his repatriation, when found. All costs and expenses of a crew member so left behind will be for ship's account.

GENERAL:

1. Animals: The importation and transit of all birds belonging to the genus parrot or parakeet is prohibited. For other birds a valid health certificate is required. For so-called "small animals" e.g. dogs, cats, monkeys, rabbits, etc. a valid health certificate and a valid rabies vaccination certificate are required.

2. Bonded Stores: Stores in bond are not obtainable in Punta Cardon. The nearest port with bonded stores facilities is Curacao.

3. Board of Trade Gangway; A safe gangway must be provided by the vessel and should be rigged as soon as possible after mooring to allow the Port Authorities to board, and should not be taken in until Pilot has boarded to unmoor vessel. The use of rung ladders, pilot ladders, etc. is contrary to Port Regulations and Port Authorities will not board except by means of a safe gangway or accommodation ladder.

4. Damage during Manoeuvres; When a vessel or the pier sustains damage during manoeuvres with an official Pilot on board, it is the responsibility of the Master to submit to the Ships Services representatives, immediately after the accident, a report in quintuplicate, for presentation to the Harbour Master. Such reports should give full details of the accident and of all engine movements as ordered by the Pilot, as well as a sketch in triplicate of the ship's manoeuvring position at the time. These will be translated by the Agents into Spanish and forwarded to the Harbour Master.

5. Cash Advance to Masters: Cash advances to Masters are made only in Venezuelan currency, which is the Bolivare. Cash requirements should be included in the vessel's ETA message. Foreign currencies are accepted in the United Seamen's Service Club.

6. Rat-guards: By order of the Port Authorities rat-guards must be fitted to all mooring lines. Non compliance entails a fine of 200 bolivares for each unguarded line.

7. Kerosene, Motor Gasoline, Gas-Oil, Solvents: Supplies for ship's purposes are available in drums. The return of empty drums ashore is prohibited by Customs regulations. Therefore the cost of each drum will be billed to the vessel in the Port Disbursement Account.

8. Lubricants, Oils and Greases: Supplies of products are available. Vessels arriving at Punta Cardon on Saturday or Sunday or on a holiday should give ample notice of their requirements by cable in order that the necessary labour arrangements for delivery can be made. This procedure also applies to the delivery of white oils mentioned under 7 above, when required outside working days.

9. Laundry Service: Laundry service is available throughout each working day. Such service should be requested in the vessel's ETA message.

10. Wireless Transmitters in Port: It is strictly prohibited to use vessel's wireless transmitters in the Port of Cardon. Non-compliance with this regulation may result in a fine being imposed on the vessel by the authorities.

11. Mail: On vessels' arrival, blank Mail List Forms will be handed to the Master to be completed in sextuplicate and duly signed by him, when sending ship's and crew mail ashore for posting. Ship's mail received after ship has sailed, or for vessels on which no advice has been received, will be held for 15 days and then returned by airmail to the owners or operators or senders, at ship's expense unless specific instructions have been received beforehand.

12. Marine Surveyors: Both the Lloyd's Agents at Maracaibo and Norske Veritas at Caracas have a representative in Punta Cardon who acts on their behalf when a surveyor is requested. However, in the case of continuous or classification surveys, advance notice of 4 days should be given in order to arrange for an appointed surveyor to come from Caracas. There is also a representative of the American Bureau of Shipping in this area (Caracas).

13. Miramar Club: Masters, chief engineers and their wives can visit the Miramar Club. For this purpose entrance passes should be requested from the Ships Services Office, tel. 2105.

14. Manaure Bathing Beach: The above mentioned bathing beach is open to all ship's staff and crew members.

15. Norwegian Government Seamen Service: A Norwegian Vice Consul and Welfare Officer is stationed at Punta Cardon, and provides the usual services to seamen of this nationality. His telephone number is 4359.

16. Navigation Charts: Navigation charts are not available at this port.

17. Passengers; Movement of passengers over Cardon Piers is subject to restriction under terms of agreement with the government. Passengers will not be permitted to disembark unless in possession of the required Venezuelan visa and travel documents. If passengers are carried, Master should so advise in his radio ETA so that arrangements can be made for Immigration Authorities to visit vessel on arrival and thus facilitate clearance.

18. Petroleum Inspection: Charles Martin & Co., and E. W. Saybolt, petroleum inspectors, are available in this area. Contact can be made through the Loading Supervisor (tel. 2821).

19. Personnel – Seamen Left Ashore: In the case of seamen left ashore for hospitalisation, repatriation, desertion or other reasons, all documents and personal effects are to be handed to the Oil Movement Department's representative before sailing. A letter is required from the Master advising the maximum advances, if any, to be made to the seaman, and instructions concerning his repatriation. All expenses incurred by seamen left ashore, including cost of repatriation, are for ship's account. It is important that Masters bear in mind that the Venezuelan law will at all times hold the vessel, her Master, or Owner responsible for any seaman left behind in Venezuela.

20. Photographing: The taking of photographs within the boundary fence of the Cardon Refinery is prohibited. Taking cameras ashore is likewise prohibited.

21. Provision and Stores; Provisions and stores are available. Requisitions should be conducted through the Ships Services Office. Telephone number 2105 or the Ships Services representative when he calls on board with the authorities on arrival. Ships chandlers are not permitted to visit ships, unless specifically instructed to do so by the Agents.

22. Radar and Radio Repairs: Repair and maintenance services for radar, radio, gyro compass, radio direction finder, echo sounder, etc. are available. The repair man should be contacted through the Ships Services Office, telephone number 2105.

23. Safety of Personnel: It will be appreciated that persons intoxicated by alcoholic drinks can create risks of accidents; therefore we ask the Master's co-operation to ensure that these persons do not enter the refinery gates and/or board their vessel unless accompanied by sober members of their crew. In this connection we will advise the Master or one of his officers, so that measures can be taken to ensure the safety of the forementioned person(s) e.g. by sending one or more of the crew to the gate to accompany him (or them) to the ship.

24. Visitors: Visits to ships are prohibited except from those company employees, petroleum inspectors, etc., whose duties require their presence on board.

25. Walport Film Exchange: Subscribers to the Walport service may exchange films at the U.S. Seamen's Club situated at the foot of No. 2 Pier, from 0730 to 2200 hrs. every day, by telephoning 2803.

26. Staff and Crew Changes: No staff and/or crew should be engaged or discharged without consulting Ships Services (telephone 2105). In case of discharge, identification documents must be handed to the Ships Services representative or the Norwegian Consular Officer in the case of Norwegian vessels.

27. Tank Cleaning and Mopping: Several contractors in the area provide labour for tank cleaning and mopping. Masters in need of this service should submit their requirements to the Ships Services Office (telephone 2105), who will contact and request a contractor to go on board to discuss details and estimate costs of work to be effected. It must be pointed out that the Master of the vessel is solely responsible for the proper fitness of the ship's tanks for loading his next cargo, and will therefore be held liable for any contamination of the cargo after loading, due to inadequate tank cleaning. Therefore it is up to him to decide the degree of tank cleaning necessary. He may, of course, seek advice from the installation representative in this respect, whenever there is any doubt.

28. Turnaround: To promote the economical operation of their vessel, Masters are requested to co-operate with installation representatives in minimising their in-port time. Any delays which are considered unnecessary or extensive should be reported to the loading Supervisor (tel. 2133) so that corrective measures can be taken.

29. U.S.S. Club: All seamen are welcome to the club operated by United Seamen's Service which is located at the shore end of Pier No. 2. Shore passes are required to reach this Club. Beer, soft drinks, ice-cream, candies and various souvenirs and presents can be purchased at reasonable prices. Free cinema shows are usually held twice weekly. PILOT: Boards at ZERO buoy.

Note: There is no VHF radio contact possible and there is no signal station available, ETA should be given as exact as possible.

RESTRICTIONS: Max. draft to enter: 25 ft. (on HW).

If ship's draft is more than 25 ft. ship has to lighten into lighters. This is done in Baie d'Halong. The procedure is that after embarking the pilot at Zero buoy, the ship is brought to this bay (in daylight hours only) via: Bai de Lan Ha - Entree Profonde - Rade du Crapaud - Chenal du Volta - Chenal de la Cathedrale.

In our case we anchored in Chenal de la Cathedrale; 20.52 N. 107.03.1 E. and discharged our gas oil cargo into tanker barges varying in size from 125 - 400 long tons. Some coastal tankers (1,500 - 2,000 long tons) are also available for accepting the cargo.

When discharging into lighters - ship should provide suitable hoses.

GENERAL: 1. Ship was cleared by authorities at this anchorage. In view of the distance to Haiphong - 5 hrs. by motorboat - this clearance is only given in daylight hours. Often the ship's Agent stays on board during cargo operations.

2. Because the radio transmitter is sealed, no direct contact with the outside world is possible. All messages for the Agents at Haiphong should be given to the lighters going there.

3. Medical assistance: A doctor and Hospital is available in Hongay - on the other side of the Baie d'Halong. The doctor inspects the patient first on board before permission to go ashore is given.

4. Outward clearance: Same procedure as inward clearance. Authorities come by motorboat from Haiphong (boat leaves there at about 0600 and arrives in Halong Bay at about 1100 hrs. Passports are handed back to crew.

5. On inward as well as on outward clearing, crew has to stay in their cabins for inspection by customs and security officials.

PILOTAGE: Service is available 24 hours a day and is compulsory for all vessels using HOVIC facilities in Limetree Bay. The HOVIC Harbour Master acts as Pilot and will assist the Master in docking and undocking vessels using Hess facilities; however, the Master of the vessel retains full responsibility for the ship at all times. The Pilot can be contacted by VHF Channel 16. Pilot boards at the sea buoy, position 17° 40.7′ N., 64° 44.3′ W. Vessels over 45,000 d.w.t. are subject to movements in daylight only. Vessels should remain outside the sea buoy until boarded by the Pilot. The Pilot will be placed aboard by a company tug.

The tug HOVIC 1 is equipped with a radio-telephone having the following crystals: 2182 kc/s. U.S.C.G., 2638 kc/s., Ship to ship. 2738 kc/s., Ship to ship 2134 kc/s., San Juan, Puerto Rico and Galveston, Texas. Ships having the above crystals should call the HOVIC 1–3 hours before their arrival at the sea buoy, and advise of any change in their ETA.

ANCHORAGE: There is no suitable anchorage for deep draft vessels off the port. Normal practice is to stop engines and wait 6 to 8 miles from the sea buoy if required to wait instructions. In bad weather vessels should proceed to Frederiksted and anchor in the vicinity of the long pier in depths of 30 to 60 ft. Vessels shall have their anchors ready to let go upon entering the channel into Limetree Bay.

APPROACHES: Entrance to channel marked by a black sea buoy, equipped with a white flashing light, visible 8 miles. The buoy (ELB No. 1) (flashing every 5 seconds) is at the West side of the channel (Lat. 17° 40′ 42″ N., Long. 64° 44′ 18″ W.). At sea buoy there is 60 ft. of water and the channel has a depth of 60 ft. to Nos. 3 and 4 berths.

The turning basin opens up Eastward from the channel line and is approximately 1,200 ft. long and 1,000 ft. wide. The West turning basin is 1,500 ft. by 1,200 ft. with a max. depth of 35 ft.

RESTRICTIONS: Navigation permitted 24 hours a day except for ships over 50,000 d.w.t.

The Harbour Master will check and report on each vessel's draft before piloting them inbound or outbound.

RADIO: Masters are requested to advise both HOVIC – St. Croix and their Agents by radio 48 hours and 24 hours in advance of their ETA giving the vessel's name, date and hour of arrival (local time), bunkers and water required.

TUGS: Tug assistance in the channel, docking and undocking is mandatory and is provided by 3×1,800-h.p. diesel tugs stationed in the port to provide this service. All tugs are under the orders of the HOVIC Harbour Master and are equipped with fire pumps and monitors to assist in fire fighting.

There are also 2 tugs of 7,000 h.p. available for the mooring of large tankers.

BALLAST: United States laws prohibit the pumping overboard of dirty ballast while a vessel is within U.S. coastal waters. All ballast must be pumped to facilities available ashore. However, if a vessel is especially equipped with clean segregated systems which are reserved for ballast use only, it is permissible to pump overboard at the dock after first being inspected and approved by the Dock Master.

In pumping dirty ballast ashore, the ballast is received through 1×12-in. shore line at a max. discharge pressure to shore installations of 125 p.s.i. The ballast is pumped into a ballast facility about 1 mile North of the dock. Due to the limited facilities and to the possibility of 2 vessels deballasting at the same time, it is requested that vessels arrive with the min. possible ballast.

The U.S. Oil Pollution Act of 1924 applies to the Pollution of Coastal Waters. Violators are subject to fines of up to $2,500 and a year's imprisonment for each offence.

NOTICE OF READINESS: Notice of readiness to load or discharge is a warranty that the vessel is in all respects ready to load or discharge, and that all of the ship's equipment (including, but not limited to tanks, pumps, valves, and pipe-lines) is ready and fit to load or discharge petroleum and/or petrochemical products. Notice of readiness will not be accepted unless the vessel is in all respects ready to load or discharge as appropriate. Vessel will not be deemed ready to load or discharge and pumping will not commence until the senior deck officer shall have executed and delivered to HOVIC a "Declaration of inspection prior to bulk cargo transfer" as required by U.S. Coast Guard Regulations.

BERTHING: A shore gangway is provided.

There are at present, 7 berths on finger pier, 3 on East side and 4 on West side.

Deepest berths are No. 3 and No. 4 each with 60 ft. depth of water alongside.

LOADING: Loading operations are normally carried out at relatively high pumping rates. Loading rates may be reduced by request. Loading cargo overall will not be permitted without specific written authorisation from HOVIC'S General Manager.

Hose pressures should not exceed 125 p.s.i. during loading or discharging.

Oil Dock is serviced by: 1×24-in. diameter crude line, 1×24-in. diameter No. 6 oil line. 1×20-in. diameter gasoline line, 1×20-in. No. 2 oil line, 1×10-in. diameter kerosene line, 1×12-in. diameter ballast line, 1×8-in. diameter fresh water line.

Oil Dock 2 serviced by: 1×24-in. diameter crude line, 1×24-in. diameter 6 oil line.

MEDICAL: Medical attention is generally available from the public hospital at any hour of the day or night to crew members of all vessels. The representative of the ship's Agent should be contacted by the Master with any requests for medical attention for the crew. For each man needing medical or dental attention, a form should be completed in duplicate and signed by the Master, or in his absence, by the Chief Officer. The form should provide the date, patient's name, rating, and the name of the vessel. In case of emergency, or when a patient cannot be moved from the vessel, the Master should advise the ship's Agent by radio if at sea, or on the telephone if in port.

DENSITY: 1025.

FRESH WATER: The island of St. Croix is dependent almost entirely on rainfall for its supply of fresh water. There are wells but many of them are rather saline in nature. As a result fresh water is scarce and expensive. In conjunction with its refinery operation HOVIC operates a desalination plant and limited quantities of fresh water are available providing at least 48 hours notice of these requirements is given prior to the ship's arrival. All fresh water is metered aboard ship.

FUEL: Both No. 6 fuel oil (Bunker C) and light marine diesel are available by prior arrangement. Advice concerning quantities should be given in the vessel's arrival message (ETA) sent 48 hours prior to arrival.

DEVELOPMENTS: New docks under construction.

AIRPORT: Situated 5 miles from port facilities.

SHORE LEAVE: Under normal circumstances, no restrictions are imposed by the Immigration Authorities on shore liberty. Masters are requested to have all crew members on board at least 1 hour prior to departure time, to avoid delay "awaiting crew members". If crew members of foreign vessels are to be given shore leave, Form I–95 must be prepared for each member of the crew.

TIME: The U.S. Virgin Islands use Atlantic Standard Time, which is four hours slow of Greenwich Mean Time.

GENERAL: (a) Immigration: The United States immigration laws apply in the U.S. Virgin Islands. Passports and visas are required.

(b) Customs: The customs collection district of the U.S. Virgin Islands is under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Treasury Department but has its own Customs laws.

(c) Liquors: The transportation of alcoholic beverages inside HOVIC's property is strictly prohibited; consequently, no liquor or beer may be removed from vessels. the only exception to the foregoing is in the case of bonded stores ordered by Masters.

(d) Visitors: No visitors are permitted in the dock area. Only persons on official ship's business are permitted on the piers.

(e) Laundry: Only limited facilities are available to handle ship's laundry.

(f) Surveyors: Representatives of the American Bureau of Shipping, Lloyd's Register and other maritime classification societies are available in San Juan, Puerto Rico on 12 to 24 hours notice. The ship's Agent will assist Masters in soliciting their services.

(g) Mail: Official and personal mail will be delivered on board by the ship's Agent when vessels are being cleared inwards. Mail received for vessels while in port will be delivered on board prior to sailing. Outgoing mail is accepted from Masters, provided it is accompanied by a mail transmittal slip to support disbursements.

(h) Transportation: Walking through the refinery is not permitted. Arrangements for transportation will have to be made through the ship's Agent or the Refinery General Manager's Office.

(i) Supplies and Repairs: Limited supplies of provisions and marine hardware are available on the island. There are no facilities for major repairs closer than San Juan, Puerto Rico. Machine shops in Christiansted and Fredriksted can assist in making minor repairs.

(j) Overloading: Masters are advised that the international laws are strictly enforced with regard to overloading and should be guided accordingly. In cases where overloaded cargo has to be discharged, all expenses incurred, including ship delay, will be for the vessel's account.

(k) Weather Conditions: The loading and discharge of all crude petroleum and its products will be stopped during any electrical storm. Ullage screens or ullage plugs must be in place. Loading gasoline or other similar low-flash products will be stopped during periods of calms when the heavy vapours cannot be dispersed quickly enough to prevent hazards from accumulated gas pockets. Ship's officers are cautioned to be on their guard during such conditions. In the event of abnormal weather conditions in the area, such as a hurricane, vessels will be notified that additional moorings are required. If the situation so demands, Masters will be told to suspend all operations and proceed to sea until normal weather conditions again prevail.

(l) Demurrage: Vessels are required to vacate berth promptly upon completion of cargo handling operation (loading or discharging operations, as the case may be). Permission to lay alongside at any time the vessel is not engaged in cargo handling operations must be granted in writing by the Dock Master. The Harbour Master will keep vessels advised of other vessels awaiting berth. If any vessel fails to vacate its berth upon completion of cargo handling operations and expiration of free laytime for dock usage as outlined below, the vessel will be responsible for penalties and demurrage as follows:

(a) To pay dock demurrage.
(b) To hold HOVIC blameless for any demurrage and damages incurred as a result of other vessels awaiting berth.

The following rules shall govern the determination of demurrage:

(a) One hour free laytime will be allowed after completion of cargo handling operations. This free time will start at the time cargo hoses are disconnected from the ship's manifold on completion of loading or discharge of cargo. Vessels awaiting cargo papers and/or Customs clearance must vacate the berth within 1 hour of such completion and move outside to wait for their papers.

(b) Three hours free laytime will be allowed for ballasting after discharge operations.

AUTHORITY: Dominica Port Authority.

Yemen Arab Republic

HODEIDAH: 14.48 N. 42.55 E.

FLAG: It is essential that from the time they enter Yemen territorial waters all vessels fly the Yemen Arab Republic flag and this should be flown continuously until they leave these waters on sailing. Failure to observe this courtesy may result in a heavy penalty. The design of the flag is red, white and black horizontal strips of equal size with green star in centre of white strip.

DOCUMENTS: On arrival 8 copies of Manifests of cargo for discharge are required and each must be endorsed with the word Correct by the Customs Authorities at the Port of Loading. It is advisable that at least 2 of the 8 copies of manifests on board the ship should be freighted copies, otherwise 2 additional copies, showing freight details should be airmailed to Hodeidah separately to arrive in advance of the vessel. The Master should also be in possession of 1 copy of each Bill of Lading and certificate to show vessel is not blacklisted.

PILOTAGE: Pilotage is compulsory and as the entrance of the Channel giving access to the Port cannot be observed from the port area itself it is essential that accurate ETA's be given to Hodship Hodeidah (the Agent) in order to avoid delays waiting for a Pilot.

Vessels will be piloted down a dredged channel of about 8 miles in length. The channel, which is buoyed with black starboard and red port buoys, is 7.5 m. deep and 100 m. wide. – The buoys are not at present lit and therefore entrance and exit from the harbour can only take place during daylight hours. It is understood that in due course illumination of buoys and leading marks will be carried out and night movement possible.

ANCHORAGE: Masters are also recommended to ensure that on arrival they anchor off the entrance to the new port to await the Pilot and do not anchor off the old port opposite the town some 5 miles to the South and which is still shown as being the Port of Hodeidah on some charts. Vessels anchoring in the wrong area may suffer some delay before they can be contacted and asked to proceed to the correct area. Masters should be advised to anchor at the outer anchorage in the following position: 14° 55′ N., 42° 54′ E.

MAX. SIZE: Max. draft alongside 23 ft.

HEALTH: All members of the crew must be vaccinated against yellow fever, smallpox and cholera otherwise permission will not be given to disembark.

RADIO: Masters should also ensure that a radio watch is kept to receive calls from the Port Authorities. The Hodeidah Radio Station is operative between 0600 and 1800 hrs. daily, the call sign is: 4WD or 4WD3 (short).

TUGS: 1 tug of 450 h.p. Pilot launch 250 h.p. also available to assist.

BERTHING: The quay is 370 m. in length with 3 berths, the first 70 m. long, depth 6 m., the second and third are of 150 m. length and 8.5 m. depth. Officially, ships berthing are restricted in length to 140 m. and to a max. draft of 23 ft., but vessels up to 150 m. have berthed. For such vessels prior advice is required.

The quay is concrete construction and is well founded, vessels being secured to bollards in the normal manner. Use of rat-guards is recommended. The quay is equipped with 3 electric cranes described as having a max. capacity of 5 tons. At present only 2 of these cranes can be operated simultaneously owing to insufficiency of current.

There is also a dolphin berth for discharging of petroleum products, which is connected by submarine pipes to storage tanks near the port area. The depth alongside is 6 m.

STEVEDORES: All labour is provided by Agent's representative including winchmen and tally clerks, but winchmen are provided entirely at ships' risk.

Rates of discharge vary but are quite satisfactory and with bagged cargo the average obtained is 15 tons per hatch per hour. Night work is possible.

It is normal for labour working on board to request drinking water to be supplied. Whilst this may be unusual Masters are advised to comply, as otherwise slow working or perhaps even stoppages may result.

Vessels are expected to supply food on board to cargo-supervisors, foreman, and tally clerks. It may be left to Master's discretion whether this is supplied, but if not the Agency will have to supply same and the cost will be debited to the vessels.

WORKING HOURS: Normally from 0600 hrs. to 1400 hrs. and again from 1700 hrs. to midnight. Additional work outside these hours, including after midnight can usually be arranged if necessary, although this cannot be guaranteed. Any work after midnight is overtime.

MEDICAL: Hospitals at Hodeidah and Sanaa-Taiz.

FRESH WATER: Available; pumping rate 10–15 t.p.h.

Inner harbour approached by 2.7 mile dog-leg channel, dredged to 38 ft., from Fairway buoy in Outer Harbour where Pilots board. Inner harbour protected by breakwater at Steamer Point and by rubble mound. It provides 24 buoy or anchor-and-buoy berths, including 13 with oil bunkering facilities. Majority of these berths have a datum depth of 30 or 38 ft., with max. length of ship ranging from 275 to 750 ft. In addition 3 dolphin berths, with bunkering facilities, of 39 ft. datum depth and normally accommodating ships of 750–900 ft. max. length; vessels of greater length can be accommodated with the approval of the Port Officer. Quays and wharves cater for shallower-draft vessels and lighters.

SHIPMASTER'S REPORT: (April 1976)

Documents:

Pilot: Sights Ship's Register to check tonnages.
Customs: 2 Crew Lists; 1 Bond List.
Immigration: 2 Crew Lists.
Doctor: 1 Health Form; 1 Vaccination List (smallpox).

Note: Crew List should have consecutive numbers as well as Agreement numbers.

Agents:

2 Crew Lists; Arrival information sheet; Statement of Owners full address also Cable address; 2 Arrival declaration for Yemen Ports Corporation; 2 Aden Port Log; 1 Charges sheet for Mail; 1 Sailing information sheet; 1 Currency refund sheet.

Agent brings these Forms on board and will assist with filling in the information.

Communications: It was found impossible to make Radio Contact with Aden prior to 5 days before arrival. Best time seems to be after Aden sends its Traffic List. VHF contact was made at 12 miles as the hills around Aden appear to blanket signals when further away. Channels 16 or 12.

Approach: This is straight forward. The B.A. Charts appear to be well up-to-date. The Fairway Buoy is easily seen at 8 miles. Pilot boards here. Pilot ladder required. Authorities will not allow the accommodation ladder to be used.

Mooring: There was a trainee Pilot with both the inward and outward Pilot. Ship was swung using starboard anchor and 1 tug aft. Berthed at No. 4 Berth. Forward: 3 ropes to buoy on inside plus starboard anchor 5 shackes. Aft: 1 rope from port quarter and 1 from starboard quarter taken to outside buoy, then 2 ropes, 1 from each quarter taken to inside buoy. Ship then hove to be centred between the 2 after mooring buoys. When ship in position oil pipe-line, on floats is towed alongside.

Visit: Agent boarded with Doctor. At first Doctor was insisting all had to have Cholera vaccinations but this seems to be so that he can charge the fees and is not really necessary. Immigration and Customs boarded. All pleasant and helpful. Bond was sealed.

Port Facilities: 2 fairly powerful tugs. Numerous mooring boats, 1 floating crane seen but as to lift capacity this was not ascertained. Port is run by The Yemen Ports Corporation. Like the Agency it is State owned.

Watchmen: Agents automatically provide 2 watchmen. Seemed to be alert.

Regulations: Masters are requested to assist the Port Authority by not allowing Bumboatmen or fishermen to board without written permission. The Port Authority advises Masters to be most careful if they do issue written permission. There were no bumboats about and no one seeked permission to come aboard to do business.

One half hour prior to sailing the Pilot signal red-white-red in a vertical line or "G" to be hoisted also call Port Control on VHF 16.

Use of ship's whistles or sirens is very controlled.

Bunkering: Ship's crane used to hoist pipe-line aboard. The bunkering operation went smoothly and the Oil people seemed co-operative.

Walport Film Exchange: Agents were cabled but it is necessary for an Officer to go with the Agent to make the exchange.

Mail: Mail posted in London on 22nd March or 23rd March was stamped as having arrived Aden 28th or 29th March.

General: It would seem that the Port Authority, State, etc., are very keen to build up a thriving Port. It would also seem that they endeavour to give a good efficient service. I gather there is a special duty free shop ashore for the purchase of souvenirs, goods, etc.

NOTES

Zaire Republic

GENERAL:

ETA: It is essential that any change of vessels ETA should be transmitted sufficiently in advance in order to avoid short shipments of cargo.

Matadi is only a transit port where cargo is not stored in order to avoid congestion.

Imported cargo is immediately re-forwarded to the interior while export cargo is only brought to Matadi a few days before the ETA of the vessel for which it has been booked.

Therefore, in order to make the cargo available at Matadi, shippers need a notice varying according to the cargo concerned, but which cannot be less than 2 weeks as is the case for coffee.

Agents at Matadi and Boma have been instructed to inform Port Authorities latest 4 days before berthing of inward cargo tonnages.

Non compliance with this provision may result in berthing delay.

PILOTAGE: Ships bound for Matadi and/or Boma must take a Pilot at the pilot station at Banana (at the mouth of the Zaire river). Pilot station at Banana can be contacted directly by radio (VHF).

In order to increase the safety and to facilitate the navigation on the river the Regie des Voies Maritimes have decided that in case a vessel is not equipped with a VHF installation the Pilot will bring one on board, for which a charge is made.

The following rules must be observed at the request of the Regie des Voies Maritimes for embarking and dis-embarking of Pilots.

If gangway is rigged astern on the port side it is compulsory to use the pilot ladder also.

If gangway rigged amidships on port side it is recommended that the pilot ladder is used in combination.

Pilots requesting only the gangway do so at their own risk.

Ships sailing from Matadi for Banana must pass Boma before 1630 hrs. otherwise they remain at anchor at Boma.

With regard to the trim the pilotage services ask Masters to comply with following rules:

Maximum trim 12 ft. aft; 4 ft. forward.

DOCUMENTS: Ship's Documents required on arrival:

7 Crew Lists.
3 Lists of Arms and Ammunition.
7 Passenger Lists.
2 Crew Declarations.
3 Lists of Ports of Call.
2 Stores Lists.
1 International Tonnage Certificate.
1 Deratisation Exemption Certificate.
1 Cargo Ship Safety Equipment Certificate.
1 Certificate of Registry.
1 Radiotelegraphy Certificate.
1 Construction Certificate.
1 Certificate Form on Board.
Free Pratique.

Documents required for disembarking passengers and discharging cargo:

A. To be received by mail at least 8 days before ship's arrival:
(1). Cargo:
3 Freight Manifests
8 Cargo Manifests
5 Copies of Bills of Lading
6 Copies of Stowage Plans.
(2). Passengers:
1 Accountancy
3 Passenger Lists, for passengers for the port/or in transit.
B. To be received by ship's bag at ship's arrival at quay:
On arrival following documents must be available on board:
(1). Cargo:
1 Freight Manifest
4 Cargo Manifests
3 Copies of Bills of Lading.
(2). Passengers:
1 Freight Manifest
4 Passenger Lists for passengers for the port and/or in transit.

It is most important that stowage plans be available before vessel's arrival. Vessel's operations are indeed delayed to the next shift if same are only remitted upon arrival.

DRAFTS AND CURRENTS: Drafts on river Zaire are as follows:
Inwards: High water: 24 ft., Low water: 23 ft.
Outwards: High water: 25 ft., Low Water: 24 ft.

The authorized drafts are notified regularly by the Port Authorities.

The currents of the river and from berth to berth as well in Matadi as in Boma vary and depend upon the high and low levels of the water sometimes adverse currents and still waters as stated before.

For proceeding to Matadi and according to the season vessels must have at least a speed of 10.5 to 11 knots, especially to pass the "Devils Cauldron" located between Boma and Matadi.

STEVEDORES: The ONATRA (Office National des Transports) – public institution, has the monopoly of the handling, stevedoring and transit operations at the ports of Matadi and Boma.

At each berth the responsible "Pier Master" remains in constant contact with the first Mate during the whole operation.

Working shifts are as follows: 1st. shift: 0630–1430 hrs.; 2nd shift: 1430–2230 hrs. overtime; 3rd shift: 2230–0630 hrs. overtime.

Work must be ordered the day before vessel's arrival. However, if gangs are available, work can still be ordered the day of vessel's arrival but latest at 0930 hrs. during week days.

In principle no work is done on Sundays, holidays and during the night. If required same has to be ordered by writing 1 working day in advance before 1000 hrs. Port Authorities will then decide according to the situation at that moment.

According to the situation of the Port, the Authorities can also order labour 24 hours per day Sundays and holidays included.

At Boma there is no third shift – however on special request, work can eventually be granted until 2400 hrs.

At Matadi work during third shift will only be ordered upon special request from vessel.

GENERAL: Quay Practices:

The courtesy Zaire flag must be hoisted by foreign ships during daytime.

In view of the proximity of the town, the use of whistles, sirens and similar signals is forbidden.

Safety nets must be put between ship and quay at each of the working hatches and beneath the gangway.

No rubbish whatsoever may be thrown overboard.

Cargo plans:

According to Onatra's instructions stowage plans of ships calling at Matadi/Boma must be issued in such a way that they show clearly where all goods loaded for Matadi/Boma in several ports are located. This enables Onatra to have a clear view of each vessel and to study, before ship's arrival, the discharging/loading possibilities.

Those stowage plans must reach Agent before ship's arrival.

Vessels loading/discharging operations will only start during the next shift if stowage plans are remitted upon vessels' arrival. A request can be made to shift the vessel to a more convenient berth depending upon the cargo concerned.

With regard to cargo loaded Onatra does not issue stowage plans and Masters should consequently be instructed to draw up stowage plans for transmission to corresponding discharging ports.

BANANA: 6.01 S. 12.25 E.

DOCUMENTS: See "General" before first port.

APPROACHES: In view of the strong current, and in view of the fact that the lights of the navigation buoys on the Congo River do not always work properly, night navigation is practically impossible. Tankers, therefore, arriving at night, or in times of congestion, are recommended to anchor approx. 5 miles West of Moita Seca Light in approx. 10 fathoms, about 12 miles from Stella Buoy.

PILOTAGE: River Congo can be entered direct from sea in deep water. Pilots not compulsory. Mooring Master boards incoming tankers to assist mooring at buoys. Notice of arrival to be given to Harbour Master, radio Maritime Banana.

The position of the flare of the SOCIR Refinery at Moanda is:
5° 57′ 51″ S.
12° 25′ 07″ E.

The flare is visible during day and night and may be a good bearing for vessels approaching Congo River.

MAX. SIZE: Tankers up to 40 ft. draft may discharge at buoy moorings. Banana Creek is limited to vessels draft not exceeding 15 ft.

HEALTH: Quarantine Officer boards at sea buoy. Free pratique usually granted as soon as Maritime Health Declaration completed. Valid smallpox, cholera and yellow fever inoculations required for all crew members.

RADIO: At least 3 days notice required to Agent (ETA and draft only) and to Harbour Master, Maritime Banana (ETA only). It is necessary to transmit these notices via another shore station (e.g. Capetown Radio, Libreville Radio, etc.), as the Banana Radio Station can only be reached 2 days prior arrival. Close advice on changes in ETA necessary to prevent delays in waiting for cargo-lighters and push-boats.

Radio Banana (9 PA) working on 495 kc/s. and 8714 kc/s.

BERTHING: Tankers berth in river anchorage between buoys 12 and 14, both anchors used. Tugs not available and not required.

Upon arrival at the berths, tankers should use both anchors on long scope in view of the current. When anchoring it is recommended to drop outside anchor first, up to approx. 3 shackles and subsequently, after the ship's swing to starboard, the starboard anchor. It is essential that ample cable is used on both anchors, approx. 8 shackles. Tankers sail without Pilot and may leave any time.

CARGO OPERATIONS: Tankers discharge-into/load-from cargo barges moored alongside either side. These barges (3 in total) are equipped with 8-in. cargo hoses (position of hose connection amidships) and suitable fenders, have a capacity of 1,650 long tons or 2,050 cu.m., and can receive the cargo at the rate of up to 800 t.p.h. or, alternatively, can load at a rate of approx. 400 t.p.h. Under normal conditions the refinery will handle 3 barges per shift of 12 hours. Cargo operations are effected continuously day and night, during Sundays and holidays, in shifts from 0600 to 1800 hours and from 1800 hrs. to 0600 hrs. Therefore a tanker of approx. 19,000 tons can be completed in a net discharging/loading time of approximately 48 hours. During the cargo operations, 6 Congolese deckhands stay on board to handle cargo hoses and barges. These men are to be provided with meals and accommodation (one spare cabin will be sufficient). Masters are also requested to instruct their crew to assist with the mooring/unmooring of cargo barges alongside.

TANKERS: No tank-cleaning facilities. Barge available for dirty ballast reception limited to 2,000 cu.m. per trip.

GENERAL: During stay of tankers at anchorage the discharge and/or loading operations are constantly supervised by 1 or 2 European representatives of the refinery, who are to be accommodated on board and to be provided with meals.
SHORE LEAVE: Shore leave is presently not allowed due to lack of communications; only in urgent cases a crew member may join 1 of the refinery tugs. There is no entertainment whatsoever ashore.

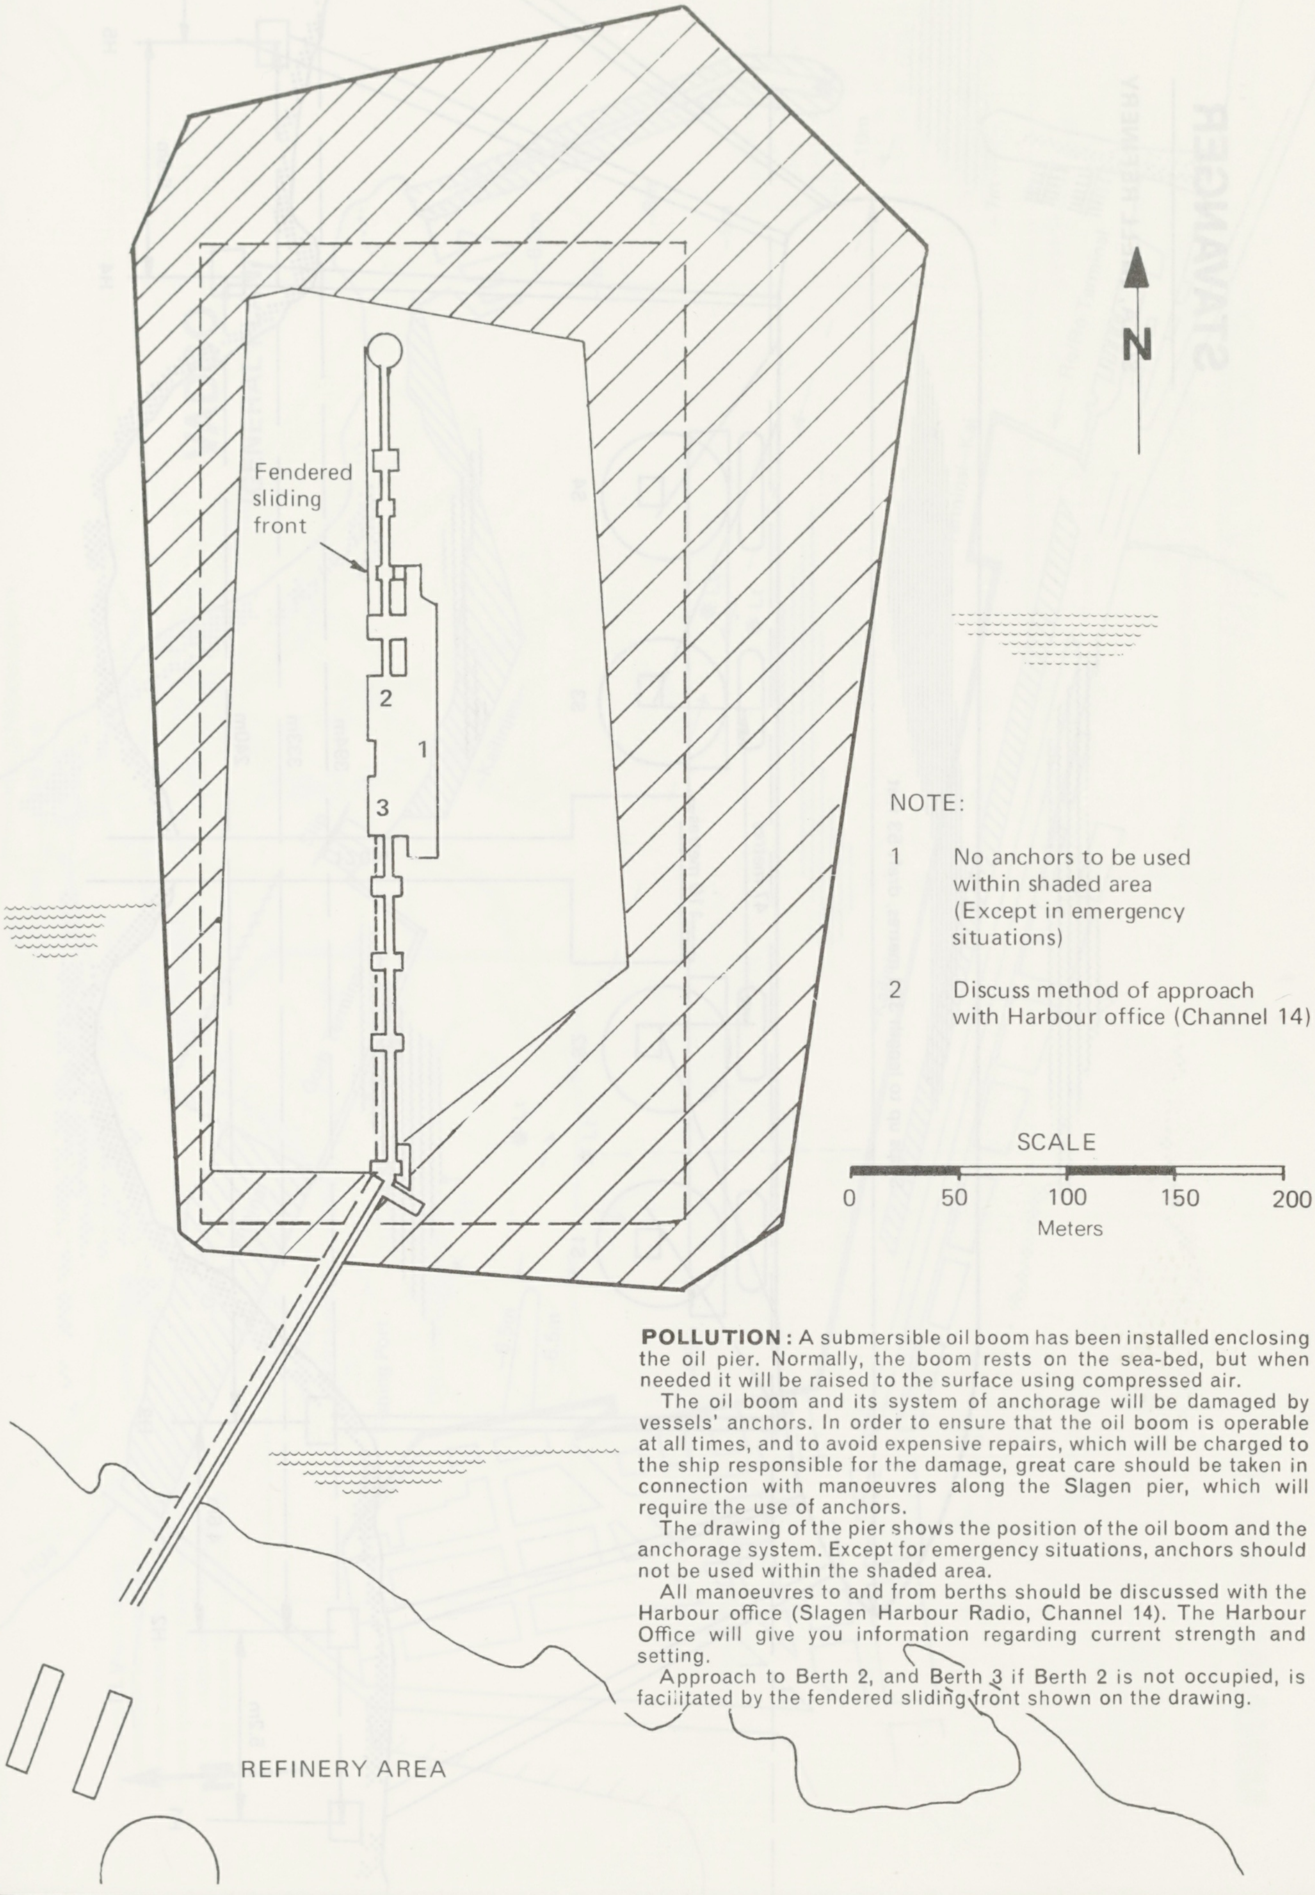
SUBMERSIBLE OIL BOOM INSTALLATION



NOTE:

1 No anchors to be used within shaded area (Except in emergency situations)

2 Discuss method of approach with Harbour office (Channel 14)

POLLUTION : A submersible oil boom has been installed enclosing the oil pier. Normally, the boom rests on the sea-bed, but when needed it will be raised to the surface using compressed air.

The oil boom and its system of anchorage will be damaged by vessels' anchors. In order to ensure that the oil boom is operable at all times, and to avoid expensive repairs, which will be charged to the ship responsible for the damage, great care should be taken in connection with manoeuvres along the Slagen pier, which will require the use of anchors.

The drawing of the pier shows the position of the oil boom and the anchorage system. Except for emergency situations, anchors should not be used within the shaded area.

All manoeuvres to and from berths should be discussed with the Harbour office (Slagen Harbour Radio, Channel 14). The Harbour Office will give you information regarding current strength and setting.

Approach to Berth 2, and Berth 3 if Berth 2 is not occupied, is facilitated by the fendered sliding front shown on the drawing.

Pilot: A total of four Pilots board together with Inspection Team from a tug (black hull, white superstructure) at the Pilot Station. Pilots usually handle vessels very carefully and speak little English.
Piers: The bulk handling piers are equipped with shore cranes (their capacity unknown) but are poorly fendered.
Tugs: A large number of modern (and likely powerful) tugs were noted, ships lines always used.
VHF: The Port is equipped with VHF (most likely at Harbour Master's Office) and the ship's set is handled by the Pilots. After berthing it is prohibited to use it.
Tide: The rise of the tide is considerable (no figures available) and all piers seem to be well protected by any wind.
Ice: Melting ice was noted on approaching the piers (mid January 1977).
Traffic: Heavy traffic was noted there both in ocean-going and medium-sized tonnage.

Egypt (United Arab Republic)

AIN SUKHNA: 29.35 N. 32.23 E.

SHIPMASTER'S REPORT: (January 1977)

Location: The Suez Terminal Ain Sukhna is located on the Western side of the Gulf of Suez, approximately 20 miles South of Suez Bay itself. It is the Southern Terminal of the Arab Petroleum Pipelines Company.

Some of the information to follow may prove to be of a temporary nature since from verbal information obtained, this vessel was part of the 1,000,000 tons of crude oil required by the Arab Petroleum Pipelines in conjunction with Builders Consortium for testing purposes and commissioning of the project.

The Ain Sukhna Terminal will then serve the newly completed Trans-Egypt pipe-line terminating in the Mediterranean to the West of Alexandria.

It is understood that both Terminals and the strip covering the pipe-lines is to become a Free Zone thus dispensing with Customs and a number of other formalities.

Approaches: The anchorage for Ain Sukhna is located approximately 4 miles South-east of the berths and anchorage area is bounded by the following co-ordinate positions:

A	29° 35′ North	32° 25.6′ East
B	29° 32.5 North	32° 27.6′ East
C	29° 31′ North	32° 25.4′ East
D	29° 33.4′ North	32° 23.4′ East

with an average depth of 40 m. and a sandy bottom.

SBM Mooring Facilities: 3 SBM points are located in the following positions:

A	29° 35.3′ North	32° 23.6′ East
B	29° 34.2′ North	32° 22.7′ East
C	29° 35.3′ North	32° 22.3′ East

All SBM's are painted bright yellow and were originally planned to flash their respective identifications A-B-C in morse code. This is also part of the information received, but are in fact marked by an ordinary Flash every 16 to 18 seconds.

The Pilot and Berthing Masters, one acting in each capacity, are Italian and experienced tanker people. They are currently employed by the Builders of the terminal and are presently engaged in training their Egyptian substitutes who will take over all piloting and berthing duties at a later date.

It appears this vessel was the second unit to visit the terminal and all piloting and berthing operations were performed in a cool and efficient manner. Also while the commissioning of the terminal project is in progress an Egyptian Marine Superintendent, employed by Arab Petroleum Pipelines remains on board with the Pilot and Berthing Masters during the vessel's stay in the berth. This, together with the trainees, etc., may not always be convenient for vessels with limited accommodation. A total of 5 bunks in 4 cabins was required by the shore team.

A tug named Fish of 2,400 h.p. used as a workboat and for firefighting purposes, flying the French Flag and French manned remains in attendance during mooring operations, and can be called upon to push should this become necessary.

Operations: Since no information to the contrary was obtained it is envisaged that the terminal will operate round the clock, weather and other circumstances permitting.

Radio Facilities: During the voyage ships send their cables to SUMED CAIRO using Alexandria Radio and for the present ETAs and such were confirmed on a daily basis. It is envisaged that at some later date the normal 72, 48 and 24 hours confirmations prior to arrival will be maintained.

A 500 watt transmitter is to come into operation at Ain Sukhna in the very near future with a range of 500 km. and operating on the 2182 kc/s frequency. This will be the Pipelines own transmitter and manned on a 24 hour basis.

For the present Ain Sukhna Marine is to be called on VHF Channel 16 when vessels come within 50 miles radius from the terminal to confirm berthing information and procedures.

The Suez Agency MINSHIP is also contacted via Alexandria Radio. Sumed Cairo does not relay messages or copies to MINSHIP.

Port Papers; The documents and forms required are as for other Egyptian Ports but it is expected that these may be reduced upon the Pipeline becoming fully operational and in a Free Zone. Customs formalities might end but some sort of relationship with Suez might remain for Port Clearance purposes.

Agency: Agency work and formalities are covered by the EL MENIA Shipping Agency of the Canal Shipping Agencies Company at Suez. Cable address is MINSHIP SUEZ. Telephone numbers: Suez 2639, 2801 and 3085 which is the El Menia Offices.

According to information received, facilities for bunkers, water and most other requirements are not available at Ain Sukhna. The Agency however has given verbal assurances to the contrary, and claims the usual services are obtainable from Suez, such as repatriation, provisions and stores, doctor as well as bonded stores. A limited amount of fresh vegetables have been obtained which appear to be of good quality and reasonably priced. According to information from the chandler, anything can be obtained providing sufficient notice of the requirements is received, via the Agency. Repatriation for personnel sounds interesting since it would or could cut airflights and accommodation costs to the Persian Gulf for vessels employed on the Ain Sukhna run.

Requirements for Mooring – Cargo hose connections: The SBM moorings consist of 2 buoy lines. The vessel requires to have ready 2 normal good mooring ropes with sufficient good lashing. The vessels mooring lines are taken one at a time through the centre lead by mooring boat and are then attached by lashing to the buoy lines, and hove on board in the usual way. Good stoppers also are required.

The moorings are belayed on bitts on each side of the forecastle.

Each of the 3 berths is equipped with 2 × 24 in. floating hoses, similar to the Juaymah berths, but are each fitted with a floating "Y" piece to which further 16 hoses are connected. The last 4 lengths are approximately 100 ft. long and are hove on board on the port side. This requires a derrick and fittings capable of lifting 10 tons. Ships personnel do all the connecting and provides all gear and equipment such as good strops (3 in.), gaskets, bolts and spanners for normal 16 in. ASA connections.

At this stage the similarity between Juaymah and Ain Sukhna connection of hoses ends. The Ain Sukhna connections do not have the short angled spool piece so that the ships manifold and the hose flanges are at an angle of about 15 to 20 degrees, and require to be brought parallel by brute force. Time required connecting hoses at Ain Sukhna – 5 hours and some minutes. This was a considerable improvement on the connecting time of the previous vessel which required in excess of 7 hours.

The hose connections problem has been discussed with the Terminal.

Cargo: At the present time all cargo tanks are gauged and checked for water on arrival and gauged again on completion of the discharge or ballasting of tanks, for 'Dry Certificate' purposes. It is understood that when operations become normal, the gauging, etc., by shore staff will be dispensed with, and ships figures for arrival will be accepted without check so that vessels can remain inerted during all phases of operations at the terminal.

Possible changes being evaluated:

1. Changing the 2 SBM mooring lines to 1 single line ending in a length of chain suitable for use, and making fast to the Smith Towing Bracket.
2. Dispensing with 2 of the 4 × 16-in. connections. During tests the difference in the discharge rate attained by using 2 hoses as compared to using the 4 appeared to be insignificant.

BEKAPAI TERMINAL: 01.01 S. 117.29 E.

LOCATION: The Terminal is situated about 50 miles N.E. of Balikpapan on East Coast of Kalimantan, Indonesia at position 01° 00′ S., 117° 30′ E., in Makassar Strait.

Sea Terminal: The terminal consists of 2 floating storages, 1 being the Oil Storage Barge (O.S.B.) "Wapiti" and the second the tanker "Jarena".

(1) "Wapiti" is permanently moored on a Single Buoy Mooring (SBM) by 2 mooring lines. The location of the SBM is 01° 00.7′ S., 117° 29′ E., in about 32 m. of water.

The Bekapai oil comes from the production platform through the SBM and 2 strings of floating hoses into the "Wapiti".

Export tankers moor along starboard side of "Wapiti" where pneumatic fenders are fitted.

(2) "Jarena" is also permanently moored by 2 mooring lines on a standard buoy located at position: 01° 01′ S., 117° 27′ E. in about 32 m. of water.

"Jarena" receives oil from Handil field by shuttle vessels coming alongside and discharging into this tanker.

Export tankers also moor along starboard side of "Jarena" where pneumatic fenders are installed.

FLAGS: In accordance with practice in Indonesian ports, the vessel's national flag, the Indonesian courtesy ensign, quarantine, immigration, pilot, and call sign flags must be displayed by all vessels approaching Bekapai. These signals shall be displayed continuously until clearance is granted.

The signals are as follows:

Sunrise to Sunset: Quarantine Flag "Q".
Sunset to Sunrise: Signal lights (red over white).

The "N" flag should be flown until the Immigration Officer boards the ship. The "G" flag should be flown until the Mooring Master boards. The vessel should also fly its call sign (signal letters). This signal may, however, be hauled down after the vessel is secured to the OSB. It must be flown again when the vessel is sailing and kept flying until after the vessel is clear of the anchorage area and the Berthing Master has left. As soon as the Mooring Master boards, the "G" flag should be replaced by the "H" flag. The tanker may fly the "P" flag if it is going to sail within 24 hours.

PILOTAGE: A Mooring Master will board the vessel in the anchorage area and advise the Master on all manoeuvres relative to berthing and unberthing and connecting the hoses.

Vessels are requested to make a lee and have an accommodation ladder long enough to reach the Mooring Master's launch. At night, adequate lighting should be provided.

NAVIGATION AIDS:

S.B.M.: The S.B.M. buoy is equipped with a radar reflector and at night shows a white light flashing at a rate of 60 flashes per minute. (0.3 seconds on and 0.7 seconds off.).

O.S.B. "Wapiti" and storage tanker "Jarena": The O.S.B. "Wapiti" and the "Jarena" are equipped during night with normal anchor lights for a tanker: one white light at the bow; one red light on main mast and one white light at the stern.

Oil Platforms: Oil Platforms show at night a white light flashing 2 short and 1 long flash (Letter U).

ANCHORAGE: If vessels are obliged, or instructed to anchor, they should do so in the recommended anchorage area which is centered at position: 0° 59.2′ S., 117° 26′ E., and has a radius of 1 mile. Water depth is between 30 to 35 m. While at anchor they should exercise vigilance and keep in touch with the Terminal by VHF at all times.

MAX. SIZE:

Minimum size: The minimum size tanker acceptable at the terminal will be:

The "T2" class or equivalent of not less than 17,000 d.w.t. for the "Wapiti".

The 30,000 d.w.t. class for the "Jarena".

Maximum size: The maximum size tanker acceptable at the terminal will be:

60,000 d.w.t. with a max. length of 230 m. for the "Wapiti". The maximum distance from the bow to the loading manifold that is acceptable for export tankers mooring alongside "Wapiti" is 375 ft. 80,000 d.w.t. with a max. length of 295 m. for the "Jarena". For part cargo liftings an exception can be made for tankers up to a max. of 100,000 d.w.t., provided:

(a) the length of the tanker does not exceed the acceptable maximum length of 295 m.
(b) the stern of the export tanker does not exceed the stern of "Jarena" by more than 50 m. when the manifolds are facing each other.

RADIO: Advice of Arrival: 72 hours prior to arrival at the Terminal, vessels should advise the company of their ETA by cable sent via Pertamina's coastal radio stations at Jakarta/Merak/Balikpapan. They should also confirm or amend them when they are 48 hours, and again when 24 hours, distant from the Terminal.

Procedure when berth is available on arrival: A vessel for which the berth is available on arrival will be boarded by a Mooring Master in the anchorage area and, providing that the vessel is in all respects ready to commence loading (except for the necessary deballasting), the Notice of Readiness will be received as soon as tendered to the terminal by the Master of the vessel.

If the vessel is not in all respects ready to proceed to the berth, with main engines fully manoeuvrable, mooring ropes on deck, windlasses, winches, etc., in good working order and readiness, it will not be accepted until the Mooring Master is satisfied that all these conditions are met.

Procedure when instructed to anchor on arrival: A vessel which has been instructed by Bekapai Terminal to anchor on arrival should, after doing so, inform, the Terminal of the precise arrival time. According to the practice of the Terminal, receipt of the Notice of Readiness will coincide with this arrival time, providing:

(a) That it is within the hours of daylight–deemed to be from 0600 hrs local time to 1800 hrs., local time.
(b) That it is not a Public Holiday or Sunday, unless the vessel is actually handled on that day.
(c) That the Terminal is open.
(d) That cargo is available in accordance with accepted loading date.

In addition to clauses (a), (b) and (c), above, vessels will not be accepted when arriving at an unreasonable time ahead of their last advised ETA. It is not the practice of the Terminal to keep Pilots (Mooring Masters) on station in the anchorage. Bekapai Terminal maintains a continuous listening watch on Channel 16 VHF.

Draft Requirement: Vessels arriving at Bekapai Marine Terminal should have the following draft:

D.w.t.	Fore	Aft.
17,000– 22,000	12 ft.	20 ft.
22,000– 32,000	16 ft.	24 ft.
32,000– 45,000	18 ft.	26 ft.
45,000– 60,000	19 ft.	27 ft.
60,000–100,000	22 ft.	28 ft.

LOADING:

Hoses Lifting Derricks – Deck Winches: On port side.

Ship's booms and deck winches must be capable of operating with a S.W.L. in excess of 3 tons for a tanker mooring alongside of "WAPITI" and 5 tons for a tanker mooring alongside of "JARENA". Vessels with inadequate hose lifting equipment will be rejected. Power must be kept on deck winches in case adjustments to mooring lines are found to be necessary.

Manifold sizes: The hoses at the terminal are 12 in. in diameter.

The minimum size manifold connection acceptable will be 8 in. for the "WAPITI" and 12 in. for the "JARENA".

The terminal is equipped with flanged spools to connect with manifolds different from 12 in. diameter.

Tanker's manifolds should terminate in ASA 150 flanges. Unless the terminal is given adequate notice, tankers equipped with manifold flanges of other sizes or ratings will be rejected.

Grades of crude oil available: There are 2 grades of Crude Oil available at Bekapai Marine Terminal, namely, Bekapai Crude Oil and Handil Crude Oil.

Bekapai Crude Oil is available at "WAPITI" and Handil Crude Oil is available at "JARENA".

Vessels lifting Bekapai Crude are not required to heat the oil during voyage to the discharge port.

Vessels lifting Handil Crude are required to be equipped with heating coils.

It is recommended as from commencement of loading of Handil Crude the vessel should endeavour to heat the oil at a temperature of 120° F minimum up until the time the vessel discharges its cargo at the unloading port.

Any protests by the Master concerning the quantity of cargo should be made before departure and any resulting investigation should be made before the vessel sails.

Work Crew Service: Mooring and un-mooring, lifting, lowering, connecting and disconnecting hoses will be done by a Terminal work crew under the direction of the Mooring Master. Assistance from ship's personnel in connecting the hoses and in operating windlasses, winches, etc., will be required.

Loading Rate: Maximum loading rate will be about 20,000 barrels (3,000 metric tons) per hour. It is recommended that vessels take maximum flow with due regard to safety in order to expedite turn around time as well as to provide ballast as quickly as possible.

Care should be taken not to overload, as there is no possibility whatever of pumping back into the "WAPITI" or the "JARENA". When vessels are equipped with permanent ballast tanks, the ballast in these tanks should be retained on board until the vessel has taken on board sufficient cargo to be manoeuvrable. Vessels not so equipped should examine the possibility of safely loading and discharging ballast simultaneously, as such practice improves turn around time as well as reducing the possibility of breaking out of the berth in bad weather in completely light condition.

BALLAST:

Adequate Ballast: Due to the exposed location of the crude oil loading berth, vessels are required to carry sufficient ballast for safe handling, having due regard to existing weather and sea conditions. A vessel found by the Mooring Master to be not adequately ballasted will be rejected.

Pollution: Owners and Masters are responsible to observe International convention laws and Indonesian Government regulations concerning pollution of the sea, having particular regard for this area of the Macassar Strait.

Clean Ballast: As there are no ballast discharging facilities, vessels must arrive at the Terminal with clean ballast, ensuring that all pipe-lines, pumps and strainers have been flushed out prior to arriving.

The Mooring Master will inspect ship's ballast on boarding and has the power to reject any vessel that he deems would cause pollution of the sea area, in which case the vessel must proceed to sea and return only when ballast is completely free of oil. Any vessel rejected because of dirty ballast will automatically nullify its notice of readiness and will lose any priority of position for loading. Ballast discharge should not be commenced without the prior agreement of the Mooring Master.

Bilges: Bilges must not be discharged while at the Terminal.

Inspection during Loading: At night the sea area around the vessel shall be adequately lighted, as frequent inspection by the Mooring Master will be made during the discharge of ballast. Any pollution, whatsoever, will be cause for rejection. Similarly, any hull leaks causing pollution during loading will be cause for rejection and the vessel will not be reaccepted unless satisfactory evidence of repairs has been certified by a qualified surveyor.

Cargo hose connections should be inspected during loading, drip-pans should be placed under the manifold, all unused cargo connections should be blanked off, sea-valves should be closed and lashed upon completion of deballasting and all scuppers must be securely plugged.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCE: Cigarettes, cigars, tobacco, matches, spirits, wine, beers, perfume, arms, ammunition and possibly other items have to be locked up under customs seal from time of arrival of ship in port until time of leaving territorial waters. Each person is allowed to bring in 200 cigarettes or the equivalent in grams of tobacco or cigars. Special allowances are made for the Master under special circumstances.

The Customs Officer will seal the stores.

SERVICES: There are no facilities of any kind at Bekapai.

There are no engineering repair shops.

No fresh water.
No bunkers available.
No provisions or stores.
No crane or barge service.
No shore leave.
No crew changes.
No Consulates available.
No clinic available.

GENERAL:

Floating Logs: Masters are advised to keep careful watch on the approaches for semi-submerged or floating logs which may become hazardous to safe navigation.

Safety; Every vessel which berths at the Terminal shall remain under the charge of the Master who will take all steps necessary to preserve the safety and security of such vessel, crew, and Terminal personnel who may board in the execution of their various duties.

The Master of every vessel at anchor in the designated anchorage, or secured to the "WAPITI" and/or to the "JARENA", shall ensure that all parts of the vessel to which any person may be lawfully required to proceed, are properly illuminated. Efficient and easy means of access shall be provided and such access shall be adequately illuminated between sunset and sunrise.

No person(s) shall be permitted to board or leave the vessel other than by the gangway or other proper means provided for this purpose. The Mooring Master may require the vessel to unmoor at any time he deems it necessary for the vessel, the "WAPITI" and/or the "JARENA", or for infringement of Port Regulations. Unsatisfactory conditions will be reported to the company's Marine Superintendent, who is empowered to reject a vessel for future calls, unless the reported deficiencies have been remedied. Sufficient crew members must be immediately available at all times to assist with any or all operations on board the vessel at the Terminal.

No repairs of any sort will be permitted in the Terminal Area.

Transistor radio sets or other electrical appliances may not be used in hazardous petroleum area.

Smoking will not be permitted on deck while in berth and will be permitted only in the places approved by the Mooring Master.

Tanker's Engines: Being on open roadstead, vessels must keep engines on standby during their stay in the berth. No repairs to main engines may be undertaken while in berth.

Only the automatic turning gear should be used. If it should become necessary to turn the propellor(s) at revolutions greater than the minimum obtained by the automatic turning gear, application must be made to the Mooring Master in order to ensure that there is no inconvenience to do so.

The Mooring Master's written permission must be obtained before any such increase in revolutions.

Crude oil loading documents will be prepared at the Senipah Terminal and when the vessel has been loaded, the documents will be completed and final clearance formalities will be carried out on board.

Procedure for Appointing Agent:

Owner should cable/telex: PERTAMINASHIP JAKARTA.

The cable/telex should appoint Pertamina as Agent to attend the tanker at Senipah and should be sent 7 days prior to vessel's arrival.

The above procedure is applicable to vessels whose Operators do not have a long term agreement with Pertamina.

Flag Dispensation/Agency Permit:

Each foreign tanker entering Indonesia for lifting from Senipah Terminal must have been granted flag dispensation/security clearance prior to entering Indonesian waters.

At the same time application should be made for Provisional Pratique through the Directorate of Quarantine and, if granted, a cable advice is sent to the Harbour Authorities.

Port Health Clearance is issued prior to the tanker's arrival and is also valid for departure clearance. If Provisional Pratique is not granted a Port Health Officer will be provided. All of the foregoing is arranged through and by the General Agent.

It is vital that TOTAL INDONESIE, Jakarta receives the following information by telex 7 days before the vessel's arrival in order to apply for flag dispensation/security clearance through the General Agent.

1. Name and address of owners.
2. Name of Vessel and radio call sign.
3. Flag.
4. D.W.T., G.R.T. and N.R.T. of vessel.
5. Name of Master.
6. Number of Crew.
7. Last foreign port of call and ETD.
8. Consignee.
9. Destination(s) after Loading.
10. ETA at Senipah Terminal.
11. Quantity and grade to be loaded.

FLAGS: In accordance with practice in Indonesian ports, the vessel's national flag, the Indonesian courtesy ensign, quarantine, immigration, pilot and call sign flags must be displayed by all vessels approaching Senipah. These signals shall be displayed continuously until clearance is granted.

The signals are as follows: Sunrise to Sunset: Quarantine Flag "Q" Sunset to Sunrise: Signal lights (red over white).

The "N" flag should be flown until the Immigration Officer boards the ship. The "G" flag should be flown until the Mooring Master boards. The vessel should also fly its call sign (signal letters). This signal may, however, be hauled down after the vessel is secured to the SBM. It must be flown again when the vessel is sailing and kept flying until after the vessel is clear of the anchorage area and the Berthing Master has left. As soon as the Mooring Master boards, the "G" flag should be replaced by the "H" flag. The tanker may fly the "P" flag if it is going to sail within 24 hours.

PILOTAGE: Procedure when berth is available on arrival.

A vessel for which the berth is available on arrival will be boarded by a Mooring Master in the anchorage area and, providing that the vessel is in all respects ready to commence loading (except for the necessary deballasting) the notice of readiness will be acknowledged as soon as tendered to the terminal by the Master of the vessel.

If the vessel is not in all respects ready to proceed to the berth, with main engines fully manoeuverable, 6 mooring ropes on forecastle head, windlasses, winches, etc., in good working order and readinesss, it will not be accepted until the Mooring Master is satisfied that all these conditions are met.

The Mooring Master will advise the Master on all manoeuvres to berthing and unberthing and connecting the hoses.

Vessels are requested to make a lee and have an accommodation ladder long enough to reach the Mooring Master's launch.

At night, adequate lighting should be provided.

When Mooring Master boards all mooring and hose equipment will be lifted on board from the mooring launch.

NAVIGATION AIDS:

S.B.M. The S.B.M. has a 360° white light, flashing 6 times per minute, visible for 5 miles under an atmospheric transmissivity of 0.85. This operates from sunset to sunrise.

The floating hose has 3 marker beacons along the string, placed one at every 7 sections of hose. This light is mounted in a vertical position on one of the hose flanges. The 90 mm. lamp has a flashing rate of between 20–60 flashes per minute, and is visible at up to 1,850 m. (1 nautical mile).

Oil platforms: Oil platforms of Bekapai oil field which are situated approximately 17 miles East by North of Senipah SBM, show at night a white light flashing, 2 short and 1 long flash (letter U).

Marking buoys: The submarine pipe-line bringing the oil from Bekapai field to the Terminal, as well as the recommended anchorage area, are intended to be marked in the future.

The buoys to be used for this purpose are presently under study.

ANCHORAGE: If vessels are obliged, or instructed to anchor, they should do so in the recommended anchorage area which is centred at positon: 1° 05′ 29″ S., 117° 15′01″ E. and has a radius of 1 mile. Water depth is between 40 to 45 m. While at anchor they should exercise vigilance and keep in touch with the Terminal by VHF at all times.

Procedure when instructed to anchor on arrival: A vessel which has been instructed by Senipah Terminal to anchor on arrival should, after doing so, inform the Terminal of the precise anchoring time. According to the practice of the Terminal acknowledgement of the Notice of readiness will coincide with this anchoring time, providing:

a) That it is within the hours of daylight – deemed to be from 0600 hrs. local time to 1800 hrs. local time.
b) That it is not a Public Holiday or Sunday, unless the vessel is actually handled on that day.
c) That the Terminal is open.
d) That cargo is available in accordance with accepted loading date.

In addition to clauses (a), (b) and (c), above, vessels will not be accepted when arriving at an unreasonable time ahead of their last advised ETA. It is not the practice of the Terminal to keep Pilots (Mooring Masters) on station in the anchorage area. Senipah Terminal maintains a continuous listening watch on VHF (Channel 16 or 12).

MAX. SIZE:

Minimum size: Minimum size tanker acceptable at the Terminal is 50,000 d.w.t. However, on an exceptional basis, it will be possible to accommodate tankers of 33,000 d.w.t. minimum size.

Maximum size: Maximum size tanker acceptable lifting a full cargo will be 125,000 d.w.t.

Tankers of a larger size may be accommodated in the future, provided that Senipah is their first port of loading and that they load a part cargo only. These limits are at present under study.

Draft requirement on arrival: Vessels arriving at Senipah Marine Terminal should have the following draft:

	d.w.t.	Fore	Aft
Under	60,000	19 ft.	27 ft.
Over	60,000	22 ft.	28 ft.

RADIO: Advice of Arrival: 72 hours prior to arrival at the Terminal, vessels should advise the Company of their ETA by cable sent via Pertamina's coastal radio stations at Jakarta/Merak/Balikpapan. They should also confirm or amend them when they are 48 hours, and again when 24 hours, distant from the Terminal.

Details of Cable: The following information should be included in the cable;

1. Name of vessel and radio call sign.
2. ETA and date in local time (GMT plus 8 hours).
3. Cargo requirements.
4. Deballast time.
5. Maximum loading rate.
6. If there is any sickness aboard or clean bill of health.

VHF: Vessels equipped with VHF Radio Telephone should contact terminal on international mobile service Channel 16 (156.80 mc/s) and then communicate on Channel 12 from 0000–2400 hrs. GMT.

Other Channels used are 6–9–19.

The language of the Terminal is English, French, and Indonesian.

BERTHING: The SBM is approximately 6 miles (11.1 km) offshore in approximately 28 m. of water.

The SBM is served by 2 submarine lines of 26 in. diameter. Two strings of 20 in. hose connect the SBM to submarine line header. Two 20 in. floating hose strings reduced to 12 in. are connected to Tanker for loading purposes. Hoses are lifted up and connected individually on port side. For quick connection/disconnection to ships manifold hose ends are fitted with "Camlocks".

Work Crew Service: Mooring, unmooring, lifting, lowering, connecting and disconnecting hoses will be done by ship's crew under the direction of the Mooring Master and assistance of Terminal crew.

Accommodation and meals: The company Mooring/Loading Master and his crew (3 to 4 persons) stay on board the tanker during the time of the operations. Free accommodation and meals of the same standards as those of the Tanker's officers (for the Mooring Master) and of the Tanker crew (for company crew) must be provided.

Tanker's Engines: Being on open roadstead, vessels must keep engines on standby during their stay in berth. No repairs to main engines may be undertaken while in berth.

Only the automatic turning gear should be used. If it should become necessary to turn the propellor(s) at revolutions greater than the minimum obtained by the automatic turning gear, application must be made to the Mooring Master in order to ensure that there is no inconvenience to do so.

The Mooring Master's written permission must be obtained before any such increase in revolutions.

LOADING:

Loading Rate: Maximum loading rate will be nearly 40,000 barrels (6,000 metric tons) per hour. It is recommended that vessels take maximum flow with due regard to safety in order to expedite turn around time as well as to provide ballast as quickly as possible.

Care should be taken not to overload, as there is no possibility whatever of pumping back to Terminal. When vessels are equipped with permanent ballast tanks, the ballast in these tanks should be retained on board until the vessel has taken on board sufficient cargo to be manoeuvrable. Vessels not so equipped should examine the possibility of safely loading and discharging ballast simultaneously, as such practice improves turn around time as well as reducing the possibility of breaking out of the berth in bad weather in completely light condition.

Hose Lifting Derricks – Deck Winches: Ship booms and deck winches must be capable of operating with a SWL of 5 tons for tankers to be secured to the SBM. Vessels with inadequate hose lifting equipment will be rejected. Power must be kept on deck winches in case adjustments to mooring lines are found to be necessary.

Manifold sizes: The hoses at the terminal are 12 in. in diameter. The minimum size manifold connection acceptable will be 8 in. Terminal is equipped with flanged reducers to connect 8 in. – 10 in. and 16 in. manifolds.

Tanker manifolds should terminate in ASA series 150. Unless terminal is given adequate notice, tankers equipped with other sizes or ratings will be rejected.

Grades of crude oil available: There are 2 grades of Crude Oil available at Senipah Marine Terminal, namely, Bekapai Crude Oil and Handil Crude Oil. Vessels lifting Bekapai Crude are not required to heat the oil during voyage to the discharge port.

Vessels lifting Handil Crude Oil are required to be equipped with heating coils.

It is recommended, as from commencement of loading of Handil Crude, the vessel should endeavour to heat the oil at a temperature of 120°F minimum up until the time the vessel discharges its cargo at the unloading port.

In case a vessel has to load 2 parcels of cargo (i.e. 1 Handil 1 Bekapai), loading must be stopped between the two parcels for line flushing with the second grade of oil.

Outward clearance: A tanker will be considered clear to depart Senipah Terminal when the crude oil loading documents have been delivered to the Master.

Any protests by the Master concerning the quantity of cargo should be made before departure and any resulting investigation should be made before the vessel sails.

BALLAST:

Adequate ballast: Due to the exposed location of the crude oil SBM berth, vessels are required to carry sufficient ballast for safe handling, having due regard to existing weather and sea conditions. A vessel found by the Mooring Master to be not adequately ballasted will be rejected.

Pollution: Owners and Masters are responsible to observe International convention laws and Indonesian Government regulations concerning pollution of the sea, having particular regard for this area of the Macassar Strait.

Clean ballast: As there are no ballast discharging facilities, vessels must arrive at the Terminal with clean ballast, ensuring that all pipe-lines, pumps and strainers have been flushed out prior to arriving.

The Mooring Master will inspect ship's ballast on boarding and has the power to reject any vessel that he deems would cause pollution of the sea area, in which case the vessel must proceed to sea and only when ballast is completely free of oil. Any vessel rejected because of dirty ballast will automatically nullify its notice of readiness and will lose any priority of position for loading. Ballast discharge should not be commenced without the prior agreement of the Mooring Master.

Bilges: Bilges must not be discharged while at the Terminal.

Inspections during loading: At night the sea area around the vessel shall be adequately lighted, as frequent inspection by the Mooring Master will be made during the discharge of ballast. Any pollution, whatsoever, will be cause for rejection. Similarly, any hull leaks causing pollution during loading will be cause for rejection and the vessel will not be reaccepted unless satisfactory evidence of repairs has been certified by a qualified surveyor.

Cargo hose connections should be inspected during loading, drip-pans should be placed under the manifold, all unused cargo connections should be blanked off, sea-valves should be closed and lashed upon completion of deballasting and all scuppers must be securely plugged.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCE: Cigarettes, cigars, tobacco, matches, spirits, wine, beers, perfume, arms, ammunition and possibly other items have to be locked up under customs seal from time of arrival of ship in port until time of leaving territorial waters. Each person is allowed to bring in 200 cigarettes or the equivalent in grams of tobacco or cigars. Special allowances are made for the Master under special circumstances.

The Customs Officer will seal the stores.

SERVICES: There are no facilities of any kind at Senipah:

There are no engineering repair shops.
No fresh water.
No bunkers available.
No provisions or stores.
No crane or barge service.
No shore leave.

KHARG ISLAND (KHARG TERMINAL):

BERTHING: The Sea Island has been extended to the Northward to create two new berths, 14 and 15.

15	27.4	500,000	2×16-in. 4×24-in.	6.1 – 33.5

Loading Arms: Luceat – quick coupling.

Effective Loading Rate: Berth No. 14 – 16,000 t.p.h. Berth No. 15 – 30,000 t.p.h.

SAFETY:

Amendment to Safety Regulations and Safety Inspections.

To keep Safety Regulations and Safety Inspections in line with current world-wide practice, the following new Rules will be put in force immediately.

1. At least 50% of the crew including sufficient senior officers shall be available on board at all times to deal with emergencies.
2. Two dry powder extinguishers plus one fire hose to be available at the manifold at all times.
   Note: This is especially important before connecting lines.
3. Present funnel deck hoses, now only required at inside berths, are now required on all berths including Sea Island.

SHIPMASTER'S REPORT: February 1977:

There are now 4 loading berths on the Sea Island. There are also maximum displacement limits for coming alongside these berths ballasted or with part cargo. On the inside berths the top limit is 175,000 tons and the outside berths it is 250,000 tons displacement. I think these figures are right, but they should be checked.

Also the outside (seaward) berths can supply 16 in. reducers for loading cargo. Both seaward berths have a maximum depth of 106 ft.

For berthing at No. 15, vessel used 10 lines each end – 2 head/stern lines, 4 breasts and 2 springs. The ship is 330,000 d.w.t. We used 4 tugs, 1 each end on the hook and 2 pushing at the side. I feel Mariners could be warned that these tugs have very heavy wires which takes time and plenty of men to handle.

We also found that we needed 3 Crew Lists.

Ships cannot be berthed if the wind is N.W.'ly over 20 knots.

LAVAN ISLAND:

EARLY SAILING PROCEDURE:

Notice to Masters – Early Sailing Procedure:

In order to minimize delays to tankers awaiting official documentation after loading at Lavan Island, an Early Sailing System is now in force.
